PRESENTATION OF INFORMATION

Throughout this annual report on Form 20-F we make numerous references to “LATAM”. Unless the context otherwise requires, references to “LATAM Airlines Group” are to LATAM Airlines Group S.A., the unconsolidated operating entity, and references to “LATAM,” “we,” “us” or the “Company” are to LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and its consolidated affiliates: Transporte Aéreo S.A. (“LATAM Airlines Chile”), LATAM Airlines Peru S.A. (f/k/a LAN Peru S.A., “LATAM Airlines Peru”), Aerolane, Líneas Aéreas Nacionales del Ecuador S.A. (“LATAM Airlines Ecuador”), LAN Argentina S.A. (“LATAM Airlines Argentina,” previously Aero 2000 S.A.), Aerovías de Integración Regional, Aires S.A. (“LATAM Airlines Colombia”), TAM S.A. (“TAM” or “LATAM Airlines Brazil”), LAN Cargo S.A. (“LATAM Cargo”) and its two regional affiliates: Linea Aerea Carguera de Colombia S.A. (“LANCO”) in Colombia and Aerolinhas Brasileiras S.A. (“ABSA”) in Brazil. Other references to “LATAM”, as the context requires, are to the LATAM brand which was launched in 2016 and brings together, under one internationally recognized name, all of the affiliate brands such as LATAM Airlines Chile, LATAM Airlines Peru, LATAM Airlines Argentina, LATAM Airlines Colombia, LATAM Airlines Ecuador and LATAM Airlines Brazil.

References to “LAN” are to LAN Airlines S.A., currently known as LATAM Airlines Group S.A., and its consolidated affiliates, in connection with circumstances and facts occurring prior to the completion date of the combination between LAN Airlines S.A. and TAM S.A. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—A. History and Development of the Company.”

In this annual report on Form 20-F, unless the context otherwise requires, references to “TAM” are to TAM S.A., and its consolidated affiliates, including TAM Linhas Aereas S.A. (“TLA”), which does business under the name “LATAM Airlines Brazil”, Fidelidade Viagens e Turismo Limited (“TAM Viagens”) and Transportes Aéreos Del Mercosur S.A. (“TAM Mercosur”).

LATAM Airlines Group and the majority of our affiliates maintain accounting records and prepare financial statements in U.S. dollars. Some of our affiliates, however, maintain their accounting records and prepare their financial statements in Chilean pesos, Argentinean pesos, Colombian pesos or Brazilian real. In particular, TAM maintains its accounting records and prepares its financial statements in Brazilian real. Our audited consolidated financial statements include the results of these affiliates translated into U.S. dollars. International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”), require assets and liabilities to be translated at period-end exchange rates, while revenue and expense accounts are translated at each transaction date, although a monthly rate may also be used if exchange rates do not vary widely.

In this annual report on Form 20-F, all references to “Chile” are references to the Republic of Chile. This annual report contains conversions of certain Chilean peso and Brazilian real amounts into U.S. dollars at specified rates solely for the convenience of the reader. These conversions should not be construed as representations that the Chilean peso and the Brazilian real amounts actually represent such U.S. dollar amounts or could be converted into U.S. dollars at the rate indicated. Unless we specify otherwise, all references to “$”, “US$”, “U.S. dollars” or “dollars” are to United States dollars, references to “pesos,” “Chilean pesos” or “Ch$” are to Chilean pesos. References to “real,” “Brazilian real” or “R$” are to Brazilian real, and references to “UF” are to Unidades de Fomento, a daily indexed Chilean peso-denominated monetary unit that takes into account the effect of the Chilean inflation rate. Unless we indicate otherwise, the U.S. dollar equivalent for information in Chilean pesos used in this annual report and in our audited consolidated financial statements is based on the “dólar observado” or “observed” exchange rate published by Banco Central de Chile (which we refer to as the Central Bank of Chile) on December 31, 2019, which was Ch$744.62 = US$1.00. The observed exchange rate on, March 18, 2020, was Ch$855.09 = US$1.00. Unless we indicate otherwise, the U.S. dollar equivalent for information in Brazilian real used in this annual report and in our audited consolidated financial statements is based on the average “bid and offer rate” published by Banco Central do Brasil (which we refer to as the Central Bank of Brazil) on December 31, 2019, which was R$4.03 = US$1.00. The observed exchange rate on March 18, 2020, was R$5.11 = US$1.00. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York does not report a noon buying rate for Chilean pesos or Brazilian real.

LATAM has a single series of shares of Common Stock, without par value, listed on Chilean Stock Exchange and American Depositary Shares (evidenced by American Depositary Receipts), each representing one share of Common Stock, that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the Symbol “LTM”

We have rounded percentages and certain U.S. dollar, Chilean peso and Brazilian real amounts contained in this annual report for ease of presentation. Any discrepancies in any table between totals and the sums of the amounts listed are due to rounding.

LATAM’s audited consolidated financial statements for the periods ended December 31, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018 and 2019 were prepared in accordance with IFRS.

This annual report contains certain terms that may be unfamiliar to some readers. You can find a glossary of these terms on page 2 of this annual report.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This annual report contains forward-looking statements. Such statements may include words such as “anticipate,” “estimate,” “expect,” “project,” “intend,” “plan,” “believe” or other similar expressions. Forward-looking statements, including statements about our beliefs and expectations, are not statements of historical facts. These statements are based on current plans, estimates and projections, and, therefore, you should not place undue reliance on them. Forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. These factors include, but are not limited to:

- the factors described in “Item 3. Key Information—Risk Factors”;
- our ability to service our debt and fund our working capital requirements;
- future demand for passenger and cargo air services in Chile, Brazil, other countries in Latin America and the rest of the world;
- the determination of relationships with customers;
- the state of the Chilean, Brazilian, other Latin American and world economies and their impact on the airline industry;
- the effects of competition in the airline industry;
- future terrorist incidents, cyberattacks or related activities affecting the airline industry;
- future outbreak of diseases, or the spread of already existing diseases, affecting travel behavior and/or exports;
- natural disasters affecting travel behavior and/or exports;
- the relative value of the Chilean peso and other Latin American currencies compared to other world currencies;
- inflation;
- competitive pressures on pricing;
- our capital expenditure plans;
- changes in labor costs, maintenance costs and insurance premiums;
- fluctuation of crude oil prices and its effect on fuel costs;
- cyclical and seasonal fluctuations in our operating results;
- defects or mechanical problems with our aircraft;
- our ability to successfully implement our growth strategy;
- our plans relative to acquisitions, joint ventures, strategic alliances or divestitures;
- increases in interest rates; and
- changes in regulations, including regulations related to access to routes in which we operate and environmental regulations.

Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made, and we undertake no obligation to publicly update any of them, whether in light of new information, future events or otherwise. You should also read carefully the risk factors described in “Item 3. Key Information—Risk Factors.”

The table below presents LATAM's unaudited operating data as of and for the year ended December 31, 2015, December 31, 2016, December 31, 2017, December 31, 2018 and December 31, 2019. LATAM believes this operating data is useful in reporting the operating performance of its business and may be used by certain investors in evaluating companies operating in the global air transportation sector. However, these measures may differ from similarly titled measures reported by other companies, and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance in accordance with IFRS. This unaudited operating data is not included in or derived from LATAM's financial statements.

Dividend Policy

In accordance with the Ley sobre Sociedades Anónimas No. 18,046 (“Chilean Corporation Act”) and the Reglamento de Sociedades Anónimas (“Regulation to the Chilean Corporation Act”, and together with the Chilean Corporation Act, the “Chilean Corporation Law”), we must pay annual cash dividends equal to at least 30.0% of our annual consolidated net income for the prior year, subject to limited exceptions. LATAM Airlines Group's board of directors has the authority to declare interim dividends. Year-end dividends, if any, are declared by our shareholders at our annual meeting. For a description of our dividend policy, see “Item 8. Financial Information—Consolidated Financial Statements and Other Financial Information—Dividend Policy” and “Item 10. Additional Information—Dividend and Liquidation Rights” LATAM did not pay dividends in 2016. On May 18, 2017, LATAM paid US$20,766,119 in dividends in respect of the year ended December 31, 2016. On May 17, 2018, LATAM paid US$46,591,193 in dividends in respect of year ended December 31, 2017. On May 17, 2019, LATAM paid US$54,580,443 in dividends in respect of year ended December 31, 2018. In addition, dividend reserves of US$57,129,120 were set aside for 2019, to be paid in 2020.

We declare cash dividends in U.S. dollars, but make dividend payments in Chilean pesos, converted from U.S. dollars at the observed exchange rate two business days prior to the day we first make payment to shareholders. Payments of cash dividends to holders of ADSs, if any, are made in Chilean pesos to the custodian, who converts those Chilean pesos into U.S. dollars and delivers U.S. dollars to the depositary for distribution to holders of ADS. The amount of U.S. dollars distributed to holders of ADSs may be adversely affected by a devaluation of the Chilean currency that may occur before such dividends are converted and remitted.

LATAM's Dividend Payments

The table below sets forth the cash dividends per common share and per ADS paid by LATAM, as well as the number of common shares entitled to such dividends, for the years indicated. Dividends per common share amounts reflect common share amounts outstanding immediately prior to the distribution of such dividend.

Dividend for year:	Payment date(s)	Total dividend payment (U.S. dollars)	Number of common shares entitled to dividend (in millions)	Cash dividend per common share (U.S. dollars)	Cash dividend per ADS (U.S. dollars)

D. Risk Factors

The following important factors, and those important factors described in other reports we submit to or file with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), could affect our actual results and could cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed in any forward-looking statements made by us or on our behalf. In particular, as we are a non-U.S. company, there are risks associated with investing in our ADSs that are not typical for investments in the shares of U.S. companies. Prior to making an investment decision, you should carefully consider all of the information contained in this document, including the following risk factors.

Risk Factors Relating to our Company

Our assets include a significant amount of goodwill.

Our assets included US$2,209.6 million of goodwill as of December 31, 2019. Under IFRS, goodwill is subject to an annual impairment test and may be required to be tested more frequently if events or circumstances indicate a potential impairment. In 2019, mainly as a result of the depreciation of the Brazilian real against the U.S. dollar, the value of our goodwill decreased by 3.7% as compared with 2018. Any impairment could result in the recognition of a significant charge to earnings in our statement of income, which could materially and adversely impact our consolidated results for the period in which the impairment occurs.

A failure to successfully implement our strategy or a failure adjusting the strategy to the current economic situation would harm our business and the market value of our ADSs and common shares.

We have developed a strategic plan with the goal of becoming one of the most admired airlines in the world and renewing our commitment to sustained profitability and superior returns to shareholders. Our strategy requires us to identify value propositions that are attractive to our clients, to find efficiencies in our daily operations, and to transform ourselves into a stronger and more risk-resilient company. A tenet of our strategic plan is the continuing adoption of a new travel model for domestic and international services to address the changing dynamics of customers and the industry, and to increase our competitiveness. The new travel model is based on a continued reduction in air fares that makes air travel accessible to a wider audience, and in particular to those wish to fly more frequently. This model requires continued cost reduction efforts and increasing revenues from ancillary activities. In connection with these efforts, the Company continues to implement a series of initiatives to reduce cost per ASK in all its operations as well as developing new ancillary revenue initiatives.

Difficulties in implementing our strategy may adversely affect our business, results of operation and the market value of our ADSs and common shares.

Our financial results are exposed to foreign currency fluctuations.

We prepare and present our consolidated financial statements in U.S. dollars. LATAM and its affiliates operate in numerous countries and face the risk of variation in foreign currency exchange rates against the U.S. dollar or between the currencies of these various countries. Changes in the exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and the currencies in the countries in which we operate could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. If the value of the Brazilian real, Chilean peso or other currencies in which revenues are denominated declines against the U.S. dollar, our results of operations and financial condition will be affected. The exchange rate of the Chilean peso, Brazilian real and other currencies against the U.S. dollar may fluctuate significantly in the future.

Changes in Chilean, Brazilian and other governmental economic policies affecting foreign exchange rates could also adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and the return to our shareholders on their common shares or ADSs. For further information, see “Item 11. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk—Risk of Variation in Foreign Exchange Rates.”

We depend on strategic alliances or commercial relationships in many of the countries in which we operate, and our business may suffer if any of our strategic alliances or commercial relationships terminates.

We maintain a number of alliances and other commercial relationships in many of the jurisdictions in which LATAM and its affiliates operate. These alliances or commercial relationships allow us to enhance our network and, in some cases, to offer our customers services that we could not otherwise offer. If any of our strategic alliances or commercial relationships deteriorates, or any of these agreements are terminated, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Our business and results of operations may suffer if we fail to obtain and maintain routes, suitable airport access, slots and other operating permits. Also, technical and operational problems with the airport infrastructure of cities in which we have a focus may have a material adverse effect on us.

Our business depends upon our access to key routes and airports. Bilateral aviation agreements between countries, open skies laws and local aviation approvals frequently involve political and other considerations outside of our control. Our operations could be constrained by any delay or inability to gain access to key routes or airports, including:

- limitations on our ability to process more passengers;
- the imposition of flight capacity restrictions;
- the inability to secure or maintain route rights in local markets or under bilateral agreements; or
- the inability to maintain our existing slots and obtain additional slots.

We operate numerous international routes subject to bilateral agreements, as well as domestic flights within Chile, Peru, Brazil, Argentina, Ecuador and Colombia, subject to local route and airport access approvals. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—B. Business Overview—Regulation.”

There can be no assurance that existing bilateral agreements with the countries in which our companies are based and permits from foreign governments will continue. A modification, suspension or revocation of one or more bilateral agreements could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. The suspension of our permission to operate in certain airports, destinations or slots, or the imposition of other sanctions could also have a material adverse effect. A change in the administration of current laws and regulations or the adoption of new laws and regulations in any of the countries in which we operate that restrict our route, airport or other access may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Moreover, our operations and growth strategy are dependent on the facilities and infrastructure of key airports, including Santiago’s International Airport, São Paulo’s Guarulhos International and Congonhas Airports, Brasília’s International Airport and Lima’s Jorge Chavez International Airport.

Santiago’s Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport is currently facing an important expansion, which is expected to be completed by 2021. If the expansion continues to be delayed, this will likely impact our operations and may affect our ability to remain competitive.

One of the major operational risks we face on a daily basis at Lima’s Jorge Chavez International Airport is the limited number of parking positions. Additionally, the indoor infrastructure of the airport limits our ability to manage connections and launch new flights due to the lack of gates and increasing security and immigration controls. Lima’s Jorge Chavez International Airport is currently undergoing an expansion, which is expected to be completed by 2024. Any delays could negatively impact our operations limit our ability to grow and affect our competitiveness in the country and in the region.

Brazilian airports, such as the Brasília, and São Paulo (Guarulhos) International Airports, have limited the number of takeoff and landing slots per day due to infrastructural limitations. Any condition that would prevent or delay our access to airports or routes that are vital to our strategy, or our inability to maintain our existing slots and obtain additional slots, could materially adversely affect our operations.

A significant portion of our cargo revenue comes from relatively few product types and may be impacted by events affecting their production, trade or demand.

Our cargo demand, especially from Latin American exporters, is concentrated in a small number of product categories, such as exports of fish, sea products and fruits from Chile, asparagus from Peru and fresh flowers from Ecuador and Colombia. Events that adversely affect the production, trade or demand for these goods may adversely affect the volume of goods that we transport and may have a significant impact on our results of operations. Future trade protection measures by or against the countries for which we provide cargo services may have an impact in cargo traffic volumes and adversely affect our financial results. Some of our cargo products are sensitive to foreign exchange rates and, therefore, traffic volumes could be impacted by the appreciation or depreciation of local currencies.

Our operations are subject to fluctuations in the supply and cost of jet fuel, which could adversely impact our business.

Higher jet fuel prices could have a materially adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Jet fuel costs have historically accounted for a significant amount of our operating expenses, and accounted for 30.2% of our operating expenses in 2019. For additional information, see “Item 4. Information on the Company—B. Business Overview—Fuel Supplies”. Both the cost and availability of fuel are subject to many economic and political factors and events that we can neither control nor predict, including international political and economic circumstances such as the political instability in major oil-exporting countries. Any future fuel supply shortage (for example, as a result of production curtailments by the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries, or “OPEC”), a disruption of oil imports, supply disruptions resulting from severe weather or natural disasters, labor actions such as the 2018 trucking strike in Brazil, the continued unrest in the Middle East or other events could result in higher fuel prices or reductions in scheduled airline services. We cannot ensure that we would be able to offset any increases in the price of fuel by increasing our fares. In addition, lower fuel prices may result in lower fares through the reduction or elimination of fuel surcharges. We have entered into fuel hedging arrangements, but there can be no assurance that such arrangements will be adequate to protect us from an increase in fuel prices in the near future or in the long term. Also, while these hedging arrangements are designed to limit the effect of an increase in fuel prices, our hedging methods may also limit our ability to take advantage of any decrease in fuel prices, as was the case in 2015 and, to a lesser extent, in 2016. See “Item 11. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk—Risk of Variation in Fuel Prices.”

We rely on maintaining a high aircraft utilization rate to increase our revenues and absorb our fixed costs, which makes us especially vulnerable to delays.

A key element of our strategy is to maintain a high daily aircraft utilization rate, which measures the number of hours we use our aircraft per day. High daily aircraft utilization allows us to maximize the amount of revenue we generate from our aircraft and absorb the fixed costs associated with our fleet and is achieved, in part, by reducing turnaround times at airports and developing schedules that enable us to increase the average hours flown per day. Our rate of aircraft utilization could be adversely affected by a number of different factors that are beyond our control, including air traffic and airport congestion, adverse weather conditions, unanticipated maintenance and delays by third-party service providers relating to matters such as fueling and ground handling. If an aircraft falls behind schedule, the resulting delays could cause a disruption in our operating performance and have a financial impact on our results.

We fly and depend upon Airbus and Boeing aircraft, and our business could suffer if we do not receive timely deliveries of aircraft, if aircraft from these companies become unavailable or if the public negatively perceives our aircraft.

As our fleet has grown, our reliance on Airbus and Boeing has also grown. As of December 31, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group has a total fleet of 263 Airbus and 79 Boeing aircraft. Risks relating to Airbus and Boeing include:

- our failure or inability to obtain Airbus or Boeing aircraft, parts or related support services on a timely basis because of high demand, aircraft delivery backlog or other factors;
- the interruption of fleet service as a result of unscheduled or unanticipated maintenance requirements for these aircraft;
- the issuance by the Chilean or other aviation authorities of directives restricting or prohibiting the use of our Airbus or Boeing aircraft, or requiring time-consuming inspections and maintenance;
- adverse public perception of a manufacturer as a result of safety concerns, negative publicity or other problems, whether real or perceived, in the event of an accident; or
- delays between the time we realize the need for new aircraft and the time it takes us to arrange for Airbus and Boeing or for a third-party provider to deliver this aircraft.

The occurrence of any one or more of these factors could restrict our ability to use aircraft to generate profits, respond to increased demands, or could otherwise limit our operations and adversely affect our business. For further information, related to current contractual obligations, see “Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—F. Long term Indebtedness—Tabular Disclosure of Contractual Obligations.”

If we are unable to incorporate leased aircraft into our fleet at acceptable rates and terms in the future, our business could be adversely affected.

A large portion of our aircraft fleet is subject to long-term leases. Our leases typically run from three to 12 years from the date of execution. We may face more competition for, or a limited supply of, leased aircraft, making it difficult for us to negotiate on competitive terms upon expiration of our current leases or to lease additional capacity required for our targeted level of operations. If we are forced to pay higher lease rates in the future to maintain our capacity and the number of aircraft in our fleet, our profitability could be adversely affected.

Our business may be adversely affected if we are unable to service our debt or meet our future financing requirements.

We have a high degree of debt and payment obligations under our aircraft leases and financial debt arrangements. We require significant amounts of financing to meet our aircraft capital requirements and may require additional financing to fund our other business needs. We cannot guarantee that we will have access to or be able to arrange for financing in the future on favorable terms. Higher financing costs could affect our ability to expand or renew our fleet, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

In addition, the majority of our property and equipment is subject to liens securing our indebtedness. In the event that we fail to make payments on secured indebtedness, creditors' enforcement of liens could limit or end our ability to use the affected property and equipment to fulfill our operational needs and thus generate revenue. For further information, related to current contractual obligations, see "Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—F. Long term Indebtedness—Tabular Disclosure of Contractual Obligations."

Moreover, external conditions in the financial and credit markets may limit the availability of funding at particular times or increase its costs, which could adversely affect our profitability, our competitive position and result in lower net interest margins, earnings and cash flows, as well as lower returns on shareholders' equity and invested capital. Factors that may affect the availability of funding or cause an increase in our funding costs include global macro-economic crises, reductions in our credit rating or in that of our issuances, and other potential market disruptions.

We have significant exposure to LIBOR and other floating interest rates; increases in interest rates will increase our financing costs and may have adverse effects on our financial condition and results of operations.

We are exposed to the risk of interest rate variations, principally in relation to the U.S. dollar London Interbank Offer Rate ("LIBOR"). Many of our financial leases are denominated in U.S. dollars and bear interest at a floating rate. 38.4% of our outstanding consolidated debt as of December 31, 2019 bears interest at a floating rate (after giving effect to interest rate hedging agreements). Volatility in LIBOR or other reference rates could increase our periodic interest and lease payments and have an adverse effect on our total financing costs. We may be unable to adequately adjust our prices to offset any increased financing costs, which would have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

On July 27, 2017, the Financial Conduct Authority (the authority that regulates LIBOR) announced that it intends to stop compelling banks to submit rates for the calculation of LIBOR after 2021. It is unclear whether new methods of calculating LIBOR will be established such that it continues to exist after 2021. The U.S. Federal Reserve, in conjunction with the Alternative Reference Rates Committee, is considering replacing U.S. dollar LIBOR with a newly created index, calculated based on repurchase agreements backed by treasury securities. The impact of such a transition away from LIBOR could be significant for us because of our substantial indebtedness. It is not possible to predict the effect of these changes, other reforms or the establishment of alternative reference rates in the United Kingdom, the United States or elsewhere. See also the discussion of interest rate risk in "Item 11. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk—"Risk of Fluctuations in Interest Rates."

Increases in insurance costs and/or significant reductions in coverage could harm our financial condition and results of operations.

Major events affecting the aviation insurance industry (such as terrorist attacks, hijackings or airline crashes) may result in significant increases of airlines' insurance premiums or in significant decreases of insurance coverage, as occurred after the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. Further increases in insurance costs or reductions in available insurance coverage could have an adverse impact on our financial results and results of operations and increase the risk that we experience uncovered losses.

Problems with air traffic control systems or other technical failures could interrupt our operations and have a material adverse effect on our business

Our operations, including our ability to deliver customer service, are dependent on the effective operation of our equipment, including our aircraft, maintenance systems and reservation systems. Our operations are also dependent on the effective operation of domestic and international air traffic control systems and the air traffic control infrastructure by the corresponding authorities in the markets in which we operate. Equipment failures, personnel shortages, air traffic control problems and other factors that could interrupt operations could adversely affect our operations and financial results as well as our reputation.

We depend on a limited number of suppliers for certain aircraft and engine parts.

We depend on a limited number of suppliers for aircraft, aircraft engines and many aircraft and engine parts. As a result, we are vulnerable to problems associated with the supply of those aircraft, parts and engines, including design defects, mechanical problems, contractual performance by the suppliers, or adverse perception by the public that would result in unscheduled maintenance requirements, in customer avoidance or in actions by the aviation authorities resulting in an inability to operate our aircraft. During the year 2019, LATAM Airline's main suppliers were aircraft manufacturers Airbus and Boeing.

In addition to Airbus and Boeing, LATAM Airlines has a number of other suppliers, primarily related to aircraft accessories, spare parts, and components, including Pratt & Whitney, MTU Maintenance, Rolls-Royce, and Pratt and Whitney Canada.

During 2019, Airbus experienced delays in the delivery of A320neo aircraft worldwide. LATAM is currently expecting delivery of three A320neo family aircraft during 2020, but any delivery delays could adversely affect operations.

Rolls-Royce continues to face delays with its Trent 1000 engine program, used to power LATAM's Boeing 787 fleet, with increased demand for inspections and maintenance. This has affected the availability and the operational flexibility of this aircraft for operators worldwide, with the impact for LATAM reaching its peak in July 2018. LATAM currently has three aircraft on ground awaiting for engines. While the situation has improved considerably, there is no guarantee that this will not continue and therefore reduce the availability of Boeing 787 aircraft, thus negatively affecting operations and financial results.

Our business relies extensively on third-party service providers. Failure of these parties to perform as expected, or interruptions in our relationships with these providers or in their provision of services to us, could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations.

We have engaged a significant number of third-party service providers to perform a large number of functions that are integral to our business, including regional operations, operation of customer service call centers, distribution and sale of airline seat inventory, provision of technology infrastructure and services, performance of business processes, including purchasing and cash management, provision of aircraft maintenance and repairs, catering, ground services, and provision of various utilities and performance of aircraft fueling operations, among other vital functions and services. We do not directly control these third-party service providers, although we do enter into agreements with many of them that define expected service performance. Any of these third-party service providers, however, may materially fail to meet their service performance commitments, may suffer disruptions to their systems that could impact their services, or the agreements with such providers may be terminated. For example, flight reservations booked by customers and/or travel agencies via third-party GDSs (Global Distribution Systems) may be adversely affected by disruptions in our business relationships with GDS operators or by issues in the GDS's operations. Such disruptions, including a failure to agree upon acceptable contract terms when contracts expire or otherwise become subject to renegotiation, may cause the carriers' flight information to be limited or unavailable for display, significantly increase fees for both us and GDS users, and impair our relationships with customers and travel agencies. The failure of any of our third-party service providers to adequately perform their service obligations, or other interruptions of services, may reduce our revenues and increase our expenses or prevent us from operating our flights and providing other services to our customers. In addition, our business, financial performance and reputation could be materially harmed if our customers believe that our services are unreliable or unsatisfactory.

Disruptions or security breaches of our information technology infrastructure or systems could interfere with our operations, compromise passenger or employee information, and expose us to liability, possibly causing our business and reputation to suffer.

A serious internal technology error, failure, or cybersecurity incident impacting systems hosted internally at our data centers, externally at third-party locations or cloud providers, or large-scale interruption in technology infrastructure we depend on, such as power, telecommunications or the internet, may disrupt our technology network with potential impact on our operations. Our technology systems and related data may also be vulnerable to a variety of sources of interruption, including natural disasters, terrorist attacks, telecommunications failures, computer viruses, cyber attacks and other security issues. These systems include our computerized airline reservation system, flight operations system, telecommunications systems, website, customer, self-service applications ("apps"), maintenance systems, check-in kiosks, in-flight entertainment systems and data centers.

In addition, as a part of our ordinary business operations, we collect and store sensitive data, including personal information of our passengers and employees and information of our business partners. The secure operation of the networks and systems on which this type of information is stored, processed and maintained is critical to our business operations and strategy. Unauthorized parties may attempt to gain access to our systems or information through fraud, deception, or cybersecurity incident. Hardware or software we develop or acquire may contain defects that could unexpectedly compromise information security. The compromise of our technology systems resulting in the loss, disclosure, misappropriation of, or access to, customers', employees' or business partners' information could result in legal claims or proceedings, liability or regulatory penalties under laws protecting the privacy of personal information, disruption to our operations and damage to our reputation, any or all of which could adversely affect our business.

Increases in our labor costs, which constitute a substantial portion of our total operating expenses, could directly impact our earnings.

Labor costs constitute a significant percentage of our total operating expenses (18.5% in 2019) and at times in our operating history we have experienced pressure to increase wages and benefits for our employees. A significant increase in our labor costs could result in a material reduction in our earnings.

Collective action by employees could cause operating disruptions and adversely impact our business.

Certain employee groups such as pilots, flight attendants, mechanics and our airport personnel have highly specialized skills. As a consequence, actions by these groups, such as strikes, walk-outs or stoppages, could severely disrupt our operations and adversely impact our operating and financial performance, as well as our image.

A strike, work interruption or stoppage or any prolonged dispute with our employees who are represented by any of these unions could have an adverse impact on our operations. These risks are typically exacerbated during periods of renegotiation with the unions, which typically occurs every two to four years depending on the jurisdiction and the union. Any renegotiated collective bargaining agreement could feature significant wage increases and a consequent increase in our operating expenses. Any failure to reach an agreement during negotiations with unions may require us to enter into arbitration proceedings, use financial and management resources, and potentially agree to terms that are less favorable to us than our existing agreements. Employees who are not currently members of unions may also form new unions that may seek further wage increases or benefits.

Our business may experience adverse consequences if we are unable to reach satisfactory collective bargaining agreements with our unionized employees.

As of December 31, 2019, approximately 46% of our employees, including administrative personnel, cabin crew, flight attendants, pilots and maintenance technicians are members of unions and have contracts and collective bargaining agreements which expire on a regular basis. Our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected by a failure to reach agreement with any labor union representing such employees or by an agreement with a labor union that contains terms that are not in line with our expectations or that prevent us from competing effectively with other airlines. For further information regarding the unions representing our employees in each country in which we operate and with which we have established collective bargaining agreements, see “Item 6. Directors, Senior Management and Employees—D. Employees—Labor Relations.”

We may experience difficulty finding, training and retaining employees.

Our business is labor intensive. We employ a large number of pilots, flight attendants, maintenance technicians and other operating and administrative personnel. The airline industry has, from time to time, experienced a shortage of qualified personnel, especially pilots and maintenance technicians. In addition, as is common with most of our competitors, we may, from time to time, face considerable turnover of our employees. Should the turnover of employees, particularly pilots and maintenance technicians, sharply increase, our training costs will be significantly higher. We cannot assure you that we will be able to recruit, train and retain the managers, pilots, technicians and other qualified employees that we need to continue our current operations or replace departing employees. An increase in turnover or failure to recruit, train and retain qualified employees at a reasonable cost could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Risks Related to the Airline Industry and the Countries in Which We Operate

Our performance is heavily dependent on economic conditions in the countries in which we do business. Negative economic conditions in those countries could adversely impact our business and results of operations and cause the market price of our common shares and ADSs to decrease.

Passenger and cargo demand is heavily cyclical and highly dependent on global and local economic growth, economic expectations and foreign exchange rate variations, among other things. In the past, our business has been adversely affected by global economic recessionary conditions, weak economic growth in Chile, recession in Brazil and Argentina and poor economic performance in certain emerging market countries in which we operate. The occurrence of similar events in the future could adversely affect our business. We plan to continue to expand our operations based in Latin America and our performance will, therefore, continue to depend heavily on economic conditions in the region.

Any of the following factors could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations in the countries in which we operate:

- changes in economic or other governmental policies;
- changes in regulatory, legal or administrative practices;
- weak economic performance, including, but not limited to, a slowdown in the Brazilian economy, political instability low economic growth, low consumption and/or investment rates, and increased inflation rates; or
- other political or economic developments over which we have no control.

No assurance can be given that capacity reductions or other steps we may take in response to weakened demand will be adequate to offset any future reduction in our cargo and/or air travel demand in markets in which we operate. Sustained weak demand may adversely impact our revenues, results of operations or financial condition.

An adverse economic environment, whether global, regional or in a particular country, could result in a reduction in passenger traffic, as well as a reduction in our cargo business, and could also impact our ability to raise fares, which in turn would materially and negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We are exposed to increases in landing fees and other airport service charges that could adversely affect our margin and competitive position. Also, it cannot be assured that in the future we will have access to adequate facilities and landing rights necessary to achieve our expansion plans.

We must pay fees to airport operators for the use of their facilities. Any substantial increase in airport charges, including at Guarulhos International Airport in São Paulo, Jorge Chavez International Airport in Lima or Comodoro Arturo Merino Benitez International Airport in Santiago, could have a material adverse impact on our results of operations. Passenger taxes and airport charges have increased substantially in recent years. We cannot assure you that the airports in which we operate will not increase or maintain high passenger taxes and service charges in the future. Any such increases could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Certain airports that we serve (or that we plan to serve in the future) are subject to capacity constraints and impose various restrictions, including takeoff and landing slot restrictions during certain periods of the day and limits on aircraft noise levels. We cannot be certain that we will be able to obtain a sufficient number of slots, gates and other facilities at airports to expand our services in line with our growth strategy. It is also possible that airports not currently subject to capacity constraints may become so in the future. In addition, an airline must use its slots on a regular and timely basis or risk having those slots re-allocated to others. Where slots or other airport resources are not available or their availability is restricted in some way, we may have to amend our schedules, change routes or reduce aircraft utilization. It is also possible that aviation authorities in the countries in which we operate, change the rules for the assignment of takeoff and landing slots, as it was the case with the São Paulo airport (Congonhas) in 2019 where the slots previously operated by Avianca Brazil were reassigned. Any of these alternatives could have an adverse financial impact on our operations. We cannot ensure that airports at which there are no such restrictions may not implement restrictions in the future or that, where such restrictions exist, they may not become more onerous. Such restrictions may limit our ability to continue to provide or to increase services at such airports.

Our business is highly regulated and changes in the regulatory environment in the countries in which we operate may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business is highly regulated and depends substantially upon the regulatory environment in the countries in which we operate or intend to operate. For example, price controls on fares may limit our ability to effectively apply customer segmentation profit maximization techniques ("passenger revenue management") and adjust prices to reflect cost pressures. High levels of government regulation may limit the scope of our operations and our growth plans. The possible failure of aviation authorities to maintain the required governmental authorizations or our failure to comply with applicable regulations, may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business, financial condition, results of operations and the price of preferred shares and ADSs may be adversely affected by changes in policy or regulations at the federal, state or municipal level in the countries in which we operate, involving or affecting factors such as:

- interest rates;
- currency fluctuations;
- monetary policies;
- inflation;
- liquidity of capital and lending markets;
- tax and social security policies;
- labor regulations;
- energy and water shortages and rationing; and
- other political, social and economic developments in or affecting Brazil, Chile, Peru, and the United States, among others.

For example, the Brazilian federal government has frequently intervened in the domestic economy and made drastic changes in policy and regulations to control inflation and affect other policies and regulations. This required the federal government to increase interest rates, change taxes and social security policies, implement price controls, currency exchange and remittance controls, devaluations, capital controls and limits on imports.

Uncertainty over whether the Brazilian federal government will implement changes in policy or regulation affecting these or other factors may contribute to economic uncertainty in Brazil and to heightened volatility in the Brazilian securities markets and securities issued abroad by Brazilian companies. These and other developments in the Brazilian economy and governmental policies may adversely affect us and our business and results of operations and may adversely affect the trading price of our preferred shares and ADSs.

We are also subject to international bilateral air transport agreements that provide for the exchange of air traffic rights between the countries where we operate, and we must obtain permission from the applicable foreign governments to provide service to foreign destinations. There can be no assurance that such existing bilateral agreements will continue, or that we will be able to obtain more route rights under those agreements to accommodate our future expansion plans. Certain bilateral agreements also include provisions that require substantial ownership or effective control. Any modification, suspension or revocation of one or more bilateral agreements could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. The suspension of our permits to operate to certain airports or destinations, the inability for us to obtain favorable take-off and landing authorizations at certain high-density airports or the imposition of other sanctions could also have a negative impact on our business. We cannot be certain that a change in ownership or effective control or in a foreign government's administration of current laws and regulations or the adoption of new laws and regulations will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Losses and liabilities in the event of an accident involving one or more of our aircraft could materially affect our business.

We are exposed to potential catastrophic losses in the event of an aircraft accident, terrorist incident or any other similar event. There can be no assurance that, as a result of an aircraft accident or significant incident:

- we will not need to increase our insurance coverage;
- our insurance premiums will not increase significantly;
- our insurance coverage will fully cover all of our liability; or
- we will not be forced to bear substantial losses.

Substantial claims resulting from an accident or significant incident in excess of our related insurance coverage could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Moreover, any aircraft accident, even if fully insured, could cause the negative public perception that our aircraft are less safe or reliable than those operated by other airlines, or by other flight operators, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Insurance premiums may also increase due to an accident or incident affecting one of our alliance partners or other airlines, or due to a perception of increased risk in the industry related to concerns about war or terrorist attacks, the general industry, or general industry safety.

High levels of competition in the airline industry, such as the presence of low-cost carriers in the markets in which we operate, may adversely affect our level of operations.

Our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected by high levels of competition within the industry, particularly the entrance of new competitors into the markets in which we operate. Airlines compete primarily over fare levels, frequency and dependability of service, brand recognition, passenger amenities (such as frequent flyer programs) and the availability and convenience of other passenger or cargo services. New and existing airlines (and companies providing ground cargo or passenger transportation) could enter our markets and compete with us on any of these bases, including by offering lower prices, more attractive services or increasing their route offerings in an effort to gain greater market share. For more information regarding our main competitors, see "Item 4. Information of the Company—B. Business Overview—Passenger Operations—International Passenger Operations" and "Item 4. Information of the Company—B. Business Overview—Passenger Operations—Business Model for Domestic Operations."

Low-cost carriers have an important impact in the industry's revenues given their low unit costs. Lower costs allow low-cost carriers to offer inexpensive fares which, in turn, allow price sensitive customers to fly or to shift from large to low cost carriers. In past years we have seen more interest in the development of the low-cost model throughout Latin America. For example, in the Chilean market, Sky Airline, our main competitor, has been migrating to a low-cost model since 2015, while in July 2017, JetSmart, a new low-cost airline, started operations. In the Peruvian domestic market, VivaAir Peru, a new low-cost airline, started operations in May 2017, and in April 2019, another low-cost airline, Sky Airline Peru, started operations. In Colombia, low-cost competitor VivaColombia has been operating in the domestic market since May 2012. Low-cost competitors Flybondi and Norwegian began operations in the Argentinian domestic market during 2018, and in April 2019, JetSmart, another low-cost airline, started operations and announced the acquisition of Norwegian's Argentinian subsidiary operations in December 2019. A number of low-cost carriers have announced growth strategies including commitments to acquire significant numbers of aircraft for delivery in the next few years. The entry of the low-cost carriers local into markets in which we compete, including those described above, could have a material adverse effect on our operations and financial performance.

Our international strategic growth plans rely, in part, upon receipt of regulatory approvals of the countries in which we plan to expand our operations with a Joint Business Agreement (JBA). We may not be able to obtain those approvals, while other competitors might be approved. Accordingly, we might not be able to compete for the same routes as our competitors, which could diminish our market share and adversely impact our financial results. No assurances can be given as to any benefits, if any, that we may derive from such agreements.

Some of our competitors may receive external support, which could adversely impact our competitive position.

Some of our competitors may receive support from external sources, such as their national governments, which may be unavailable to us. Support may include, among others, subsidies, financial aid or tax waivers. This support could place us at a competitive disadvantage and adversely affect our operations and financial performance. For example, Aerolineas Argentinas has historically been government subsidized.

Moreover, as a result of the competitive environment, there may be further consolidation in the Latin American and global airline industry, whether by means of acquisitions, joint ventures, partnerships or strategic alliances. We cannot predict the effects of further consolidation on the industry. Furthermore, consolidation in the airline industry and changes in international alliances will continue to affect the competitive landscape in the industry and may result in the development of airlines and alliances with increased financial resources, more extensive global networks and reduced cost structures.

Some of the countries where we operate may not comply with international agreements previously established, which could increase the risk perception of doing business in that specific market and as a consequence impact our business and financial results.

Rulings by a bankruptcy court in Brazil and by higher judicial authorities related to the bankruptcy proceedings of Avianca Brazil may appear to be inconsistent with the Cape Town Convention (CTC) treaty that Brazil has signed, thus raising concerns about the rights of creditors in respect of financings secured by aircraft. Accordingly, if creditors perceive that an increase business risk is created by these rulings for leasing or other financing transactions involving aircraft in Brazil, there is a possibility that rating agencies may issue lower credit ratings in respect of financings that are secured by aircraft in Brazil. As a result, our business and financial results may be adversely affected if our financing activities in Brazil are impacted by such events.

Our operations are subject to local, national and international environmental regulations; costs of compliance with applicable regulations, or the consequences of noncompliance, could adversely affect our results, our business or our reputation.

Our operations are affected by environmental regulations at local, national and international levels. These regulations cover, among other things, emissions to the atmosphere, disposal of solid waste and aqueous effluents, aircraft noise and other activities incident to our business. Future operations and financial results may vary as a result of such regulations. Compliance with these regulations and new or existing regulations that may be applicable to us in the future could increase our cost base and adversely affect our operations and financial results. In addition, failure to comply with these regulations could adversely affect us in a variety of ways, including adverse effects on our reputation.

In 2016, the International Civil Aviation Organization ("ICAO") adopted a resolution creating the Carbon Offsetting and Reduction Scheme for International Aviation (CORSIA), providing a framework for a global market-based measure to stabilize carbon dioxide ("CO2") emissions in international civil aviation (i.e., civil aviation flights that depart in one country and arrive in a different country). CORSIA will be implemented in phases, starting with the participation of ICAO member states on a voluntary basis during a pilot phase (from 2021 through 2023), followed by a first phase (from 2024 through 2026) and a second phase (from 2027). Currently, CORSIA focuses on defining standards for monitoring, reporting and verification of emissions from air operators, as well as on defining steps to offset CO2 emissions after 2020. To the extent most of the countries in which we operate continue to be ICAO member states, in the future we may be affected by regulations adopted pursuant to the CORSIA framework.

The proliferation of national regulations and taxes on CO2 emissions in the countries that we have domestic operations, including environmental regulations that the airline industry is facing in Colombia, may also affect our costs of operations and our margins.

Our business may be adversely affected by a downturn in the airline industry caused by exogenous events that affect travel behavior or increase costs, such as outbreak of disease, weather conditions and natural disasters, war or terrorist attacks.

Demand for air transportation may be adversely impacted by exogenous events, such as adverse weather conditions and natural disasters, epidemics (such as Ebola and Zika) and outbreaks such as the recent coronavirus, terrorist attacks, war or political and social instability. Situations such as these in one or more of the markets in which we operate could have a material impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the current spread of the coronavirus and other adverse public health developments could have a prolonged effect on air transportation demand and any prolonged or widespread effects could significantly impact our operations.

After the terrorist attacks in the United States on September 11, 2001, the Company made the decision to reduce its flights to the United States. In connection with the reduction in service, the Company reduced its workforce resulting in additional expenses due to severance payments to terminated employees during 2001. Any future terrorist attacks or threat of attacks, whether or not involving commercial aircraft, any increase in hostilities relating to reprisals against terrorist organizations or otherwise and any related economic impact could result in decreased passenger traffic and materially and negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

After the 2001 terrorist attacks, airlines have experienced increased costs resulting from additional security measures that may be made even more rigorous in the future. In addition to measures imposed by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and the TSA, IATA and certain foreign governments have also begun to institute additional security measures at foreign airports we serve.

Revenues for airlines depend on the number of passengers carried, the fare paid by each passenger and service factors, such as the timeliness of flight departures and arrivals. During periods of fog, ice, low temperatures, storms or other adverse weather conditions, some or all of our flights may be cancelled or significantly delayed, reducing our profitability. In addition, fuel prices and supplies, which constitute a significant cost for us, may increase as a result of any future terrorist attacks, a general increase in hostilities or a reduction in output of fuel, voluntary or otherwise, by oil-producing countries. Such increases may result in both higher airline ticket prices and decreased demand for air travel generally, which could have an adverse effect on our revenues and results of operations.

A pandemic or the widespread outbreak of contagious illnesses can have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

The widespread outbreak of a contagious illness such as the novel COVID-19 (Coronavirus), first identified in Wuhan, Hubei Province, China and which has been declared a pandemic by the World Health Organization (WHO), or fear of such an event, is materially reducing demand for, and availability of, worldwide air travel and therefore is having a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

In 2003, an outbreak of a coronavirus known as severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) originating in China became an epidemic and resulted in a slowdown of passenger air traffic due contagion fears. At the time, RPK growth was reduced due to oversupply in the market as airlines tried to cut capacity.

The recent outbreak of Coronavirus has negatively affected global economic conditions, disrupted supply chains and otherwise negatively impacted aircraft manufacturing operations and may reduce the availability of aircraft and aircraft spare parts. The ultimate severity of the Coronavirus outbreak is uncertain at this time and therefore we cannot predict the impact it may have on the availability of aircraft or aircraft spare parts. However, the effect on our results may be material and adverse if supply chain disruptions persist and preclude our ability to adequately maintain our fleet.

The recent outbreak of Coronavirus has also led to government-imposed travel restrictions, flight cancellations, and a marked decline in passenger demand for air travel. Accordingly, LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates implemented a reduction in international flights of approximately 30% and recently updated the decrease in capacity to approximately 70% of the total operations, corresponding 90% to international operations and 40% to domestic operations. These measures will apply principally to flights from South America to Europe and the US between April 1 and May 30, 2020. The potential for a period of significantly reduced demand for travel has and will likely continue to result in significant lost revenue. As a result of these or other conditions beyond our control, our results of operations could be volatile and subject to rapid and unexpected change. In addition, if the spread of the Coronavirus were to continue unabated, our operations could also be negatively affected if employees are quarantined as the result of exposure to the contagious illness. We cannot currently fully predict the impact that the Coronavirus outbreak will have on global air travel and the extent to which it may impact the demand for air travel in the regions we operate. Continued travel restrictions or operational issues resulting from the rapid spread of the Coronavirus or other contagious illnesses that adversely reduce demand for air travel in a part of the world in which we have significant operations could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We are subject to risks related to litigation and administrative proceedings that could adversely affect our business and financial performance in the event of an unfavorable ruling.

The nature of our business exposes us to litigation relating to labor, insurance and safety matters, regulatory, tax and administrative proceedings, governmental investigations, tort claims and contract disputes. Litigation is inherently costly and unpredictable, making it difficult to accurately estimate the outcome among other matters. Currently, as in the past, we are subject to proceedings or investigations of actual or potential litigation. Although we establish accounting provisions as we deem necessary, the amounts that we reserve could vary significantly from any amounts we actually pay due to the inherent uncertainties in the estimation process. We cannot assure you that these or other legal proceedings will not materially affect our business. For further information, see “Item 8. Financial Information—Legal and Arbitration Proceedings.” and Note 31 to our audited consolidated financial statements included in this report.

We are subject to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering and antitrust laws and regulations in Chile, the United States and in the various countries we operate. Violations of any such laws or regulations could have a material adverse impact on our reputation and results of operations and financial condition.

We are subject to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, antitrust and other international laws and regulations and are required to comply with the applicable laws and regulations of all jurisdictions where we operate. In addition, we are subject to economic sanctions regulations that restrict our dealings with certain sanctioned countries, individuals and entities. There can be no assurance that our internal policies and procedures will be sufficient to prevent or detect all inappropriate practices, fraud or violations of law by our affiliates, employees, directors, officers, partners, agents and service providers or that any such persons will not take actions in violation of our policies and procedures. Any violations by us of laws or regulations could have a material adverse effect on our business, reputation, results of operations and financial condition.

Latin American governments have exercised and continue to exercise significant influence over their economies.

Governments in Latin America frequently intervene in the economies of their respective countries and occasionally make significant changes in policy and regulations. Governmental actions have often involved, among other measures, nationalizations and expropriations, price controls, currency devaluations, mandatory increases on wages and employee benefits, capital controls and limits on imports. Our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected by changes in government policies or regulations, including such factors as exchange rates and exchange control policies; inflation control policies; price control policies; consumer protection policies; import duties and restrictions; liquidity of domestic capital and lending markets; electricity rationing; tax policies, including tax increases and retroactive tax claims; and other political, diplomatic, social and economic developments in or affecting the countries where we operate.

For example, the Brazilian government's actions to control inflation and implement other policies have involved wage and price controls, depreciation of the real, controls over remittance of funds abroad, intervention by the Central Bank to affect base interest rates and other measures. In the future, the level of intervention by Latin American governments may continue or increase. We cannot assure you that these or other measures will not have a material adverse effect on the economy of each respective country and, consequently, will not adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Political instability and social unrest in Latin America may adversely affect our business.

We operate primarily within Latin America and are thus subject to a full range of risks associated with our operations in this region. These risks may include unstable political or social conditions, lack of well-established or reliable legal systems, exchange controls and other limits on our ability to repatriate earnings and changeable legal and regulatory requirements.

Although political and social conditions in one country may differ significantly from another country, events in any of our key markets could adversely affect our business, financial conditions or results of operations.

For example, in Brazil, in the last couple of years, as a result of the ongoing Operation Car Wash (Lava Jato investigation), a number of senior politicians have resigned or been arrested and other senior elected officials and public officials are being investigated for allegations of corruption. One of the most significant events that elapsed from this operation was the impeachment of the former President Rousseff by the Brazilian Senate on August, 2016, for violations of fiscal responsibility laws and the governing of its Vice-President, Michel Temer, during the last two years of the presidential mandate, which due to the development of the investigations conducted by the Federal Police Department and the General Federal Prosecutor's Office indicted President Temer on corruption charges. Along with the political and economic uncertainty period the country was facing, in July 2017, former President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva was convicted of corruption and money laundering by a lower federal court in the State of Paraná in connection with the Operation Car Wash (Lava Jato). In addition, Argentine presidential elections held in October 2019, saw the return of the former president of Argentina, Cristina Fernandez de Kirchner who was elected Vice-President and who was previously prosecuted for alleged corruption. In 2019, Peru experienced a constitutional crisis began when President Martín Vizcarra dissolved the Congress of Peru on September 30, 2019. The Peruvian Congress responded by declaring Vizcarra's presidency suspended and appointed Vice President Mercedes Aráoz as interim president, moves that were largely seen as null and void. The Peruvian Constitutional Court ruled that President Martín Vizcarra had not exceeded his powers when he took the step amid a stand-off between the government and opposition-controlled Congress. Opposition lawmakers had denounced it as a coup but the heads of armed forces and the police backed the president. In October 2019, Chile saw significant protests associated with economic conditions resulting in the declaration of a state of emergency in several major cities. The protests in Chile began over criticisms about a lack of quality education, weak pensions, increasing prices and low minimum wage. Current initiatives to address the concerns of the protesters are under discussion in the Chilean Congress. These initiatives include labor reforms, tax reforms and pension reforms, among others. It is not possible to predict the effect of these changes as they are still under discussion, but could potentially result in higher payments of wages and salaries and an increase in taxes. On April 26, 2020, Chile will hold a referendum on whether and how to change the current constitution, which could lead to additional protests. If social unrest in Chile were to continue or intensify, it could lead to operational delays or adversely impact our ability to operate in Chile. LATAM took a series of measures to alleviate the impact for its passengers, including refunds and changes of tickets. The Company estimated a total impact of approximately US$40 million for 2019.

Although conditions throughout Latin America vary from country to country, our customers' reactions to developments in Latin America generally may result in a reduction in passenger traffic, which could materially and negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Latin American countries have experienced periods of adverse macroeconomic conditions.

Our business is dependent upon economic conditions prevalent in Latin America. Latin American countries have historically experienced economic instability, including uneven periods of economic growth as well as significant downturns. High interest, inflation (in some cases substantial and prolonged), and unemployment rates generally characterize each economy. Because commodities such as agricultural products, minerals, and metals represent a significant percentage of exports of many Latin American countries, the economies of those countries are particularly sensitive to fluctuations in commodity prices. Investments in the region may also be subject to currency risks, such as restrictions on the flow of money in and out of the country, extreme volatility relative to the U.S. dollar, and devaluation.

For example, in the past, Peru has experienced periods of severe economic recession, currency devaluation, high inflation, and political instability, which have led to adverse economic consequences. We cannot assure you that Peru will not experience similar adverse developments in the future even though for some years now, several democratic procedures have been completed without any violence. We cannot assure you that the current or any future administration will maintain business-friendly and open-market economic policies or policies that stimulate economic growth and social stability. In Brazil, the Brazil Real GDP decreased 3.5% in 2015, decreased 3.3% in 2016, increased 1.1% in 2017 and increased 1.1% in 2018, according to the Brazilian Institute for Geography and Statistics (Instituto Brasileiro de Geografia e Estatística, or "IBGE"). In addition, the credit rating of the Brazilian federal government was downgraded in 2015 and 2016 by all major credit rating agencies and is no longer investment grade. We can offer no assurances as to the policies that may be implemented by the recently elected Argentine administration, or that political developments in Argentina will not adversely affect the Argentine economy.

Accordingly, any changes in the economies of the Latin American countries in which LATAM and its affiliates operate or the governments' economic policies may have a negative effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Related to our Common Shares and ADSs

Our major shareholders may have interests that differ from those of our other shareholders.

The major shareholder group, the Cueto Group (the "Cueto Group"), beneficially owned 21.46% of our common shares as of February 29, 2020. In addition, the Cueto Group entered into a shareholders' agreement with the Amaro Group (the "Amaro Group"), which as of February 29, 2020, held 1.98% of LATAM shares through TEP Chile, in addition to the indirect stake it has through the 21.88% interest it holds in Costa Verde Aeronáutica S.A., the main legal vehicle through which the Cueto Group holds LATAM shares, pursuant to which these two major shareholder groups have agreed to vote together to elect individuals to our board of directors in accordance with their direct and indirect shareholder interest in LATAM. Pursuant to the shareholders' agreement, the Cueto Group and the Amaro Group have also agreed to use their good faith efforts to reach an agreement and act jointly on all actions to be taken by our board of directors or shareholders' meeting, and if unable to reach to such agreement, to follow the proposals made by our board of directors. Decisions by the Company that require supermajority votes under Chilean law are subject to voting arrangements by the Cueto Group and the Amaro Group. In addition, other shareholders including, Delta Air Lines, Inc, which, as of February 29, 2020, held 20.00% of our common shares, and Qatar Airways Investments (UK) Ltd., which as of February 29, 2020, held 10.00% of our common shares, could have interests that may differ from those of our other shareholders. See "Item 7. Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions—A. Major Shareholders."

Under the terms of the deposit agreement governing the ADSs, if holders of ADSs do not provide JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A., in its capacity as depository for the ADSs, with timely instructions on the voting of the common shares underlying their ADRs, the depository will be deemed to have been instructed to give a person designated by the board of directors the discretionary right to vote those common shares. The person designated by the board of directors to exercise this discretionary voting right may have interests that are aligned with our controlling shareholders, which may differ from those of our other shareholders. Historically, our board of directors has designated its chairman to exercise this right; for example, the members of the board of directors elected by the shareholders in 2019 designated Ignacio Cueto, to serve in this role.

Trading of our ADSs and common shares in the securities markets is limited and could experience further illiquidity and price volatility.

Our common shares are listed on the various Chilean stock exchanges. Chilean securities markets are substantially smaller, less liquid and more volatile than major securities markets in the United States. In addition, Chilean securities markets may be materially affected by developments in other emerging markets, particularly other countries in Latin America. Accordingly, although you are entitled to withdraw the common shares underlying the ADSs from the depositary at any time, your ability to sell the common shares underlying ADSs in the amount and at the price and time of your choice may be substantially limited. This limited trading market may also increase the price volatility of the ADSs or the common shares underlying the ADSs.

Holders of ADRs may be adversely affected by currency devaluations and foreign exchange fluctuations.

If the Chilean peso exchange rate falls relative to the U.S. dollar, the value of the ADSs and any distributions made thereon from the depositary could be adversely affected. Cash distributions made in respect of the ADSs are received by the depositary (represented by the custodian bank in Chile) in pesos, converted by the custodian bank into U.S. dollars at the then-prevailing exchange rate and distributed by the depositary to the holders of the ADRs evidencing those ADSs. In addition, the depositary will incur foreign currency conversion costs (to be borne by the holders of the ADRs) in connection with the foreign currency conversion and subsequent distribution of dividends or other payments with respect to the ADSs.

Future changes in Chilean foreign investment controls and withholding taxes could negatively affect non-Chilean residents that invest in our shares.

Equity investments in Chile by non-Chilean residents have been subject in the past to various exchange control regulations that govern investment repatriation and earnings thereon. Although not currently in effect, regulations of the Central Bank of Chile have in the past required, and could again require, foreign investors acquiring securities in the secondary market in Chile to maintain a cash reserve or to pay a fee upon conversion of foreign currency to purchase such securities. Furthermore, any changes in withholding taxes could negatively affect non-Chilean residents that invest in our shares.

We cannot assure you that additional Chilean restrictions applicable to the holders of ADRs, the disposition of the common shares underlying ADSs or the repatriation of the proceeds from an acquisition, a disposition or a dividend payment, will not be imposed or required in the future, nor could we make an assessment as to the duration or impact, were any such restrictions to be imposed or required. For further information, see “Item 10. Additional Information—D. Exchange Controls—Foreign Investment and Exchange Controls in Chile.”

Our ADS holders may not be able to exercise preemptive rights in certain circumstances.

The Chilean Corporation Law provides that preemptive rights shall be granted to all shareholders whenever a company issues new shares for cash, giving such holders the right to purchase a sufficient number of shares to maintain their existing ownership percentage. We will not be able to offer shares to holders of ADSs and shareholders located in the United States pursuant to the preemptive rights granted to shareholders in connection with any future issuance of shares unless a registration statement under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the “Securities Act”), is effective with respect to such rights and shares, or an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available. At the time of any rights offering, we will evaluate the potential costs and liabilities associated with any such registration statement in light of any indirect benefit to us of enabling U.S. holders of ADRs evidencing ADSs and shareholders located in the United States to exercise preemptive rights, as well as any other factors that may be considered appropriate at that time, and we will then make a decision as to whether we will file a registration statement. We cannot assure you that we will decide to file a registration statement or that such rights will be available to ADS holders and shareholders located in the United States.

We are not required to disclose as much information to investors as a U.S. issuer is required to disclose and, as a result, you may receive less information about us than you would receive from a comparable U.S. company.

The corporate disclosure requirements that apply to us may not be equivalent to the disclosure requirements that apply to a U.S. company and, as a result, you may receive less information about us than you would receive from a comparable U.S. company. We are subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act. The disclosure requirements applicable to foreign issuers under the Exchange Act are more limited than the disclosure requirements applicable to U.S. issuers. Publicly available information about issuers of securities listed on Chilean stock exchanges also provides less detail in certain respects than the information regularly published by listed companies in the United States or in certain other countries. Furthermore, there is a lower level of regulation of the Chilean securities market and of the activities of investors in such markets as compared with the level of regulation of the securities markets in the United States and in certain other developed countries. For further information, see “Item 16. Reserved—G. Corporate Governance.”

ITEM 4. INFORMATION ON THE COMPANY

A. HISTORY AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE COMPANY

General

LATAM Airlines Group is a Chilean-based airline holding company formed through the business combination of LAN Airlines S.A. of Chile and TAM of Brazil in 2012. Following the combination, LAN Airlines S.A. became “LATAM Airlines Group S.A.” and TAM S.A. continues to exist as a subsidiary of LATAM. The Company is primarily involved in the transportation of passengers and cargo and operates as one unified business enterprise. During 2016, we began the transition of unifying LAN and TAM into a single brand: LATAM.

LATAM’s airline holdings include LATAM and its affiliates in Chile, Peru, Argentina, Colombia and Ecuador, and LATAM Cargo and its affiliate LANCO (in Colombia), as well as TAM S.A. and its affiliates TAM Linhas Aereas S.A (LATAM Airlines Brazil), TAM Transportes Aereos del Mercosur S.A., (LATAM Airlines Paraguay) and LATAM Cargo. LATAM is a publicly traded corporation listed on the Santiago Stock Exchange (“SSE”), the Chilean Electronic Exchange and the New York Stock Exchange (“NYSE”) with a market capitalization of US$4.12 billion as of February 29, 2020.

LATAM’s history goes back to 1929, when the Chilean government founded LAN. In 1989, the Chilean government sold 51.0% of LAN’s capital stock to Chilean investors and to SAS, Scandinavian Airlines System. In 1994, LATAM’s current controlling shareholders, together with other major shareholders, acquired 98.7% of LAN’s stock, including the remaining shares then held by the Chilean government. In 1997, LAN became the first Latin American airline to list its shares (which trade in the form of ADSs) on the New York Stock Exchange.

Over the past decade, LATAM has significantly expanded its operations in Latin America, initiating services in Peru in 1999, Argentina in 2005, Ecuador in 2009, and Colombia in 2010. The business combination of LAN and TAM in June 2012 further expanded the Company’s operations in Brazil, where TAM Linhas Aéreas S.A. (“TLA” or “LATAM Airlines Brazil”), the TAM operating entity, is a leading domestic and international airline offering flights throughout Brazil with a strong domestic market share, international passenger services and significant cargo operations. TAM was founded in May 1997 (under the name Companhia de Investimentos em Transportes), for the purpose of participating in, managing and consolidating shareholdings in airlines. In September 2002, TAM’s name was changed to TAM S.A. and its shares were listed on the Brazilian Stock Exchange (“Bovespa”) in June 2005. From 2006 until the combination with LAN in 2012, TAM ADSs were also listed on the NYSE.

Our principal executive offices are located at Presidente Riesco 5711, 20th floor, Las Condes, Santiago, Chile and our general telephone number at this location is (56-2) 2565-2525. We have designated LATAM Airlines Group as our agent in the United States, located at 970 South Dixie Highway, Miami, Florida 33156. Our website address is www.latamairlinesgroup.net. Information obtained on, or accessible through, this website is not incorporated by reference herein and shall not be considered part of this annual report. For more information contact Andrés del Valle, Senior Vice President of Corporate Finance and Investor Relations, at InvestorRelations@latam.com.

The SEC maintains an internet site at <http://www.sec.gov> that contains reports, information statements, and other information regarding issuers that file electronically with the SEC.

Capital Expenditures

For a description of our capital expenditures, see “Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—B. Liquidity and Capital Resources—Capital Expenditures.”

B. BUSINESS OVERVIEW

General

LATAM is the largest passenger airline group in South America. We are also one of the largest airline groups in the world in terms of network connections, providing passenger transport services to approximately 145 destinations in 26 countries and cargo services to approximately 151 destinations in 29 countries, with an operating fleet of 331 aircraft and a set of bilateral alliances. In total, LATAM Airlines Group has approximately 42,000 employees. For the year 2019, LATAM transported approximately 74 million passengers. LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates currently provide domestic services in Brazil, Chile, Peru, Argentina, Colombia and Ecuador; and also provide intra-regional and long-haul operations. The cargo affiliate carriers of LATAM in Chile, Brazil, and Colombia carry out cargo operations through the use of belly space on the passenger flights and dedicated cargo operations using freight aircraft. We also offer other services, such as ground handling, courier, logistics and maintenance.

As of December 31, 2019, we provided scheduled passenger service to 17 destinations in Chile, 20 destinations in Peru, six destinations in Ecuador, 13 destinations in Argentina, 14 destinations in Colombia, 45 destinations in Brazil, 10 destinations in other Latin American countries and the Caribbean, seven destinations in North America, seven destinations in Europe, four destinations in Australasia, one destination in Asia and one destination in Africa.

In addition, as of December 31, 2019, through our various code-sharing agreements, we offer service to 66 destinations in North America, 67 destinations in Europe, 15 destinations in Australasia, 22 destinations in Asia and 7 destinations in Africa.

Competitive Strengths

Our strategy is to maintain LATAM Airlines Group's position as the leading airline in South America by leveraging our unique position in the airline industry. LATAM Airlines Group is the only airline group in the region with a domestic presence in six markets, as well as intra-regional and long-haul operations to five continents. As a result, the Company has geographical diversity and operational flexibility, as well as a proven track record of acting quickly to adapt its business to economic challenges. Moreover, LATAM's unique leadership position in a region with growth potential and the focus on our existing competitive strengths, will allow us to continue building our business model and fuel our future growth, ensuring LATAM's long term sustainability. We believe our most important competitive strengths are:

Leader in the South America Airlines Space, with a Unique Leadership Position among Global Airlines

Through a successful regional expansion strategy, LATAM Airlines Group has become the leading international and domestic passenger airline group in South America. LATAM and its affiliates have domestic passenger operations in Chile, Brazil, Peru, Argentina, Colombia and Ecuador. We are also the largest operator of intra-regional routes, connecting the main cities and also some secondary cities in South America. Furthermore, through our significant presence in the largest hubs in South America—Lima and São Paulo—we are able to offer the best connectivity options between South America and the rest of the world.

Geographically Diversified Revenue Base, including both Passenger and Cargo Operations

Our operations are highly geographically diversified, including domestic operations in six different countries, as well as operations within South America and connecting South America with various international destinations. We believe this provides resilience to external shocks that may occur in any particular market. Furthermore, we believe that one of our distinct competitive advantages is our ability to profitably integrate our scheduled passenger and cargo operations. We take into account potential cargo services when planning passenger routes, and also serve certain dedicated cargo routes using our freighter aircraft when needed. By adding cargo revenues to our existing passenger service, we are able to increase the productivity of our assets and maximize revenue, reducing our break-even load factors and enhancing our per flight profitability. Additionally, this revenue diversification helps offset seasonal revenue fluctuations and reduces the volatility of our business over time. For the year ended December 31, 2019, passenger, cargo and other revenues accounted for 86.3%, 10.2% and 3.5% of total revenues respectively.

Modern Fleet and Optimized Fleet Strategy

The average age of our fleet is approximately nine years, making it one of the most modern in Latin America and in the world. A younger fleet makes us more cost competitive because it reduces fuel consumption and maintenance costs, and enables us to enjoy a high degree of performance reliability. In addition, a modern and fuel-efficient fleet reflects our strong commitment to the environment as new aircraft incorporate the industry's latest technology, allowing for a substantial reduction in emissions, and also in noise levels.

We select our aircraft based on their ability to effectively and efficiently serve our short- and long-haul flight needs, while still striving to minimize the number of different aircraft types we operate.

The Company's current fleet plan includes a short-haul fleet formed exclusively by aircraft from the A320 family, with a focus on the A321 and A320neo, a re-engined A320 that the Company received for the first time in 2016, becoming the first airline in Latin America to fly this model. During 2019, LATAM incorporated nine additional A320neo into its fleet.

For long-haul passenger flights, we operate the Boeing 767-300ER, the Boeing 787-8, the Boeing 787-9, the Boeing 777-300ER and the Airbus A350-900 which started operations in 2016. The Boeing 787 and Airbus A350 models allow us to achieve important savings in fuel consumption, while incorporating modern technology to deliver the best travel experience for our passengers. In 2019, we incorporated four Airbus 350-900 and two Boeing 787-9 into our fleet.

LATAM continues to take a flexible approach to its fleet plan in order to better align it to market conditions. During 2019, LATAM further restructured its fleet delivery schedule, achieving a reduction of US$1.1 billion in fleet commitments for the period 2020-2022, equivalent to a reduction of approximately 38% of total fleet commitments for this period.

Strong Brand Teamed with Key Global Strategic Alliances

In May 2016 our new brand, LATAM, was officially launched. We believe that our new brand is associated with superior service and technologically advanced operations, and is well recognized and respected in the markets in which we operate. In 2019, LATAM Airlines Group was named for the second year running as the ‘Best Global Airline in South America’ in the Passenger Experience Association of Airlines (APEX) Passenger Choice Awards. In addition, for the second year in a row, LATAM Airlines Group led the rankings of the “Punctuality List 2020,” compiled by the Official Airline Guide (OAG), which highlights LATAM Airlines Group as the global leader in the “Mega Airlines” category. In addition, LATAM also received the first place in punctuality in the global category, according to the annual On-Time Performance (OTP) report compiled for the year 2019 by Cirium, expert consultants in analysis of travel data.

Our strategic global alliances and existing commercial agreements provide our customers with access to more destinations worldwide, a combined reservations system, itinerary flexibility and various other benefits, which substantially enhance our competitive position within the Latin American market.

In 2019, LATAM entered into a framework agreement with Delta Air Lines, Inc. that will we expect to unlock new growth opportunities, building upon Delta’s and LATAM’s global footprint. For more information on the framework agreement see “Item 4. Information on the Company—B. Business Overview—Passenger Alliances and Commercial Agreements.”

Financial Flexibility

We have historically managed our business to maintain financial flexibility and a strong balance sheet, seeking to accommodate our growth objectives while having the ability to respond to changing market conditions. Our financial flexibility has allowed us to secure large aircraft deliveries, including an important part of our current re-fleeting program, at attractive financing rates. Our wide array of funding sources includes bilateral loans, syndicated loans, aircraft rentals and a variety of capital markets structures, among others.

Recognized Loyalty Program

Our frequent flyer program, LATAM Pass, is the leading frequent flyer program in South America, with strong participation rates and brand recognition by our customers. Customers in the program earn miles based on the price paid for the ticket, class of ticket purchased, and elite level, as well as by using the services of outside partners in the program. We believe that our program is attractive to customers because it does not impose restrictions on those flights for which points can be redeemed, or limit the number of seats available on any particular flight to members using the loyalty program. LATAM Pass members can also accrue and redeem points for flights on other airlines with whom we have bilateral commercial agreements.

Business Strategy

Our mission is to connect people safely, with operational excellence and a personal touch, seeking to become one of the most admired airline groups in the world. In order to achieve our mission, the principal areas on which we plan to focus our efforts going forward are as follows:

Continually Strengthen Our Network

We intend to continue to strengthen our route network in South America, offering the best connectivity within the region at competitive prices and ensuring that we are the most convenient option for our passengers. We believe that we are the only airline group in the world with a local presence in six home markets and an international and intra-regional operation. This position is bolstered by our enhanced infrastructure in several of our key hubs, allowing us to further strengthen our network. We intend to leverage our position to create a leading portfolio of services and destinations, providing more options to our passengers and building a platform to support continued growth.

Enhance Brand Leadership and Customer Experience

We will always seek to be the preferred choice of passengers in South America. Our efforts are supported by a differentiated passenger experience and our leveraging of mobile digital technologies. We continue working on the implementation of our single, unified brand, culture, product and value proposition for our passengers. Additionally, we are focused on defining LATAM’s digital strategy, including applications to achieve ancillary revenues and improving the management of contingencies, so that we are able to provide information and solutions to our customers in a timely and transparent manner. We continually assess opportunities to incorporate service improvements in order to respond effectively to our customers’ needs.

Improving Efficiency and Cost Competitiveness

We are continually working to maintain a competitive cost structure and further improve our efficiency, simplify our organization and increase flexibility and speed in decision-making. Cost savings include reductions in fuel and fees, procurement, operations, overhead and distribution costs, among others, as well as the implementation of a customized service offering in domestic and international markets.

Organizational Strength

We aspire to be a group of passionate people, working in a simple and aligned manner, with inspiring leaders making agile decisions. This will allow us to deliver a distinctive value proposition to our customers and operate sustainably over the long term.

Proactive Risk Management

We strive to have a holistic and responsible view of risk in decision-making. We put special focus on risks that have high potential impact and low probability of occurrence, which could significantly affect LATAM's strategic objectives.

Passenger Operations

General

As of December 31, 2019, our passenger operations were performed through airlines in Chile, Brazil, Peru, Argentina, Colombia and Ecuador, where we operate both domestic and international services. We collect and report operating data for our passenger operations in three categories: international (connecting more than one country), Domestic operations in Spanish speaking countries or "SSC" (including Chile, Peru, Argentina, Colombia, and Ecuador), and Domestic Brazil (wholly within Brazil).

The following table sets forth certain of our passenger operating data for international and domestic routes for the periods indicated:

(1) RASK information for each of our business units is provided because LATAM believes that it is useful information to understand trends in each of our operations. We use our revenues as defined under IFRS to calculate this metric. The revenues per business unit include ticket revenue, breakage, excess baggage fee, frequent flyer program revenues and other revenues. These operating measures may differ from similarly titled measures reported by other companies and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance in accordance with IFRS. This unaudited operating data is not included in or derived from LATAM's financial statements.

(2) The combined Passenger RASK for LATAM is calculated by dividing passenger revenues by total passenger ASKs.

International Passenger Operations

Our international network includes the international operations of our Chilean, Peruvian, Ecuadorian, Argentinean, Colombian and Brazilian affiliates. LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates have operated international services out of Chile since 1946 and have since greatly expanded international services, offering flights out of Peru, Ecuador, Argentina, Colombia and Brazil. As of December 31, 2019, LATAM offers 30 international destinations in 20 countries, in addition to our domestic destinations and international flights and connections between our domestic destinations.

The general strategy to expand our international network is aimed at enhancing our value proposition by offering customers more destinations and routing alternatives. Sustained development of LATAM's international network is a crucial factor in the long-term strategy. The group provides long-haul services out of Santiago, Lima, Guayaquil, Buenos Aires, Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro. The group also provides regional services from Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Argentina, Colombia and Brazil.

During 2019, the group has continued to grow at Guarulhos Airport in São Paulo, Jorge Chavez Airport in Lima and Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez Airport in Santiago, launching 26 new routes, especially from our main hubs.

As part of our mission, LATAM seeks to promote tourism to South America. Due to our large network of services, visitors from around the world can experience world-renowned destinations such as Cusco, Easter Island, the Galapagos Islands, Iguazu Falls in Brazil, and Patagonia in Chile and Argentina, including the cities of Punta Arenas, Puerto Natales, Ushuaia, El Calafate and Bariloche.

Domestic Passenger Operations

As of December 31, 2019, domestic passenger services within Chile, Brazil, Peru, Ecuador, Argentina and Colombia were operated by LATAM Airlines Chile, LATAM Airlines Brazil, LATAM Airlines Peru, LATAM Airlines Ecuador, LATAM Airlines Argentina and LATAM Airlines Colombia, respectively.

Business Model for Domestic Operations

In November 2016, the group announced an important project to revamp the business model of our domestic services offerings in the six domestic markets where we operate in South America. The purpose of this change was to increase our competitiveness and ensure the long-term sustainability of our domestic business model. We implemented this new business model in all of our domestic operations, allowing us to provide more competitive fares and contributing to the development of tourism and the growth of air travel per capita in the region. The domestic service model requires continuous cost reduction efforts, and we continue to implement a series of initiatives to reduce cost per ASK in all domestic operations. These efforts are aimed at significantly reducing selling and distribution expenses, increasing fleet utilization and operational productivity and simplifying back-office and support functions, thereby allowing us to expand our operations while controlling fixed costs.

Another key element of this business model is initiatives to increase our ancillary revenues, while allowing passengers to customize their journey. Customers on domestic flights are now able to access a simpler sales platform, which allows them to choose their fare depending on the type of journey they want, and to purchase additional services such as extra luggage, a variety of food and beverage options on board, preferred seating options and the flexibility to change tickets.

In January 2020, LATAM Airlines Group announced that it will introduce its superior cabin class, Premium Economy, in all domestic and international flights within Latin America operated by the Airbus A320 family (A319, A320, A320neo and A321; “short-/medium-haul”) aircraft, starting March 16, 2020. This cabin class offers premium services both at the airport and in-flight, including priority check-in and boarding, VIP lounge access in airports where available, a differentiated onboard service (including complimentary snacks and drinks), an exclusive overhead bin for hand luggage and a blocked-middle seat, providing greater space and privacy.

We continue to develop digital initiatives to empower passengers providing them an enhanced digital experience with end-to-end control of their reservation. LATAM customers will increasingly be able to buy, check-in and manage the after sale service in a simpler and faster manner through their smartphones.

The following table shows LATAM’s number of destinations, passengers transported, market share and main competitors in each domestic market in which we operate:

	Brazil	Chile	Argentina	Peru	Colombia	Ecuador

On April 3, 2019, LATAM Airlines Brazil, announced that it had been approached by Elliott Associates L.P., Elliott International L.P., and Manchester Securities Corporation (jointly “Elliott”), the largest debt holders of Oceanair Linhas Aéreas S.A. and AVB Holding S.A. (jointly “Avianca Brasil”), in connection with the auction of one independent productive unit (“IPU”) of Avianca Brasil (including but not limited to certain contracts, operating certificates, permits, and slots). The auction was part of Elliott’s restructuring proposal and included bids in the minimum amount of US$70 million. In addition, as part of the proposed restructuring, LATAM Airlines Brazil extended to Avianca Brasil US$13 million of debtor-in-possession loans to finance, in part, working capital in support of their operations, amount that will be reimbursed to LATAM Airlines Brazil if the restructuring proposal is successful.

On July 10, 2019, LATAM Airlines Brazil presented winning bids for the IPUs ‘B’ and ‘C’, valued at US$70 million and US$10,000, respectively. The adjudication, and the payment, of the aforementioned productive units is subject to any and all required governmental and antitrust approvals. However, the ANAC in Brazil distributed slots according to its regular procedures, with the exception of Congonhas’ airport in São Paulo, for which ANAC defined a new distribution rule that resulted in LATAM Airlines Brazil not receiving slots at that airport.

Passenger Alliances and Commercial Agreements

Strategic Alliance with Delta

On September 26, 2019, LATAM entered into a framework agreement (the “Framework Agreement”) with Delta Air Lines, Inc. (“Delta”) relating to (i) the creation of a strategic alliance between the two airlines, (ii) the purchase by Delta of a number of common shares representing up to 20% of LATAM share capital through a tender offer process, (iii) payment by Delta of certain transition costs and provision of certain support services, and (iv) the purchase by Delta of certain aircraft currently owned by LATAM and the assignment to and assumption by Delta of certain aircraft ordered by LATAM. Below is a brief summary of main details of the partnership.

Strategic Alliance. Under the Framework Agreement, LATAM and Delta agreed to enter into a strategic alliance with respect to passenger and cargo networks, on routes between the United States and Canada and certain countries in Latin America, allowing LATAM and Delta to offer their customers access to a greatly expanded array of destinations. The implementation of the strategic alliance is subject to governmental and regulatory approvals, including antitrust requirements.

Tender offer and investment. Under the Framework Agreement, Delta commenced a public tender offer for the acquisition of up to 20% of LATAM common shares at a price per share of U.S. $16. On December 29, 2019, the public tender offer was finalized, resulting in Delta acquiring a total amount of 121,281,538 shares, representing 20% of the total common shares issued, subscribed and paid of LATAM Airlines for an overall investment of approximately U.S. $ 1.9 billion. The settlement of the tender offer occurred on January 3, 2020. In connection with consummation of the tender offer, Delta is now entitled to representation on the LATAM board of directors.

Transition costs and support services. Under the Framework Agreement, Delta agreed to (i) pay LATAM certain transition costs that LATAM is expected to incur in connection with the framework agreement, for an overall amount of U.S. $ 350 million, and (ii) providing certain transition support services to LATAM.

Aircraft purchase and assumptions. Under the Framework Agreement, Delta, in support of its ongoing fleet transformation, agreed to (i) purchase from LATAM four Airbus A350 aircraft, and (ii) assume LATAM’s commitment to purchase 10 additional Airbus A350 aircrafts that are to be delivered beginning in 2021 through 2025.

Termination of previous arrangements and alliances and subscription of new codeshare agreements

On September 26, 2019, and after being a member for around 20 years, LATAM communicated its decision to exit the oneworld global alliance, and indicated that it would not be entering in any other global alliance at this time. In line with this decision, LATAM also announced the termination of the codeshare agreements with American Airlines effective January 31, 2020, and that it will not participate in the previously announced JBA.

In addition, on December 2, 2019, the group’s affiliates in Colombia, Peru and Ecuador signed codeshare agreements with Delta to provide greater connectivity with the United States starting the first quarter of 2020, also subject to applicable regulatory approval.

On December 6, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group announced that it will not participate in the proposed joint business agreement (JBA) with International Airlines Group (IAG; the parent company of British Airways and Iberia). The decision was made for commercial reasons and in the context of changes in the aviation market since the JBA was first announced in January 2016.

Other alliances and material commercial agreements

In addition, LATAM and its affiliates have ongoing passenger commercial agreements with several airlines, including Iberia, Qantas, British Airways, Lufthansa, Swiss, Qatar Airways, Korean Air, China Eastern, Cathay Pacific, Japan Airlines and Jetstar Airways, among others. These commercial agreements allow us to provide additional benefits to our passengers, including access to a wider network, more flight options with better connections times, more competitive fares to destinations not served by LATAM, and increased potential for developing new routes and adding direct flights to new destinations and to destinations already served by LATAM.

Passenger Marketing and Sales

During 2019, the LATAM Group continued to strengthen its network, especially from its main hubs in São Paulo (Guarulhos), Lima and Santiago. In connection with these efforts, LATAM's affiliates launched new non-stop routes connecting Guarulhos with Santa Cruz, Navegantes, Ilheus and Ribeirao Preto, Lima with Cali, Ilo, Calama, Brasilia, Porto Alegre and Montego Bay, and Santiago with Sydney, Quito, Porto Alegre and Brasilia, among others.

In 2019 the LATAM Group introduced the new Premium Business experience that incorporates the enhanced new cabins; aimed at transforming the travel experience. The investment in this program exceeded US$500 million, including, US$400 million in cabin renovation. In 2019 the cabin transformation was implemented in five Boeing 777 aircraft, five 767 aircraft and 32 A320 aircraft. The new service and gastronomic concept of the Premium Business class, provides greater rest, comfort and privacy so that passengers can arrive fresh at their destination.

As part of our commitment to offer more options, customization and flexibility to serve all types of passengers, the new 'Basic' fare was introduced, thus replacing the previous 'Promo' option for domestic flights, becoming the company's most economical option for passengers.

In addition, LATAM received several awards and recognitions; LATAM was elected as the most punctual airline group in the world by the Official Airline Guide (OAG) and Cirium. For the second year in a row, LATAM Airlines Group led the rankings of the "Punctuality List 2020," compiled by OAG, which highlights LATAM Group as the global leader in the "Mega Airlines" category. In addition, LATAM also received first place in punctuality in the global category, according to the annual On-Time Performance (OTP) report compiled by Cirium. LATAM Airlines Group was recognized as the 'Best Airline in South America' in Skytrax World Airline Awards, LATAM also was awarded by passengers as the "Best global Airline of South America" according to the awards APEX Passenger Choice.

LATAM Airlines Group was listed in the 'World' category of the Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) for the sixth consecutive year; recognition of the company's ongoing commitment to incorporating sustainable practices into every aspect of its operations. Today, LATAM Airlines Group is the only airline group in the Americas with a presence in this category and one of the only three airline groups in the world in the category.

LATAM was also named as the "Official Airline" of the Lima 2019 Panamerican and Parapanamerican Games, which were held for the first time in Peru.

Branding

During 2019 the loyalty programs of LATAM Pass and LATAM Fidelidade were combined under the single brand, LATAM Pass, to deliver to our customers a unified and integrated experience with the benefits of LATAM Airlines. Since October 1, 2019, LATAM Pass is LATAM's single loyalty program, becoming the fourth largest program in the world and the largest in South America, with more than 33 million members worldwide. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—B. Business Overview—Frequent Flyer Program."

In October 2019, continuing our commitment to deliver a world-class experience to our customers, we unveiled our Star Wars-inspired Boeing 777 "Stormtrooper Plane" under a partnership with Disney, just days after the official premiere launch of the movie, Star Wars: Galaxy's Edge zone Disney Hollywood Studios park in Orlando, Florida.

Distribution Channels

We are committed to being the preferred choice of our customers, placing the passenger at the center of our decision making. Our distribution structure is divided into direct and indirect distribution channels, both focused on improving their respective platforms to allow for easy interaction for our client in sales and services alike. Direct channels owned by LATAM are comprised of city ticket offices, contact-centers and e-Business (including website, mobile and smart business), and accounted for approximately 53% of total sales in 2019 (including award passengers). These direct channels support sales and service, both before and after the flight.

Our city ticket offices include additional services in order to complement the experience of our customers. Our contact centers are a multi-service channel providing support in six languages (Spanish, English, Portuguese, French, German and Italian).

We are committed to constantly improving the way we offer our products via our distribution channels, including the adoption of new technology. The Company will continue to improve its e-Business platforms to support expected future growth and simplify our customers' online experience.

Our digital strategy includes mobile applications that provide trip information to our passengers. These applications improve management of contingencies, enable us to provide information and solutions to our customers in a timely and transparent manner and serve as a new direct sales channel.

Indirect channels currently include travel agencies, general sales agencies, direct channels from other airlines and online agencies, and accounted for 47% of total sales in 2019. LATAM offers travel agencies different options to connect to our systems and provide their customers our best product offering. These options include Global Distribution Systems as well as our direct connection eLATAM, which we are continuously expanding and improving.

Frequent Flyer Program

Our frequent flyer program is a key element of our marketing and loyalty strategy. The program rewards customer loyalty, and, as a result, generates incremental revenue and promotes customer retention.

In 2019 we established a new way to qualify for "Elite" status in our frequent flyer program based on the price paid for the ticket, and is aligned with a simpler methodology for mileage accrual, generating simplicity and efficiency to our frequent flyer program. As a LATAM Pass member, you can access superior categories and enjoy better benefits by earning Qualifying Points on all your flights. Qualifying Points are different from LATAM Pass Points, which you can use to redeem for tickets and on-board benefits. The amount of Qualifying Points you earn depends on the dollars spent on purchasing the ticket (discounting charges, taxes and additional services) and the multiplier of the destination (domestic or international).

Also, a new alliance with Amazon was implemented, strengthening the value of miles available for redemption.

During 2019, LATAM Airlines Brazil acquired the 27.3% minority stake of Multiplus S.A. ("Multiplus"), a former subsidiary of TAM. Multiplus was launched by TAM in 2009 and in February 2010 it became a publicly traded company in Brazil following its initial public offering, and TAM S.A continued to own 72.74% of the ordinary shares of Multiplus. On September 5, 2018, it was announced that (i) LATAM Airlines Brazil did not intend to extend or renew the operational agreement entered into with Multiplus after December 31, 2024, and (ii) LATAM Airlines Brazil intended to launch a tender offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of Multiplus that LATAM's affiliates do not currently own, and to subsequently delist Multiplus from the B3 Novo Mercado and cancel its registration. After acquiring 100% of Multiplus, in May 31, 2020, LATAM Airlines Brazil merged with Multiplus, bringing more flexibility to offer program members a better value proposition for redeeming points and increase the preference for our services.

The frequent flyer program is a strategic asset for the airline group, and a core source of value that differentiates LATAM from other carriers. The acquisition of Multiplus and its full integration into LATAM's network will, together with LATAM Pass, create what LATAM estimates to be the fourth largest frequent flyer and loyalty program in the world (measured by member base). LATAM Airline Brazil's decision is consistent with recent transactions in the industry, and with the strategy of in-house frequent flyer business models of the largest global airlines.

In addition, a new tier category, Gold Plus, was launched in its market with focus on recovering Brazilian's domestic corporate market share delivering to a specific type of customer a better experience at the airport, and also a better mileage accrual. Improvements for the Gold category include priority check-in in all flights (for Gold category only in international flights) and free same day changes for Brazilian domestic flights.

As of December 31, 2019, LATAM Pass had approximately 33 million members, representing an increase of 8.5% compared to 2018. Members of the LATAM Pass program receive benefits and increase miles for ticket purchases in accordance with their elite level status, as well as by purchasing the services of other partners in the LATAM Pass program. Customers of the program can redeem miles or points for free tickets as well as for other products. LATAM Pass members are classified in five elite levels: Gold, Gold Plus, Platinum, Black and Black Signature. These different groups determine which benefits customers are eligible to receive, including mile earning bonuses, free upgrades, VIP lounge access and preferred boarding and check-in privileges.

Cargo Operations

The Cargo business is operated internationally and domestically by affiliate airlines under the unified LATAM Cargo brand, which has acquired significant market recognition. The cargo business generally operates on the same route network used by the passenger airline business. It includes approximately 151 destinations; of which approximately 145 are served by passenger and/or freighter aircraft and six are served only by freighter aircraft.

The following table sets forth certain of our cargo-operating statistics for domestic and international routes for the periods indicated:

	Year ended and as at December 31,
	2019	2018	2017
ATKs (millions)	6,356.7	6,497.6	6,230.3
RTKs (millions)	3,526.0	3,582.5	3,421.3
Weight of cargo carried (thousands of tons)	903.8	920.6	895.9
Total cargo yield (cargo revenues/RTKs, in U.S. cents)	30.2	33.1	32.7
Total cargo load factor (%)	55.5%	55.1%	54.9%

We derive our revenues from the transport of cargo through our dedicated freighter fleet and in the bellies of our passenger aircraft.

1) Bellies of our passenger aircraft. We consider our passenger network to be a key competitive advantage due to the synergies between passenger and cargo operations and, accordingly, we have developed a strategy to increase our competitiveness by enhancing our belly offering.

2) Freighter fleet. As of December 31, 2019, our freighter fleet consisted of twelve Boeing 767-300 freighters, each with a capacity for 58 structural tons of freight. Our freighter fleet under operation consisted of eleven Boeing 767-300F since one of our Boeing 767-300F was subleased to MasAir S.A. The freighter fleet program has two main focus areas: first, to support the group's belly business, improving its load factor by feeding cargo into our passenger routes, and second, to enhance our product offering by providing our customers flexibility in scheduling, origins, destinations and types of cargo.

The United States is the main market for cargo traffic to and from Latin America. Besides being the main market for Latin American exports by air, cargo consolidated in the United States accounts for the majority of goods transported by air to Latin American countries. Accordingly, we have headquartered our international cargo operations in Miami. This geographical location is a natural gateway between Latin America and the United States. We also utilize of passenger flights to and from New York, Los Angeles, Orlando and Boston and our dedicated freighter service to Chicago. Additionally, we operated road-feeder network to feed traffic from other origins in the United States,

The LATAM Group also transports cargo to and from nine destinations in Europe: London, Barcelona, Milan, Paris, Lisbon, Frankfurt, Madrid, Amsterdam and Brussels. The first five points are served only via passenger aircraft. Frankfurt and Madrid are served by both passenger and freighter aircraft, while Amsterdam and Brussels are only served through freighter operations. We operate a road-feeder service within Europe to expand our footprint and balance traffic between our different origins.

Chile, Colombia, Peru, Ecuador, and Brazil represent a large part of the northbound traffic. This demand is mainly concentrated on a small number of product categories, such as exports of fish, sea products and fruits from Chile, asparagus and fruits from Peru, and fresh flowers from Ecuador and Colombia.

The main destinations for southbound traffic are Brazil, Chile, Colombia and Peru. Southbound demand is mainly concentrated on a small number of product categories including high-tech equipment, mining equipment, electronics, auto parts and pharmaceuticals.

The largest domestic cargo operations are in Brazil, where LATAM Cargo Brasil remains the market leader, carrying cargo for a variety of customers, including freight-forwarding companies, logistics operators, e-commerce companies and individual consumers.

During 2019, cargo traffic decreased 1.6% mainly due to weaker imports to Latin America. Cargo capacity decreased 2.2% and as a result cargo load factors improved 0.4 points to 55.5%. Cargo yields decreased 8.8% during 2019, mainly due to a lower air cargo demand into Latin America and an increase in industrial capacity in certain Trans-Atlantic markets.

The cargo business in the region is highly competitive, as international and regional carriers often have spare capacity in their cargo operations. Despite this, we have been able to maintain solid market shares through efficient utilization of the fleet and network. Today, on Latin America-United States routes, the main competitors are Atlas Air, Avianca Cargo and American Airlines. On the Latin America-Europe routes, the main competitors are Cargolux, Lufthansa Cargo, Air France/KLM, IAG Cargo and Qatar Airways.

On November 30, 2018, LATAM Airlines Group sold its direct and indirect stakes in Mexican cargo airline MasAir S.A. At the time, MasAir operated one Boeing 767-300F subleased from the Company. As of December 31, 2019, MasAir continued operating this aircraft under a sublease. As a result of this sale MasAir no longer consolidates with LATAM.

Fleet

General

As of December 31, 2019, we operated a fleet of 331 aircraft, comprised of 320 passenger aircraft and 11 cargo aircraft. In addition, we subleased 11 aircraft, comprised of 10 passenger aircraft and 1 cargo aircraft to third parties.

LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates operate various different aircraft types that are best suited for our different services, which include short-haul domestic and intracontinental trips as well as long-haul intercontinental flights. The aircraft have been selected based on their ability to effectively and efficiently serve all of these routes while trying to minimize the number of aircraft families we operate.

For short-haul domestic and continental flights, LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates operate Airbus A320-Family aircraft. The Airbus A320-Family has been incorporated into our fleet pursuant to leases and has been acquired directly from Airbus pursuant to various purchase agreements since 1999. In 2019, we redelivered two A320 aircraft under a lease, disassembled one A320 aircraft, received fourteen A320 aircraft under leases and received nine A320neo in accordance with our purchases agreement with Airbus. For long-haul passengers LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates operate Boeing 767-300ER, Boeing 787-8 and 787-9, Boeing 777-200ER and 777-300ER, and the Airbus A350-900 aircraft. In 2019, we sold two Boeing 767 and received four Airbus A350-900 and two Boeing 787-9 in accordance with various purchases agreement.

For cargo flights, we operate Boeing 767-300F aircraft. In 2019, two Boeing 767 passenger aircraft were converted into two Boeing 767-300F aircraft.

The average utilization rates of LATAM's aircraft for each of the periods indicated are set forth below, in hours per day.

Fleet Leasing and Financing Arrangements

LATAM's fleet financing and leasing structures include borrowing from financial institutions and leasing under financial leases, tax leases, sale-leaseback transactions and pure leases. As of December 31, 2019, LATAM had a total fleet of 342 aircraft, of which eleven were subleased to third parties resulting in 331 aircraft in operation.

As of December 31, 2019, LATAM's operating fleet was comprised of 142 financial leases, 25 tax leases, 97 leases, 39 aircraft as loan guarantees and 28 unencumbered aircraft. Most of LATAM's financial and tax leases are structured with a 12-year initial term. LATAM has 32 financial aircraft leases supported by the U.S. Export-Import Bank ("EXIM Bank") and 68 supported by the European Export Credit Agencies (the "ECAs"). LATAM's lease maturities initially range from three to twelve years.

LATAM's aircraft debt, which is comprised of financial and tax leases, is denominated in U.S. dollars and typically has quarterly amortization payments. Both the financial leases and tax leases have a bank (or a group of banks) as counterparty; however, the tax leases also include third parties. 49.59% of our aircraft debt has a fixed interest rate and the balance has a floating rate based on USD LIBOR.

In order to reduce LATAM Airlines Brazil's balance sheet FX exposure to the Brazilian real, as part of the integration plan following the combination with TAM, we have sought to transfer the majority of the LATAM Airlines Brazil aircraft under financial leases to the LATAM level. As of December 31, 2019, only eight aircraft are subject to financial leases by LATAM Airlines Brazil. See "Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—B. Liquidity and Capital Resources—Sources of financing" and "Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—B. Liquidity and Capital Resources—Capital Expenditures" for a description of expected sources of financing and expected expenditures on aircraft.

The leases provide us with flexibility to adjust our fleet to any demand volatility that may affect the airline industry and therefore we consider such arrangements to be of great value to our strategy and financial performance. The aircraft lease obligation as of December 31, 2019 was US$ 3,801.8 million, for all remaining periods through maturity (the latest of which expires in 2032). See “—F. Long Term Indebtedness—Tabular Disclosure of Contractual Obligations.”

Under the aforementioned leases, LATAM is responsible for all maintenance, insurance and other costs associated with operating these aircraft. The Company has not made any residual value or similar guarantees to our lessors. There are certain guarantees and indemnities to other unrelated parties that are not reflected on the Company’s balance sheet, but we believe that these will not have a significant impact on our results of operations or financial condition.

See Note 32 to our audited consolidated financial statements for a more detailed discussion of these commitments.

Maintenance

LATAM Maintenance

Our heavy maintenance, line maintenance and component shops are equipped and certified to service our fleet of Airbus and Boeing aircraft. Our maintenance capabilities allow us flexibility in scheduling airframe maintenance, offering us an alternative to third-party maintenance providers. More than 4,000 LATAM Maintenance professionals ensure our fleet operates safely and in compliance with all local and international regulations. We strive to provide the best experience to our passengers through the highest standards of safety, on-time performance and cabin image and functionality.

The heavy maintenance and component repair shop facilities are located in São Carlos (Brazil) and Santiago (Chile), adding up to a total of thirteen heavy maintenance production lines, including painting capabilities, and component repair shops, including landing gear, hydraulics, pneumatics, avionics, electroplating, composites, wheels and brakes, emergency equipment, galleys and structures.

LATAM Line Maintenance

The Line Maintenance Network serves over 160 locations and carried out over 2.3 million man hours of preventive and corrective maintenance tasks on the LATAM fleet during 2019. We also rely on certified third party services in many of our international destinations where it is economically convenient, such as in Frankfurt, (where we are served by Lufthansa Technik), Milan (served by Air France-KLM), and Johannesburg (served by South African Airways), among others.

LATAM Maintenance continues to innovate through LEAN methodology, to achieve increased productivity and higher levels of reliability. In 2019 we created a new Digital team to work on projects and initiatives grouped under 3 pillars:

- 1) Paperless: replacement of physical records by digital records, to minimize documentary losses and achieve a more agile and efficient operation
- 2) Big Data: compilation and analysis of massive data to identify patterns and predict outputs, with the aim of anticipating and reducing failures.
- 3) Real Time and Mobile: access to online information and work from mobile devices, which allows for better decision making.

LATAM Line Maintenance Network has hangar facilities in Santiago, São Paulo (CGH and GRU), Lima, Miami, Buenos Aires (AEP) and Bogota, among others. These multiple locations improve the flexibility of the Line Maintenance Network by allowing the execution of tasks that previously might be restricted because of adverse weather conditions and environmental authority restrictions.

In order to strictly comply with applicable regulations, all of our maintenance operations are supervised and audited by the local authorities and international entities around the Network, such as Dirección Nacional de Aeronáutica Civil (“DGAC”), ANAC Brazil, the Federal Aviation Administration in the United States (“FAA”), the International Air Transport Association Operational Safety Audit (“IOSA”) (by the International Air Transport Association or “IATA”) and the International Civil Aviation Organization (“ICAO”), among others. The audits are conducted in connection with each country’s certification procedures and enable us to perform maintenance for the aircraft types registered in the certifying jurisdictions. Our repair stations hold FAA Part-145 certifications under these approvals.

In addition, to ensure the most qualified personnel as needed for safe, accurate and on-time Line Maintenance, LATAM Airlines Group seeks to improve technicians' skills through extensive training programs at our LATAM Technical Training Centers in Chile and Brasil, and through specific training programs designed and conducted by our partnerships.

LATAM MRO

The two main Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul ("MRO") facilities, one in São Carlos (Brazil) and one in Santiago (Chile), are equipped and certified to service our fleet of Airbus and Boeing aircraft and provide 71% of all heavy maintenance services that LATAM demands as well as, effectively executed 1.35 million man-hours. The services not executed internally are contracted to our extensive network of MRO partners around the globe. Both of our MRO facilities are FAA Part-145 certified repair stations. Occasionally certain heavy maintenance and component services for other airlines or OEMs are performed. LATAM MRO is also responsible for the planning and execution of aircraft redeliveries.

In MRO São Carlos (LATAM Airlines Brazil MRO), LATAM is prepared to service up to eight aircraft (narrow and wide body) simultaneously with a dedicated hangar for stripping and painting. In this facility we also have 22 technical component shops, including a full landing gear repair & overhaul shop, hydraulics, pneumatics, electronics, electrical components, electroplating, composites, wheels & brakes, interiors and emergency equipment shops. MRO São Carlos is certified and audited by major international aeronautical authorities such as the FAA, the European Aviation Safety Agency ("EASA"), ANAC Brazil, the Chilean DGAC, the Argentinean Administración Nacional de Aviación Civil ("ANAC Argentina"), the Ecuadorian Dirección General de Aviación Civil ("DGCA"), the Paraguayan Dirección Nacional de Aeronautica Civil ("DINAC"), and Transport Canada ("TC") , among others, for Heavy Maintenance and Components Repair and Overhaul for the Airbus A-320 family and Boeing 767. The MRO also has some minor capabilities for the repair and overhaul of Boeing 777 components. MRO São Carlos includes its own support engineering capabilities and a full technical training center.

In MRO Santiago, located near Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport in Santiago, we have two hangars capable of servicing one wide body aircraft and two narrow body aircraft simultaneously. MRO Santiago is certified and audited by FAA, ANAC Brazil, DGAC, ANAC Argentina and DGCA, among others, for heavy maintenance services for the Airbus A320-Family (A318, A319, A320 and A321) and Boeing 767. MRO Santiago has 10 shops prepared to support hangar activities such as cabin shops, galleys, structures and composite materials. We also have the capability to retrofit aircraft interiors, including the installation of IFE (in-flight entertainment) equipment.

During 2019, LATAM MRO executed 425 services, including C checks (150) and Special Checks (275) for the LATAM fleet.

LATAM Safety and Security

The safety of our passengers and employees is LATAM's highest priority. It is for this reason that we have put significant efforts in standardizing our operational indicators regarding safety, audits and emergency response.

This standardization is achieved through our Safety, Security and Emergency Management Departments, which functions on the basis of uniform policies and procedures throughout the whole company, ranging from our corporate headquarters in Santiago, Chile to every affiliated location within LATAM Airlines Group. As a result of this unification, we can ensure the highest levels of safety and security throughout our entire network.

Organizational Structure of LATAM Safety and Security Vice-presidency

Safety Management

This Department ensures that providing safe and reliable air service remains LATAM's highest priority. Given the operational complexity, as well as the multicultural challenges that we face, LATAM has decided to concentrate its safety management activities under the umbrella of a coordinated structure, which is responsible for the implementation and oversight of unified policies and procedures throughout the group.

The core foundation of this department lies within its robust Safety Management System (SMS), which is built upon four main components (Policies and Objectives, Risk Management, Safety Assurance, and Safety Promotion). These components give the SMS a proper structure and provide management with the necessary tools to oversee the safety of our operations. For example, through Flight Data Monitoring (FDM), also known as Flight Operations Quality Assurance (FOQA), we are able to capture, analyze and even visualize the data recorded during revenue flights and compare it with the company's Standard Operating Procedures (SOPS). In parallel, the Line Operations Monitoring Program (LOMP) permits us to monitor Flight Crew performance and detect errors ahead of time. As a result of these proactive activities, we are able to improve overall safety, increase maintenance effectiveness, and reduce operational costs. The company's SMS is publicly documented and it provides the guidelines and responsibilities that each employee must meet, regardless of function or hierarchy, which in turn assures our commitment towards safety. Furthermore, IOSA certification ensures the proper qualification of our employees, including the provision of a Senior Safety Manager responsible for each system implementation within the Safety Department, as well as defining standardized procedures for measuring the quality of services provided by third party companies and contractors.

Emergency Response Management

This Department is responsible for managing the company's Emergency Response Plan (ERP). It has been designed to provide an effective response to various emergency scenarios, such as aircraft accidents, natural disasters, union strikes and pandemics. We are therefore able to mitigate the impact that these contingencies have on our passengers and their relatives, in addition to ensuring the continuation of our operations. The structure of the ERP includes (but is not limited to) Emergency Process and Procedures, Emergency Control Centers, a Relatives & Passengers Assistance Team, a Notification Team, Aircraft Recovery, and a dedicated "Go Team" that can be activated and address any given emergency situation.

Security Management

The Security Management Department is responsible to coordinate the security of LATAM's passengers, employees, aircraft, equipment and facilities. This department secures LATAM's infrastructure while protecting people against any threat or unlawful action.

Corporate Security Policies and a Security Management System ("SeMS") have been implemented to detect any vulnerabilities in our security operations and to prevent unlawful acts. These policies, as well as the SeMS itself, are constantly evaluated, analyzed and assigned a risk level (high, medium or low) by qualified Corporate Security Managers, who are in turn responsible for establishing new security protocols or modifying current ones. Corporate Security Management then oversees all of these security processes and procedures through annual audits.

In addition to protecting the organization against any threat or unlawful action, LATAM is committed to the general health and safety of all of its employees. Therefore, through Security Management, LATAM has created a dedicated Health, Safety and Environment (HSE) Team that, in addition to safeguarding the general wellbeing of its employees, is responsible for ensuring a safe work environment and educate against common dangers/risks associated with everyday activities.

Lastly, every LATAM affiliate is responsible for complying with the Security Program approved by the appropriate local authority. These Security Programs provide clear definitions of the security functions required for every operation.

Fuel Supplies

Fuel costs comprise one of the single largest categories of our operating expenses. In 2016, mainly due to the significant drop in the international price of crude oil, LATAM saw a drop in its jet fuel costs. In 2017 and 2018, crude oil prices increased resulting in higher fuel costs for LATAM, while in 2019, average market price for JetFuel declined by 7.3% year-over-year, and thus, reducing costs per gallon. In 2019, total fuel costs represented 30.2% of our total operating expenses. Our average into-wing price for 2019 (fuel price plus taxes and transportation costs, including hedging and gains/losses) was US$2.30 per gallon, representing a decrease of 7.5% from the 2018 into-wing average fuel price. We can neither control nor accurately predict the volatility of fuel prices. Despite the foregoing, we believe it is possible to partially offset the price volatility risk through our hedging and fuel surcharge programs, which is in place in both our passenger and cargo business. For more information, see "Item 11. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk—Risk of Fluctuations in Jet Fuel Prices."

The following table details our consolidated fuel consumption and operating expenses, after related hedging gains and losses (which exclude fuel costs related to charter operations because fuel expenses are covered by the entity that charters the flight) for the last three years.

	2019	2018	2017
Fuel consumption (thousands of gallons)	1,272,676.8	1,205,188.8	1,156,062.3
ASK (millions)	149,116.6	143,264.7	136,398.4
Fuel gallons consumed per 1,000 ASK	8.53	8.41	8.48
Total fuel costs (US$ thousands)	2,929,008	2,983,028	2,318,816
Cost per gallon (US$)	2.30	2.49	2.00
Total fuel costs as a percentage of total operating expenses	30.2%	31.5%	25%

(1) See "Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—A. Operating Results—LATAM Airlines Group Financial Results Discussion: Year ended December 31, 2018 compared to year ended December 31, 2017." Total fuel costs (US$ thousands) include Hedging gains/losses.

In our fuel supply agreements, we manage different price structures and price update calculations. The main price structure is Jet Fuel plus fixed fees and taxes, and the main fuel price updates are in a weekly, bi-weekly and monthly basis. Brazil, our largest market, bases its price on a refinery posting updated every month, which is set in Brazilian real per liter, plus fees and taxes. Refinery prices in Brazil have stabilized recently creating a more competitive market for the region.

Our fuel supply agreements vary by airport and are distributed among 30 suppliers. Our fuel consumption volume is mainly concentrated in Brazil (40%), Chile (16%), the United States (9%) and Peru (12%). During 2019, we re-negotiated our fuel supply contracts in Brazil, Argentina, major European, and certain Australian and United States airports. In 2019 we continued to strengthen our relationship with global fuel suppliers, extended our credit terms and achieved conditions that improved LATAM's cash flow.

In Chile and Peru, a fuel import model is used in addition to the traditional local refinery supply, creating a more competitive market and ensuring our supply with different sources. During 2018 we implemented the fuel import model in Brazil, by creating a jet fuel import project that will allow imported jet fuel to reach the Terminal of San Sebastian in São Paulo and move from there to Guarulhos, São Paulo's International Airport. LATAM was awarded pipeline capacity to move product from the Terminal into Guarulhos and became the first airline to do so. In 2019 refinery prices in Brasil stabilized as a result of the fuel import project from LATAM. During 2019 we also worked along with ALTA (Latin American and Caribbean Air Transport Association) to ensure a more competitive refinery price in Uruguay and reached an agreement that lowered its price by approximately 50 cents per gallon and which we believe achieved competitive parity with the rest of the region.

As part of a comprehensive energy efficiency initiative, LATAM Airlines Group worked with a team of stakeholders to generate a streamlined fuel efficiency program (the "LATAM Fuel Efficiency Program"), which encompasses a wide range of different innovations and technologies for fuel efficiency:

- Investments in more modern and efficient aircraft, such as the Boeing 787, the Airbus A350 and the Airbus A320neo. Investment has been carried out to perform retrofits to a portion of our Airbus A320 fleet, allowing more efficient standard operational procedures.
- Weight reduction measures, such as minimizing unnecessary onboard water, using ultra-light service carts, optimizing fuel according to destination, improving the distribution of weight to have an optimal center of gravity and the improvement of freight factor (the combination of passenger and cargo services).
- As of 2019, LATAM Pilot Tools, an in-house developed mobile app was deployed. This app allows personalized feedback to flight crews, focusing on captain fuel requests and usage, and ground fuel consumption, among other efficiency and safety indicators. This app is groundbreaking as it is the first time a direct communication channel has been created between the flight crews and the Company's Safety Efficiency operations. As of December 2019, fuel efficiency initiatives were added to the pilot app, giving more visibility to their KPIs and adding significant savings.
- Standardized operational procedures on every stage of the flight (taxiing, climb, cruise, approach and landing); for example, changes in climb profiles that generate savings with minimum changes in the workload of the flight crew, or minimizing the use of the auxiliary power unit when aircraft is on the ground.
- Monitoring maintenance and performance of the fleet, including frequent engine washes, which allow more efficient combustion of fuel and reduce emissions in airport areas.
- Improvements of the flight plan, management, including continuous feedback using a post flight analysis tool called Full Tracks developed by the Fuel Team with the support and collaboration of Operations and Safety. This tool allows us to better program and optimize our flight plans. During 2019, policy changes were implemented, optimizing fuel planning according to destination, standardizing policies for all dispatch centers, allowing for centralized performance tracking and unified criteria.

As a direct result of this program, LATAM Airlines Group has been recognized since 2014 by the Dow Jones Sustainability Index as one of the world's leading companies in eco-efficiency. The magnitude of this program has allowed the Company to reduce their operational costs along with the improvement of environmental performance, and to enhance environmental awareness both within the Company and externally.

Ground Facilities and Services

LATAM's main operations are based at the Guarulhos Airport in São Paulo, Brazil. LATAM also operates significant ground facilities and services at LATAM Airlines Brazil's headquarters located at Congonhas International Airport in São Paulo, Brazil. In 2018, LATAM Airlines Brazil inaugurated a Maintenance Hangar in Guarulhos with an approximate area of 65,080m².

We also have significant operations at the Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport in Santiago, Chile, where we operate hangars, aircraft parking and other airport service facilities pursuant to concessions granted by the DGAC and other outsourced concessions. We also maintain a customs warehouse at the Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport, additional customs warehouses in Chile and Argentina (Aeroparque) and operate cargo warehouses at the Miami International Airport to service our cargo customers. Our facilities at Miami International Airport include corporate offices for our cargo and passenger operations and temperature-controlled and freezer space for imports and exports. We also operate from various other airports in Chile and abroad.

We incur certain airport usage fees and other charges for services performed by the various airports where we operate, such as air traffic control charges, take-off and landing fees, aircraft parking fees and fees payable in connection with the use of passenger waiting rooms and check-in counter space.

Ancillary Airline Activities

In recent years, LATAM has been developing different initiatives to increase its ancillary revenues generated by its airline operations. The implementation of these initiatives aims to offer a better on-board experience, while allowing passengers to customize their journey. LATAM's customers are able to purchase for additional services such as extra luggage, preferred seating options and the flexibility to change tickets on the same day of their flight, among others.

In addition to airline operations, LATAM generates revenues from a variety of other activities, including aircraft leases (including subleases, dry-leases, wet-leases and capacity sales to certain alliance partners) and charter flights, tours, maintenance services for third parties, handling, storage and customs services. In 2019, LATAM generated other revenues of US$361.1 million from these activities.

Insurance

LATAM maintains aviation insurance policies as required by law, aircraft financing and leasing agreements, for its whole fleet, aircraft that LATAM and its affiliates own, operate and are responsible for. These policies provide all risk coverage for aircraft hulls (including war risks and spares), third-party legal liability for passengers, cargo, baggage, injuries, property damage and loss of cargo. LATAM's policies are in full force and are renewed annually along with IAG Group (British Airways, Iberia and their affiliates), which allows LATAM to obtain better premiums and improved coverage at the best level of the aviation industry.

LATAM also insures its physical properties and equipment from theft, fire, flood, earthquake, hurricane, and other damages. All of LATAM's vehicles are insured against the risk of robbery, damages, fire and civil liability.

Information Technology

Information and Digital Technologies

During 2019 LATAM capitalized on a series of transformational initiatives aimed at increasing the value delivered in projects, move to a more data driven culture and increase the reliability of our technological platforms.

In the area of projects, our new practices allowed us to improve our on-time delivery, expand our product offering and support and grow our digital channels. Likewise, we also started a strong focus towards innovation. Examples of such initiatives include pilot programs for biometric boarding or the use of automatized drones to improve the efficiency and reliability of aircraft visual inspections. LATAM was recognized by the national civil agency in Brazil (ANAC) for its contribution to innovation by the development of the app called Pilot LATAM. This application allows our pilots to have improved visibility of their security indicators and compare them to their peers identifying improvement opportunities in a timely and confidential fashion.

To strengthen our data culture, in 2019 we started the construction of our Data Lake. The objective of this initiative is to consolidate all LATAM data and generate the conditions to ensure this data is both integrated and consistent. We also believe the Data Lake will enable more profound analysis by accessing historical data. In 2019 we also grew our machine learning capabilities by creating predictive models to anticipate events, behaviors and purchase preferences, among others.

In technology platforms we keep taking strides towards simplification and reliability. We continue to simplify our footprint and move towards modern cloud based technologies. Besides, the optimization of our technological landscape, cybersecurity remains high in our priorities with an Information Security Office with dedicated staff and strategic partners specialized in all areas of CyberSecurity, which includes organized units focused on potential cyber attacks.

We continue our engagement to make information and technology a competitive advantage for LATAM. Our improvements aim to continually transform and upgrade the travel experience of our customers and facilitate the work of our employees.

Regulation

Below is a brief reference to the material effects of aeronautical and other regulations in force in the relevant jurisdictions in which we operate.

We are subject to the jurisdiction of various regulatory and enforcement agencies in each of the countries where we operate. We believe we have obtained and maintain the necessary authority, including authorizations and operative certificates where required, which are subject to ongoing compliance with statutes, rules and regulations pertaining to the airline industry, including any rules and regulations that may be adopted in the future.

The countries where we carry out most of our operations are contracting states and permanent members of the ICAO, an agency of the United Nations established in 1947 to assist in the planning and development of international air transportation. The ICAO establishes technical standards for the international aviation industry. In the absence of an applicable local regulation concerning safety or maintenance, the countries where we operate have incorporated by reference the majority of the ICAO's technical standards. We believe that we are in material compliance with all such relevant technical standards.

Environmental and Noise Regulation.

There are no material environmental regulations or controls imposed upon airlines, applicable to aircraft, or that otherwise affect us, except for environmental laws and regulations of general applicability.

In Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and the United States, aircraft must comply with certain noise restrictions. LATAMs aircraft substantially comply with all such restrictions. Chilean authorities are planning to pass a noise-related regulation governing aircraft that fly to and within Chile, observing a standard known as "Stage 3 requirements". Our fleet already complies with such standards, so we do not believe that enactment of the proposed standards would impose a material burden on us.

In 2016, the ICAO adopted a resolution creating the Carbon Offsetting and Reduction Scheme for International Aviation (CORSIA), providing a framework for a global market-based measure to stabilize CO2 emissions in international civil aviation (i.e., civil aviation flights that depart in one country and arrive in a different country). With the adoption of this framework, the aviation industry became the first industry to achieve an agreement with respect to its CO2 emissions. The scheme, which defines a unified standard to regulate CO2 emissions in international flights, will be implemented in various phases by ICAO member states starting in 2020.

Safety and Security.

Our operations are subject to the jurisdiction of various agencies in each of the countries where we operate, which set standards and requirements for the operation of aircraft and its maintenance.

In the United States, the Aviation and Transportation Security Act requires, among other things, the implementation of certain security measures by airlines and airports, such as the requirement that all passenger bags be screened for explosives. Funding for airline and airport security required under the Aviation Security Act is provided in part by a US$5.60 per segment passenger security fee, subject to a US$11.20 per roundtrip cap; however, airlines are responsible for costs in excess of this fee. Implementation of the requirements of the Aviation Security Act has resulted in increased costs for airlines and their passengers. Since the events of September 11, 2001, Congress has mandated, and the TSA has implemented, numerous security procedures and requirements that have imposed and will continue to impose burdens on airlines, passengers and shippers.

Below are some specific aeronautical regulations related to route rights and pricing policy in the countries where we operate.

Chile

Aeronautical Regulation

Both the DGAC and the Junta de Aeronáutica Civil ("JAC") oversee and regulate the Chilean aviation industry. The DGAC reports directly to the Chilean Air Force and is responsible for supervising compliance with Chilean laws and regulations relating to air navigation. The JAC is the Chilean civil aviation authority. Primarily on the basis of Decree Law No. 2,564, which regulates commercial aviation, the JAC establishes the main commercial policies for the aviation industry in Chile and regulates the assignment of international routes and the compliance with certain insurance requirements, while the DGAC regulates flight operations, including personnel, aircraft and security standards, air traffic control and airport management. We have obtained and maintain the necessary authority from the Chilean government to conduct flight operations, including authorization certificates from the JAC and technical operative certificates from the DGAC, the continuation of which is subject to the ongoing compliance with applicable statutes, rules and regulations pertaining to the airline industry, including any rules and regulations that may be adopted in the future.

Chile is a contracting state, as well as a permanent member, of the ICAO. Chilean authorities have incorporated ICAO's technical standards for the international aviation industry into Chilean laws and regulations. In the absence of an applicable Chilean regulation concerning safety or maintenance, the DGAC has incorporated by reference the majority of the ICAO's technical standards. We believe that we are in material compliance with all such relevant technical standards.

Route Rights

Domestic Routes. Chilean airlines are not required to obtain permits in order to carry passengers or cargo on any domestic routes, but only to comply with the technical and insurance requirements established respectively by the DGAC and the JAC. There are no regulatory barriers that would prevent a foreign airline from creating a Chilean subsidiary and entering the Chilean domestic market using that subsidiary. On January 18, 2012 the Secretary of Transportation and the Secretary of Economics of Chile announced a unilateral opening of the Chilean domestic skies. This was confirmed on November 2013, and has been in force since that date.

International Routes. As an airline providing services on international routes, LATAM is also subject to a variety of bilateral civil air transportation agreements that provide for the exchange of air traffic rights between Chile and various other countries. There can be no assurance that existing bilateral agreements between Chile and foreign governments will continue, and a modification, suspension or revocation of one or more bilateral treaties could have a material adverse effect on our operations and financial results.

International route rights, as well as the corresponding landing rights, are derived from a variety of air transportation agreements negotiated between Chile and foreign governments. Under such agreements, the government of one country grants the government of another country the right to designate one or more of its domestic airlines to operate scheduled services to certain destinations of the former and, in certain cases, to further connect to third-country destinations. In Chile, when additional route frequencies to and from foreign cities become available, any eligible airline may apply to obtain them. If there is more than one applicant for a route frequency, the JAC awards it through a public auction for a period of five years. The JAC grants route frequencies subject to the condition that the recipient airline operate them on a permanent basis. If an airline fails to operate a route for a period of six months or more, the JAC may terminate its rights to that route. International route frequencies are freely transferable. In the past, we have generally paid only nominal amounts for international route frequencies obtained in uncontested auctions.

Airfare Pricing Policy

Chilean airlines are permitted to establish their own domestic and international fares without government regulation. For more information, see "—Antitrust Regulation" below. In 1997, the Antitrust Commission approved and imposed a specific self-regulatory fare plan for our domestic operations in Chile consistent with the Antitrust Commission's directive to maintain a competitive environment. According to this plan, we must file notice with the JAC of any increase or decrease in standard fares on routes deemed "non-competitive" by the JAC and any decrease in fares on "competitive" routes at least 20 days in advance. We must file notice with the JAC of any increase in fares on "competitive" routes at least 10 days in advance. In addition, the Chilean authorities now require that we justify any modification that we make to our fares on non-competitive routes. We must also ensure that our average yields on a non-competitive route are not higher than those on competitive routes of similar distance.

Argentina

Aeronautical Regulation

Both the Administración Nacional de Aviación Civil ("ANAC") and the Ministry of Transport oversee and regulate the Argentinean aviation industry. ANAC regulates flight operations, including personnel, aircraft and security standards, air traffic control and airport management, and reports directly to the Ministry of Transport. ANAC also is responsible for supervising compliance with Argentinean laws and regulations relating to air navigation. The Ministry of Transport regulates the assignment of international routes and matters related to tariff regulation policies. We have obtained and maintain the necessary authorizations from the Argentinean government to conduct flight operations, including authorization certificates and technical operative certificates from ANAC, the continuation of which is subject to the ongoing compliance with applicable statutes, rules and regulations pertaining to the airline industry, including any rules and regulations that may be adopted in the future.

Argentina is a contracting state and a permanent member of the ICAO, an agency of the United Nations established in 1947 to assist in the planning and development of international air transport. The ICAO establishes technical standards for the international aviation industry, which Argentinean authorities have incorporated into Argentinean laws and regulations. In the absence of applicable Argentinean regulation concerning safety or maintenance, the ANAC has incorporated by reference the majority of the ICAO's technical standards. We believe that we are in material compliance with all such relevant technical standards.

Route Rights

Domestic Routes. In Argentina, airlines are required to obtain permits in connection with carrying passengers or cargo on any domestic routes, and to comply with the technical requirements established by the local authority. There are no regulatory barriers preventing a foreign airline from creating an Argentine subsidiary and entering the Argentine domestic market using that subsidiary. However, ownership of such subsidiary by the foreign airline may not be direct, but through a subsidiary formed in Argentina, which in turn may be directly or indirectly owned by the foreign company. However, such subsidiary should operate Argentine-registered aircraft and employ Argentine aeronautical personnel.

International Routes. As an airline providing services on international routes, LATAM Argentina is also subject to a variety of bilateral civil air transport agreements that provide for the exchange of air traffic rights between Argentina and various other countries. There can be no assurance that existing bilateral agreements between Argentina and foreign governments will continue. Furthermore, a modification, suspension or revocation of one or more bilateral treaties could have a material adverse effect on our operations and financial results.

International route rights, as well as the corresponding landing rights, are derived from a variety of air transport agreements negotiated between Argentina and foreign governments. Under such agreements, the government of one country grants the government of another country the right to designate one or more of its domestic airlines to operate scheduled services to certain destinations of the former and, in certain cases, to further connect to third-country destinations. In Argentina, when additional route frequencies to and from foreign cities become available, any eligible airline may apply to obtain them. ANAC grants route frequencies subject to the condition that the recipient airline operate them on a permanent basis. If an airline fails to operate a route for a period of six months or more, the ANAC may terminate its rights to that route.

Airfare Pricing Policy

Argentine airlines are permitted to establish their own international fares without government regulation, as long as they do not abuse any dominant market position they may enjoy. In the case of domestic flights, government-fixed maximum prices were in place until February 3, 2016, when the government eliminated the controls that limited maximum prices. However, there remain government-fixed minimum prices for one-way tickets, and also for tickets sold within 30 days before the flight. Prices for roundtrip tickets sold 30 days or more before the flight were de-regulated on July 31, 2018.

Peru

Aeronautical Regulation

The Peruvian DGAC ("PDGAC") oversees and regulates the Peruvian aviation industry. The PDGAC reports directly to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and is responsible for supervising compliance with Peruvian laws and regulations relating to air navigation. In addition, the PDGAC regulates the assignment of national and international routes, and the compliance with certain insurance requirements, and it regulates flight operations, including personnel, aircraft and security standards, air traffic control and airport management. We have obtained and maintain the necessary authorizations from the Peruvian government to conduct flight operations, including authorization and technical operative certificates, the continuation of which is subject to the ongoing compliance with applicable statutes, rules and regulations pertaining to the airline industry, including any rules and regulations that may be adopted in the future.

Peru is a contracting state and a permanent member of the ICAO. The ICAO establishes technical standards for the international aviation industry, which Peruvian authorities have incorporated into Peruvian laws and regulations. In the absence of an applicable Peruvian regulation concerning safety or maintenance, the PDGAC has incorporated by reference the majority of the ICAO's technical standards. We believe that we are in material compliance with all relevant technical standards.

Route Rights

Domestic Routes. Peruvian airlines are required to obtain permits in connection with carrying passengers or cargo on any domestic routes and to comply with the technical requirements established by the PDGAC. Non-Peruvian airlines are not permitted to provide domestic air service between destinations in Peru.

International Routes. As an airline providing services on international routes, LATAM Peru is also subject to a variety of bilateral civil air transport agreements that provide for the exchange of air traffic rights between Peru and various other countries. There can be no assurance that existing bilateral agreements between Peru and foreign governments will continue, and a modification, suspension or revocation of one or more bilateral treaties could have a material adverse effect on our operations and financial results.

International route rights, as well as the corresponding landing rights, are derived from a variety of air transport agreements negotiated between Peru and foreign governments. Under such agreements, the government of one country grants the government of another country the right to designate one or more of its domestic airlines to operate scheduled services to certain destinations of the former and, in certain cases, to further connect to third-country destinations. In Peru, when additional route frequencies to and from foreign cities become available, any eligible airline may apply to obtain them. If there is more than one applicant for a route frequency, the PDGAC awards it through a public auction for a period of four years. The PDGAC grants route frequencies subject to the condition that the recipient airline operate them on a permanent basis. If an airline fails to operate a route for a period of 90 days or more, the PDGAC may terminate its rights to that route. Last year the PDGAC revoked the unused route frequencies of a couple Peruvian operators.

Ecuador

Aeronautical Regulation

There are two institutions that control commercial aviation on behalf of the State: (i) The National Civil Aviation Board (“CNAC”), which directs aviation policy; and (ii) the General Civil Aviation Bureau (“EDGAC”), which is a technical regulatory and control agency. The CNAC issues operating permits and grants operating concessions to national and international airlines. It also issues opinions on bilateral and multilateral air transportation treaties, allocates routes and traffic rights, and approves joint operating agreements such as wet leases and shared codes.

Fundamentally, the EDGAC is responsible for:

- ensuring that the national standards and technical regulations and international ICAO standards and regulations are observed;
- keeping records on insurance, airworthiness and licenses of Ecuadorian civil aircraft;
- maintaining the National Aircraft Registry;
- issuing licenses to crews;
- controlling air traffic control inside domestic air space;
- approving shared codes; and
- modifying operations permits.

The EDGAC also must comply with the standards and recommended methods of ICAO since Ecuador is a signatory of the 1944 Chicago Convention.

Route Rights

Domestic Routes. Airlines must obtain authorization from CNAC (an operating permit or concession) to provide air transportation. For domestic operations, only companies incorporated in Ecuador can operate locally, and only Ecuadorian-licensed aircraft and dry leases are authorized to operate domestically.

International Routes. Permits for international operations are based on air transportation treaties signed by Ecuador or, otherwise, the principle of reciprocity is applied. All airlines doing business in Latin America that are incorporated in countries that are members of the Comunidad Andina de Naciones (the Andean Community, or “CAN”) obtain their traffic rights on the basis of decisions currently in force under that regime, in particular decision N°582 of 2004, which guarantee free access to markets, with no type of restriction except technical considerations.

Airfare Pricing Policy

On October 13, 2011, The Statutory Law of Regulation and Control of the Market Power was passed with a purpose to avoid, prevent, correct, eliminate and sanction the abuse of economic operators with market power, as well as to sanction restrictive, disloyal and agreements involving collusive practices. This Law creates a new public entity as the maximum authority of application and establishes the procedures of investigation and the applicable sanctions, which are severe. Rates are not regulated and are subject only to registration. In general, bilateral treaties regarding air transportation provide for airfares to be regulated by the regulation of the country of origin.

Aeronautical Regulation

The Brazilian aviation industry is regulated and overseen by the ANAC. The ANAC reports directly to the Civil Aviation Secretary, which is subordinated by the Federal Executive Power of this country. Primarily on the basis of Law No. 11.182/2005, ANAC was created to regulate commercial aviation, air navigation, the assignment of domestic and international routes, compliance with certain insurance requirements, flight operations, including personnel, aircraft and security standards, air traffic control, in this case sharing its activities and responsibilities with the Departamento de Controle do Espaço Aéreo (Department of Airspace Control) (“DECEA”), which is a public secretary also subordinated to the Brazilian Defense Ministry, and airport management, in this last case sharing responsibilities with the Empresa Brasileira de Infra-Estrutura Aeroportuária (the Brazilian Airport Infrastructure Company, or “INFRAERO”), a public company that was created by Law No. 5862/72, and is responsible for administrating, operating and exploring Brazilian airports industrially and commercially (with the exception of Guarulhos International Airport, Viracopos International Airport and Brasília International Airport, which were privatized in 2012 and are administrated by concession agreement).

We have obtained and maintain the necessary authority from the Brazilian government to conduct flight operations, including authorization and technical operative certificates from ANAC, the continuation of which is subject to ongoing compliance with applicable statutes, rules and regulations pertaining to the airline industry, including any rules and regulations that may be adopted in the future.

ANAC is the Brazilian civil aviation authority and it is responsible for supervising compliance with Brazilian laws and regulations relating to air navigation. Brazil is a contracting state and a permanent member of the ICAO. The ICAO establishes technical standards for the international aviation industry, which Brazilian authorities, represented by the Brazilian Defense Ministry, have incorporated into Brazilian laws and regulations. In the absence of an applicable Brazilian regulation concerning safety or maintenance, ANAC has incorporated by reference the majority of the ICAO’s technical standards.

Route Rights

Domestic Routes. Brazilian airlines operate under a public services concession, and for that reason Brazilian airlines are required to obtain a concession to provide passenger and cargo air transportation services from the Brazilian authorities. In addition, an Air Operator Certificate (AOC) is also required for Brazilian Airlines to provide regular domestic passenger or cargo transportation services. Brazilian Airlines also need to comply with all technical requirements established by the Brazilian Aviation Authority (ANAC). Based on the Brazilian Aeronautical Code (“CBA”) established by Brazilian Federal Law No. 7,565/86, there are no limitations to ownership of Brazilian airlines by foreign investors. The CBA also states that non-Brazilian airlines are not authorized to provide domestic air transportation services in Brazil.

International Routes. Brazilian and non-Brazilian airlines providing services on international routes are also subject to a variety of bilateral civil air transport agreements that provide for the exchange of air traffic rights between Brazil and various other countries. International route rights, as well as the corresponding landing rights, are derived from a variety of air transport agreements negotiated between Brazil and foreign governments. Under such agreements, the government of one country grants the government of another country the right to designate one or more of its domestic airlines to operate scheduled services to certain destinations of the former and, in certain cases, to further connect to third-country destinations. In Brazil, when additional route frequencies to and from foreign cities become available, any eligible airline may apply to obtain them. If there is more than one applicant for a route frequency ANAC must carry out a public bid and award it to the elected airline. ANAC grants route frequencies subject to the condition that the recipient airline operate them on a permanent basis. ANAC’s resolution 491/18 indicates the requirements to establish the underuse of a frequency, and how it could be revoked and reassigned. This provision of the resolution came into force on September 2019.

Airfare Pricing Policy

Brazilian and non-Brazilian airlines are permitted to establish their own international and domestic fares, in this last case only for Brazilian airlines, without government regulation, as long as they do not abuse any dominant market position they may enjoy. Airlines may file complaints before the Antitrust Court with respect to monopolistic or other pricing practices by other airlines that violate Brazil’s antitrust laws.

Colombia

Aeronautical Regulation

The governmental entity in charge of regulating, directing and supervising civil aviation in Colombia is the Aeronáutica Civil (“AC”), a technical agency ascribed to the Ministry of Transportation. The AC is the aeronautical authority for the entire domestic territory, in charge of regulating and supervising the Colombian air space. The AC may interpret, apply and complement all civil aviation and air transportation regulation to ensure compliance with the Colombian Aeronautical Regulations (“RAC”). The AC also grants the necessary permits for air transportation.

Route Rights

The AC grants operation permits to domestic and foreign carriers that intend to operate in, from and to Colombia. In the case of Colombian airlines, in order to obtain the operational permit, the company must comply with the RAC and fulfill legal, economic and technical requirements, to later be subject to public hearings where the public convenience and necessity of the service is considered. The same process must be followed to add national or international routes; whose concession is subject to the bilateral instruments entered into by Colombia. Routes cannot be transferred under any circumstance and there is no limit to foreign investment in domestic airlines.

Airfare Pricing Policy

Since July 2007, as stated in resolution 3299 of the Aeronautical Civil entity, bottom level airfares for both international and domestic transportation were eliminated. Under resolution 904 issued in February 2012, the Aeronautical Civil authority ceased to impose the obligation of charging a fuel surcharge for both domestic and international transportation of passengers and cargo. As of April 1, 2012, air carriers may now freely decide whether or not to charge a fuel surcharge. In the case that a fuel surcharge is charged, it must be part of the fare, but shall be informed separately on the tickets, advertising or other methods of marketing used by the company.

In the same line, as of April 1, 2012, there is no longer any restriction on maximum fares published by the airlines or with respect to the obligations for air carriers to report to the Aeronautical civil authority the fares and conditions the day after being published.

Administrative fares are not subject to any changes, and its charge is mandatory for the transport of passengers under Aeronautical Civil Regulations. Differential administrative fares apply to ticket sales made through Internet channels.

Antitrust Regulation

The Chilean antitrust authority, which we refer to as the National Economic Prosecutor Office (“FNE” by its Spanish name), oversees and investigates antitrust matters, which are governed by Decree Law No. 211 of 1973, as amended, or the “Antitrust Law”. The Antitrust Law states as anticompetitive, any conduct that prevents, restricts or hinders competition, or sets out to produce said effects.

The Antitrust Law continues by giving examples of the following anticompetitive conducts: (i) cartels; (ii) abuse of dominance; and (iii) interlocking. The Antitrust Law defines abusive practices as “The abusive exploitation on the part of an economic agent, or a group thereof, of a dominant position in the market, fixing sale or purchase prices, imposing on a sale the acquisition of another product, allocating territories or market quotas or imposing similar abuses on others; as well as predatory practices, or unfair competition, carried out with the purpose of reaching, maintaining or increasing a dominant position.”

An aggrieved person may sue for damages arising from a breach of Antitrust Law by suing in the Chilean Competition Court (“TDLC” by its Spanish name). The TDLC has the authority to impose a variety of sanctions for violations of the Antitrust Law, including: (i) amendment or termination of acts and contracts; (ii) amendment or dissolution of legal entities involved in the punished conducts; and/or (iii) imposition a fine up to 30% of the sales of the infringing entity corresponding to the line of products and/or services associated to the infraction, during the entire term for which the infringement lasted; alternatively, a fine equal to the double of the economic benefit obtained by the infringing company. When none of these alternatives can be applied, a fine up to USD 50,000,000 approximately (60,000 UTA).

As described above under “—Route Rights—Airfare Pricing Policy,” in the Resolution N°445 of August 1995, the TDLC approved in with a merger control transaction, imposed the merged airline to a specific self-regulatory fare plan for domestic air passenger market consistent with the TDLC’s directive to maintain a competitive environment within the domestic market. This Airfare Pricing Policy Plan was updated by the TDLC particularly to maintain its objective which consists of a tariff regulation, through which maximum rates are established on non-competitive routes under a monthly compliance scheme.

Since October 1997, LATAM and LATAM Chile follow a self-regulatory plan, which was modified and approved by the TDLC in July 2005, and further in September 2011. In February 2010, the FNE closed the investigation initiated in 2007 regarding our compliance with this self-regulatory plan and no further observations were made.

As a condition to the combination between LAN and TAM in June 2012, the antitrust authorities in Chile and Brazil each imposed certain mitigation measures as part of their approval of the merger transaction. Furthermore, the association was also submitted to the antitrust authorities in Germany, Italy and Spain. All these jurisdictions granted unconditional clearances for this transaction. The merger was filed with the Argentinean antitrust authorities; which approval is still pending. For more information regarding these mitigation measures please see below:

On September 21, 2011, the TDLC issued a decision (the “Decision”) with respect to the consultation procedure initiated on January 28, 2011 in connection with the combination between LAN and TAM. The TDLC, in the Decision, approved the proposed combination between LAN and TAM, subject to 14 conditions, as generally described below:

1. exchange of certain slots in the Guarulhos Airport at São Paulo, Brazil;
2. extension of the frequent flyer program to airlines operating or willing to operate the Santiago-São Paulo, Santiago-Río de Janeiro, Santiago-Montevideo and Santiago-Asunción routes during the five-year period from the effective time of the combination;
3. execution of interline agreements with airlines operating the Santiago-São Paulo, Santiago-Río de Janeiro and Santiago-Asunción routes;
4. certain capacity and other transitory restrictions applicable to the Santiago-São Paulo route;
5. certain amendments to LAN’s self-regulatory fare plan approved by the TDLC with respect to LAN’s domestic passenger business;
6. the obligation of LATAM to renounce to one global airline alliance within 24 months from the date in which the combination becomes effective, except in the case that the TDLC approves otherwise, or to elect not to participate in any global airline alliance;
7. certain restrictions on code-sharing agreements outside the global airline alliance to which LATAM belongs for routes with origin or destination in Chile or that connect to North America and Europe, or with Avianca/TACA or Gol for international routes in South America, including the obligation to consult with, and obtain approval from, the TDLC prior to its execution of certain of those codeshare agreements;
8. the abandonment of four air traffic frequencies with fifth freedom rights between Chile and Peru and limitations on acquiring in excess of 75%, as applicable, of the air traffic frequencies in that route and the period that certain air traffic frequencies may be granted by the Chilean air transport authorities to LATAM;
9. issuance of a statement by LATAM supporting the unilateral opening of the Chilean domestic skies (cabotage) and abstention from any actions that would prevent such opening;
10. promotion by LATAM of the growth and normal operation of the Guarulhos (Brazil) and Arturo Merino Benítez (Chile) airports, to facilitate access thereto to other airlines;
11. certain restrictions regarding incentives to travel agencies;
12. to maintain temporarily 12 round trip flights per week between Chile and the United States and at least seven round trip non-stop flights per week between Chile and Europe;
13. certain transitory restrictions on increasing fares in the Santiago-São Paulo and Santiago-Río de Janeiro routes for the passenger business and for the Chile-Brazil routes for the cargo business; and
14. engaging an independent consultant, expert in airline operations, which for 36 months, and in coordination with the FNE, will monitor and audit compliance with the conditions imposed by the Decision.

On or about June 2015, the FNE initiated a legal claim against LATAM before the TDLC alleging that LATAM was not complying with certain mitigation conditions related to the code share agreements with airlines outside LATAM’s global alliance as referenced above. Although LATAM opposed this allegation and responded the claim accordingly, a settlement agreement was reached between the FNE and LATAM. The Settlement Agreement approved by the TDLC on December 22, 2015 terminated the legal proceeding initiated by the FNE and did not establish any violation of the TDLC resolutions or any applicable antitrust regulations by LATAM. The Agreement did establish the obligation of LATAM to amend/terminate certain code share agreements and contract an independent third party consultant, which would act as an advisor to the FNE to monitor the compliance by LATAM of the Seventh Condition and the Agreement.

On October 31, 2018, the TDLC approved the joint business agreements between LATAM and American Airlines, and between LATAM and IAG, subject to nine mitigation measures. On May 23, 2019 the Supreme Court of Chile revoked the TDLC decision, and both agreements were rejected. On September 26, 2019, LATAM announced that the JBA with American Airlines would be terminated and, on December 6, 2019, LATAM announced that the JBA with IAG would not be implemented.

LATAM Airlines Group and LATAM Airlines Brazil ownership structure as of February 29, 2020 is as follows:

As of December 31, 2019 we held a 100% stake in Transporte Aéreo S.A. through direct and indirect interests, a 70% stake in LATAM Airlines Peru through direct and indirect interests, a 55.00% stake of the voting shares of LATAM-Airlines Ecuador and a 100% of the non-voting shares of Holdco Ecuador S.A., who has 45.00% of the voting shares of LATAM-Airlines Ecuador, a 99.87% indirect stake in LATAM Airlines Argentina, a 99.20% indirect stake in LATAM Airlines Colombia and a 100.00% stake of the non-voting shares of TAM, and 51.04% of the voting shares and 100% of the non-voting shares of Holdco I S.A., which has 100.00% of the voting shares of TAM. Following changes in Brazilian law, which now permits foreign persons to own up to 100% of the voting capital of Brazilian airlines, on February, 2019, we increased our ownership of the voting shares of Holdco I S.A. to 51.04%.

Cargo operations are carried out by the affiliates under the brand LATAM Cargo. Our cargo operations are complemented by the operations of certain related companies, such as LATAM Cargo Brazil and LATAM Cargo Colombia. As of December 31, 2019, we held 100% of the non-voting shares and 20% (preferred) of TAM S.A. (a total of 63.09% of TAM S.A.) which is the sole shareholder of LATAM Cargo Brazil and a 90% stake in LATAM Cargo Colombia through direct and indirect participations. TAM S.A. has 100% of the non-voting shares and 100% of the voting shares of LATAM Cargo Brazil. In the cargo business, we market ourselves internationally primarily under the LATAM Cargo brand. Cargo Operation, in Perú, are carried out by LATAM Airlines Peru.

D. PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

Chile

Headquarters

Our main facilities are located on approximately five acres of land that we rent near the Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport. The complex includes approximately 14,000 m² of office space, 3,000 m² of conference space and training facilities, 1,000 m² of dining facilities and mock-up cabins used for crew instruction.

In addition, we rent 10,000 m² for our executive offices in a central location of Santiago, Chile. This space is distributed in eleven floors in four buildings. We also lease 5,000 m², in twelve floors in downtown in Santiago, Chile.

Finally, last year we acquired a 17,000 m² land, on which we plan to build our new main headquarters during 2020.

Maintenance Base

Our 82,000 m² maintenance base is located on a site that we own inside Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport. This facility contains our aircraft hangar, warehouses, workshops and offices, as well as a 52,000 m² aircraft parking area capable of accommodating up to seventeen short-haul aircraft. We have a 5,000 m² office building plus a 1,000 m² office and workshop space. We also lease from the Sociedad Concesionaria Nuevo Pudahuel S.A. approximately 5,000 m² of space inside the Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport for operational and service purposes. The lease has a duration of 30 days and is renewed monthly.

Other Facilities

We own sixteen acres of land and a building on the west side of the Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport that houses a flight-training center. This facility features three full-flight simulators (which are not property of LATAM), one Boeing 787 and two Airbus A320 aircraft.

Fast Air Almacenes de Carga S.A., one of our affiliates that operates import customs warehouses, utilizes a 5,600 m² warehouse located at Comodoro Arturo Merino Benítez International Airport.

Brazil

Headquarters

LATAM Airlines Brazil's main facilities are located in São Paulo, in hangars within the Congonhas Airport and nearby. At Congonhas Airport, LATAM Airlines Brazil leases office facilities in converted hangars belonging to INFRAERO (the Local Airport Administrator). These facilities comprise an area of approximately 38,807 m².

The LATAM Service Academy is located at Rua Atica, about 2.5 km from Congonhas Airport. This property, which LATAM Airlines Brazil owns, is used for human resources selection, medical services, training, mock-ups and offices- The Service Academy comprises 15,342 m² of land area and 9,032 m² of building area.

We also lease corporate offices in the city of São Paulo, where we operate 1,225 workstations spread over 9 floors.

Maintenance Base

At Hangars II and V in Congonhas Airport, which LATAM Airlines Brazil leases from INFRAERO, LATAM Airlines Brazil has 23,886 m² of offices and hangars with about 1,300 workstations. This site also houses the aircraft maintenance, procurement, aeronautical materials logistics and retrofitting departments.

Headquarters of the Presidency

The Headquarters of the Presidency are located at Rua Verbo Divino 2001 Floor 17th, Chácara Santo Antonio, São Paulo.

Other Facilities

In São Paulo, LATAM Airlines Brazil has other facilities, including: a Call Center Building with 3,199 m², distributed over five floors (plus a ground floor and a basement) that currently holds about 272 workstations and support rooms (meetings / training / dining room / coordination) of the operations of Call Center Reservations, Talk to People and ABSA back office.

In Guarulhos, LATAM has a total area of approximately 12,649 m² distributed within the Passenger Terminal, including areas such as Check-in, Ticket Sales, Check Out, Operations Areas, a VIP Lounge and Aircraft Maintenance spaces. The Hangar Complex adds an area of 65.080 m². The cargo terminal has 252 m² of office and 17,215 m² of open area. Our Distribution Centre Supplies area occupies 3,030 m².

New Facilities

LATAM Airlines Brazil completed several infrastructure projects in Brazil during 2019, including:

1. Opening of Maringá Station: 238m²
2. Ground Handling area reduction of 12,150m² due to third party outsourcing in Guarulhos including a space reduction of 12.150m²
3. Maintenance and Supply areas' relocation to the Hangar Complex in GRU: including a space reduction of 1,306m²
4. Cargo Terminal optimization in Viracopos: including a space reduction of 864m²
5. New area for Recovery Kit storage in GRU: including an expansion of 1.000m²
6. Perishables Hub - Cold Storage Unit for Transfer Cargo
7. Transfer of Multiplus S/A Fidelidade company (currently LATAM Pass) with the relocation of rented property (2,400 m²) to the EENU Verbo Divino building.

Other locations

We occupy a 36.3-acre site at the Miami International Airport that has been leased to us under a concession agreement by the Miami Dade Aviation Department. Our facilities include a 13,609 m² corporate building, a 115,824 m² cargo warehouse (including 35,561 m² refrigerated area) and a 238,658 m² aircraft-parking platform. These facilities were constructed and are now leased to us under a long-term contract by Aero Term, a division of Real Term Global. For the year ended 2019, we paid US$ 9.8 million in rent under the foregoing leases.

In February 2014, the Company entered into a lease agreement with Miami- Dade County covering approximately 1.81 acres of land located on the grounds of the Miami International Airport. The lease has a term of 30 years with a total annual land cost of US$172,080.

Under the lease, we retained the right to construct a hangar facility on the leased premises. The Company completed construction in November 2015 and the hangar has been operational since June 2016. The property has a 15,479 m² aircraft maintenance space, sufficient to house a Boeing B777 aircraft, in addition to a 9,888 m² area designated for office space. Total investment in this hangar in construction and related expenditures by LATAM was US$16.5 million.

ITEM 5. OPERATING AND FINANCIAL REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

A. Operating Results

You should read the following discussion of our financial condition and results of operations together with our audited consolidated financial statements and the accompanying notes beginning on page F-1 of this annual report.

The summary consolidated annual financial information as of December 31, 2019, 2018 and 2017 and for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2018 and 2017, has been prepared in accordance with IFRS and has been derived from our audited consolidated annual financial statements included in this annual report.

Overview

We derive our revenues primarily from transporting passengers on our passenger aircraft, as well as from transporting cargo in the belly of our passenger aircraft and in our dedicated freighter aircraft. In 2019, 86.3% of our total revenues (including in the total for this purpose other income from operating activities) came from passenger revenues and 10.2% came from our cargo business. The remaining 3.5% was classified as other operating income, which consists primarily of revenues generated from our coalition and loyalty program Multiplus before its acquisition and merger with LATAM Airlines Brazil, tour operator services, aircraft leasing, customs and warehousing services, third-party maintenance and other miscellaneous income.

Our operating environment in 2019 was marked by volatility in the region mainly resulting from the trade war between the United States and China—which generated volatility and devaluation of the currencies in the region—and economic decline in Argentina and protests at the end of the year in Ecuador, Chile and Colombia.

Passenger Operations

In general, our passenger revenues are driven by international and country-specific political and economic conditions, competitive activity, and the attractiveness of the destinations that we serve. Passenger revenues are also affected by our capacity, traffic, load factors, yield and unit revenue. Our capacity is measured in terms of available seat kilometers, or ASKs, which represents the sum, across our network, of the number of seats we make available for sale on each flight, multiplied by the kilometers flown by the respective flight. We measure traffic in RPKs, as the sum, across our network, of the number of revenue passengers on each flight multiplied by the number of kilometers flown by the respective flight. Load factors represent RPKs (traffic) as a percentage of ASKs (capacity), or the percentage of our capacity that is actually used by paying customers. We use yield, revenue from passenger operations divided by RPKs, to measure the average amount that one passenger pays to fly one kilometer and unit revenue, or revenue per ASK, to measure the effect of capacity on revenues. See “Item 3. Key Information—A. Selected Financial Data.”

Passenger demand during 2019 showed a recovery as compared to the previous year, mainly in our domestic operations, in which we carried 5.7 million more passengers compared to the domestic passengers carried in 2018, despite the increase in competition from operators in our domestic markets.

During 2019, domestic operations of our affiliate carriers based in SSC, which account for 18.3% of total passenger capacity, showed an increase of 9.3% in passenger traffic while capacity increased 10.8% as compared to 2018. As a result, the passenger load factor declined by 1.2 percentage points to 80.8%. Despite intensifying competition in these markets, especially in Chile, Peru and Argentina, LATAM Airlines affiliates in the SSC domestic markets carried 2.7 million more passengers than in 2018. Revenue per ASK in US dollars declined by 7.4% compared to 2018 mainly due to the devaluation of the Argentinian Peso, Colombian Peso and Chilean Peso.

In the domestic operations in Brazil, LATAM Airlines Brazil increased capacity by 7.7% in 2019, higher than anticipated at the beginning of the year due to changes in the competitive landscape resulting from the end of operations by Avianca Brazil. Passenger traffic increased by 9.4%, resulting in an increase of 1.3 percentage points in passenger load factors, which reached 82.5%. LATAM Airlines Brazil ended the year with an increase of 9.7% in revenues per ASK in US dollars, despite the the devaluation of the Brazilian Real during 2019, as revenue per ASK in Brazilian Reals increased by 19.2% as compared to 2018.

In international operations, LATAM maintained relatively flat its passenger capacity due to challenging market conditions for international passengers generated by the devaluation and volatility of currencies in the region. Capacity in international operations increased by 0.3% and traffic increased 1.0%, resulting in an increase of 0.6 percentage points in passenger load factors, which reached 84.9%. Revenue per ASK decreased 5.4% in US dollars, especially in the first half of the year, prior to capacity adjustments across most of our international network.

Cargo Operations

Cargo operations depend on exports from South America to North America and Europe, and imports from North America and Europe to South America, where Brazil is the main import market. Cargo markets are affected by economic conditions, foreign exchange rates, changes in international trade, the health of particular industries and competition and fuel prices (which we usually pass on to our customers through a cargo fuel surcharge). Cargo revenues are affected by our capacity, traffic, cargo load factors and yield. Our capacity is measured in terms of available ton kilometers, or ATKs, which represents the number of tons available across our network for the transportation of cargo on each flight, multiplied by the kilometers flown by the respective flights. We measure traffic in revenue ton kilometers, or RTKs, as the amount of cargo loads (measured in tons) on each flight multiplied by the number of kilometers flown by the respective flights. Load factors represent RTKs (traffic) as a percentage of ATKs (capacity), or the percentage of our cargo capacity that is actually used to transport cargo for our customers. Finally, we use cargo yield, or revenue from cargo operations divided by RTKs, to measure the average amount that our customers pay to transport one ton of cargo one kilometer.

During 2019, cargo traffic declined by 1.6% while cargo capacity declined by 2.2%, which led to an improvement of 0.4 percentage points in cargo load factors to 55.5%. Cargo yields decreased by 8.8%, and as a result, revenues per ATK decreased by 8.3% as compared to the previous year. Decline in yields was driven by weak import markets, mainly due to the devaluation of the currencies in the region. The group continued its rational and disciplined approach toward freighter capacity deployment, while focused on maximizing the belly utilization of the passenger fleet.

Cost Structure

LATAM Airlines Group's costs are largely driven by the size of our operations, fuel prices, fleet costs and exchange rates. Our operating expenses are calculated in accordance with IFRS and comprise the sum of the line items "cost of sales" plus "distribution costs" plus "administrative expenses" plus "other operating expenses," as shown on our consolidated statement of comprehensive income. These operating expenses include wages and benefits, fuel, depreciation and amortization, commissions to agents, aircraft rentals, other rental and landing fees, passenger services, aircraft maintenance and other operating expenses. The following is a discussion of the drivers of the most important costs.

As an airline, we are subject to fluctuations in costs that are outside of our control, particularly fuel prices. During 2019, average Jet fuel prices decreased 7.3%. LATAM Airlines Group has a hedging policy to protect medium term liquidity risk from fuel price increases, while participating in the benefits of fuel price reductions. Cost of fuel is also affected by the amount of gallons we consume, which depends on the size of our operation, the efficiency of our fleet and the impact of our efficiency programs.

Personnel expenses are another significant component of our overall costs. Because a significant portion of our labor costs are denominated in Chilean pesos and in Brazilian Reals, appreciation of these currencies against the U.S. dollar as well as increases in local inflation rates can result in increased costs in U.S. dollar terms and can negatively affect our results. Depreciation of local currencies results in decreases in costs in dollars. Other important drivers of personnel expenses are average headcount and average wages.

Commissions paid to travel and cargo agents are also a significant cost to the Company. We compete with other airlines over the amount of commission we pay per sale, particularly in connection with special programs and marketing efforts, and to maintain competitive incentives with travel agents.

Fleet related expenses, namely aircraft rentals and depreciation, are another significant cost, and mainly depend on the number and type of aircraft that are owned and that are under leases. These costs are largely fixed and can be reduced on a per unit basis by achieving higher aircraft utilization rates.

Operating Revenues

Our total operating revenues increased by 1.8% to US$10,070.1 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 compared to revenues of US$9,895.5 million in 2018. The 2019 increase in operating revenues was attributable to a 3.4% increase in passenger revenues, partially offset by a 10.3% decrease in cargo revenues. Passenger and cargo revenues accounted for 89.4% and 10.6% of total operating revenues in 2019, respectively.

Our consolidated passenger revenues increased by 3.4% to US$9,005.6 million in 2019 from US$8,709.0 million in 2018, as a result of a 4.1% increase in capacity and the recognition of Multiplus revenues under passenger revenues after the integration of Multiplus into LATAM Airlines Brasil in May 2019. This was offset by a 0.6% decrease in RASK due to a 1.1% decrease in yields, which were impacted by softer international demand in the region due to currency devaluations in South America. In addition, load factor reached 83.5% in 2019, which represents an increase of 0.4 percentage points with respect to 2018.

Cargo revenues decreased by 10.3%, to US$1,064.4 million in 2019 from US$1,186.5 million in 2018. Decrease in cargo revenues is explained by an 8.8% decline in cargo yields and a 1.6% decline in traffic measured in RTK. Decline in yields was explained by weaker import markets, especially in Brazil and Argentina, mainly due to currency devaluation. In addition, exports in Chile were affected by the social unrest in fourth quarter 2019. Finally, the sale of the Mexican subsidiary MasAir during the last quarter of 2018, explained the decline of approximately US$37 million in cargo revenues during 2019 compared to 2018.

Cost of Sales

Cost of sales increased by 2.3% to US$7,951.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2019 (from US$7,773.4 million in 2018), mainly due to more operations and an increase on 7.8% in passengers carried in 2019 compared to 2018. Cost of sales as a percentage of total operating revenues, increased to 79.0% in 2019 from 78.6% in 2018.

The table below presents cost of sales information for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019 and 2018.

	Year Ended December 31,
	2019	2018	2019	2018	2019/2018 % change

Cost of sales	(7,951.3)	(7,773.4)	(79.0)%	(78.6)%	2.3%
Aircraft Fuel	(2,929.0)	(2,983.0)	(29.1)%	(30.1)%	(1.8)%
Wages and Benefits	(1,452.9)	(1,442.2)	(14.4)%	(14.6)%	0.7%
Other Rental and Landing Fees	(1,275.9)	(1,206.9)	(12.7)%	(12.2)%	5.7%
Depreciation and Amortization	(1,470.0)	(1,372.6)	(14.6)%	(13.9)%	7.1%
Aircraft Maintenance	(444.6)	(366.6)	(4.4)%	(3.7)%	21.3%
Passenger Services	(261.3)	(280.3)	(2.6)%	(2.8)%	(6.8)%
Other Costs of Sales	(117.6)	(121.8)	(1.2)%	(1.2)%	(3.4)%

Fuel costs declined by 1.8%, as a result of a 9.1% decrease in the average fuel price per gallon (excluding hedge) as compared to 2018. The latter was partially offset by a 5.6% increase in fuel consumption, associated to an increase in capacity. In addition, in 2019, the Company recognized a US$21.2 million loss related to hedging contracts, which compares to US$47.3 million gain 2018.

Wages and benefits increased 0.7%, mainly explained by an increase of 1.4% in the number of employees, partially offset by the depreciation of local currencies.

Other rental and landing fees increased 5.7%, mainly due to a 7.8% increase in passengers carried and higher handling costs associated to an increase in the operations.

Depreciation and amortization grew by 7.1%, mainly explained by 29 additional planes we received during 2019, the retrofit of the cabins and digital and IT projects during 2019.

Aircraft maintenance increased by US$78.0 million mainly due to an increase in line maintenance associated to improve reliability of our operations and the reception and operation of 29 aircraft in the year.

Passenger service declined by 6.8% mainly explained by a lower rate of passenger contingencies during the quarter compared to the same period of 2018.

As a result of the above, gross margin (defined as operating revenue minus cost of sales) equaled US$2,118.8, compared to US$2,122.0 million in 2018.

Other Consolidated Results

Other operating income decreased in 2019 by 23.7%, from US$360.9 million in 2019 to US$472.8 million in 2019, mainly due to the acquisition and subsequent merger of Multiplus with LATAM Airlines Brazil. Revenues from Multiplus are now registered under Passenger revenues, while previous to the merger with LATAM Brazil, revenues from Multiplus were registered under Other operating income.

Distribution costs decreased by 5.7% from US$615.2 million in 2018 to US$580.0 million in 2019, mainly as a result of lower reserve systems and data processing costs and wages and benefits costs, due to a decrease in average headcount and the devaluation of local currencies.

Administrative expenses remained relatively flat year-over-year, decreasing by 0.1% from US$736.3 million in 2018 to US$735.2 million in 2019, due to the devaluation of local currencies, offset by an increase of 1.4% in the number of employees.

Other operating expenses increased by 18.7% from US$356.3 million in 2018 to US$422.8 million in 2019 as a result of an increase of 7.8% of passenger carried and a non-recurring adjustment in the fourth quarter of 2018 associated with a reversal of a provision of PIS/COFINS.

Financial income decreased by 50.7% to US$26.3 million in 2019 compared with US$53.3 million in 2018, mainly due to the merger of Multiplus with LATAM Airlines Brazil. Investments made by Multiplus in 2018 were recorded under interest income, while investments made by LATAM with the cash that belonged to Multiplus are now recorded under Other gains (losses).

Financial costs increased by 9.4% to US$589.9 million in 2019 from US$539.1 million in 2018, mainly due to the early redemption of LATAM's 2020 unsecured bond and the issuance of US$800 million unsecured notes due 2026.

Foreign exchange result decreased by 14.4% to a net loss of US$32.6 million in 2019, mainly as a result of the devaluation of 3.7% and 58.9% of the Brazilian Real and the Argentinean Peso, respectively.

Income tax benefit for 2019 amounted to US$53.7 million as compared to an income tax expense of US$73.9 million in 2018. This variation is explained mainly by a decline in pre-tax income in 2019 (US$141.9 million pre-tax income) compared with 2018 (US$415.7 million pre-tax income), resulting in an increased income tax charges, and the none recognition of deferred taxes related to tax losses by TAM S.A. and LATAM Argentina in 2018. For more information, see Note 18 to our audited consolidated financial statements.

Net Income

Net income for the year ended December 31, 2019 equaled US$195.6 million, representing a decrease of US$146.2 million. Net income attributable to the parent company's shareholders was US$190.4 million in 2019, representing a decrease of US$119.4 million.

Operating Revenues

Our total operating revenues increased by 2.9% to US$9,895.5 million in the year ended December 31, 2018 compared to revenues of US$9,613.9 million in 2017. The 2018 increase in operating revenues was attributable to a 2.5% increase in passenger revenues, and a 6.0% increase in cargo revenues. Passenger and cargo revenues accounted for 88.0% and 12.0% of total operating revenues in 2018, respectively.

Our consolidated passenger revenues increased by 2.5% to US$8,709.0 million in 2018 from US$8,494.5 million in 2017, as a result of a 5.0% increase in capacity, offset by a decrease of 2.4% in our unit revenues (“RASK”). The passenger RASK decline resulted from a 0.4% yield reduction, together with a load factor decline of 1.7 percentage points, which reached 83.1%. The devaluation of the Argentinean Peso and the Brazilian Real during 2018 negatively affected demand, especially in our international operations. Cargo revenues increased by 6.0%, to US$1,186.5 million in 2018 from US$1,119.4 million in 2017, driven by a 4.3% increase in cargo capacity and an increase of 1.6% in unit revenues (“RATK”). Cargo yields increased 1.2%, while load factor reached 55.1%, an improvement of 0.2 points compared to 2017. Increases in RATK reflected an improvement in market conditions in Brazil, especially during the first half of the year, while import markets from North America and Europe to Brazil weakened in the second half of 2018, pressuring yields and traffic to the region.

Cost of Sales

Cost of sales increased by 6.8% to US$7,883.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2018 (from US$7,279.3 million in 2017), mainly due to higher aircraft fuel expenses. As a percentage of total operating revenues, cost of sales increased from 75.7% in 2017 to 78.6% in 2018.

The table below presents cost of sales information for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018 and 2017.

Other Costs of Sales	(121.8)	(92.5)	(1.2)%	(1.0)%	31.6%

The increase in our cost of sales was driven by higher aircraft fuel expenses, which increased by 28.6% to US$2,983.0 million in 2018 as a result of a 25.1% increase in the full year average fuel price (excluding hedging expenses and gains/losses) and a 4.2% increase in the gallons of fuel consumed. LATAM recognized a net gain of US$29.7 million in fuel hedging in 2018, compared to a fuel hedge gain of US$15.1 million in 2017. In 2018, the Company also recognized a US$18.3 million hedge gain related to foreign currency contracts, which were recognized in the fuel cost line, compared to a US$9.7 million loss in 2017.

Wages and benefits decreased by 6.7% to US$1,442.5 million in 2018 from US$1,545.6 million in 2017, explained by the 3.9% decline in the average headcount as well as the depreciation of local currencies during the year.

Other rental and landing fees decreased by 2.2% to US$1,206.9 million in 2018 from US$1,233.6 million in 2017, due to a reduction of freighter operations and the lower availability of the fleet Boeing 787 due to engine maintenance delays.

Depreciation and amortization decreased by 0.3%, amounting to US$1,372.6 million in 2018, mainly due to the depreciation of the Brazilian real.

Aircraft maintenance expenses decreased by 13.3%, from US$422.9 million in 2017 to US$366.6 million in 2018, mainly due to fewer redelivery costs, as the Company returned less aircraft during 2018.

Passenger service expenses decreased by 2.9%, to US$280.3 million in 2018 compared to US$288.7 million in 2017, due to lower catering costs related to the implementation of our buy-on-board system in domestic flights, generating savings of US$14.2 million.

As a result of the above, gross margin (defined as operating revenue minus cost of sales) decreased by 9.1% from US$2,334.6 million in 2017 to US$2,122.0 million in 2018.

Other Consolidated Results

Other operating income decreased in 2018 by 14.0%, from US$549.8 million in 2017 to US$472.8 million in 2018, mainly due to the adoption of IFRS15, lower revenues from Multiplus driven by the devaluation of the Brazilian real, and lower revenues from aircraft subleases to third parties. Please see “Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncement” for an explanation of the impact of the adoption of IFRS15 on our operating results.

Distribution costs decreased by 11.7% from US$696.7 million in 2017 to US$615.2 million in 2018, mainly as a result of lower commissions to agents in the passenger businesses.

Administrative expenses decreased by 22.7% from US$952.8 million in 2017 to US$736.3 million in 2018, mainly due to a 3.9% headcount reduction and the impact of the depreciation of local currencies during the year, especially the 14.5% of the Brazilian Real and the 69.6% of the Argentinean Peso, on wages denominated in those currencies, partially offset by the annual increase in unit salaries due to inflation adjustments.

Other operating expenses decreased by 2.5% from US$365.5 million in 2017 to US$356.3 million in 2018 as a result of the Company’s ongoing efficiency initiatives.

Financial income decreased by 32.3% to US$53.3 million in the year ended December 31, 2018 compared with US$78.6 million in 2017, as a result of lower interest rates in Brazil and the depreciation of the Brazilian Real.

Financial costs decreased by 6.9% to US$539.1 million in 2018 from US$579.2 million in 2017, mainly due to a reduction in our gross debt.

Foreign exchange result decreased US$10.3 million to a net loss of US$38.1 million in 2018, mainly as a result of the devaluation of 17.2% of the Brazilian Real and 102.3% of the Argentinean Peso.

Income tax expense decreased by 53.5% to US$73.9 million for 2018, as compared to US$158.9 million in 2017. This decrease is explained mainly by different income distribution by subsidiary and by accumulated deferred tax liabilities due to the dissolution of some subsidiaries originally used for the acquisition of aircraft that were sold during the year.

Net Income

Net income for the year ended December 31, 2018 equaled US$341.8 million, representing an increase of US$187.4 million from a net income of US$154.4 million in 2017. Net income attributable to the parent company's shareholders was US$309.8 million in 2018, representing an increase of US$154.5 million compared with a net income of US$155.3 million in 2017.

U.S. Dollar Presentation and Price-Level Adjustments

General

Foreign currency transactions

(a) Presentation and functional currencies

The items included in the financial statements of each of the entities of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries are valued using the currency of the main economic environment in which the entity operates (the functional currency). The functional currency of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. is the United States dollar which is also the presentation currency of the consolidated financial statements of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated to the functional currency using the exchange rates on the transaction dates. Foreign currency gains and losses resulting from the liquidation of these transactions and from the translation, at the closing exchange rates, of the monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are shown in the consolidated statement of income by function except when deferred in Other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges.

(c) Adjustment due to hyperinflation

After July 1, 2018, the Argentine economy was considered, for purposes of IFRS, hyperinflationary. The financial statements of the subsidiaries whose functional currency is the Argentine Peso have been restated.

The non-monetary items of the statement of financial position as well as the income statement, comprehensive incomes and cash flows of the Argentine's entities, whose functional currency corresponds to a hyperinflationary economy, are adjusted for inflation and re-expressed in accordance with the variation of the consumer price index ("CPI"), at each presentation date of its financial statements. The re-expression of non-monetary items is made from the date of initial recognition in the statements of financial position and considering that the financial statements are prepared under the historical cost criterion.

Net losses or gains arising from the re-expression of non-monetary items and income and costs are recognized in the consolidated income statement under "Result of indexation units".

Net gains and losses on the re-expression of opening balances due to the initial application of IAS 29 are recognized in the consolidated retained earnings.

Re-expression due to hyperinflation will be recorded until the period in which the economy of the entity ceases to be considered as a hyperinflationary economy, at that time, the adjustments made by hyperinflation will be part of the cost of non-monetary assets and liabilities.

The comparative amounts in the Consolidated financial statements of the Company are presented in a stable currency and are not adjusted for subsequent changes in the price level or exchange rates.

(d) Group entities

The results and the financial situation of the Group's entities, whose functional currency is different from the presentation currency of the consolidated financial statements, of LATAM Airlines Group S.A., which does not correspond to the currency of a hyperinflationary economy, are converted into the currency of presentation as follows:

- (i) Assets and liabilities of each consolidated statement of financial position are translated at the closing exchange rate on the consolidated statement of financial position date;
- (ii) The revenues and expenses of each income statement account are translated at the exchange rates prevailing on the transaction dates; and
- (iii) All the resultant exchange differences by conversion are shown as a separate component in other comprehensive income.

For consolidation purposes, exchange differences arising from the translation of a net investment in foreign entities (or in local entities with a functional currency different to that of the parent), and of loans and other foreign currency instruments designated as hedges for such investments, are recorded within net equity. When the investment is sold, these exchange differences are shown in the consolidated statement of income as part of the loss or gain on the sale.

Adjustments to the goodwill and fair value arising from the acquisition of a foreign entity are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign entity and are translated at the period-end exchange rate.

Effects of Exchange Rate Fluctuations

Our functional currency is the U.S. dollar in terms of the pricing of our products, composition of our balance sheet and effects on our results of operations. Most of our revenues 57% are in U.S. dollars or in prices pegged to the U.S. dollar and a substantial portion of our expenses 63% is denominated in dollars or pegged to the U.S. dollar, particularly fuel costs, landing and over-flight fees, aircraft rentals, insurance and aircraft components and supplies.

A substantial majority of our liabilities are denominated in U.S. dollars (74.6% as of December 31, 2019), including bank loans, certain air traffic liabilities, and certain amounts payable to our suppliers. As of December 31, 2019, 66.0% of our assets were denominated in U.S. dollars, principally aircraft, cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable and other fixed assets. Substantially all of our commitments, including operating lease and purchase commitments for aircraft, are denominated in U.S. dollars.

Balance sheet imbalance denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of each specific entity creates a foreign exchange rate exposure that impacts our foreign exchange losses and gains due to exchange rate fluctuations. We recorded net foreign exchange losses of US$38.1 million in 2018 and net foreign exchange losses of US$32.6 million in 2019, which are set forth in our consolidated statement of income under "Foreign Exchange gains/(losses)." For more information, see Notes 2.3 and 29 to our audited consolidated financial statements.

Critical Accounting Policies

The Company has used estimates to value and record certain assets, liabilities, revenue, expenditure, and commitments. These estimates principally relate to:

- (a) Evaluation of possible losses due to impairment of goodwill and intangible assets with an indefinite useful life.
- (b) Useful life, residual value, and impairment of property, plant, and equipment
- (c) Recoverability of deferred tax assets
- (d) Air tickets sold that will not be used.
- (e) Valuation of miles and points awarded to holders of loyalty programs, pending use.
- (f) Required provisions and their valuation when required
- (g) Leases
- (h) Investment in subsidiary (TAM)

Please see Note 4 – Accounting estimates and judgments – to our audited consolidated financial statements for a full description of our critical accounting policies.

- Application of standards as of January 1, 2018.
- Effects of adopting IFRS 9

(1) Expected credit losses: The Company modified the calculation of the impairment provision to comply with the expected credit loss model, established in IFRS 9 Financial Instruments, which replaces the current loss impairment model incurred. To calculate percentage of credit losses, a risk matrix was used, grouping the portfolio, according to similar characteristics of risk and maturity. This change resulted in the recognition of an increase in the provision for impairment losses of US$11.1 million.

This standard also includes requirements related to the classification and measurement of financial assets and liabilities and an expected credit loss model that replaces the current loss impairment model incurred.

As of January 1, 2018, the calculation of the impairment losses provision is as follows:

	Portfolio maturity					Total
	Up to date	Up to 90 days	Up to 91 to 180 days	Up to 181 to 360 days	More than 360 days
	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$

Impairment provision	(13,570)	(7,774)	(5,499)	(9,803)	(61,787)	(98,433)

- (2) Deferred tax adjustments originated by the application of IFRS 9.
- (3) Net effect on accumulated results of the adjustments indicated above.

In addition to the impacts on the consolidated statement of financial position, the application of IFRS 9: Financial Instruments requires the classification of financial instruments according to the business model, to determine the form of measurement of financial instruments, after their initial recognition.

The Company analyzed the business models and classified its financial assets and liabilities according to the following:

Assets	Classification IAS 39				Classification IFRS 9

- Effects of adopting IFRS 15

(4) Contract costs: The Company has capitalized the costs related to the revenues from air transport of passengers, corresponding to the commissions charged by the credit card administrators for US$22.0 million and the air ticket booking services through the GDSs for US$15.6 million. Additionally, there is a reclassification of commissions from travel agencies for US$16.8 million, these previously were presented, according IAS 18, net of the liability to fly in other non-financial liabilities.

(5) Contract liabilities: The Company has adjusted certain concepts that were recorded as obligations with suppliers and customers, which must now be treated as contract liabilities; therefore, they must be deferred until the benefit of the service have been rendered. These concepts are mainly related to ground transportation service for US$15.6 million and travelers checks (US$6.6 million).

(6) Performance Obligations: The Company analyzed the moment at which the performance obligations identified in the contracts with customers must be recognized in the consolidated result. During this analysis, some concepts were identified which must be deferred until the moment of service provision, mainly related to land transportation services, charges for modifications to the initial contract in the sale of tickets and redemption of some products associated with loyalty programs for US$60.8 million. Additionally, there is the reclassification detailed in numeral (4) for US$ 16.8 million.

(7) Deferred tax adjustments originated by the application of IFRS 15.

(8) Net effect on accumulated results of the adjustments indicated above.

Additionally, the Company concluded that, in the rendering of certain services, it acted as agent in the provision of these services, therefore some reclassifications were made in the consolidated income statement to reflect the corresponding commission.

- Effects of adopting IFRS 16

(9) Company recognized under Property, plant and equipment right of use assets for US$2,865.3 million as of January 1, 2018 and US$2,548.4 as of December 31, 2018, associated with contracts that meet the definition of lease (note 2.21 & 17).

The Company decreased other financial assets related to advance payments for leases for US$39.4 million as of January 1, 2018 and US$36.7 as of December 31, 2018, since with the application of the standard these amounts are considered in the initial measurement of the right of use of asset.

The Company increased the cost of restoration associated with the return of aircraft and engines for US$56.2 million as of January 1, 2018 and US$45.6 million as of December 31, 2018. With the application of the standard, the net present value of this cost was included in the right of use of asset and its counterpart in the line of accounts payable, current or non-current, depending on the return date of the aircraft or engines.

(10) Deferred taxes: adjustments originated by the application of IFRS 16.

(11) Lease liabilities: The Company recognized within the Other financial liabilities for lease for US$3,147.0 million as of January 1, 2018 and US$2,858.0 million as of December 31, 2018, associated with contracts that meet the definition of lease (note 2.21 & 19).

(12) The effect of the recognition of the leases under IFRS 16 generated a decrease in retained earnings of US$506.6 million as of January 1, 2018 (US$378.7 million as of December 31, 2018). The increase in Other reserves of US$205.9 million as of January 1, 2018 (decrease of US$72.5 million as of December 31, 2018), was caused by the Cumulative translation adjustment of those subsidiaries with functional currencies other than the US dollar. The application of IFRS 16 also affected non-controlling interests.

The effects of the changes recognized in the application of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 as of December 31, 2017 are presented in the consolidated income statement:

In the income statement, with the implementation of the IFRS16 standard, restatements were made in the following lines:

- Cost of sale, distribution costs, administrative expenses: net effect of derecognized of rental cost and recognition of the depreciation of the right of use.
- Financial Costs: interest expense corresponding to the lease liability.

(b) Accounting pronouncements not yet in force for financial years beginning on January 1, 2019 and which has not been effected early adoption:

	Date of issue	Effective Date
(i) Standards and amendments
IFRS 17: Insurance contracts	May 2017	January 1, 2021
Amendment to IFRS 10: Consolidated financial statements and IAS 28 Investments in associates and joint ventures.	September 2014	To be determined

Amendment to IFRS 9: Financial instruments; IAS 39: Financial instruments: Recognition and measurement; Y IFRS 7: Financial instruments: Disclosures	September 2019	January 1, 2020

The management of the Company estimates that the adoption of the standards, amendments and Interpretations described above, will not have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company in the application of its first adoption. At the close consolidated financial statements, the Company is analyzing the possible effects of the amendment issued in September 2019 to IFRS 9, IAS 39 and IFRS 7 for the reform of interest rates of reference.

IFRS/Non-IFRS Reconciliation

We use “Cost per ASK” and “Cost per ASK excluding fuel price variations” in analyzing operating expenses on a per unit basis. “ASKs” (available seat kilometers) measures the number of seats of capacity available for the transportation of passengers multiplied by the kilometers flown across our network. To obtain our unit costs, which are used by our management in the analysis of our results, we divide our total Operating Expenses by our total ASKs. The cost component is further adjusted to obtain “costs per ASK excluding fuel price variations,” in order to remove the impact of changes in fuel prices for the year. “Cost per ASK” and “Cost per ASK excluding fuel price variations” do not have a standardized meaning, and as such may not be comparable to similarly titled measures provided by other companies. These metrics should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for operating expenses or as indicators of performance or cash flows or as a measure of liquidity.

	2019	2018	2017
Cost per ASK
Operating expenses (US$ thousands)	9,689,325	9,481,230	9,291,672

= Cost per ASK (US$ cents)	6.50	6.62	6.81
Cost per ASK excluding fuel price variations
Operating expenses (US$ thousands)	9,689,325	9,481,230	9,291,672
– Aircraft fuel (US$ thousands)	2,929,008	2,983,028	2,318,816
Divided by ASK (million)	149,111.9	143,264.7	136,398.4
= Cost per ASK excluding fuel price variations (US$ cents)	4.53	4.54	5.11

Other Operating Measures

LATAM uses revenues per ASK or ATK, as applicable, in analyzing revenues on a per unit basis. To obtain unit revenues, we divide our passenger revenues by our total ASKs and our cargo revenues by our total ATKs. We use our revenues as defined under IFRS for purposes of the calculation of this metric. Revenues per ASK or ATK, as the case may be, do not have a standardized meaning, and as such may not be comparable to similarly titled measures provided by other companies. This metric is not an IFRS measure of performance or liquidity. It should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for revenues or as indicators of performance or cash flows as a measure of liquidity.

The table below shows the calculation of our revenues per ASK or ATK, as applicable, in each of the periods indicated.

Passenger Revenues (US$ thousands)	9,005,629	8,708,988	8,494,477
ASK (million)	149,111.9	143,264.7	136,398.4
Passenger Revenues/ASK (US$ cents)	6.04	6.08	6.23
Cargo Revenues (US$ thousands)	1,064,434	1,186,468	1,119,430
ATK (million)	6,356.7	6,497.6	6,230.3
Cargo Revenues/ATK (US$ cents)	16.75	18.26	17.97

Seasonality

Our operating revenues are substantially dependent on overall passenger and cargo traffic volume, which is subject to seasonal and other changes in traffic patterns. Our passenger revenues are generally higher in the first and fourth quarters of each year, during the southern hemisphere's spring and summer. In the Brazilian passenger air transportation market, there is generally higher demand for air transportation services in the second half of the year, making the second quarter the weakest for the Company. However, seasonality is partially mitigated by LATAM's focus on business passengers (which are less sensitive to seasonality). Additionally, the expansion of the Company into other countries with different seasonal patterns has also moderated the overall seasonality of the passenger business.

B. Liquidity and Capital Resources

LATAM's cash and cash equivalents amounted to US$1,072.6 million as of December 31, 2019, US$1,081.6 million as of December 31, 2018 and US$1,142.0 million as of December 31, 2017. Additionally, the Company had short term marketable securities totaling US$386.7 million as of December 31, 2019, US$322.4 million as of December 31, 2018 and US$472.2 million as of December 31, 2017. LATAM's cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities totaled US$1,459.2 million as of December 31, 2019, US$1,404.1 million as of December 31, 2018 and US$1,614.2 million as of December 31, 2017.

The US$55.1 million increase in cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities from 2018 to 2019 can be explained mainly by an increase in proceeds from sales, partially offset by expenditures in aircraft acquisitions.

The US$210.2 million decrease in cash and cash equivalents and marketables securities from 2017 to 2018 can be explained mainly by the depreciation of the Brazilian and Argentinian currencies.

We believe that our working capital will be sufficient during the next 12 months to meet our liquidity requirements.

Cash position and liquidity

The following table provides a summary of our cash flows from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2018 and 2017 and our total cash position as of December 31, 2019, 2018 and 2017.

	2019	2018	2017
	(in US$ million)
Net cash flow from operating activities	2,826.7	2,073.3	2,186.8
Net cash flow from (used in) investing activities	(1,419.2)	(358.4)	(293.9)
Net cash flow from (used in) financing activities	(1,343.5)	(1,608.6)	(1,692.7)
Effects of variation in the exchange rate on cash and cash equivalents	(73.0)	(166.7)	(7.7)
Cash and cash equivalents at the beginning of the year	1,081.6	1,142.0	949.3
Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the year	1,072.6	1,081.6	1,142.0

In addition to cash and marketable securities, LATAM has access to short term uncommitted credit lines. As of December 31, 2019, LATAM also had long-term working capital committed credit lines in the form of a fully undrawn revolving credit facility (“RCF”) of US$600 million¹. The RCF is secured by spare parts, engines, and aircrafts. See Note 32 to our audited consolidated financial statements for a more detailed discussion of these commitments.

Net cash flow from operating activities

Cash flow from operations derives primarily from providing air passenger and cargo transportation to customers. Operating cash outflows are primarily related to expenses of airline operations, including fuel consumption. Net cash inflows from operating activities in 2019 increased by US$753.3 million, or 36.3%, up from US$2,073.3 million, mainly due to an increase in proceeds from sales explained by a stronger performance in Brazil and Peru and from the compensation received from Delta Air Lines related to the transition costs for the implementation of the framework agreement between LATAM and Delta Air Lines.

Cash flow from operating activities in 2018 decreased by US$113.5 million, or 5.2%, down from US$2,186.8 million, mainly due to a decrease in operating margin, driven higher fuel prices and the depreciation of the Brazilian and Argentinian currencies. In turn, this impact was partially offset by LATAM’s ongoing cost efficiency initiatives such as headcount reduction and higher aircraft utilization.

Net cash flow used in investing activities

Net cash used in investing activities in 2019 increased to US$ 1,419.2 million from US$358.4 million in 2018. The increase is explained mainly by capital expenditures in aircraft, higher maintenance expenses and investment projects related to cabin retrofit.

The inflow related to the net predelivery payments received by LATAM reached US$ 263.4 million for year 2019, higher than the net predelivery payments outflows of US$54.7million for year 2018. For further details, please refer to Note 35 to our audited consolidated financial statements.

Net cash used in investing activities in 2018 increased to US$ 358.4 million from US$293.9 million in 2017, due to an increase in purchases of property, plant and equipment including cabin retrofit, IT, and digital investments. In 2018, as in 2017, the company did not incur in any capital expenditures in aircraft. In 2018, the outflow related to the net predelivery payments reached US$ 54.7 million for year 2018, a 43.2% lower than the net predelivery payments outflows of US$126.5 million for year 2017. For further details, please refer to Note 35 to our audited consolidated financial statements.

Net cash flows used in financing activities

In 2019, net cash used in financing activities amounted to US$1,343.5 million, a decrease of US$265.1 million from the US$1,608.6 million in cash used in financing activities in 2018. In 2019, the company paid US$1,860.5 million in loan repayments and issued US$1,781.7 million in new debt. Total debt issuances in year 2019 amounted to US$1,781.7 million, an increase of US$1,002.7 million as compared to US$779.1 million issued in 2018.

In 2018, net cash used in financing activities amounted to US$1,608.6 million, an increase of US$84.0 million from the US$1,692.7 million in cash generated by financing activities in 2017. In 2018, the Company paid US$1,738.3 million in loan repayments which were offset by US$779.1 million in debt issuances. Total debt issuances in year 2018 amounted to US$779.1 million, a decrease of US$526.3 million compared to US$1,305.4 million issued in 2017.

Sources of financing

Long term

We typically finance our fleet with long-term loans covering between 80% and 100% of the net purchase price. We also finance our aircraft under sale and leaseback arrangements in order to add flexibility to our fleet. For more information regarding fleet financing, please refer to the information below and to “—F. Long Term Indebtedness—Tabular Disclosure of Contractual Obligations.”

From time to time in the past, we have considered, and may consider in the future, other forms of financing such as equity or debt, either secured or unsecured, securitization of ticket receivables or the securitization of fleet and engines.

Short term

We have generally been able to arrange for short-term loans with local and international banks when we have needed to finance working capital expenditures or increase our liquidity. As of December 31, 2019, we have an outstanding stock of US$340 million in short-term loans with both local and international banks.

We have diversified our sources of short term financing to include the following: PAE (“Prestamos a Exportadores”), which are foreign currency short term loans granted to exporting parties in Chile mainly to finance working capital; and credit card discounting in Brazil, a financing alternative where a bank provides in advance to the Company a percentage of the cash inflows related to the credit card installment sales.

Capital expenditures

Our capital expenditures are related to the acquisition of aircraft, aircraft-related equipment, IT equipment, support infrastructure and the funding of pre-delivery deposits. LATAM’s capital expenditures totaled US$ 1,276.6 million in 2019, US$660.7 million in 2018 and US$403.7 million in 2017, and purchases of intangible assets totaled US$ 140.2 million in 2019, US$96.2 million in 2018 and US$87.3 million in 2017. See “—Sources of financing” above.

The following chart sets forth the Company’s estimated capital expenditures for 2020, 2021 and 2022 calendar years ⁽¹⁾:

	Estimated capital expenditures by year, as of December 31, 2019
	2020	2021	2022
	(in US$ millions)
Fleet Commitments ⁽¹⁾	408	773	574
PDPs ⁽²⁾	42	(23)	(39)
Other expenditures ⁽³⁾	1,050	950	930

(1) The amount of Fleet Commitments presented includes all the committed deliveries with estimates regarding (i) changes in scheduled delivery dates; (ii) conversion of certain aircraft types and (iii) aircraft of which we do not expect to take delivery, regardless of the financing of the aircraft will have upon arrival, thus representing the sum of aircraft capex and future sale and leasebacks.

(2) Represents pre-delivery payments made by LATAM, or inflows received by LATAM after the delivery of the aircraft is made.

(3) Other Expenditures include estimates of capital expenditures on spare engines and parts, maintenance of on balance fleet, projects and others, plus purchases of intangible assets. LATAM can give no assurance that these estimates and expected costs and prices are correct; and actual costs, expenses and prices may differ from these original estimates.

At this time, LATAM is not able to fully determine the adjusted levels of estimated capital expenditures in light of the expected lower demand on air travel. The actual amount and timing of our future capital expenditures may be materially lower than our estimates as a result of the impact of the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19) on demand for air travel in the regions we operate.

D. Trend Information

On March 12, 2020, LATAM Airlines announced the suspension of its guidance for 2020 in light of the uncertainty due to the COVID-19 (coronavirus) outbreak that is affecting the demand for air traffic. As of this date, it is not possible to quantify the exact impact on demand or how long it may take to recover, making it impossible to estimate results for the full year.

LATAM is taking immediate measures to minimize possible effects of the current scenario, including cost reduction and capacity adjustments. Along these lines, and in addition to the significant efforts being made by LATAM to protect the health and safety of its passengers and workers, the LATAM group announces a decrease in capacity of approximately 30% of international operations for April and May 2020.

On March 16, 2020, LATAM Airlines and its affiliates updated the decrease in capacity to approximately 70% of total operations, corresponding 90% to international operations and 40% to domestic operations.

At this time, LATAM is not able to fully determine the impact on financial results in light of the expected lower demand on air travel as a result of the impact of the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19) on demand for air travel in the regions we operate.

E. Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The company does not currently have off-balance sheet fleet arrangements as a result of the adoption of IFRS 16. See Note 17 to our audited consolidated financial statements for a more detailed discussion of these commitments.

For other commitments, see Note 32 - (b) Other commitments - to our consolidated financial statements.

F. Long Term Indebtedness

Long Term Indebtedness

Secured Debt

Aircraft Debt

1. ECA/EX-IM: Bank bonds guaranteed by Export-Import Bank of the United States ("EX-IM Bank") and Export Credit Agency ("ECA") guaranteed loan debt. As of December 31, 2019, the total outstanding amount under these facilities was US$1,637 million. In general, ECA and EX-IM financings have a 12-year repayment profile.
2. Enhanced Equipment Trust Certificates ("EETC"): In June 2015, LATAM issued the first EETC in Latin America for an aggregate par value of approximately US$1,021 million to finance 17 new aircraft deliveries comprising 11 Airbus A321-200, 2 Airbus A350-900 and 4 Boeing 787-9, with delivery dates from July 2015 through March 2016. The offering is comprised of Class A Certificates maturing in November 2027 and Class B Certificates maturing in November 2023. The annual interest rate for Class A and B Certificates are 4.20% and 4.50%, respectively. In April 2017, LATAM issued and privately placed Class C Certificates for an amount of US$140 million under the current EETC structure. The Class C Certificates have a six-year term, maturing in May 2023. As of December 31, 2019, the outstanding EETC debt was US$863 million.
3. Commercial Bank Loans: As of December 31, 2019, secured commercial bank loans debt totalled US$1,744 million.
4. Tax Leases: LATAM has secured debt through Japanese Leases with a call option ("JOLCO"). As of December 31, 2019, the outstanding obligations under these tax leases were US$623 million.

Non Aircraft Debt

1. 2013-1 Series Note: LATAM issued a securitized bond in the amount of US$450 million in November 2013 with a seven-year term and a two-year interest-only period (the "2013-1 Series Note"). This bond is secured by future flows of credit card sales of LATAM Airlines in the United States and Canada. The coupon is 6.0% fixed with quarterly payments. As of December 31, 2019, the principal outstanding amount of the 2013-1 Series Note was US$101 million.

Other

1. Pre-Delivery Payments ("PDP") financing: As of December 31, 2019, outstanding amount under PDP financings was US$133 million.

Unsecured Debt

1. ITEM 6. DIRECTORS, SENIOR MANAGEMENT AND EMPLOYEES

A. Directors and Senior Management

The LATAM Airlines Group board of directors consists of nine directors who are elected every two years for two-year terms at annual regular shareholders' meetings or, if necessary, at an extraordinary shareholders' meeting, and may be re-elected. The board of directors may appoint replacements to fill any vacancies that occur during periods between elections. Scheduled meetings of the board of directors are held once a month and extraordinary board of directors' meetings are called by the chairman of the board of directors. Extraordinary meetings can be called by the chairman, or when requested by one or more directors if the need for such a meeting is previously approved by the chairman, unless the meeting is requested by a majority of the directors, in which case the meeting must be held without the previous approval of the chairman.

On September 10, LATAM announced that the CEO of the LATAM Airlines Group, Enrique Cueto, after 25 years of service, will leave his position of CEO as of March 31, 2020 and will be replaced by the current Chief Commercial Officer, Roberto Alvo, effective on March 31, 2020.

The current board of directors was elected at the ordinary shareholders' meeting held on April 25, 2019 for a two-year period.

B. Compensation

In 2019, the Company paid its principal executives (executives who define the Company's policies and major guidelines and who directly affect the results of the business, including Vice-Presidents, Chief Executives and Senior Directors) a total gross remuneration of US$60.4 million.

Under Chilean law, LATAM Airlines Group must disclose in its annual report details of all compensation paid to its board members during the relevant fiscal year, including any amounts that they received from LATAM Airlines Group for functions or employment other than serving as a member of the board of directors, including amounts received as per diem stipends, bonuses and, generally, all other payments. Additionally, pursuant to regulations of the CMF, the Chilean securities regulator, the annual report must also include the total compensation and severance payments received by managers and principal executives, and the terms of and the manner in which board members and executive officers participated in any stock option plans.

LATAM Airlines Group's board members are paid 60 UF per meeting (120 UF for the chairman of the board) and 48 UF for attendance to the subcommittee of Directors meetings. LATAM Airlines Group also provides certain benefits to its board members and executive officers, such as free and discounted airline tickets and health insurance. We do not have contracts with any of our board members to provide benefits upon termination of employment.

As set forth in further detail in the following table, in 2019 the members of our board of directors received fees and salaries in the aggregate amount of US$413,219.

As required by Chilean law, LATAM Airlines Group makes obligatory contributions to the privatized pension fund system on behalf of its senior managers and executives, but it does not maintain any separate program to provide pension, retirement or similar benefits to these or any other employees.

C. Board Practices

Our board of directors is currently comprised of nine members. The terms of each of our current directors will expire in April 2021. See “—Directors and Senior Management” above.

Committees

Board of Directors’ Committee and Audit Committee

Pursuant to Chilean Corporation Law, LATAM Airlines Group must have a board of directors’ committee composed of no less than three board members. LATAM Airlines Group has established a three-person board of directors’ Committee, which, among other duties, is responsible for:

- examining the reports of LATAM Airlines Group’s external auditors, the balance sheets and other financial statements submitted by LATAM Airlines Group’s administrators to the shareholders, and issuing an opinion with respect thereto prior to their presentation to the shareholders for their approval;
- evaluating and proposing external auditors and rating agencies;
- reviewing internal control reports pertaining to related-party transactions;
- examining and reporting on all related-party transactions; and
- reviewing the pay scale of LATAM Airlines Group’s senior management.

Under Chilean Corporation Law we are required, to the extent possible, to appoint a majority of independent board members to the board of directors Committee. A board member is considered independent when he or she can be elected regardless of the voting of the controlling shareholders. See “Item 16. Reserved—G. Corporate Governance.”

Pursuant to U.S. regulations, we are required to have an audit committee of at least three board members, which complies with the independence requirements set forth in Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act. Given the similarity in the functions that must be performed by our board of directors’ Committee and the audit committee, our board of directors’ Committee serves as our Audit Committee for purposes of Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act.

As of December 31, 2019, all of the members of our board of directors’ Committee, which also serves as our Audit Committee, were independent under Rule 10A-3 of the Exchange Act. As of December 31, 2019, the committee members were Mr. Eduardo Novoa Castellón, Mr. Nicolás Eblen Hirmas and Mr. Patrick Horn García. We pay each member of the committee 80 UFs per monthly assistance to meetings.

Other LATAM Board Committees

LATAM’s board of directors also has established four other committees to review, discuss and make recommendations to our board of directors. These include a Strategy & Sustainability Committee, a Leadership Committee, a Finance Committee and a Customers and Businesses Committee. The Strategy & Sustainability Committee focuses on the corporate strategy, current strategic issues and the three-year plans and budgets for the main business units and functional areas and high-level competitive strategy reviews. The Leadership Committee focuses on, among other things, group culture, high-level organizational structure, appointment of the LATAM CEO and his or her other reports, corporate compensation philosophy, compensation structures and levels for the LATAM CEO and other key executives, succession or contingency planning for the LATAM CEO and performance assessment of the LATAM CEO. The Finance Committee is responsible for financial policies and strategy, capital structure, monitoring policy compliance, taxation strategy and the quality and reliability of financial information. Finally, the Customers and Businesses Committee is responsible for setting the competitive strategies of the Customers and Commercial Vice Presidencies with a focus on sales, marketing, network and fleet initiatives, customer experience and revenue management.

On June, 2014 LATAM’s board of directors established a Risk Committee to oversee the creation, implementation and management of a risk matrix for the Company.

On December, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group filed the Company's Corporate Practices Report prepared according to General Rule N° 385, previously N°341, of the Chilean Financial Market Commission ("CMF") issued June 8, 2015. The reporting obligation stipulated in this rule is for practices in place as of December 31st of each year and the report must be presented no later than March 31st of the following year.

The report provided each year to the Commission must cover the following subjects:

- how the Board works;
- the relationship between the company, shareholders and the public in general;
- how senior officers are replaced and compensated; and
- the definition, implementation and supervision of internal control and risk management policies and procedures inside the company.

D. Employees

The following table sets forth the number of employees in various positions at the Company.

Employees ending the period	As of December 31,

Our salary structure is comprised of: (a) fixed payments (base salary and other fixed payments such as legal gratifications, local bonus, company seniority and others, depending on each country's law and market practice); (b) short term incentives (associated with corporate, area and individual performance), applicable to our ground staff; (c) long term incentives (applicable to our senior executives (Senior Directors and above)).

According to the local law requirements, we make pension and social security contributions on behalf of our employees. Additionally, for our air staff and specialized professionals such as mechanics, we have fixed and variable payments, subject to the local collective agreements.

Regarding benefits, we usually provide life insurance and medical insurance, complementary of the coverage provided by the legal system. We also grant other benefits, according to local market practice (meal, transportation, maternal and paternal leave, etc.). Additionally, we have a global staff travel program, which grants free and discounted tickets to our permanent employees.

Long Term Incentive Compensation Program

1. Compensation plan 2016-2018

The company implemented a long-term retention plan for executives effective between October 2019 and March 2020 that expires in March 2020, which consists of an extraordinary bonus based on the the value of the shares of LATAM. To date no payments have been made under this plan.

3. LP3 compensation plans (2020-2023)

The Company implemented a program for a group of executives effective between October 2020 and March 2023 that expires in March 2023, which consists of an extraordinary bonus that may be paid annually or subject to accrual and is based on target prices of the shares of LATAM.

4. Subsidiary's compensation plans

- a. As consequence of the resignation of the executives of Multiplus, the option plans granted in respect of Multiplus S.A. were canceled (as of December 31, 2018, the options for current shares amounted to 247,500 shares for Multiplus S.A.).
- b. As of December 31, 2019, payment contracts based on restricted shares signed with the executives of Multiplus were canceled.

Labor Relations

We believe we generally maintain good relations with our employees and the unions, and expect to continue to enjoy good relations with our employees and the unions in the future. We also believe that we have built a solid base among our employees that will support and facilitate our growth plans. We can provide no assurance, however, that our employee compensation arrangements may not be subject to change or modification after the expiration of the contracts currently in effect, or that we will not be subject to labor-related disruptions due to strikes, stoppages or walk-outs.

Chile

During the year 2019, ten collective bargaining processes were carried out, all of them anticipated or not regulated, which implies that the union renounces the possibility of a strike as a means of exerting legal pressure in the negotiations. All the collective bargaining agreements that were entered into have a duration of three years, which is the maximum legal term allowed and, allows job stability for that time.

In parallel, during 2019s two new unions were formed: Labor Union of Workers of Easter Island, and Workers Union of LATAM Travel, forming a total of 20 unions in Chile.

Ecuador

In 2011 a union previously exclusive to cabin crew employees was integrated into the general employee's union. This group maintains relations with the Company, but does not have the right to enter into or negotiate collective bargaining agreements under Ecuadorian law because less than half of our employees eligible for membership are members of this union.

Additionally, three employee associations were formed in 2012, including pilots, other general employees but composed mostly of maintenance employees and other composed mostly by employees of airport administration. In July 2019, the Company renewed the voluntary agreement with the pilot's association, valid until July 2023.

Argentina

In September 2019, we began salary negotiations with unions with respect to adjustment for inflation and reached an agreement on January 17, 2020.

LATAM CARGO international operations based in EZEIZA Airport were outsourced during last September despite a labor union disagreement.

In September 2019, we implemented an Aircraft Interchange Agreement as a new operational model. This new operation process was supported by most of the pilots despite APLA (Asociación de Pilotos de Líneas Aéreas), disagreement. As a result of this action, a new trade union was created (UPAL - Unión de Pilotos Aviadores de LATAM).

In 2020 we will continue working on different initiatives based on productivity and efficiency, avoiding conflicts or strikes, focusing on transforming LATAM Airlines Argentina into a more efficient company.

Colombia

In Colombia we have five different unions. The company held negotiations with: (i) the Technicians Union (ACMA), in 2018, and reached an agreement that will be in force until June of 2021, (ii) the Cabin Crew Union (ACAV), in 2018, and reached an agreement that will be in force until June of 2021, (iii) the Industrial Union of Aviation Workers (SINTRATAC), in 2018, and reached an agreement that will be in force until June of 2021, (iv) the Pilots' Latam Colombia Union (ADALAC), in 2018, and reached an agreement that will be in force until January of 2021 and (v) the pilots' union, ACDAC, in an arbitration during the last quarter of 2017.

Peru

In Peru, there are six unions that represent workers from different functional areas: pilots, cabin crew, aircraft technicians, flight dispatchers and airport workers. Our current collective agreements have a term of four years.

In 2019, LATAM Airlines Peru concluded negotiations with the cabin crew union and one of our aeronautical technicians' unions. Collective bargaining with the cabin crew union concluded through arbitration and with the aeronautical technician union in direct agreement.

During 2019, negotiation continued with the flight dispatchers' union (negotiation began in September 2018). These negotiations are expected to conclude with a collective bargaining agreement in the first half of 2020.

Brazil

Under Brazilian law, the term of collective bargaining agreements is limited to two years. LATAM Airlines Brazil's collective bargaining agreements are valid for one year. LATAM Airlines Brazil has historically negotiated collective bargaining agreements with eleven unions in Brazil— one crew flight union, which represents pilots, copilots and flight attendants, and ten ground staff unions. In December 2019, LATAM Airlines Brazil renegotiated collective bargaining agreements with all the unions, which included a wage increase of 3.37%, in line with the inflation rate of the last 12 months.

E. Share Ownership

As of December 31, 2019, the members of our board of directors and our executive officers as a group owned 30.3% of our shares. See "Item 7. Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions."

For a description of stock options granted to our executive officers, see "—D. Employees—Long Term Incentive Compensation Program."

ITEM 7. MAJOR SHAREHOLDERS AND RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

A. Major Shareholders

Mr. Ignacio Cueto (Chairman of the Board of LATAM), Mr. Enrique Cueto (the CEO LATAM) and certain other Cueto family members and entities controlled by them, comprise the Cueto Group. As of February 29, 2020 the Cueto Group beneficially owned (as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act) 21.46% of LATAM Airlines Group's common shares. The Cueto Group is entitled to elect three of the nine members of our board of directors and is in a position to direct the management of the Company. In connection with our combination with TAM, members of the Cueto Group entered into a shareholder's agreement with the Amaro Family, acting through TEP Chile, and TEP Chile entered into shareholder's agreements with LATAM and TAM. See "—Shareholders' Agreements."

Following the combination with TAM, the Amaro Group became a major shareholder of LATAM Airlines Group. Please see Item 4. Information on the Company – History and Development of the Company. As of February 29, 2020, the Amaro Group owned 1.98%⁽²⁾ of LATAM Airlines Group's common shares. The terms of the shareholders' agreement among the Amaro Group, LATAM and the Cueto Group require the Cueto Group and the Amaro Group to vote to elect individuals nominated to our board of directors in accordance with the direct and indirect shareholder interests in LATAM. See "—Shareholders' Agreements."

In addition to the Cueto Group and the Amaro Group, four other groups or entities are major shareholders of LATAM. As of February 29, 2020, the Eblen Group, which includes our director Nicolás Eblen, owned 4.56% of our common shares; the Bethia Group, which includes our vice-president of the board of directors, Carlos Heller, owned 4.23% of our common shares; Qatar Airways Investments (UK) Ltd., whose nominee, Giles Agutter, is one of our directors, owned 10.00%⁽⁴⁾ of our common shares and Delta Air Lines owned 20.00% of our common shares.

The table below sets forth additional information regarding the beneficial ownership of our common shares, as of February 29, 2020, by our major shareholders or shareholder groups, and minority shareholders.

(1) The ownership figures for the Cueto Group in this table exclude shares held directly by TEP Chile S.A. which are subject to the shareholders' agreements described below.

(2) Members of the Amaro Group also hold a 21.88% economic interest in Costa Verde Aeronáutica S.A.

(3) The ownership figures for the Amaro Group in this table exclude shares held by the Cueto Group which are subject to the shareholders' agreements described below.

(4) Qatar owns 9.999999918% of total issued shares of LATAM.

As of February 29, 2020, 3.32% of our capital stock was held in the form of ADSs. Chilean pension funds held 17.32% of our capital stock and other minority investors held 17.12% in the form of common shares. It is not practicable for us to determine the number of ADSs or common shares beneficially owned in the United States. As of February 29, 2020, we had 1,315 record holders of our common shares. It is not practicable for us to determine the portion of shares held in Chile or the number of record holders in Chile. All of our shareholders have identical voting rights.

Shareholders' Agreements

Following the combination of LAN and TAM in June 2012, TAM S.A. continues to exist as a subsidiary of Holdco I and a subsidiary of LATAM, and LAN Airlines S.A. has been redesignated as "LATAM Airlines Group S.A."

Prior to the consummation of the business combination, LATAM Airlines Group and the LATAM Controlling Shareholders entered into several shareholders' agreements with TAM, the Amaro Group (acting through TEP Chile) and Holdco I, establishing agreements and restrictions relating to corporate governance in an attempt to balance LATAM Airlines Group's interests, as the owner of substantially all of the economic rights in TAM, and those of the Amaro Group by prohibiting the taking of certain specified material corporate actions and decisions without prior supermajority approval of the shareholders and/or the board of directors of Holdco I or TAM. These shareholders' agreements also set forth the parties' agreement regarding the governance and management of the LATAM Airlines Group following the consummation of the combination of LAN and TAM.

Governance and Management of LATAM Airlines Group

We refer to the shareholders' agreement among the LATAM Controlling Shareholders and the Amaro Group (acting through TEP Chile), which sets forth the parties' agreement concerning the governance, management and operation of the LATAM Airlines Group, and voting and transfer of their respective LATAM Airlines Group common shares and TEP Chile's voting shares of Holdco I, as the "control group shareholders' agreement." We refer to the shareholders' agreement between LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and TEP Chile, which sets forth agreements concerning the governance, management and operation of the LATAM Airlines Group, as the "LATAM Airlines Group-TEP shareholders' agreement." The control group shareholders' agreement and the LATAM Airlines Group-TEP shareholders' agreement set forth the parties' agreement on the governance and management of the LATAM Airlines Group following the effective time.

This section describes the key provisions of the control group shareholders' agreement and the LATAM Airlines Group-TEP shareholders' agreement. The description of the LATAM Airlines Group-TEP shareholders' agreement summarized below and elsewhere in this annual report on Form 20-F is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such shareholders' agreements, which has been filed as exhibit to this annual report on Form 20-F.

Composition of the LATAM Airlines Group Board

Since April 2017, there are no restrictions in the control group shareholders' agreement nor in the LATAM Airlines Group-TEP shareholders' agreement regarding the composition of LATAM Airlines Group's board of directors. Therefore, once elected in accordance with Chilean regulation, members of the LATAM Airlines Group's board of directors have the right to appoint any member as the chairman of LATAM Airlines Group's board of directors, from time to time, in accordance with the LATAM Airlines Group's by-laws. Accordingly, on May, 2017 and on May 14, 2019, Mr. Ignacio Cueto Plaza was elected as President of the Board.

On August 2018, Mr. Antonio Pizarro resigned from the LATAM Airline's Group's board of directors, and as his replacement, the board of directors appointed Mrs. Sonia Villalobos, who was elected by the shareholders on the Ordinary Meeting of April, 25th 2019

Management of the LATAM Airlines Group

On September 10, 2019, LATAM announced that Enrique Cueto Plaza, Chief Executive Officer of LATAM ("CEO LATAM") since June 2012, will leave this position as of March 31, 2020, being replaced as of such date by Mr. Roberto Alvo, current Chief Commercial Officer of LATAM. The CEO LATAM is the highest ranked officer of LATAM Airlines Group and reports directly to the LATAM board of directors. The CEO LATAM is charged with the general supervision, direction and control of the business of the LATAM Airlines Group and certain other responsibilities set forth in the LATAM Airlines Group-TEP shareholders' agreement. After any departure of the current CEO LATAM, our board of directors will select his or her successor after receiving the recommendation of the Leadership Committee.

The head office of the LATAM Airlines Group continues to be located in Santiago, Chile.

Governance and Management of Holdco I and TAM

We refer to the shareholders' agreement between us, Holdco I and TEP Chile, which sets forth our agreement concerning the governance, management and operation of Holdco I, and voting and transfer of voting shares of Holdco I, as the "Holdco I shareholders' agreement" and to the shareholders' agreement between us, Holdco I, TAM and TEP Chile, which sets forth our agreement concerning the governance, management and operation of TAM and its subsidiaries following the effective time, as the "TAM shareholders' agreement." The Holdco I shareholders' agreement and the TAM shareholders' agreement set forth the parties' agreement on the governance and management of Holdco I, TAM and its subsidiaries (collectively, the "TAM Group") following the combination of LAN and TAM.

This section describes the key provisions of the Holdco I shareholders' agreement and the TAM shareholders' agreement. The description of the Holdco I shareholders' agreement and the TAM shareholders' agreement summarized below and elsewhere in this annual report on Form 20-F are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full text of the aforementioned shareholders' agreements, which have been filed as exhibits to this annual report on Form 20-F.

Composition of the Holdco I and TAM Boards

The Holdco I shareholders' agreement and TAM shareholders' agreement generally provide for identical boards of directors and the same chief executive officer at Holdco I and TAM, with LATAM appointing two directors and TEP Chile appointing four directors (including the chairman of the board of directors).

The control group shareholders' agreement provides that the persons elected by or on behalf of the LATAM Controlling Shareholders or the Amaro Group to our board of directors must also serve on the boards of directors of both Holdco I and TAM.

Management of Holdco I and TAM

The day-to-day business and affairs of Holdco I will be managed by the TAM Group CEO under the oversight of the board of directors of Holdco I. The day-to-day business and affairs of TAM will be managed by the TAM Diretoria under the oversight of the board of directors of TAM. The TAM Diretoria will be comprised of the TAM Group CEO, the TAM CFO, the TAM COO and the TAM CCO, currently the CEO of TAM, will be the initial CEO of Holdco I and TAM, or the "TAM Group CEO" and any successor CEO will be selected by LATAM from three candidates proposed by TEP Chile. The TAM Group CEO will have general supervision, direction and control of the business and operations of the TAM Group (other than the international passenger business of the LATAM Airlines Group) and will carry out all orders and resolutions of the board of directors of TAM. The initial chief financial officer of TAM, or the "TAM CFO," has been jointly selected by LATAM and TEP Chile and any successor CFO will be selected by TEP Chile from three candidates proposed by LATAM. The chief operating officer of TAM, or the "TAM COO," and chief commercial officer of TAM, or the "TAM CCO," will be jointly selected and recommended to the TAM board of directors by the TAM Group CEO and TAM CFO and approved by the TAM board of directors. These shareholders' agreements also regulate the composition of the boards of directors of subsidiaries of TAM.

Following the combination, TAM continues to be headquartered in São Paulo, Brazil.

Supermajority Actions

Certain actions by Holdco I or TAM require supermajority approval by the board of directors or the shareholders of Holdco I or TAM which effectively require the approval of both LATAM and TEP Chile before the specified actions can be taken. Actions that require supermajority approval of the Holdco I board of directors or the TAM board of directors include, as applicable:

- to approve the annual budget and business plan and the multi-year business (which we refer to collectively as the "approved plans"), as well as any amendments to these plans;
- to take or agree to take any action which causes, or will reasonably cause, individually, or in the aggregate, any capital, operating or other expense of any TAM Company and its subsidiaries to be greater than (i) the lesser of 1% of revenue or 10% of profit under the approved plans, with respect to actions affecting the profit and loss statement, or (ii) the lesser of 2% of assets or 10% of cash and cash equivalents (as defined by IFRS) as set forth in the approved plan then in effect, with respect to actions affecting the cash flow statement;
- to create, dispose of or admit new shareholders to any subsidiary of the relevant company, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to approve the acquisition, disposal, modification or encumbrance by any TAM company of any asset greater than $15 million or of any equity securities or securities convertible into equity securities of any TAM Company or other company, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to approve any investment in assets not related to the corporate purpose of any TAM company, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to enter into any agreement in an amount greater than $15 million, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to enter into any agreement related to profit sharing, joint ventures, business collaborations, alliance memberships, code sharing arrangements, except as approved by the business plans and budget then in effect, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to terminate, modify or waive any rights or claims of a relevant company or its subsidiaries under any arrangement in any amount greater than $15 million, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to commence, participate in, compromise or settle any material action with respect to any litigation or proceeding in an amount greater than $15 million, relating to the relevant company, except to the extent expressly permitted in the approved plans;

- to approve the execution, amendment, termination or ratification of agreements with related parties, except to the extent expressly contemplated in the approved plans;
- to approve any financial statements, amendments, or any accounting, dividend or tax policy of the relevant company;
- to approve the grant of any security interest or guarantee to secure obligations of third parties;
- to appoint executives other than the Holdco I CEO or the TAM Director or to re-elect the then current TAM CEO or TAM CFO; and
- to approve any vote to be cast by the relevant company or its subsidiaries in its capacity as a shareholder.

Actions requiring supermajority shareholder approval include:

- to approve any amendments to the by-laws of any relevant company or its subsidiaries in respect to the following matters: (i) corporate purpose; (ii) corporate capital; (iii) the rights inherent to each class of shares and its shareholders; (iv) the attributions of shareholder regular meetings or limitations to attributions of the board of directors; (v) changes in the number of directors or officers; (vi) the term; (vii) the change in the corporate headquarters of a relevant company; (viii) the composition, attributions and liabilities of management of any relevant company and (ix) dividends and other distributions;
- to approve the dissolution, liquidation, or winding up of a relevant company;
- to approve the transformation, merger, spin-up or any kind of corporate re-organization of a relevant company;
- to pay or distribute dividends or any other kind of distribution to the shareholders;
- to approve the issuance, redemption or amortization of any debt securities, equity securities or convertible securities;
- to approve a plan or the disposal by sale, encumbrance or otherwise of 50% or more of the assets, as determined by the balance sheet of the previous year, of Holdco I;
- to approve the disposal by sale, encumbrance or otherwise of 50% or more of the assets of a subsidiary of Holdco I representing at least 20% of Holdco I or to approve the sale, encumbrance or disposition of equity securities such that Holdco I loses control;
- to approve the grant of any security interest or guarantee to secure obligations in excess of 50% of the assets of the relevant company; and
- to approve the execution, amendment, termination or ratification of acts or agreement with related parties but only if applicable law requires approval of such matters.

Voting Agreements, Transfers and Other Arrangements

Voting Agreements

The LATAM Controlling Shareholders and TEP Chile have agreed in the control group shareholder's agreement to vote their respective LATAM Airlines Group common shares as follows:

- the parties agree to vote their LATAM Airlines Group common shares to assist the other parties in removing and replacing the directors such other parties elected to the LATAM Airlines Group board of directors;
- the parties agree to consult with one another and use their good faith efforts to reach an agreement on all actions (other than actions requiring supermajority approval under Chilean law) to be taken by the LATAM board of directors or the LATAM shareholders, and if unable to reach such agreement, to follow the proposal made by our board of directors;
- the parties agree to maintain the size of the LATAM Airlines Group board of directors at a total of nine directors and to maintain the quorum required for action by the LATAM Airlines Group board of directors at a majority of the total number of directors of the LATAM Airlines Group board of directors; and
- if, after good faith efforts to reach an agreement with respect to any action that requires supermajority approval under Chilean law and a mediation period, the parties do not reach such an agreement, then TEP Chile has agreed to vote its shares on such supermajority matter as directed by the LATAM Controlling Shareholders, which we refer to as a "directed vote."

The parties to the Holdco I shareholder's agreement and TAM shareholders agreement have agreed to vote their voting shares of Holdco I and shares of TAM so as to give effect to the agreements with respect to representation on the TAM board of directors discussed above.

Transfer Restrictions

Pursuant to the control group shareholders' agreement, the LATAM Controlling Shareholders and TEP Chile are subject to certain restrictions on sales, transfers and pledges of the LATAM Airlines Group common shares and (in the case of TEP Chile only) the voting shares of Holdco I beneficially owned by them. Except for a limited amount of LATAM Airlines Group common shares, neither the LATAM Controlling Shareholders nor TEP Chile were permitted to sell any of their LATAM Airlines Group common shares, and TEP Chile was not permitted to sell its voting shares of Holdco I, until June 2015. Since then, sales of LATAM Airlines Group common shares by either party are permitted, subject to (i) certain limitations on the volume and frequency of such sales and (ii) in the case of TEP Chile only, TEP Chile satisfying certain minimum ownership requirements. On or after December 31, 2021, TEP Chile may sell all of its LATAM Airlines Group common shares and voting shares of Holdco I as a block, subject to (x) approval of the transferee by the LATAM board of directors, (y) the condition that the sale not have an adverse effect and (z) a right of first offer in favor of the LATAM Controlling Shareholders, which we refer to collectively as "block sale provisions." An "adverse effect" is defined in the control group shareholders agreement to mean a material adverse effect on our and Holdco I's ability to own or receive the full benefits of ownership of TAM and its subsidiaries or the ability of TAM and its subsidiaries to operate their airline businesses worldwide. The LATAM Controlling Shareholders have agreed to transfer any voting shares of Holdco I acquired pursuant to such right of first offer to LATAM for the same consideration paid for such shares.

In addition, TEP Chile may sell all LATAM Airlines Group common shares and voting shares of Holdco I beneficially owned by it as a block, subject to satisfaction of the block sale provisions, if a release event (as described below) occurs or if TEP Chile is required to make two or more directed votes during any 24-month period at two meetings (consecutive or not) of the shareholders of LATAM Airlines Group held at least 12 months apart and LATAM Airlines Group has not yet fully exercised its conversion option described below. A "release event" will occur if (i) a capital increase of LATAM Airlines Group occurs, (ii) TEP Chile does not fully exercise the preemptive rights granted to it under applicable law in Chile with respect to such capital increase in respect of all of its restricted LATAM Airlines Group common shares, and (iii) after such capital increase is completed, the individual designated by TEP Chile for election to the board of directors of LATAM Airlines Group with the assistance of the LATAM Controlling Shareholders is not elected to the board of directors of LATAM Airlines Group.

In addition, after December 31, 2021 and after the occurrence of the full ownership trigger date (as described below under the "—Conversion Option" section), TEP Chile may sell all or any portion of its LATAM Airlines Group common shares, subject to (x) a right of first offer in favor of the LATAM Controlling Shareholders and (y) the restrictions on sales of LATAM Airlines Group common shares more than once in a 12-month period.

The control group shareholders agreement provides certain exceptions to these restrictions on transfer for certain pledges of LATAM Airlines Group common shares made by the parties and for transfers to affiliates, in each case under certain limited circumstances.

In addition, TEP Chile agreed in the Holdco I shareholders agreement not to vote its voting shares of Holdco I, or to take any other action, in support of any transfer by Holdco I of any equity securities or convertible securities issued by it or by any of TAM or its subsidiaries without our prior written consent.

Restriction on transfer of TAM shares

LATAM agreed in the Holdco I shareholders' agreement not to sell or transfer any shares of TAM stock to any person (other than our affiliates) at any time when TEP Chile owns any voting shares of Holdco I. However, LATAM will have the right to effect such a sale or transfer if, at the same time as such sale or transfer, LATAM (or its assignee) acquires all the voting shares of Holdco I beneficially owned by TEP Chile for an amount equal to TEP Chile's then current tax basis in such shares and any costs TEP Chile is required to incur to effect such sale or transfer. TEP Chile has irrevocably granted us the assignable right to purchase all of the voting shares of Holdco I beneficially owned by TEP Chile in connection with any such sale.

Conversion Option

Pursuant to the control group shareholders' agreement and the Holdco I shareholders' agreement, we have the unilateral right to convert our shares of non-voting stock of Holdco I into shares of voting stock of Holdco I to the maximum extent allowed under law and to increase our representation on the TAM and Holdco I boards of directors if and when permitted in accordance with foreign ownership control laws in Brazil and other applicable laws if the conversion would not have an adverse effect (as defined above under the "—Transfer Restrictions" section). In February 2019, we completed the procedures for the exchange of shares of Holdco I S.A., through which LATAM Airlines Group SA increased its indirect participation in TAM S.A., from 48.99% to 51.04%. This transaction was undertaken pursuant to the Provisional Measure 863/2018 of December 13, 2018, through which the participation of up to 100% of foreign capital in airlines in Brazil is permitted.

On or after December 31, 2021, and after we have fully converted all of our shares of non-voting stock of Holdco I into shares of voting stock of Holdco I as permitted by Brazilian law and other applicable laws, we will have the right to purchase all of the voting shares of Holdco I held by the controlling shareholders of TAM for an amount equal to their then current tax basis in such shares and any costs incurred by them to effect such sale, which amount we refer to as the “sale consideration.” If we do not timely exercise our right to purchase these shares or if, after December 31, 2021, we have the right under applicable law in Brazil and other applicable law to fully convert all the shares of non-voting stock of Holdco I beneficially owned by us into shares of voting stock of Holdco I and such conversion would not have an adverse effect but we have not fully exercised such right within a specified period, then the controlling shareholders of TAM will have the right to put their shares of voting stock of Holdco I to us for an amount equal to the sale consideration.

Acquisitions of TAM Stock

The parties have agreed that all acquisitions of TAM common shares by LATAM Airlines Group, Holdco I, TAM or any of their respective subsidiaries from and after the effective time of the combination will be made by Holdco I.

B. Related Party Transactions

General

We have engaged in a variety of transactions with our affiliates, including entities owned or controlled by certain of our controlling shareholders. In the ordinary course of our business we render to and receive from related companies’ services of various types, including aircraft leases, aircraft interchanges, freight transportation and reservation services. Such transactions, none of which is individually material, are summarized in Note 33 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019.

On August 2, 2016, the board of directors approved the Policy on Control of Related-Party Transactions of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and its subsidiaries, which states:

- Related-party means, among others, subsidiaries, affiliates, natural persons or legal entities with control of 10% or more of the Company’s voting stock, vice presidents, directors or senior executives as well as their respective spouses, relatives, and companies in which said persons are either direct or indirect owners of 10% or more of the Company’s voting stock, or in which they have held a position over the last 18 months.
- Related-Party Transactions can only be executed if said transactions are in LATAM’s interest and adjust to price, terms and conditions prevalent in the market for similar transactions with other third parties at the time of its approval.
- Any and all negotiations, acts, contracts or operations in which a company of the LATAM Group and a party related to such company serve as the participants will be subject to the Policy.

See “Item 3. Key Information—A. Selected Financial Data,” “Item 18. Financial Statements” and pages F-1 through F-142.

Legal and Arbitration Proceedings

We are involved in routine litigation and other proceedings relating to the ordinary course of our business. The following is a description of all the material legal and arbitration proceedings.

In February 2006 the European Commission (“EC”), the Department of Justice of the United States (“DOJ”), the Canadian Competition Bureau (“CCB”), and Conselho Administrativo de Defesa Econômica (“CADE”), among others, initiated a global investigation of a large number of international cargo airlines (among them LAN Cargo) for possible price fixing of cargo fuel surcharges and other fees in the European and United States air cargo markets. As previously announced, LAN Cargo reached plea agreements with the DOJ and the CCB, which included the payment of fines, in relation to such investigation. On November 9, 2010, the EC imposed fines on 11 air carriers for a total amount of €799.4 million (equivalent to approximately US$1.1 billion). The fine imposed against LAN Cargo and its parent company, LAN, totaled €8.2 million (equivalent to approximately US$9.4 million). LAN provisioned US$25 million during the fourth quarter of 2007 for such fines, and maintained this provision until the fine was imposed in 2010. In 2010, LAN recorded a US$14.1 million gain (pre-tax) from the reversal of a portion of this provision. This was the lowest fine applied by the EC, which includes a significant reduction due to LAN’s cooperation with the Commission during the course of the investigation. In accordance with European Union law, on January 24, 2011 this administrative decision was appealed by LAN Cargo and LAN to the General Court in Luxembourg. Any judgment by the General Court may also be appealed to the Court of Justice of the European Union. The European Court of Justice overturned the Commission’s decision on December 16, 2015. On May 20 2016 the EC confirmed that they had decided not to appeal the case and to issue a new decision with the aim of correcting the faults identified in the judgement by the European Court of Justice. On March 17, 2017, the EC re-adopted its decision and imposed on LAN Cargo and its parent company, LATAM, a fine in the same amount, €8.2 million, as the original fine. On May 31, 2017 LAN Cargo and LATAM requested the annulment of this EC decision to the General Court of the European Union. On December 2017 LAN Cargo and LATAM presented their arguments for this annulment and on July 2019 LAN CARGO and LATAM participated in a hearing in the Court of Justice of the European Union. LATAM is waiting for the outcome and expects a further reduction of the fine included in the decision by the general court of the European Union.

Civil actions have also been initiated against many airlines, including LAN Cargo and LATAM Airlines Group, in various European countries (Great Britain, Norway, Holland and Germany). In the particular case of Great Britain there was a mediation process, at the end of the year 2018, with the participation of all airlines involved to try to reach an agreement. LATAM Airlines Group S.A., reached an agreement for approximately GBP 636,000. A settlement was signed in December 2018 and payment was made in January 2019. This mediation process concluded the claim for all class actions except one, for which a settlement was negotiated during the year 2009, and which settled in December 2019 for the amount of approximately GBP 222,469.63. The payment was made during the month of January 2020. This concluded the claim for all class-actions in Great Britain.

On September 3, 2013, CADE published its decision to impose a fine of US$51.0 million against ABSA, after an investigation, commenced in 2008, against several cargo airlines and airlines officers over allegations of anticompetitive practices regarding fuel surcharges in the air cargo business. CADE also imposed fines upon a former Director and two former employees in the amounts of US$1.0 million and US$510,000 respectively. On December 5, 2013 ABSA filed its application for Administrative Reconsideration before CADE. On December 19, 2014, CADE issued a new decision which reduced the fine against ABSA to US$ 9,823,135 (based on an exchange rate of US$ 1 = R$ 3.3080). CADE also reduced the fines against ABSA's Director and employees to US$ 247,896 and US$ 123,040, respectively (also based on an exchange rate of US$ 1 = R$ 3.3080). ABSA has initiated a judicial appeal against the Union Federal seeking an additional reduction of the fine amount. In December 2018, a Federal Court Judge ruled against ABSA, indicating that it will not apply an additional reduction to the fine imposed. The court's decision was published in March 12, 2019. On March 13, we filed a motion seeking clarification of the federal court's decision.

Agreements with the DOJ and the SEC. In 2011, authorities in Chile and the United States initiated investigations relating to certain payments by LATAM Airlines Group S.A. (formerly LAN Airlines S.A.) to a consultant who assisted in the resolution of labor issues in Argentina in 2006-2007. The Company voluntarily reported this situation to the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and the Justice Department of the United States ("DOJ") and actively cooperated in those investigations. On February 4, 2016, Ignacio Cueto, the former CEO of LAN, consented to entry of a cease-and-desist order by the SEC relating to the payments described above. Mr. Cueto agreed to pay a US$75,000 penalty to the SEC, to remain in compliance with LATAM's compliance structure and internal accounting controls and to comply with the SEC's books and records requirements. In July 2016, after multiple and prolonged exchanges of opinions and conversations with the DOJ and the SEC, LATAM also reached definitive agreements with both authorities.

In the case of the DOJ, the agreement took the form of a Deferred Prosecution Agreement ("DPA"), pursuant to which the DOJ will dismiss the charges after the expiration of a three-year period if LATAM complies with all terms of the DPA. Pursuant to the DPA, LATAM has admitted that the accounting for the payments made to the consultant in Argentina was incorrect and that, at the time that such payments were made (2006-2007), it lacked adequate internal controls. LATAM has also accepted an independent consultant, for 27 months, whose function will be to monitor, evaluate, and report to the DOJ on the effectiveness of LATAM's compliance program. LATAM also committed to reporting to the DOJ on the effectiveness of the aforementioned compliance program for 9 months after the work of the independent consultant is finished. Lastly, LATAM paid a fine of US$12,750,000 to the DOJ.

The settlement with the SEC included the issuance by the SEC of a cease-and-desist order, which is an administrative order closing the investigation whereby LATAM has accepted certain obligations and statements of fact. The order also refers to the obligations related to the monitorship agreed under the DPA with the DOJ. LATAM paid a fine of US$6.74 million and interest of US$2.69 million to the SEC. On May 15, 2019, the external consultant certified that the anti-corruption compliance program of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. LATAM's anti-corruption program was reasonably designed and implemented to prevent and detect violations within LATAM to anti-corruption laws. On July 23, 2019, the DOJ approved the certification made by the consultant on May 15, 2019 regarding the anticorruption compliance program of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. On January 31, 2020, the Florida Court approved the motion of the DOJ regarding the withdrawal of the criminal action against LATAM Airlines Group SA, in response to compliance with all the conditions of the DPA by LATAM, closing the process before the DOJ.

On September 27, 2019 a lawsuit was filed against LATAM Airlines Group S.A. in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida under the Cuban Liberty and Democratic Solidarity Act, 22 U.S.C. Section 6021 et seq., (the "Helms-Burton Act"). Plaintiff Jose Ramon Lopez Regueiro alleged in the complaint that he holds an interest in the Jose Marti Airport which was confiscated by the Cuban government in 1959, and that LATAM Airlines Group S.A. unlawfully "trafficked" in the said property. The plaintiff seeks all available statutory remedies, including the award of damages for the alleged trafficking in the expropriated property, plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred, treble damages, post-judgment interest, and any other relief deemed appropriate by the court. LATAM is in the process of defending the claim, having filed motion to dismiss followed by a motion to stay discovery pending a ruling on the motion to dismiss. The matter is still in preliminary stages, and very little precedent has yet to be established to predict the final outcome of litigation should the matter proceed to trial and/or to determine the amount of reserve, if any.

Legal proceedings involving TAM

TAM Linhas Aéreas is party to one action filed by relatives of victims of an accident that occurred in October 1996 involving one of its Fokker 100 aircraft, in addition to 22 actions filed by residents of the region where the accident occurred, who claimed pain and suffering, and a class action related to this accident. All suits have now been concluded except one suit brought by the association of residents of a local street in respect of which TAM has been found liable by the 2nd Instance Court for damages to be assessed, subject to an appeal to the Superior Court. Most residents of the relevant street appear to have already been compensated through individual claims, which have been satisfied and thus should not be entitled to further compensation. No steps have been taken by any residents to try to obtain further compensation through the decision in favor of the residents association. Any further damages resulting from the aforementioned legal claim are covered by the civil liability guarantee provided for in TAM's insurance policy with Itaú Unibanco Seguros S.A. (now Chubb Seguros). The cap of US$400 million in that insurance policy is sufficient to cover any further potential penalties and judicial or extrajudicial agreements arising as a result of this matter.

In relation to the Airbus A320 aircraft (PR-MBK) accident of TAM Linhas Aéreas (TAM) at CGH on July 17, 2007, settlements were concluded directly between the insurers/reinsurers and the victims' families, third parties and ex-employees. Almost all claims and suits have now been concluded and there is ongoing litigation against TAM relating to only one fatal victim and one third party land owner. The administrative action regarding the extent of the primary insurance coverage payable regarding victims on board the aircraft remains on appeal by TAM and the other defendants to the Superior Court in Brasília. No steps have been taken by any party to attempt preliminary execution of the 2nd Instance decision and there should be good arguments to defend any such action based on the releases signed by all claimants upon receiving final compensation. The insurance coverage with Itaú Unibanco Seguros S.A. (now Chubb Seguros) is adequate to cover any further liabilities arising and LATAM Airlines Brazil will not incur any expenses that were not contemplated by the scope of the insurance policy.

On January 31, 2018, Airbus S.A.S., Airbus North America Customer Services, Inc. and Allianz Corporate & Specialty SE (France) filed an arbitration claim with the International Centre for Dispute Resolution against AIG Europe Limited ("AIG"), TAM S.A. ("TSA") and TAM Linhas Aéreas S.A. ("TLA") seeking a decision on the validity of a shared-defense agreement that had been discussed but never finalized or executed by the parties. The plaintiffs allege that the parties exchanged enough correspondence and drafts to reflect the terms of a contract. Based on this alleged contract, they are demanding that TAM reimburse Airbus a sum of approximately US$9,200 for settlement costs and US$3,000 for legal fees, in addition to interest and any other amount decided by the Arbitrator. On October 8, 2018, the plaintiffs filed a formal complaint that contained declarations by their supporting experts. On November 7, 2018, the Arbitrator issued a procedural ruling dividing the jurisdiction phase from the grounds-for-arbitration phase, thus expressing his agreement with the arguments by TSA and TLA as well as AIG. Upon request of the parties, the Arbitrator postponed the respondents' deadline of December 14, 2018 to submit their briefs contesting jurisdiction, while the parties held settlement negotiations. Finally, in December 2018, the parties agreed to hold a meeting to discuss a potential settlement that resulted in an agreement whereby Allianz Corporate & Specialty SE paid AIG US$95 million toward the loss already settled by AIG for the accident. In exchange, all lawsuits and arbitration claims were withdrawn at no additional cost to LATAM. The arbitration has concluded.

Tax related

TAM Linhas Aereas and other plaintiffs filed an ordinary claim with a request for injunctive relief for non-payment of the Airline Workers Fund, a tax charged monthly at the rate of 2.5% of an airline's total payroll. Currently, judgment is pending on an appeal that TAM lodged challenging the initial decision (which was ruled in favor of the Brazilian National Institute of Social Security ("INSS")). Regarding the period between 2004 and 2012, the INSS issued a tax assessment notice charging amounts as a result of TAM Linhas Aereas' non-payment of the Airline Workers Fund. The company made deposits with the Court of total amounts required to guarantee the debts potentially owed. The administrative proceedings have been suspended until the conclusion of the judicial claim. The approximate adjusted value of amounts potentially due in such proceeding as of December 31, 2012 was US$43.3 million. In the opinion of our legal advisors, losing in this proceeding is probable. Assuming payment of this tax is required by law, we have established a provision in the amount of US$87.4 million (R$ 352.220.015,07) related to the TAM's part as of December 31, 2019. TAM Linhas Aereas is a plaintiff in judicial claim against the Brazilian government from 1993 seeking indemnity for damages suffered because of the break-up of an air transportation concession agreement that resulted in the freezing of TAM's prices from 1988 to September 1993 in order to maintain operations with the prices set by the Brazilian government during that period. The process is currently being heard before the Federal Regional Court and judgment is pending an appeal by TAM. The estimated value of the action on December 31, 2019 is US$197.3 million (R$795million). This sum is subject to delinquent interest since September 1993 and inflation adjustment since November 1994. Based on the opinion of TAM's legal advisors, and recent rulings handed down by the Brazilian Supreme Court of Justice in favor of airlines in similar cases (specifically, actions filed by Transbrasil and Varig), we believe that TAM's likelihood of success is probable once the second judicial level court issued decision denying the claim. The Company filed a motion for clarification on the basis of omitted points in the judgment, which is pending in the Court. We have not recognized these credits in our financial statements and will only do so if and when the aforementioned decision is rendered final by the Court.

TAM Linhas Aereas filed an ordinary claim, with a request for early judgment, to discuss the legality of charging the Adicional das Tarifas Aeroportuárias (“Additional Airport Tariffs,” or “ATAERO”), which are charged at a rate of 50% on the value of tariffs and airport tariffs. A decision by the superior court is pending. The amount of potential recovery is indeterminate at this time.

In addition, one administrative proceeding had been filed against TAM Linhas Aéreas concerning the alleged failure to pay an Industrialized Products Tax (“IPI”) and Import Tax (“II”) due on imported aircraft. In response, we filed the appropriate challenges on the basis that no federal tax should be payable on the imported aircraft because it is a leased aircraft. The total amount involved in this administrative proceeding is US$2.33 million as of December 31, 2017. The administrative proceeding awaits a decision. In the opinion of our legal advisors, losing in this proceeding is possible.

A tax assessment was issued by the Brazilian IRS for the collection of Income Tax (“IRPJ”) and Social Contribution on Net Income (“CSLL”), and a fine of 150% and interest was imposed on TAM. In summary, the Brazilian IRS intends to levy IRPJ and CSLL on the alleged capital gain earned by TAM S/A, as a result of the reduction of the capital stock of the controlled company Multiplus S/A. On December 31, 2019 the updated amount of the assessment and fees discussed was approximately US$132.2 million (R$ 533 million). The Administrative Court issued a second level decision canceling the tax assessment. This decision can still be challenged by the Brazilian IRS before the third level – Administrative Superior Court

A tax assessment was issued by the São Paulo Municipality in order to charge tax (ISS) on tour packages sold by Fidelidade Viagens e Turismo S/A between 2010 and 2015. On December 31, 2019 the updated amount of the assessment discussed was approximately US$95 million (R$ 383 million). The Company believes that a favorable outcome is probable. A first level decision was issued favorable to the company, but remains subject to appeal by the counterparty.

A tax assessment of PIS/COFINS credits was issued by the Brazilian IRS on International Air Freight Shipping Services in the amount of US$65.76 million (R$244.65 million) as of December 31, 2019. The Administrative Court issued decisions canceling the total penalty and the major part of the amounts owed. The remaining amount is still under determination by the Brazilian IRS.

Federal Revenue Service issued a tax assessment notice against TLA in the amount of US$121 million (R$485 million) as of December 31, 2019, due to alleged irregularities of the Company related to the social security contribution on the risks of work accident (GILRAT - former “SAT”), in the term from November 2013 until December 2017. TLA has presented their defense to the Administrative Court, but on February 7, 2019 the court denied the defense and kept the tax assessment. The proceedings are now pending the judgment on the appeal filed before second level Court (CARF). In the opinion of our legal advisors, losing in this proceeding is probable. It is important to highlight that the Company recently won a similar case where the Brazilian IRS was seeking the same contribution related the years 2011-2012. This assessment was canceled by the Administrative Court.

On December 12, 2019 Brazilian IRS issued a Tax Assessment of PIS COFINS credits related to 2014 on the amount of US$ 42 million (R$170million). The company will file defense in the same ground of the case reported above.

It is important to highlight that TAM Linhas Aereas has other relevant legal cases involving tax issues.

In addition, there are a few claims made to, and/or legal proceedings filed against the Company, though those are not expected to have a material impact on the Group’s financial situation or profitability. While it is not feasible to predict the outcome of the pending claims, proceedings, and investigations described with certainty, management is of the opinion that their ultimate disposition should not have a material adverse effect on the Company’s financial position, cash flows, or results of operations.

Dividend Policy

In accordance with the Chilean Corporation Law, LATAM must distribute cash dividends equal to at least 30% of its annual consolidated net income calculated in accordance with IFRS subject to the terms of Oficio Circular No. 856 issued on October 17, 2014 by the Chilean Financial Market Commission. If there is no net income in a given year, LATAM can elect but is not legally obligated to distribute dividends out of retained earnings. The board of directors may declare interim dividends out of profits earned during such interim period. Pursuant to LATAM’s by-laws, the annual cash dividend is approved by the shareholders at the annual ordinary shareholders’ meeting held between February 1 and April 30 of the year following the year with respect to which the dividend is proposed. All outstanding common shares are entitled to share equally in all dividends declared by LATAM, unless the shares have not been fully paid by the shareholder after being subscribed.

Holders of ADSs will be entitled to receive dividends on the underlying common shares to the same extent as holders of common shares. Holders of ADRs on the applicable record dates will be entitled to receive dividends paid on the common shares represented by the ADSs evidenced by such ADRs. Dividends payable to holders of ADSs will be paid by us to the depositary in Chilean pesos and remitted by the depositary to such holders net of foreign currency conversion fees and expenses of the depositary and will be subject to Chilean withholding tax currently imposed at a rate of 35% (subject to credits in certain cases as described under “Item 10. Additional Information— E. Taxation—Cash Dividends and Other Distributions”). Owners of the ADSs will not be charged any dividend remittance fee by the depositary with respect to cash dividends.

Chilean law requires that holders of shares of Chilean companies that are not residents of Chile register as foreign investors under one of the foreign investment regimes established by Chilean law in order to have dividends, sale proceeds or other amounts with respect to their shares remitted outside Chile through the Formal Exchange Market (Mercado Cambiario Formal). Under our Foreign Investment Contract, the depositary, on behalf of ADS holders, will be granted access to the Formal Exchange Market to convert cash dividends from pesos to U.S. dollars and to pay such U.S. dollars to ADS holders outside Chile.

ITEM 9. THE OFFER AND LISTING

A. Offer and Listing Details

The principal trading market for our common shares is the Santiago Stock Exchange (“SSE”). The common shares have been listed on the SSE under the symbol “LAN” since 1989, and the ADSs were listed on the NYSE under the symbol “LFL” on November 7, 1997. On May 15, 2017, LATAM changed the symbol of its ADSs listed on the NYSE from “LFL” to “LTM”, as well as its shares listed on the SSE from “LAN” to “LTM”. The common shares also trade on the Bolsa Electrónica de Chile. The outstanding ADSs are identified by the CUSIP number 501723100.

As of December 31, 2019, a total of 606,407,693 million common shares were outstanding, including common shares represented by ADSs.

Trading

Chile

The Chilean stock market, which is regulated by the CMF under Law 18,045 of October 22, 1981, as amended, which we refer to as the Securities Market Law, is one of the most developed among emerging markets, reflecting the particular economic history and development of Chile. The Chilean government’s policy of privatizing state-owned companies, implemented during the 1980s, led to an expansion of private ownership of shares, resulting in an increase in the importance of stock markets. Privatization extended to the social security system, which was converted into a privately managed pension fund system. These pension funds have been allowed, subject to certain limitations, to invest in stocks and are currently major investors in the stock market. Some market participants, including pension fund administrators, are highly regulated with respect to investment and remuneration criteria, but the general market is less regulated than the U.S. market with respect to disclosure requirements and information usage.

Equities, closed-end funds, fixed-income securities, short-term and money market securities, gold and U.S. dollars are traded on the SSE. In 1991, the SSE initiated a futures market with two instruments: U.S. dollar futures and Selective Shares Price Index, or IPSA, futures. Securities are traded primarily through an open voice auction system; a firm offers system or daily auctions. Trading through the open voice system occurs on each business day from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The SSE has an electronic system of trade, called Telepregón HT, which operates continuously for stocks trading in high volumes from 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. (or 5:00 p.m., depending on the period of the year). The Chilean Electronic Stock Exchange operates continuously from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (or 5:30 p.m., depending on the period of the year) on each business day. In February 2000, the SSE Off-Shore Market began operations. In the Off-Shore Market, publicly offered foreign securities are traded and quoted in U.S. dollars.

B. Memorandum and Articles of Association

Set forth below is information concerning our share capital and a brief summary of certain significant provisions of our by-laws and Chilean law. This description contains all material information concerning the common shares but does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to our by-laws, the Chilean Corporation Law and the Securities Market Law, each referred to below. For additional information regarding the common shares, reference is made to our by-laws, a copy of which is included as Exhibit 1.1 to this annual report on Form 20-F.

Organization and Register

LATAM Airlines Group is a publicly held stock corporation (sociedad anónima abierta) incorporated under the laws of Chile. LATAM Airlines Group was incorporated by a public deed dated December 30, 1983, an abstract of which was published in the Chilean Official Gazette (Diario Oficial de la República de Chile) No. 31,759 on December 31, 1983, and registered on page 20,341, No. 11,248 of the Chilean Real Estate and Commercial Registrar (Registro de Comercio del Conservador de Bienes Raíces de Santiago) for the year 1983. Our corporate purpose, as stated in our by-laws, is to provide a broad range of transportation and related services, as more fully set forth in Article Four thereof.

General

Shareholders' rights in a Chilean corporation are generally governed by the company's by-laws and the Chilean Corporation Law. Article 22 of the Chilean Corporation Act states that the purchaser of shares of a corporation implicitly accepts its by-laws and any prior agreements adopted at shareholders' meetings. Additionally, the Chilean Corporation Law regulates the government and operation of corporations ("sociedades anónimas," or S.A.) and provides for certain shareholder rights. Article 137 of the Chilean Corporation Act provides that the provisions of the Chilean Corporation Act take precedence over any contrary provision in a corporation's by-laws. The Chilean Corporation Law and our by-laws also provide that all disputes arising among shareholders in their capacity as such or between us or our administrators and the shareholders may either be submitted to arbitration in Chile or to the courts of Chile at the election of the plaintiff initiating the action. Despite the foregoing, it is forbidden for certain individuals (directors, senior managers, administrators and main executives of the corporation, and any shareholder that directly or indirectly holds shares whose book or market value exceed 5,000 UF at the moment of filing of the action) from submitting such action before the ordinary courts, thus obligating them to proceed with arbitration in all situations. Finally, Decree-Law No. 3,500 on Pension Fund Administrators, which allows pension funds to invest in the stock of qualified corporations, indirectly affects corporate governance and prescribes certain rights of shareholders. The Chilean Corporation Act sets forth the rules and requirements under which a corporation is deemed to be "publicly held." Article 2 of the Chilean Corporation Act defines publicly held corporations as corporations that register their shares with the Registro de Valores (Securities Registry) of the CMF, either voluntarily or pursuant to a legal obligation. In addition, Article 5 of the Securities Market Law indicates which corporation's shares must be registered with the Securities Registry:

- one with 500 or more shareholders;
- one in which 100 or more shareholders own at least 10% of the subscribed capital (excluding any direct or indirect individual holdings exceeding 10%); and
- one in which the shareholders agreed voluntarily to be registered.

The framework of the Chilean securities market is regulated by the CMF under the Securities Market Law and the Chilean Corporation Law, which imposes certain disclosure requirements, restricts insider trading, prohibits price manipulation and protects minority investors. In particular, the Securities Market Law establishes requirements for public offerings, stock exchanges and brokers and outlines disclosure requirements for corporations that issue publicly offered securities.

Ownership Restrictions

Under Articles 12 and 20 of the Securities Market Law and General Rule 269 issued by the SVS in 2009, certain information regarding transactions in shares of publicly held corporations must be reported to the CMF and the Chilean stock exchanges on which the shares are listed. Since the ADRs are deemed to represent the shares underlying the ADSs, transactions in ADRs will be subject to those reporting requirements. Among other matters, the beneficial owners of ADSs that directly or indirectly hold 10% or more of the subscribed capital of LATAM Airlines Group, or that reach or exceed such percentage through an acquisition, are required to report to the CMF and the Chilean stock exchanges, the day following the event:

- any acquisition or sale of shares; and
- any acquisition or sale of contracts or securities the price or performance of which depends on the price variation of the LATAM Airlines Group's shares.

These obligations are extended (i) to certain individuals (immediate family, next of kin and others) if the ADS holder is a natural person; (ii) to any entity controlled by the holder, if the ADS is a legal entity; and (iii) to groups, if a holder has any joint action agreement with other holders and the group reaches or exceeds the cited threshold.

In addition, majority shareholders must state in their report whether their purpose is to acquire control of the company or if they are making a financial investment.

Under Article 54 of the Securities Market Law and under CMF regulations, persons or entities that intend to acquire control, whether directly or indirectly, of a publicly traded company, must follow certain notice requirements, regardless of the acquisition vehicle or procedure or whether the acquisition will be made through direct subscriptions or private transactions. In the first place, the potential acquirer must send a written communication to the target corporation, any companies controlling or controlled by the target corporation, the CMF and the Chilean stock exchanges on which the target's securities are listed, stating, among other things, the person or entity purchasing or selling and the price and conditions of any negotiations. Subsequently, the potential acquirer must also inform the public of its planned acquisition by means of a publication in two Chilean newspapers with national distribution and by uploading such notice to the acquirer's website, if available. Both requirements shall be met at least ten business days prior to the date on which the acquisition transaction is to close, and in any event, as soon as negotiations regarding the change of control have been formalized or when confidential information or documents concerning the target are delivered to the potential acquirer. The notices must state, among other things, the person or entity purchasing or selling and the price and conditions of any negotiations.

In addition to the foregoing, Article 54A of the Securities Market Law requires that within two business days of the completion of the transactions pursuant to which a person has acquired control of a publicly traded company, a notice shall be published in the same newspapers in which the notice referred to above was published and notices shall be sent to the same persons mentioned in the preceding paragraphs.

Consequently, a beneficial owner of ADSs intending to acquire control of LATAM Airlines Group will be subject to the foregoing reporting requirements.

The provisions of the aforementioned articles do not apply whenever the acquisition is being made through a tender or exchange offer.

Title XXV of the Securities Market Law on tender offers and CMF regulations provide that the following transactions shall be carried out through a tender offer:

- an offer which allows the taking control of a publicly traded company, unless the shares are being sold by a controlling shareholder of such company at a price in cash which is not substantially higher than the market price and the shares of such company are actively traded on a stock exchange;

- an offer for all the outstanding shares of a publicly traded company upon acquiring two-thirds or more of its voting shares (this offer must be made at a price not lower than the price at which appraisal rights may be exercised, that is, book value if the shares of the company are not actively traded or, if the shares of the company are actively traded, the weighted average price at which the stock has been traded during the 60 stock-exchange-business-day period between the 30th and the 90th stock-exchange-business-days immediately preceding the acquisition); and
- an offer for a controlling percentage of the shares of a publicly traded company if the acquirer intends to take control of the company (whether publicly traded or privately held) controlling such publicly traded company, to the extent that the latter represents 75.0% or more of the consolidated net assets of the former.

Article 200 of the Securities Market Law prohibits any shareholder that has taken control of a publicly traded company from acquiring, for a period of 12 months from the date of the transaction that granted it control of the publicly traded company, a number of shares equal to or higher than 3.0% of the outstanding issued shares of the target without making a tender offer at a price per share not lower than the price paid at the time of taking control. Should the acquisition from the other shareholders of the company be made on the floor of a stock exchange and on a pro rata basis, the controlling shareholder may purchase a higher percentage of shares, if so permitted by the regulations of the stock exchange.

Title XV of the Securities Market Law sets forth the basis for determining what constitutes a controlling power, a direct holding and a related party.

Capitalization

Under Chilean law, the shareholders of a company, acting at an extraordinary shareholders' meeting, have the power to authorize an increase in the company's share capital. When an investor subscribes issued shares, the shares are registered in that investor's name even without payment, and the investor is treated as a shareholder for all purposes except with regard to receipt of dividends and return of capital, provided that the shareholders may, by amending the by-laws, also grant the right to receive dividends of distribution of capital despite not having paid for the subscribed shares. The investor becomes eligible to receive dividends once it has paid for the shares, or, if it has paid for only a portion of such shares, it is entitled to receive a corresponding pro rata portion of the dividends declared with respect to such shares, unless the company's by-laws provide otherwise. If an investor does not pay for shares for which it has subscribed on or prior to the date agreed upon for payment, the company is entitled under Chilean law to auction the shares on the appropriate stock exchange, and it has a cause of action against the investor to recover the difference between the subscription price and the price received for the sale of those shares at auction. However, until such shares are sold at auction, the investor continues to exercise all the rights of a shareholder (except the right to receive dividends and return of capital, as noted above). Regarding shares issued but not paid for within the period determined by the extraordinary shareholders' meeting for their payment (which period cannot exceed three years from the date of such shareholders' meeting), until January 1, 2010 they were canceled and no longer available for subscription and payment. As of January 1, 2010, the board of directors of LATAM Airlines Group has a legal obligation to initiate the necessary legal actions to collect the unpaid amounts, unless the shareholders' meeting which authorized the capital increase allowed the board to abstain from taking such action by a vote of two thirds of the issued shares, in which case the former rule still applies. Once the foregoing legal actions are exhausted, the board of directors shall propose to the shareholders' meeting the appropriate capital adjustment measures, to be decided by simple majority. Fully paid shares are not subject to further calls or assessments or to liabilities of LATAM Airlines Group.

As of December 31, 2019, the Company's statutory capital is represented by 606,407,693 ordinary shares without nominal value. All shares are subscribed and paid considering the capital reduction that occurred in full, after the legal period of three years to subscribe the balance of 466,832 outstanding shares, of the last capital increase approved in August of the year 2016. Chilean law recognizes the right of corporations to issue shares of common and preferred stock. To date, we have issued and are authorized by our shareholders to issue only shares of common stock. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote.

Preemptive Rights and Increases in Share Capital

The Chilean Corporation Law requires Chilean companies to offer existing shareholders the right to purchase a sufficient number of shares to maintain their existing percentage of ownership in a company whenever that company issues new shares for cash, except for up to 10% of the subscribed shares arising from the capital increase which may be designated to employee compensation pursuant to article 24 of the Corporation Act. Under this requirement, any preemptive rights will be offered by us to the depositary as the registered owner of the common shares underlying the ADSs, but holders of ADSs and shareholders located in the United States will not be allowed to exercise preemptive rights with respect to new issuances of shares by us unless a registration statement under the Securities Act is effective with respect to those common shares or an exemption from the registration requirements thereunder is available.

We intend to evaluate at the time of any preemptive rights offering the costs and potential liabilities associated with the preparation and filing of a registration statement with the SEC, as well as the indirect benefits of enabling the exercise by the holders of ADSs and shareholders located in the United States of preemptive rights and any other factors we consider appropriate at the time. No assurances can be given that any registration statement would be filed. If preemptive rights are not made available to ADS holders, the depository may sell those holders' preemptive rights and distribute the proceeds thereof if a secondary market for such rights exists and a premium can be recognized over the cost of such sale. In the event that the depository does not sell such rights at a premium over the cost of any such sale, all or certain holders of ADRs may receive no value for the preemptive rights. The inability of holders of ADSs to exercise preemptive rights in respect of common shares underlying their ADSs could result in a change in their percentage ownership of common shares following a preemptive rights offering.

Under Chilean law, preemptive rights are freely exercisable, transferable or waived by shareholders during a 30-day period commencing upon publication of the official notice announcing the start of the preemptive rights period in the newspaper designated by the shareholders' meeting. The preemptive right of the shareholders is the pro rata amount of the shares registered in their name in the shareholders' registry of LATAM Airlines Group as of the fifth business day prior to the date of publication of the notice announcing the start of the preemptive rights period. During such 30-day period (except for shares as to which preemptive rights have been waived), Chilean companies are not permitted to offer any newly issued common shares for sale to third parties. For that 30-day period and an additional 30-day period, Chilean publicly held corporations are not permitted to offer any unsubscribed common shares for sale to third parties on terms that are more favorable to the purchaser than those offered to shareholders. At the end of such additional 30-day period, Chilean publicly held corporations are authorized to sell non-subscribed shares to third parties on any terms, provided they are sold on a Chilean stock exchange.

Directors

Our by-laws provide for a board of nine directors. Compensation to be paid to directors must be approved by vote at the annual shareholders' meeting. We hold elections for all positions on the board of directors every two years. Under our by-laws, directors are elected by cumulative voting. Each shareholder has one vote per share and may cast all of his or her votes in favor of one nominee or may apportion his or her votes among any number of nominees. These voting provisions currently ensure that a shareholder owning more than 10% of our outstanding shares is able to elect at least one representative to our board of directors.

Under the Chilean Corporation Law, transactions of a publicly-traded company with a "related" party must be conducted on an arm's-length basis and must satisfy certain approval and disclosure requirements which are different from the ones that apply to a privately-held company. The conditions apply to the publicly-traded company and to all of its subsidiaries.

These transactions include any negotiation, act, contract or operation in which the publicly-traded company intervenes together with either (i) parties which are legally deemed related pursuant to article 100 of the Chilean Securities Market Law, (ii) a director, senior manager, administrator, main executive or liquidator of the company, either on their own behalf or on behalf of a third party, including those individuals' spouses or close relatives, (iii) companies in which the foregoing individuals own at least 10% (directly or indirectly), or in which they serve as directors, senior managers, administrators or main executives, (iv) parties indicated as such in the publicly-traded company's by-laws, or identified by the directors' committee or (v) those who have served as directors, senior managers, administrators, main executives or liquidators of the counterparty in the last 18 months and are now serving in one of those positions at the publicly-traded company.

Corporations may enter into transactions with related parties if (i) the transaction is in the interest of the corporation, (ii) the transaction is made on an arm's-length basis at market conditions, (iii) the individuals involved in the transactions report them immediately to the board, (iv) the transaction is approved after a reasoned explanation by the majority of the board, excluding those directors or liquidators that are involved in the transaction (who shall, nonetheless, render an opinion on the matter if required by the board), (v) the decisions of the board are disclosed at the next shareholders' meeting, and (vi) in case the majority of the board is disqualified to vote, the majority of the non-involved directors have approved the transaction, or two thirds of the voting shares have approved the transaction).

If, as noted in clause (vi) of the preceding paragraph, the transaction is to be approved by the shareholders' meeting, the following additional rules apply: (i) the board shall appoint an independent appraiser that shall report to the shareholders on the transaction, (ii) the director's committee or the non-involved directors may appoint a second independent appraiser, (iii) the appraiser's reports shall be made available for 15 days, (iv) the receipt and availability of the reports shall be disclosed as a material fact and (iv) directors shall render an opinion on the transaction within five business days after receiving the reports.

Transactions which do not meet the foregoing requirements are valid and enforceable, but neither the corporation nor its shareholders shall have a cause of action to sue the infringing party for reimbursement on behalf of the corporation, for a total of the benefits reported to the interested party, in addition to indemnification for the damages caused. In such proceedings, the defendant shall prove that the transaction met the legal requirements.

The Chilean Corporation Law sets forth a number of exceptions to the foregoing rules. In the following situations, transactions with related parties may be carried out without complying with the foregoing rules: (i) if a transaction does not involve a substantial amount (it is deemed that a transaction does not involve a substantial amount if it does not exceed 1.0% of the net worth of the company and does not exceed the equivalent of 2,000 UF or approximately US$79,352 as of the date of this annual report on Form 20-F) unless such a transaction exceeds 20,000 UF (for this calculation all similar transactions carried out within a consecutive 12-month period between the same parties or for the same subject matter, shall be deemed as a single transaction), (ii) transactions which according to the policies determined by the board of directors, are deemed to be within the ordinary course of business (the determination of such policies shall be disclosed as a material fact and made available to shareholders), and (iii) if the counterparty is an entity in which the publicly-traded company has, directly or indirectly, at least a 95.0% ownership. As per the exemption indicated in (ii) above, on December 29, 2009, the board of directors of LATAM Airlines Group established policies setting forth the transactions that fall within the ordinary course of business. That determination was publicly disclosed on the same day and is currently available on LATAM Airlines Group's website under the "Corporate Governance" section.

Shareholders' Meetings and Voting Rights

The Chilean Corporation Law requires that an ordinary annual meeting of shareholders be held within the first four months of each year after being called by the board of directors (generally they are held in April, but in any case following the preparation of our financial statements, including the report of our auditors, for the previous fiscal year). LATAM Airlines Group's by-laws further provide that the ordinary annual meeting of shareholders must take place between February 1 and April 30. The shareholders at the ordinary annual meeting approve the annual financial statements, including the report of our auditors, the annual report, the dividend policy and the final dividend on the prior year's profits, elect the board of directors (in our case, every two years or earlier if a vacancy occurs) and approve any other matter that does not require an extraordinary shareholders' meeting. The most recent extraordinary meeting of our shareholders was held on April 27, 2017, and the most recent ordinary annual meeting of our shareholders was held on April 26, 2018.

Extraordinary shareholders' meetings may be called by the board of directors, if deemed appropriate, and ordinary or extraordinary shareholders' meetings must be called by the board of directors when requested by shareholders representing at least 10.0% of the issued voting shares or by the CMF. In addition, as from January 1, 2010 there are two new rules in this regard: (i) the CMF may directly call for an extraordinary shareholders' meeting in case of a publicly-traded company, and (ii) any kind of shareholders' meeting may be self-convened and take place if all voting shares attend, regardless of the fulfillment of the notice and other type of procedural requirements.

Notice to convene the ordinary annual meeting or an extraordinary meeting is given by means of three notices which must be published in a newspaper of our corporate domicile (currently Santiago, Chile) designated by the shareholders at their annual meeting and, if the shareholders fail to make such designation, the notice must be published in the Chilean Official Gazette pursuant to legal requirements. The first notice must be published not less than 15 days and not more than 20 days in advance of the scheduled meeting. Notice also must be mailed not less than 15 days in advance of the meeting to each shareholder and to the CMF and the Chilean stock exchanges. Currently, we publish our official notices in the newspaper La Tercera (available online at www.latercera.com).

The quorum for a shareholders' meeting is established by the presence, in person or by proxy, of shareholders representing a majority of our issued common shares. If that quorum is not reached, the meeting can be reconvened within 45 days, and at the second meeting the shareholders present are deemed to constitute a quorum regardless of the percentage of the common shares that they represent.

Only shareholders registered with us on the fifth business day prior to the date of a meeting are entitled to attend and vote their shares. A shareholder may appoint another individual (who need not be a shareholder) as his or her proxy to attend and vote on his or her behalf. Proxies addressed to us that do not designate a person to exercise the proxy are taken into account in order to determine if there is a sufficient quorum to hold the meeting, but the shares represented thereby are not entitled to vote at the meeting. The proxies must fulfill the requirements set forth by the Chilean Corporation Law and its regulatory norms. Every shareholder entitled to attend and vote at a shareholders' meeting has one vote for every share subscribed.

The following matters can only be considered at an extraordinary shareholders' meeting:

- our dissolution;
- a merger, transformation, division or other change in our corporate form or the amendment of our by-laws;
- the issuance of bonds or debentures convertible into shares;
- the conveyance of 50% or more of our assets (whether or not it includes our liabilities);
- the adoption or amendment of any business plan which contemplates the conveyance of assets in excess of the foregoing percentage;
- the conveyance of 50% or more of the assets of a subsidiary, if the latter represents at least 20% of our assets;
- the conveyance of shares of a subsidiary which entails the transfer of control;
- granting of a security interest or a personal guarantee in each case to secure the obligations of third parties, unless to secure or guarantee the obligations of a subsidiary, in which case only the approval of the board of directors will suffice; and

- other matters that require shareholder approval according to Chilean law or the by-laws.

The matters referred to in the first seven items listed above may only be approved at a meeting held before a notary public, who shall certify that the minutes are a true record of the events and resolutions of the meeting.

The by-laws establish that resolutions are passed at shareholders' meetings by the affirmative vote of an absolute majority of those voting shares present or represented at the meeting. However, under the Chilean Corporation Law, the vote of a two-thirds majority of the outstanding voting shares is required to approve any of the following actions:

- a change in our corporate form, division or merger with another entity;
- amendment to our term of existence, if any;
- our early dissolution;
- change in our corporate domicile;
- decrease of our capital stock;
- approval of contributions and the assessment thereof whenever consisting of assets other than money;
- any modification of the authority reserved for the shareholders' meetings or limitations on the powers of the board of directors;
- decrease in the number of members of the board of directors;
- the conveyance of 50% or more of our assets (whether or not it includes our liabilities);
- the adoption or amendment of any business plan which contemplates the conveyance of assets in excess of the foregoing percentage;
- the conveyance of 50% or more of the assets of a subsidiary, if the latter represents at least 20% of our assets;
- the conveyance of shares of a subsidiary which entails the transfer of control;
- the form that dividends are paid in;
- granting a security interest or a personal guarantee in each case to secure obligations of third parties that exceeds 50% of our assets, unless to secure or guarantee the obligations of a subsidiary, in which case only approval of the board of directors will suffice;
- the acquisition of our own shares, when, and on the terms and conditions, permitted by law;
- all other matters provided for in the by-laws;
- the correction of any formal defect in our incorporation or any amendment to our by-laws that refers to any of the matters indicated in the first 13 items listed above;
- the institution of the right of the controlling shareholder who has purchased at least 95% of the shares to purchase shares of the outstanding minority shareholders pursuant to the procedure set forth in article 71 bis of the Corporation Law; and
- the approval or ratification of transactions with related parties, as per article 147 of the Corporation Law (described above).

Amendments to the by-laws that have the effect of establishing, modifying or eliminating any special rights pertaining to any series of shares require the consenting vote of holders of two-thirds of the shares of the affected series. As noted above, LATAM Airlines Group does not have special series of shares.

In general, Chilean law does not require a publicly held corporation to provide the level and type of information that the U.S. securities laws require a reporting company to provide to its shareholders in connection with a solicitation of proxies. However, shareholders are entitled to examine the books of the company and its subsidiaries within the 15-day period before a scheduled meeting. No later than 15 business days of the scheduled shareholder's meeting, the board of directors of a publicly held corporation is required to send to every shareholder notice by regular mail, a notice containing a reference to the issues that will be discussed, together with instructions to obtain all the appropriate documentation regarding those issues, and publish such notice on its website. The board is also required to make available to the shareholders the annual report and the financial statements of the company, and to publish such information in the company's webpage at least 10 days in advance of the scheduled shareholders meeting. In addition to these requirements, we regularly have provided, and currently intend to continue to provide, together with the notice of shareholders' meeting, a proposal for the final annual dividend for shareholder approval. See "—Dividend and Liquidation Rights" below.

The Chilean Corporation Law provides that, whenever shareholders representing 10% or more of the issued voting shares so request, a Chilean company's annual report must include such shareholders' comments and proposal in relation to the company's affairs, together with the comments and proposals set forth by the directors' committee. Similarly, the Chilean Corporation Law provides that whenever the board of directors of a publicly held corporation convenes an ordinary meeting of the shareholders and solicits proxies for that meeting, or distributes information supporting its decisions or other similar material, it is obligated to include as an annex to its annual report any pertinent comments and proposals that may have been made by shareholders owning 10% or more of the company's voting shares who have requested that such comments and proposals be included, together with the comments and proposals set forth by the directors' committee.

Dividend and Liquidation Rights

In accordance with the Chilean Corporation Law, LATAM Airlines Group must distribute an annual cash dividend equal to at least 30% of its annual net income calculated in accordance with IFRS, unless otherwise decided by a unanimous vote of the holders of all issued shares, and unless and except to the extent it has accumulated losses. If there is no net income in a given year, LATAM Airlines Group can elect but is not legally obligated to distribute dividends out of retained earnings. All outstanding common shares are entitled to share equally in all dividends declared by LATAM Airlines Group, unless the shares have not been fully paid by the shareholder after being subscribed.

For all dividend distributions agreed by the board of directors in excess of the mandatory minimum of 30% noted in the preceding paragraph, LATAM Airlines Group may grant an option to its shareholders to receive those dividends in cash, or in shares issued by either LATAM Airlines Group or other corporations. Shareholders who do not expressly elect to receive a dividend other than in cash are legally presumed to have decided to receive the dividend in cash. A U.S. holder of ADSs may, in the absence of an effective registration statement under the Securities Act or an available exemption from the registration requirement thereunder, effectively is required to receive a dividend in cash. See "—Preemptive Rights and Increases in Share Capital" above.

Dividends that are declared but not paid within the appropriate time period set forth in the Chilean Corporation Law (as to minimum dividends, 30 days after declaration; as to additional dividends, the date set for payment at the time of declaration) are adjusted to reflect the change in the value of the UF. The UF is a daily indexed, Chilean peso-denominated accounting unit designed to discount the effect of Chilean inflation and it is based on the previous month's inflation rate as officially determined. Such dividends also accrue interest at the then-prevailing rate for UF-denominated deposits during such period. The right to receive a dividend lapses if it is not claimed within five years from the date such dividend is payable. After that period, the amount not claimed is given to a non-profit organization, the Cuerpos de Bomberos de Chile (the National Corporation of Firefighters).

In the event of LATAM Airlines Group's liquidation, the holders of fully paid common shares would participate pro rata in the distribution of assets remaining after payment of all creditors. Holders of shares not fully paid will participate in such distribution in proportion to the amount paid.

Approval of Financial Statements

The board of directors is required to submit our consolidated financial statements to the shareholders for their approval at the annual ordinary shareholders' meeting. If the shareholders reject the financial statements, the board of directors must submit new financial statements not later than 60 days from the date of that meeting. If the shareholders reject the new financial statements, the entire board of directors is deemed removed from office and a new board is to be elected at the same meeting. Directors who approved such financial statements are disqualified for re-election for the ensuing period.

Right of Dissenting Shareholders to Tender Their Shares

The Chilean Corporation Law provides that, upon the adoption at an extraordinary meeting of shareholders of any of the resolutions or if any of the situations enumerated below takes place, dissenting or affected shareholders acquire the right to withdraw and to compel the company to repurchase their shares, subject to the fulfillment of certain terms and conditions. However, such right shall be suspended if we are a debtor in a bankruptcy liquidation proceeding, or if we are subject to a reorganization agreement approved in accordance with Chilean law No. 20,720, unless such agreement allows the right to withdraw, or unless it is terminated by the issuance of a liquidation resolution. In the case of holders of ADRs, however, in order to exercise such rights, holders of ADRs would be required to first withdraw the common shares represented by the ADRs pursuant to the terms of the deposit agreement. Such holders of ADRs would need to perfect the withdrawal of the common shares on or before the fifth business day prior to the date of the meeting.

"Dissenting shareholders" are defined as those who attend a shareholders' meeting and vote against a resolution which results in the withdrawal right, or, if absent at such a meeting, those who state in writing to the company their opposition to such resolution within the following 30 days. Dissenting shareholders must perfect their withdrawal rights by tendering their stock to the company within thirty days after adoption of the resolution.

The price to be paid to a dissenting shareholder of a publicly held corporation is the weighted average of the sales prices for the shares as reported on the Chilean stock exchanges on which the shares are quoted during the 60 stock-exchange-business-day period elapsed between the 30th and the 90th stock-exchange-business-days-preceding the shareholder meeting giving rise to the withdrawal right. If, because of the volume, frequency, number and diversity of the buyers and sellers, the CMF determines that the shares are not shares actively traded on a stock exchange (acciones de transacción bursátil), the price to be paid to the dissenting shareholder is the book value of the shares. Book value for this purpose equals paid capital plus reserves and profits, less losses, divided by the total number of subscribed shares (whether entirely or partially paid). For the purpose of making this calculation, the last annual balance sheet is used and adjusted to reflect inflation up to the date of the shareholders' meeting that gave rise to the withdrawal right.

The resolutions and situations that result in a shareholder's right to withdraw are the following:

- the transformation of the company;
- the merger of the company with or into another company;
- the conveyance of 50% or more of the assets of the company, whether or not such sale includes the company's liabilities;
- the adoption or amendment of any business plan which contemplates the conveyance of assets in excess of the foregoing percentage;
- the conveyance of 50% or more of the assets of a subsidiary, if the latter represents at least 20% of our assets;
- the conveyance of shares of a subsidiary which entails the transfer of control, if the subsidiary represents at least 20% of our assets;
- the creation of preferential rights for a class of shares or an extension, amendment or reduction to those already existing, in which case the right to withdraw only accrues to the dissenting shareholders of the class or classes of shares adversely affected;
- the correction of any formal defect in the incorporation of the company or any amendment to the company's by-laws that grants the right to withdraw;
- the granting of security interests or personal guarantees to secure or guarantee third parties' obligations exceeding 50% of the company's assets, except with regard to subsidiaries;
- resolutions of the shareholders' meeting approving the decision to make private a publicly held corporation in case the requirements set forth in "—General" cease to be met;
- if a publicly-traded company ceases to be obligated to register its shares in the Securities Registry of the CMF, and an extraordinary shareholders' meeting agrees to de-register the shares and finalize its disclosure obligations mandated by the Corporation Law;
- if the controlling shareholder of a publicly-traded company reaches over 95% of the shares (in such case, the right must be exercised within 30 days of the date in which the threshold is reached, circumstance that must be communicated by means of a publication); and
- such other causes as may be established by the company's by-laws (no such additional resolutions currently are specified in our by-laws).

In addition, shareholders of publicly held corporations have the right to withdraw if a person acquires two-thirds or more of the outstanding shares of such corporation with the right to vote (except as a result of other shareholders not having subscribed and paid a capital increase) and does not make a tender offer for the remaining shares within 30 days after acquisition.

Under article 69 bis of the Chilean Corporation Act, the right to withdraw also is granted to shareholders (other than pension funds that administer private pension plans under the national pension law), under certain terms and conditions, if a company were to become controlled by the Chilean government, directly or through any of its agencies, and if two independent rating agencies downgrade the rating of its stock from first class because of certain actions specified in Article 69 bis undertaken by the company or the Chilean government that affect negatively and substantially the earnings of the company. Shareholders must perfect their withdrawal rights by tendering their shares to the company within 30 days of the date of the publication of the new rating by two independent rating agencies. If the withdrawal right is exercised by a shareholder invoking Article 69 bis, the price paid to the dissenting shareholder shall be the weighted average of the sales price for the shares as reported on the stock exchanges on which the company's shares are quoted for the six-month period preceding the publication of the new rating by two independent rating agencies. If, as previously described, the CMF determines that the shares are not actively traded on a stock exchange, the price shall be the book value calculated as described above.

There is no legal precedent as to whether a shareholder that has voted both for and against a proposal (such as the depositary) may exercise withdrawal rights with respect to the shares voted against the proposal. As such, there is doubt as to whether holders of ADRs who have not surrendered their ADRs and withdrawn common shares on or before the fifth business day prior to the shareholder meeting will be able to exercise withdrawal rights either directly or through the depositary with respect to the shares represented by ADRs. Under the provisions of the deposit agreement the depositary will not exercise these withdrawal rights.

The circumstance indicated above regarding ownership in excess of 95% by the controlling shareholder creates not only a withdrawal right for the remaining minority shareholders, but as of January 1, 2010, it also creates a “squeeze out” right by the controlling shareholder with respect to those same shareholders (granting a call option by means of which the controlling shareholder may buy-out the existing ownership participations pursuant to the provisions of article 71 bis of the Corporation Act).

Registration and Transfers

The Depósito Central de Valores (“DCV”), a local depository corporation, acts as LATAM Airlines Group’s registration agent. In the case of jointly owned common shares, an attorney-in-fact must be appointed to represent the joint owners in dealings with us.

D. Exchange Controls

Foreign Investment and Exchange Controls in Chile

The Central Bank of Chile is responsible, among other things, for monetary policies and exchange controls in Chile. Equity investments, including investments in shares of stock by persons who are non-Chilean residents, have been generally subject in the past to various exchange control regulations restricting the repatriation of their investments and the earnings thereon.

Article 47 of the Central Bank Act and former Chapter XXVI of the Central Bank Foreign Exchange Regulations regulated the foreign exchange aspects of the issuance of ADSs by a Chilean company until April 2001. According to former Chapter XXVI, the Central Bank of Chile and the depositary had to enter into an agreement in order to gain access to the formal exchange market. The issuers of the shares underlying the ADSs and the custodian could also be parties to these agreements.

On April 16, 2001, the Central Bank of Chile agreed that, effective April 19, 2001:

- prior foreign exchange restrictions would be eliminated; and
- a new Compendium of Foreign Exchange Regulations (Compendio de Normas de Cambios Internacionales) would be applied.

The main objective of these amendments, as declared by the Central Bank of Chile, is to facilitate movement of capital in and out of Chile and to encourage foreign investment.

In connection with the change in policy, the Central Bank of Chile eliminated the following restrictions:

- a reserve requirement with the Central Bank of Chile for a period of one year (this mandatory reserve was imposed on foreign loans and funds brought into Chile to purchase shares other than those acquired in the establishment of a new company or in the capital increase of the issuing company; the reserve requirement was gradually decreased from 30% of the proposed investment to 0%);
- the requirement of prior approval by the Central Bank of Chile for certain operations;
- mandatory return of foreign currency to Chile; and
- mandatory conversion of foreign currency into Chilean pesos.

Under the new regulations, only the following limitations apply to these operations:

- the Central Bank of Chile must be provided with information related to certain operations; and
- certain operations must be conducted with the Formal Exchange Market.

The Central Bank of Chile also eliminated Chapter XXVI of the Compendium of Foreign Exchange Regulations, which regulated the establishment of an ADR facility by a Chilean company. Pursuant to the new rules, it is no longer necessary to seek the Central Bank of Chile's prior approval in order to establish an ADR facility or to enter into a foreign investment contract with the Central Bank of Chile. The establishment of an ADR facility is now regarded as an ordinary foreign investment, and simply requires that the Central Bank of Chile be informed of the transaction pursuant to Chapter XIV of the amended Compendium of Foreign Exchange Regulations and that the foreign currency transactions related thereby be conducted through the Formal Exchange Market.

However, all contracts executed under the provisions of former Chapter XXVI (including the foreign investment contract among LATAM Airlines Group, the Central Bank of Chile and the ADS depositary, or the "Foreign Investment Contract"), remained in full force and effect and continued to be governed by the provisions, and continued to be subject to the restrictions, set forth in former Chapter XXVI at the time of its abrogation. Our Foreign Investment Contract guaranteed ADS investors access to the Formal Exchange Market to convert amounts from Chilean pesos into U.S. dollars and repatriate amounts received with respect to deposited common shares or common shares withdrawn from deposit or surrender of ADRs (including amounts received as cash dividends and proceeds from the sale in Chile of the underlying common shares and any rights arising from them).

On May 10, 2007, the Board of the Central Bank of Chile resolved to interpret the regulations regarding the former Chapter XXVI in connection with the access granted to the Formal Exchange Market. These regulations allowed entities that carry out capital increases by means of the issuance of cash shares before August 31, 2007 to apply the aforementioned regulation to their capital increases, but only once and only if those shares can be fully subscribed and paid by August 31, 2008, among other conditions. Consequently, capital increases carried out after August 31, 2007 will have no guaranteed access to the Formal Exchange Market.

On October 17, 2012, the Central Bank of Chile, the depositary and LATAM Airlines Group entered into a termination agreement in respect of LATAM's existing foreign investment contract. ADR holders were notified about this termination in accordance with Section 16 of the Deposit Agreement. Upon termination of the foreign investment contract, holders of ADSs and the depositary no longer have guaranteed access to the Formal Exchange Market. Currently, the ADS facility is governed by Chapter XIV of the Compendium on "Regulations applicable to Credits, Deposits, Investments and Capital Contributions from Abroad." According to Chapter XIV, the establishment or maintenance of an ADS facility is regarded as an ordinary foreign investment, and it is not necessary to seek the Central Bank of Chile's prior approval in order to establish an ADS facility. The establishment or maintenance of an ADS facility only requires that the Central Bank of Chile be informed of the transaction, and that the foreign currency transactions related thereby be conducted through the Formal Exchange Market.

Investment in Our Shares and ADRs after the business combination with TAM

As a result of the combination with TAM, investments made in shares of our common stock are subject to the following requirements:

- any foreign investor acquiring shares of our common stock who brought funds into Chile for that purpose must bring those funds through an entity participating in the Formal Exchange Market;
- any foreign investor acquiring shares of our common stock to be converted into ADSs or deposited into an ADR program who brought funds into Chile for that purpose must bring those funds through an entity participating in the Formal Exchange Market;
- in both cases, the entity of the Formal Exchange Market through which the funds are brought into Chile must report such investment to the Central Bank of Chile;
- all remittances of funds from Chile to the foreign investor upon the sale of the acquired shares of our common stock or from dividends or other distributions made in connection therewith must be made through the Formal Exchange Market;
- all remittances of funds from Chile to the foreign investor upon the sale of shares underlying ADSs or from dividends or other distributions made in connection therewith must be made through the Formal Exchange Market; and
- all remittances of funds made to the foreign investor must be reported to the Central Bank of Chile by the intervening entity of the Formal Exchange Market.

When funds are brought into Chile for a purpose other than to acquire shares to convert them into ADSs or deposit them into an ADR program and subsequently such funds are used to acquire shares to be converted into ADSs or deposited into an ADR program such investment must be reported to the Central Bank of Chile by the custodian within 10 days following the end of each month within which the custodian is obligated to deliver periodic reports to the Central Bank of Chile.

When funds to acquire shares of our common stock or to acquire shares to convert them into ADSs or deposit them into an ADR program are received by us abroad (i.e., outside of Chile), such investment must be reported to the Central Bank of Chile directly by the foreign investor or by an entity participating in the Formal Exchange Market within ten days following the end of the month in which the investment was made.

All payments in foreign currency in connection with our shares of common stock or ADSs made from Chile through the Formal Exchange Market must be reported to the Central Bank of Chile by the entity participating in the transaction. In the event there are payments made outside of Chile, the foreign investor must provide the relevant information to the Central Bank of Chile directly or through an entity of the Formal Exchange Market within the first ten calendar days of the month following the date on which the payment was made.

There can be no assurance that additional Chilean restrictions applicable to the holders of ADSs, the disposition of shares of our common shares underlying ADSs or the conversion or repatriation of the proceeds from such disposition will not be imposed in the future, nor can we assess the duration or impact of such restriction if imposed.

This summary does not purport to be complete and is qualified by reference to Chapter XIV of the Central Bank of Chile's Foreign Exchange Regulations, a copy of which is available in Spanish and English versions at the Central Bank's website at www.bcentral.cl.

Voting Rights

Holders of our ADSs, which represent common shares, may instruct the depositary to vote the shares underlying their ADRs. If we ask holders for instructions, the depositary will notify such holders of the upcoming vote and arrange to deliver our voting materials to such holders. The materials will describe the matters to be voted on and explain how holders may instruct the depositary to vote the shares or other deposited securities underlying their ADSs as they direct by a specified date. For instructions to be valid, the depositary must receive them on or before the date specified as "Vote Cut-Off Date." The depositary will try, as far as practical, subject to Chilean law and the provisions of our by-laws, to vote or to have its agents vote the shares or other deposited securities as holders instruct. Otherwise, holders will not be able to exercise their right to vote unless they withdraw the shares. However, holders may not know about the meeting far enough in advance to withdraw the shares. We will use our best efforts to request that the depositary notify holders of upcoming votes and ask for their instructions.

If the depositary does not receive voting instructions from a holder by the specified date, it will consider such holder to have authorized and directed it to give a discretionary proxy to a person designated by our board of directors to vote the number of deposited securities represented by such holder's ADSs. The depositary will give a discretionary proxy in those circumstances to vote on all questions to be voted upon unless we notify the depositary that:

- we do not wish to receive a discretionary proxy;
- we think there is substantial shareholder opposition to the particular question; or
- we think the particular question would have an adverse impact on our shareholders.
- The depositary will only vote or attempt to vote as such holder instructs or as described above.

We cannot assure holders that they receive the voting materials in time to ensure that they can instruct the depositary to vote their shares. This means that holders may not be able to exercise their right to vote and there may be nothing they can do if their shares are not voted as they requested.

Exchange Rates

Prior to 1989, Chilean law permitted the purchase and sale of foreign exchange only in those cases explicitly authorized by the Central Bank of Chile. The Central Bank Act liberalized the rules that govern the ability to buy and sell foreign currency. The Central Bank Act empowers the Central Bank of Chile to determine that certain purchases and sales of foreign currency specified by law must be carried out exclusively in the Formal Exchange Market, which is made up of the banks and other entities authorized by the Central Bank of Chile. All payments and distributions with respect to the ADSs must be conducted exclusively in the Formal Exchange Market.

For purposes of the operation of the Formal Exchange Market, the Central Bank of Chile sets a reference exchange rate (dólar acuerdo). The Central Bank of Chile resets the reference exchange rate monthly, taking internal and external inflation into account, and adjusts the reference exchange rate daily to reflect variations in parities between the Chilean peso, the U.S. dollar, the Japanese yen and the European euro.

The observed exchange rate (dólar observado) is the average exchange rate at which transactions were actually carried out in the Formal Exchange Market on a particular day, as certified by the Central Bank of Chile on the next banking day.

Prior to September 3, 1999, the Central Bank of Chile was authorized to buy or sell dollars in the Formal Exchange Market to maintain the observed exchange rate within a specified range above or below the reference exchange rate. On September 3, 1999, the Central Bank of Chile eliminated the exchange band. As a result, the Central Bank of Chile may buy and sell foreign exchange in the Formal Exchange Market in order to maintain the observed exchange rate at a level the Central Bank of Chile determines.

Purchases and sales of foreign exchange may be effected outside the Formal Exchange Market through the Informal Exchange Market (Mercado Cambiario Informal) established by the Central Bank in 1990. There are no limits on the extent to which the rate of exchange in the Informal Exchange Market can fluctuate above or below the observed exchange rate.

Although our results of operations have not been significantly affected by fluctuations in the exchange rates between the peso and the U.S. dollar because our functional currency is the U.S. dollar, we are exposed to foreign exchange losses and gains due to exchange rate fluctuations. Even though the majority of our revenues are denominated in or pegged to the U.S. dollar, the Chilean government's economic policies affecting foreign exchange and future fluctuations in the value of the peso against the U.S. dollar could adversely affect our results of operations and an investor's return on an investment in ADSs.

E. Taxation

Chilean Tax

The following discussion relates to Chilean income tax laws presently in force, including Ruling No. 324 of January 29, 1990 of the Chilean Internal Revenue Service ("Chilean IRS") and other applicable regulations and rulings, all of which are subject to change. The discussion summarizes the principal Chilean income tax consequences of an investment in the ADSs or common shares by a person who is neither domiciled in, nor a resident of, Chile or by a legal entity that is incorporated abroad not organized under the laws of Chile and does not have a branch or a permanent establishment located in Chile (such an individual or entity is referred to herein as a Foreign Holder). For purposes of Chilean tax law, an individual holder is a resident of Chile if such person remains in Chile, whether continuously or not, for a period or periods exceeding a total of 183 days, within any twelve-month period. The discussion is not intended as tax advice to any particular investor, which can be rendered only in light of that investor's particular tax situation.

Under Chilean law, provisions contained in statutes such as tax rates applicable to foreign investors, the computation of taxable income for Chilean purposes and the manner in which Chilean taxes are imposed and collected may only be amended by another statute. In addition, the Chilean tax authorities enact rulings and regulations of either general or specific application and interpret the provisions of Chilean tax law. Chilean tax may not be assessed retroactively against taxpayers who act in good faith relying on such rulings, regulations and interpretations, but Chilean tax authorities may change these rulings, regulations and interpretations prospectively. On February 4, 2010, representatives of the governments of the United States and Chile signed an income tax treaty. The treaty will have to be approved by the U.S. Senate and before it becomes effective (the Chilean Congress ratified it in 2017).

Law No. 20,780, enacted on September 29, 2014, in conjunction with Law No. 20,899, enacted on February 8, 2016 (both, the “Tax Reform Act”) introduced a comprehensive modification to the Chilean income tax system. The Tax Reform Act introduced changes to the corporate tax rate, mandating a gradual increase of the rate from 20% to 25% or 27% in certain cases, the rules regarding minimum capitalization, and the taxation of Chilean investments abroad (the controlled-foreign-corporation rules), and introduced two new alternative general income tax regimes for Chilean taxpayers (Fully Integrated Regime and Partially Integrated Regime), among others. Both regimes apply as from January 1, 2017. The mandatory regime for entities organized as stock corporations like Latam Airlines Group S.A. is the Partially Integrated System and the Corporate Income Tax rate for companies under this regime is 27% from 2018 onward.

In addition, on February 24, 2020 a new tax reform law was enacted which in general will be in force as of March 1, 2020 with some provisions entering into force at different dates. The main new rules are: (i) repealing both the Fully and the Partially Integrated Regimes. A new tax regime is established for small and medium enterprises (SMEs) whose sales do not exceed app US$2.55 million annually (the threshold might consider related party income) with a 25% rate Corporate Tax, and 100% of credit against final taxes (please note that amounts expressed in USD may be subject to change due to exchange rate fluctuations). The Partially Integrated regime would remain for companies exceeding such threshold; (ii) incorporating a surcharge of the current real estate tax applicable on the aggregate value of a taxpayer’s real estate higher than US$600,000 app; (iii) limiting and eventually impeding Chilean holding companies in a tax loss position from claiming a refund of the corporate taxes paid by local subsidiaries remitting dividends. Full implementation would occur in 2024; (iv) increasing the higher marginal personal income tax rate for Chilean domiciled individuals up to a 40% from the current 35%; and (v) modifying some requirements from the capital gain tax exemption in the sale of shares with high stock market presence, amongst other. We do not expect any material adverse effect on our business from this new tax reform law.

Cash Dividends and Other Distributions

Under the new Partially Integrated Regime, cash dividends we pay with respect to the ADSs or common shares held by a Foreign Holder will be subject to a 35% Chilean withholding tax, which we withhold and pay over to the Chilean tax authorities and which we refer to as the Withholding Tax. A credit against the Withholding Tax is available based on the corporate income tax rate of the year of distribution and provided a sufficient balance of accumulated corporate income tax credits is available. These credits correspond to corporate income tax we actually paid on the accumulated income (referred to herein as the First Category Tax or FCIT). However, this credit does not reduce the Withholding Tax on a one-for-one basis because it also increases the base on which the Withholding Tax is imposed. In addition, if we distribute less than all of our distributable income, the credit for First Category Tax we pay is proportionately reduced. If we register net income but taxable losses, no credit against the Withholding Tax may be available.

The Partially Integrated Regime reduces the amount of First Category Tax creditable against the Withholding Tax for certain Foreign Holders. As a general rule, only 65% of the First Category Income Tax credit will actually offset the Withholding Tax. However, if a tax treaty is in place between Chile and the country of domicile of a Foreign Holder and such Foreign Holder is entitled to treaty benefits in relation to the income, the full First Category Tax credit will continue to be available to offset against the Withholding Tax.

Under a transitory provision in force until December 31, 2021, the full 27% First Category Tax will also be creditable against the 35% Withholding Tax if the recipient of a dividend distribution is a shareholder resident in a country with which Chile has a tax treaty signed before January 1st, 2019, although such treaty is not yet in force. The tax reform modifies this provision in terms of allowing the full First Category Tax credit until December 31, 2026 for treaties signed before January 1, 2020.

In general, the example below illustrates the effective Withholding Tax burden on a cash dividend received by a Foreign Holder assuming a Withholding Tax rate of 35%, a First Category Tax rate of 27% and a distribution of 30% of the consolidated net income of the Company after payment of the First Category Tax:

	Foreign Holder in Treaty Country	Foreign Holder in Non Treaty Country
The Company's taxable income	100.00	100.00
First Category Tax (27% of Ch$100) .	(27.00)	(27.00)
Net distributable income	73.00	73.00
Dividend distributed (*)	21.90	21.90
First category increase	8.10	8.10
Amount subject to Withholding Tax ()	30.00	30.00
Withholding Tax	(10.50)	(10.50)
Credit for First Category Tax	8.10	8.10
Add back 35% of the First Category Tax	N/A	(2.84)
Net tax withheld	(2.40)	(5.27)
Net dividend received	19.5	16.64
Effective dividend withholding rate	11%	24%

(*) 30% of net distributable income.

() The dividend of Ch$21.90 grossed up with the First Category Tax credit of Ch$8.10.

The effective rate of Withholding Tax to be imposed on dividends we pay will depend on the First Category Tax rate applicable in the year of distribution and on the balance of First Category Income Tax credits accumulated by the company. The First Category Tax rate will be 27% for 2018 and following years. The First Category Tax credits generated as of 2017, will be allocated first. Once the balance of First Category Tax credits generated as of 2017 are exhausted, the First Category Tax credits accumulated until December 31, 2016 will be used. In that event the First Category Tax credit available against the Withholding Tax will not correspond to the First Category Tax rate of the year of distribution but to the average rate of First Category Tax credits accumulated until December 31, 2016. This average rate will be determined by dividing the aggregate First Category Tax Credits accumulated until December 31, 2016 by the aggregate retained taxable profits accumulated at the same date. The First Category Tax credits accumulated until December 31, 2016 are not subject to the First Category Tax Credit Restitution irrespective of whether a tax treaty is in place with the country of the Foreign Holder or not.

The First Category Tax credits accumulated until December 31, 2016 correspond to the First Category Tax we actually paid on the income generated in a given year. For earnings generated from 1991 until 2001, the First Category Tax rate was 15%. The rate was 16.0% in 2002, 16.5% in 2003, 17% from 2004 until 2010, 20% from 2011 until 2013, 21% in 2014, 22.5% in 2015, 24% in 2016 and 25.5% in 2017 for companies subject to the Partially Integrated Regime.

In the event that the accumulated First Category Tax credits are not sufficient to cover any particular dividend, we will generally withhold tax from the dividend at the full 35% rate.

Dividend distributions made in kind would be subject to the same Chilean tax rules as cash dividends based on the fair market value of the relevant assets. Stock dividends and the distribution of preemptive rights are not subject to Chilean taxation.

Capital Gains

Gain from the sale or other disposition by a Foreign Holder of ADRs evidencing ADSs outside Chile will not be subject to Chilean taxation. The deposit and withdrawal of common shares in exchange for ADRs will not be subject to any Chilean taxes.

Gain recognized on a sale or disposition of common shares by a Foreign Holder (as distinguished from sales or exchanges of ADRs evidencing ADSs representing such common shares) may be subject to a 35% Withholding Tax. Moreover, a gain not exceeding 10 Annual Tax Units (US$7,310 as of February 28, 2020) recognized by a Foreign Holder without taxable presence in Chile in a sale to a non-related buyer will not be taxable.

The gain on the sale of shares of common stock by a Foreign Holder is subject to a withholding of 35% of the gain. If the gain subject to taxation cannot be determined, the Foreign Holder is subject to a provisional withholding of 10% of the total (sale price) amount, without any deduction, when the amounts are paid to, credited to, accounted for, put at the disposal of, or corresponding to, the Foreign Holder. The Foreign Holder would be entitled to request a tax refund for any amounts withheld in excess of the taxes actually due in April of the following year upon filing its corresponding tax return. Gain recognized in the transfer of common shares that have a high presence in the stock exchange, however, is not subject to capital gains tax in Chile, provided that the common shares are transferred in a local stock exchange or within the process of a public tender of common shares governed by the Securities Market Law. The common shares must have been acquired either in a local stock exchange, within the process of a public tender of common shares governed by the Securities Market Law, in an initial public offer of common shares resulting from the formation of a corporation or a capital increase of the same, or in an exchange of convertible bonds.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, Chile's tax authority Ruling No. 1,480 (issued on August 22, 2014) confirmed that capital gains stemming from the sale of shares with high stock market presence acquired through the exchange of American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) for shares is not subject to capital gains tax in Chile. Such exemption is applicable provided that the ADRs comply with the requirements established by the CMF for the public offering of securities in Chile (i.e. if the ADRs are registered in the Foreign Securities Registry of the CMF, or their registration has been exempted by the CMF under a cooperation agreement signed with regulators of foreign markets), and the underlying shares have been registered in the Securities Registry of the CMF and on a Chilean Stock exchange. Shares are considered to have a high presence in the stock exchange when they:

- are registered in the Securities Registry;
- are registered in a Chilean Stock exchange; and
- meet at least one of the following requirements:
 - i. have an adjusted presence equal to or above 25%;
 - ii. have a Market Maker (this requirement is limited under the recently enacted tax reform law).

To calculate the adjusted presence of a particular share, the aforementioned regulation first requires a determination of the number of days in which the operations regarding the stock exceeded, in Chilean pesos, the equivalent of 1,000 UF (US$34,864 as of February 28, 2020) within the previous 180 business days of the stock market. That number must then be divided by 180, multiplied by 100, and expressed in a percentage value.

To meet the "Market Maker" requirement the issuer of the shares must execute a written contract with a stock broker incorporated in Chile that fulfills some additional requirements. The tax reform modifies this provision in those cases where the high stock market presence is given exclusively by virtue of a Market Maker. Under the proposed provision, the capital gain tax exemption would apply only for the term of one year from the first public offering of the securities.

A capital gains tax exemption for "foreign institutional investors" such as mutual funds and pension funds was repealed as from May 1, 2014 by Law 20,712. However, the law includes a grandfathering provision for shares acquired before May 1, 2014. This provision establishes an exemption on the capital gain obtained in the sale of shares that are publicly traded and have a high presence in a stock exchange when the sale is made by a foreign institutional investor, provided that the sale is made in a local stock exchange or in a public tender in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Market Law, or in the redemption of fund quotas, and the shares were acquired before May 1, 2014.

Pursuant to the regulations of the grandfathering rule, to qualify as a foreign institutional investor an entity must be formed outside of Chile, not have a domicile in Chile, and must be at least one of the following:

- a fund registered with a regulatory authority of a EU or OECD country, or other country duly authorized by the CMF;
- a pension fund that is formed exclusively by natural persons that receive pensions out of an accumulated capital in the fund, regulated by an authority of the countries mentioned above;
- an insurance company regulated by the competent regulatory authority of the insurance business, as appropriate, which must be part of IAIS, International Association of Insurance Supervisors, or ASSAL, Asociación de Supervisores de Seguros de América Latina;
- a foreign State or a division with political autonomy recognized by Chile, whether they invest through its government, central bank, issuing bank or corresponding monetary authority. Moreover, the investment can be made through investment authorities, investment agencies, investment corporations or other entities, provided that its purpose is to provide financial resources for the exclusive benefit of the foreign State or territorial division, and provided that the vehicle is not used also for investments or resources other than those of the sovereign fund; or
- an endowment funds duly registered in a EU or OECD country, or other country duly authorized by the CMF.

The foreign institutional investor must not directly or indirectly participate in the control of the corporations issuing the shares it invests in, nor possess or participate directly or indirectly in 10% or more of the capital or the profits of such corporations.

Another requirement for the exemption is that the foreign institutional investor must execute a written contract with a bank or a stock broker incorporated in Chile. In this contract, the bank or stock broker must undertake to execute purchase and sale orders, verify the applicability of the tax exemption or tax withholding and inform the Chilean IRS of the investors it works with and the transactions it performs. Finally, the foreign institutional investor must register with the Chilean IRS by means of a sworn statement issued by such bank or stock broker.

The tax basis of common shares received in exchange for ADRs will be the acquisition value of the common shares on the date of exchange duly adjusted for local inflation. The valuation procedure set forth in the deposit agreement, which values common shares which are being exchanged at the highest price at which they trade on the SSE on the date of the exchange, will determine the acquisition value for this purpose. Consequently, the surrender of ADRs for common shares and the immediate sale of the common shares for the value established under the Deposit Agreement will not generate a capital gain subject to taxation in Chile, provided that the sale of the common shares is made on the same date on which the exchange of ADRs for common shares is recorded, or if the price of the common shares at the exchange date, as determined above, is higher than the price at which the common shares are sold.

The exercise of preemptive rights relating to the common shares will not be subject to Chilean taxation. Any gain obtained by a Foreign Holder without taxable presence in Chile on the sale of preemptive rights relating to the common shares will be subject to Withholding Tax (the former being creditable against the latter).

Other Chilean Taxes

There are no Chilean inheritance, gift or succession taxes applicable to the ownership, transfer or disposition of ADSs by a Foreign Holder, but such taxes generally will apply to the transfer at death or by gift of the common shares by a Foreign Holder. There are no Chilean stamp, issue, registration or similar taxes or duties payable by Foreign Holders of ADSs or common shares.

Withholding Tax Certificates

Upon request, we will provide to Foreign Holders appropriate documentation evidencing the payment of the Withholding Tax (net of the applicable First Category Tax credit).

Material United States Federal Income Tax Considerations

This section describes the material U.S. federal income tax consequences to a U.S. holder (as defined below) of owning common shares or ADSs. It applies to you only if you hold your common shares or ADSs as capital assets for tax purposes. This section does not purport to be a complete analysis or listing of all potential U.S. federal income tax considerations that may be relevant to U.S. holders with respect to their ownership and disposition of ADSs or common shares. Accordingly, it is not intended to be, and should not be construed as, tax advice. This section does not apply to you if you are a member of a special class of holders subject to special rules, including:

- a dealer in securities,
- a trader in securities that elects to use a mark-to-market method of accounting for securities holdings,
- a tax-exempt organization,
- a financial institution,
- a regulated investment company,
- a real estate investment trust,
- a life insurance company,
- a person liable for alternative minimum tax,
- a person that directly, indirectly or constructively owns 10% or more of the vote or value of our stock,
- a person that holds common shares or ADSs as part of a straddle or a hedging or conversion transaction,
- a person that purchases or sells common shares or ADSs as part of a wash sale for tax purposes,
- a U.S. holder (as defined below) whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar.
- a U.S. expatriate,

- a person who acquired our ADSs or common shares pursuant to the exercise of any employee share option or otherwise as compensation, or
- a partnership or other pass-through entity or arrangement treated as such (or a person holding our ADSs or common shares through a partnership or other pass through entity or arrangement treated as such).

If you are a member of a special class of holders subject to special rules, you should consult your tax advisor with regard to the U.S. federal income tax treatment of an investment in the common shares or ADSs, including the potential impact of recently enacted legislation (P.L. 115-97) commonly referred to as the Tax Cut and Jobs Act (the “Act”). Moreover, this summary does not address the U.S. federal estate, gift, or alternative minimum tax considerations, or any U.S. state, local, or non-U.S. tax considerations of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of common shares and ADSs.

This section is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (the “Code”) its legislative history, existing and proposed Treasury regulations, published rulings and court decisions, all as of the date hereof. These laws are subject to change or differing interpretation, possibly on a retroactive basis. No ruling has been sought from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service with respect to any U.S. federal income tax consequences described below, and there can be no assurance that the U.S. Internal Revenue Service or a court will not take a contrary position. On February 4, 2010, representatives of the governments of the United States and Chile signed an income tax treaty but the treaty is not yet in effect since it has not yet been ratified by both the U.S. Senate and the Chilean Congress. In addition, this section is based in part upon the representations of the Depositary and the assumption that each obligation in the Deposit Agreement and any related agreement will be performed in accordance with its terms.

If a partnership holds the common shares or ADSs, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner will generally depend on the status of the partner and the tax treatment of the partnership. A partner in a partnership holding the common shares or ADSs should consult its tax advisor with regard to the U.S. federal income tax treatment of an investment in the common shares or ADSs, including the potential impact of the Act.

You are a U.S. holder if you are a beneficial owner of common shares or ADSs and you are:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States,
- a corporation (or other entity taxable as a corporation) created or organized under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia,
- an estate whose income is subject to U.S. federal income tax regardless of its source, or
- a trust if (1) a United States court can exercise primary supervision over the trust’s administration and one or more United States persons are authorized to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (2) a valid election is in effect under applicable Treasury regulations to treat the trust as a U.S. person.

ADSs

In general, and taking into account the earlier assumptions, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, if you hold ADRs evidencing ADSs, you will be treated as the beneficial owner of the common shares represented by those ADRs. Exchanges of common shares for ADRs, and ADRs for common shares, generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax.

The U.S. Treasury has expressed concerns that intermediaries in the chain of ownership between the holder of an ADS and the issuer of the security underlying the ADS may be taking actions that are inconsistent with the beneficial ownership of the underlying security. Accordingly, the creditability of any foreign taxes paid and the availability of the reduced tax rate for dividends received by certain non-corporate U.S. holders (as discussed below), could be affected by actions taken by intermediaries in the chain of ownership between the holders of ADSs and us if as a result of actions the holders of ADSs are not properly treated as beneficial owners of the underlying common shares.

Under the U.S. federal income tax laws, and subject to the passive foreign investment company (“PFIC”) rules discussed below, if you are a U.S. holder, the gross amount of any dividend we pay out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits (as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes) is subject to U.S. federal income taxation. Distributions in excess of current and accumulated earnings and profits, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes, will be treated as a non-taxable return of capital to the extent of your adjusted tax basis in the common shares or ADSs, as the case may be, and thereafter as capital gain from the sale or exchange of the common shares or ADSs, as the case may be. However, we do not expect to calculate earnings and profits in accordance with U.S. federal income tax principles. Accordingly, you should expect to generally treat any distributions we make as dividend income for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

If you are an individual, trust, or estate U.S. holder, dividends paid on the ADSs or common shares that constitute qualified dividend income will be taxable to you at the preferential rates applicable to long-term capital gains. Dividends paid on the ADSs or common shares will be treated as qualified dividend income if:

- (a) the ADSs or common shares are readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States; or (b) we are eligible for benefits of a comprehensive tax treaty with the United States, which the IRS determines is satisfactory for this purpose, which includes an exchange of information program;
- we were not, in the year prior to the year in which the dividend was paid, and are not, in the year in which the dividend is paid, a PFIC.
- you hold the ADSs or common shares for more than 60 days during the 121-day period beginning 60 days before the ex-dividend date and meet other holding period requirement; and the U.S. holder is not under an obligation to make related payments with respect to positions • in substantially similar or related property.

We believe that our common shares and ADSs should not be treated as stock of a PFIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes. See “—PFIC Rules” below.

The ADSs are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and should qualify as readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States so long as they are so listed. Accordingly, we expect that dividends we pay with respect to the ADSs will be qualified dividend income (provided that the other conditions listed above are met). Because our common shares are not expected to be listed on any United States securities market, dividends we pay with respect to the common shares will not be qualified dividend income (as long as there is no income tax treaty in effect between Chile and the United States), and therefore, the U.S. dollar amount of such dividends received by an individual, trust, or estate U.S. holder will be subject to taxation at ordinary U.S. federal income tax rates. Corporate U.S. holders are taxed on dividend income at the U.S. federal corporate income tax rate whether or not the dividend income is qualified dividend income.

The dividend is taxable to you when you, in the case of common shares, or the Depositary, in the case of ADSs, receive the dividend, actually or constructively. The dividend will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction generally allowed to United States corporations in respect of dividends received from other United States corporations or certain foreign corporations. The amount of the dividend distribution that you must include in your income as a U.S. holder will be the U.S. dollar value of the Chilean pesos payments made, determined at the spot Chilean pesos/U.S. dollar rate on the date the dividend distribution is includible in your income, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars. Generally, any gain or loss resulting from currency exchange fluctuations during the period from the date you include the dividend payment in income to the date you convert the payment into U.S. dollars will be treated as ordinary income or loss and will not be eligible for the special tax rate applicable to qualified dividend income. The gain or loss generally will be income or loss from sources within the United States for foreign tax credit limitation purposes. The amount of any distribution of property other than cash will be the fair market value of such property on the date of distribution.

The dividend income you have to include in gross income includes the amount of any Chilean tax withheld from the dividend payment even though you do not in fact receive such amount. Subject to generally applicable limitations and conditions under the Code, Chilean Withholding Tax withheld and paid over to the Chilean tax authorities (after taking into account the credit for the First Category Tax, when it is available) generally will be creditable or deductible against your U.S. federal income tax liability. Special rules apply in determining the foreign tax credit limitation with respect to qualified dividend income that is subject to preferential U.S. federal income tax rates. To the extent a refund of the tax withheld is available to you under Chilean law, as is the case if the amount of Chilean Withholding Tax initially withheld from a dividend is determined to be excessive as described above under “—Taxation—Chilean Tax—Cash Dividends and Other Distributions,” the amount of tax withheld that is refundable will not be eligible for credit against your United States federal income tax liability.

Dividends will generally be income from sources outside the United States and will, depending on your circumstances, generally be either “passive” or “general” or “foreign branch” income for purposes of computing the foreign tax credit allowable to you. The rules relating to foreign tax credits and deductions are complex. U.S. holders should consult their tax advisors concerning the application of these rules in their particular circumstances.

Taxation of Capital Gains

Subject to the PFIC rules discussed below, if you sell or otherwise dispose of your common shares or ADSs, you will recognize capital gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes equal to the difference between the U.S. dollar value of the amount that you realize and your adjusted tax basis, determined in U.S. dollars, in your common shares or ADSs. Capital gain of an individual trust, or estate U.S. holder is generally taxed at preferential rates (i.e. a maximum U.S. federal income tax rate of 20% plus 3.8% “Net Investment Income Tax” if certain income thresholds are met; see “Net Investment Income Tax” below) where the property is held for more than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to significant limitations. The gain or loss will generally be income or loss from sources within the United States for foreign tax credit limitation purposes. Consequently, you may not be able to use the Chilean tax imposed on the disposition of common shares or ADSs as a foreign tax credit against your U.S. federal income tax liability on such disposition, but you may apply such Chilean taxes as a foreign tax credit against U.S. federal income tax due on other income you may have that is treated as derived from foreign sources in the appropriate foreign tax credit limitation category.

If the consideration received for our common shares or ADSs is paid in foreign currency (which should not be the case in respect of our ADSs), the amount realized will be the U.S. dollar value of the payment received translated at the spot rate of exchange on the date of disposition. If our common shares or ADSs are treated as traded on an established securities market and the relevant U.S. holder is either a cash basis taxpayer or an accrual basis taxpayer who has made a special election (which must be applied consistently from year to year and cannot be changed without the consent of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service), such holder will determine the U.S. dollar value of the amount realized in a foreign currency by translating the amount received at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the sale. If our common shares or ADSs are not treated as traded on an established securities market, or the relevant U.S. holder is an accrual basis taxpayer that is not eligible to or does not elect to determine the amount realized using the spot rate on the settlement date, such U.S. holder will recognize foreign currency gain or loss to the extent of any difference between the U.S. dollar amount realized on the date of disposition (as determined above) and the U.S. dollar value of the currency received at the spot rate on the settlement date. A U.S. holder’s initial tax basis in our common shares or ADSs will equal the cost of such ADSs or common shares. If a U.S. holder used foreign currency to purchase our common shares or ADSs, the cost of our common shares or ADSs will be the U.S. dollar value of the foreign currency purchase price on the date of purchase. If our common shares or ADSs are treated as traded on an established securities market and the relevant U.S. holder is either a cash basis taxpayer or an accrual basis taxpayer who has made the special election described above, such holder will determine the U.S. dollar value of the cost of such common shares or ADSs by translating the amount paid at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the purchase.

Net Investment Income Tax

A U.S. holder that is an individual or estate, or a trust that does not fall into a special class of trusts that is exempt from such tax, is subject to a 3.8% “net investment income” tax on the lesser of (1) the U.S. holder’s “net investment income” (or “undistributed net investment income” in the case of an estate or trust) for the relevant taxable year and (2) the excess of the U.S. holder’s modified adjusted gross income for the taxable year over a certain threshold (which in the case of individuals is between $125,000 and $250,000, depending on the individual’s circumstances). A holder’s net investment income generally includes its dividend income and its net gains from the disposition of common shares or ADSs, unless such dividend income or net gains are derived in the ordinary course of the conduct of a trade or business (other than a trade or business that consists of certain passive or trading activities). If you are a U.S. holder that is an individual, estate or trust, you are urged to consult your tax advisors regarding the applicability of the “net investment income” tax to your income and gains in respect of your investment in the common shares or ADSs.

PFIC Rules

We believe that common shares and ADSs should not be treated as stock of a PFIC for United States federal income tax purposes, but this conclusion is a factual determination that is made annually and thus may be subject to change. If we were to be treated as a PFIC, gain realized on the sale or other disposition of your common shares or ADSs would in general not be treated as capital gain that is eligible for preferential tax rates in the case of non-corporate U.S. holders. Instead, if you are a U.S. holder, unless you make a timely “mark-to-market” election electing to be taxed annually on a mark-to-market basis with respect to your common shares or ADSs, or you make a timely “qualified electing fund” election electing to be taxed annually on the earnings and gains of the PFIC attributable to your shares or ADSs (irrespective of distributions), you would be treated as if you had realized such gain ratably over your holding period in the common shares or ADSs and would be taxed at the highest tax rate in effect for each such year to which the gain was allocated, together with an interest charge in respect of the tax attributable to each such year except for the current year. In addition, unless you make a timely “mark-to-market” election or “qualified electing fund” election, distributions that you receive from us as a direct or indirect U.S. holder will not be eligible for the preferential tax rates applicable to qualified dividend income if we are treated as a PFIC with respect to you either in the taxable year of the distribution or the preceding taxable year, but instead will be taxable at the tax rates applicable to ordinary income, and to the extent they are treated as “excess distributions” under the PFIC rules, they will also be subject to the PFIC interest charge described above. A U.S. holder will be required to make an annual filing with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service if such holder holds or ADSs or common shares in any year in which we are classified as a PFIC. With certain exceptions, your common shares or ADSs will continue to be treated as stock in a PFIC if we were a PFIC at any time during your holding period in your common shares or ADSs even if we no longer meet the PFIC tests in a later year.

The U.S. federal income tax rules relating to PFICs are complex. Prospective U.S. investors are urged to consult their own tax advisers with respect to the application of the PFIC rules to their investment in the common shares or ADSs.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

U.S. information reporting and backup withholding tax requirements generally apply to certain payments to certain non-corporate holders of stock. Information reporting generally will apply to payments of dividends on, and to proceeds from the sale or redemption of, common shares or ADSs made within the United States to a holder of common shares or ADSs (other than an exempt recipient, including a corporation, a payee that is not a U.S. holder that provides an appropriate certification, and certain other persons).

A payor will be required to withhold backup withholding tax from any payments of dividends on, or the proceeds from the sale or redemption of, common shares or ADSs within the United States to you, unless you are an exempt recipient, if you fail to furnish your correct taxpayer identification number or otherwise fail to establish an exception from backup withholding tax requirements. U.S. holders who are required to establish their exempt status may be required to provide such certification on U.S. Internal Revenue Service Form W-9. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. The amount of any backup withholding from a payment to you may be allowed as a credit against your U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle you to a refund, provided that the required information is furnished timely to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

Foreign Asset Reporting

Certain U.S. holders who are individuals (and certain entities) that hold an interest in “specified foreign financial assets” (which may include the common shares or ADSs) with an aggregate value in excess of certain threshold amounts are required to report information relating to such assets, subject to certain exceptions (including an exception for stock held in accounts maintained by certain financial institutions). Penalties can apply if U.S. holders fail to satisfy such reporting requirements. U.S. holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the effect, if any, of this requirement on their ownership and disposition of common shares and ADSs.

H. Documents on Display

We are subject to the information requirements of the Exchange Act, as amended. In accordance with these requirements, we file reports, including annual reports on Form 20-F and other information with the SEC. These materials, including this annual report and the exhibits hereto, may be inspected and copied at the SEC's public reference rooms in Washington, D.C. Please call the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330 for further information on the public reference rooms. In addition, some of our SEC filings, including those filed on and after February 19, 2002, are also available to the public through the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.

As a foreign private issuer, we are not subject to the same disclosure requirements as a domestic U.S. registrant under the Exchange Act. For example, we are not required to prepare and issue quarterly reports. However, we furnish our shareholders with annual reports containing financial statements audited by our independent auditors and make available to our shareholders quarterly reports containing unaudited financial data for the first three quarters of each fiscal year. We file such quarterly reports with the SEC within two months of each quarter of our fiscal year, and we file annual reports on Form 20-F within the time period required by the SEC, which is currently six months from December 31, the end of our fiscal year.

ITEM 11. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

General

Given the nature of its business, LATAM is exposed mainly to three types of market risk:

- Fuel price fluctuations;
- Foreign exchange fluctuations; and
- Interest rate fluctuations.

Management assesses the level of our exposure to these risks periodically to determine which one should be hedged and the most effective mechanisms to be implemented. LATAM purchases derivative instruments in foreign markets to offset market risk exposure, typically utilizing a mix of financial and commodity derivatives. LATAM does not enter into or hold derivative contracts for trading purposes.

For more information on Market Risk, see Note 3 "Financial Risk Management" to our audited consolidated financial statements.

Risk of Fluctuations in Fuel Prices

Jet fuel price fluctuations are largely dependent on supply and demand for crude oil, OPEC decisions, refinery capacities, stock levels of crude oil, natural disasters, climatic risk and geopolitical factors.

LATAM fuel consumption for 2019 was 1,272.7 million gallons. To manage its exposure to the cost of fuel, LATAM has a hedging program based on our Fuel Hedging Policy, which is annually updated and approved by the board of directors. LATAM's Fuel Hedging Policy aims to mitigate the liquidity risk in the short/medium term, avoiding cash and financial distress. LATAM has established four hedging zones based on advance purchase behavior, pass-through and fuel invoicing process.

Jet Fuel is not the only underlying asset that LATAM may use for hedging purposes. It may also consider derivative instruments in other underlying commodity assets such as ICE Brent, West Texas Intermediate (WTI) or NYMEX Heating Oil (HO).

LATAM has decided to use protective and non-speculative instruments to reduce the operating margin exposure. Also, LATAM will not use financial derivatives to speculate on financial markets and consequently obtain gains from these types of transactions, and will not receive premiums as cash from sold options (nevertheless LATAM could buy and sell options as a structured product).

LATAM periodically reviews its exposure with each counterparty in order to monitor its credit concentration. For more information, see "Item 3. Key Information— D. Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Operations and the Airline Industry—Our operations are subject to fluctuations in the supply and cost of jet fuel, which could adversely impact our business."

During 2019, 2018 and 2017 we entered into a mix of swaps and option contracts on NYMEX HEATING OIL and JET FUEL 54 USGC with investment grade banks and other financial entities for notional fuel purchases (non-delivery). Details of the fuel hedging program are shown below:

	LATAM Fuel Hedging Year ended December 31,
	2019 LATAM	2018 LATAM	2017 LATAM
Gallons Purchased (million)	779.8	521.9	441.1
% Total Annual Fuel Consumption	61.5%	40.8%	37.7%
Combined Result of Hedges (in million of US$)	(23.1)	29.7	15.1

As of December 31, 2019, the fair value of our outstanding fuel related derivative contracts was estimated to be US$ 48.5 million (positive).

Gains and losses on the hedging contracts outlined above are recognized as a cost of sales in the income statement when the fuel subject to the hedge is consumed. Premiums paid related to fuel derivative contracts are recorded as prepaid expenses (current assets) and recorded as an expense at the time the contract expires.

Under IFRS, the fair value of the hedging derivatives is booked as a non-current asset or liability if the remaining maturity of the item is hedged for more than 12 months, and as a current asset or liability if the remaining term of the item is hedged for less than 12 months. The fair value of the derivative contracts is deferred within an equity reserve account. Please see Note 2.10 to our audited consolidated financial statements. As the current positions do not represent changes in cash flows but a variation in the exposure to the market value, the Company's current hedge positions have no impact on income; they are booked as cash flow hedge contracts, so a variation in fuel prices has an impact on the Company's net equity.

The following table shows the sensitivity analysis of our hedging contracts to reasonable changes in fuel prices and their effect on equity. The term used for the projection was December 31, 2019, the last maturity date of our current fuel hedge contracts. The calculations were made considering a parallel movement of US$5 per barrel in the curve of the BRENT and JET crude futures benchmark price at the end of December 2019, 2018 and 2017.

	LATAM fuel price sensitivity (effect on equity) Position as of December 31,
	2019 LATAM	2018 LATAM	2017 LATAM
	(millions of US$ per barrel)
HO or JET benchmark price
+5	+15.4	+7.4	+1.8
-5	-34.5	-5.5	-3.3

During the periods presented, the Company has not recorded amounts for ineffectiveness in the consolidated income statement pursuant to IFRS principles for recognizing and measuring financial instruments.

Given the fuel hedge structure as of December 31, 2019, which reflects only a partial hedge of our expected fuel consumption, a vertical fall by US$5 in the BRENT and JET benchmark price (the monthly daily average) for each month would have meant savings of approximately US$ 121.8 million in the cost of the Company's total fuel consumption. A vertical increase by US$5 in the JET and BRENT benchmark price (the monthly daily average) for each month would have meant an additional cost of approximately US$ 114.2 million of the Company's total fuel consumption.

Risk of Variation in Foreign Exchange Rates

The functional currency of the LATAM holding company is the U.S. dollar. Since LATAM conducts its business in local currencies in several countries, it faces the risk of variations in multiple foreign currency exchange rates. Depreciation of these currencies against the U.S. dollar could have adverse effects both transactional and translational, because part of our revenues and expenses are denominated in those currencies.

At the same time, LATAM's affiliates are exposed to foreign exchange risk, which could in turn impact the consolidated results of the Company.

The greatest exposure to future cash flows is mainly presented by the subsidiary LATAM Airlines Brazil, and volatility in the R$/US$ exchange rate. LATAM Airlines Brazil's earnings are generated largely in R$. We actively manage the R$/US$ exchange rate risk by entering into FX derivative contracts and carrying out internal operations for obtaining natural hedging.

In lower concentration, the company also faces foreign exchange risk relating to additional currencies such as: Great Britain Pound, Euro, Chilean Peso, Australian Dollars, Argentinean Peso, Paraguayan Guaraní, Mexican Peso, Peruvian Nuevo Sol, Colombian Peso and New Zealand Dollars. Those currencies could be hedged as long as they turn relevant (higher exposure and volatility) to the LATAM's market risk management. As of December 31, 2019, LATAM has US$15 million current hedge instruments in its portfolio.

Because of changes in the values of existing FX derivative positions do not represent changes in cash flows, but a variation in the exposure of market value, the outstanding hedging positions do not impact results (they are registered as cash flow hedges under IFRS, therefore, a change in the foreign exchange rate has an impact on the equity of the Company).

As of December 31, 2019 the Company has entered into derivatives that are not registered under hedge accounting. The fair value of that derivatives was estimated to be US$ 0.04 million (negative). Balance sheet exposure of LATAM to the Brazilian Real is related to the functional currency of LATAM Airlines Brazil and its balance sheet currency mismatch, as LATAM Airlines Brazil has a net US$ liability position. When the balance sheet denominated in U.S. dollars is translated to Brazilian Real, the financial results of LATAM Airlines Brazil may fluctuate and therefore could impact LATAM's financial results.

The exposure to the Brazilian real on LATAM Airlines Brazil balance sheet has been reduced from over US$4.0 billion since the combination in June 2012 to around US$0.1 billion as of December 31, 2019. The Company continues working to mitigate this exposure through financial and operational proposals.

The following table shows the sensitivity of LATAM Airlines Brazil's financial results to changes in the R$/US$ exchange rate:

LATAM Airlines Brazil exchange rate sensitivity Position effect on pre-tax earnings as of December 31,
	2019	2018	2017

-10%	+9.5	+39.8	+80.5
+10%	-9.5	-39.8	-80.5

Our foreign currency exchange exposure as of December 31, 2019 was as follows:

	LATAM foreign currency exchange exposure
	U.S. Dollars MU$	% of total	Brazilian real MU$	% of total	Chilean pesos MU$	% of total	Other currencies MU$	% of total	Total MU$

Total liabilities and shareholders' equity	13,252,859	73.6%	2,301,155	12.8%	1,412,232	7.8%	1,034,693	5.7%	18,000,939

Risk of Fluctuations in Interest Rates

As of December 31, 2019, LATAM had US$7,194 million in outstanding interest bearing loans. LATAM uses interest rate derivatives to reduce the impact of an increase of interest rates. 61.6% of LATAM outstanding debt as of December 31, 2019 was effectively at a fixed rate, either as fixed rate loans or variable rate loans hedged using a floating to fixed rate derivative instrument.

LATAM's interest bearing loans can be classified by: variable interest rate debt, fixed interest rate debt and interest rate hedged debt. LATAM's variable interest rate debt amounts to US$2,760 million, from which 82.7% is assigned to aircraft financing and 17.3% to non-aircraft financing. The fixed interest rate debt amounts are US$ 4,368 million of which 50.4% is assigned to aircraft financing and 49.6% to non-aircraft financing. The interest rate hedged debt amounts to US$66 million of which 100% is assigned to interest rate swaps.

Under IFRS, the positive fair value of these interest rate swaps is reflected in the balance sheet as hedging assets and the negative fair value of these agreements is reflected as hedging liabilities. As of December 31, 2019, the fair value of all the interest rate swaps was US$ 2.6 million (positive).

The use of the aforementioned hedging instruments, combined with fixed interest rate financing for our aircraft financing, has enabled the Company to have predictable interest rate costs, reducing the cash volatility.

As of December 31, 2019, the average interest rate of our entire outstanding interest-bearing long-term debt rate was 4.63%.

The following table summarizes our principal payment obligations on all of our interest-bearing debt as of December 31, 2019 and the related average interest rate for such debt. The average interest rate has been calculated based on the prevailing interest rate on December 31, 2019 for each loan.

	LATAM's principal payment obligations by year of expected maturity ⁽¹⁾
Average interest rate ⁽²⁾	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025 and thereafter
	(millions of US$)
Interest-bearing liabilities	4,63%	1,367	1,168	839	555	1,082	2,183

(1) At cost.

(2) Average interest rate means the average prevailing interest rate on our debt on December 31, 2019 after giving effect to hedging arrangements.

The following table shows the sensitivity of changes in our long-term interest bearing liabilities and capital leases that are not hedged against interest-rate variations. These changes are considered reasonably possible based on current market conditions.

LATAM's interest rate sensitivity (effect on pre-tax earnings) Position as of December 31,
2019 LATAM	2018 LATAM	2017 LATAM
(millions of US$)
Increase (decrease) in LIBOR
+100 basis points	-27.6	-29.62	-29.26
-100 basis points	+27.6	+29.62	+29.26

Changes in market conditions produce a change in the valuation of current financial instruments hedging against fluctuations in interest rates, causing an effect on the Company's equity (because they are booked as cash-flow hedges). These changes are considered reasonably possible based on current market conditions. The calculations were made by increasing (decreasing) 100 basis points of the three-month Libor futures curve.

LATAM's interest rate sensitivity (effect on equity) Position as of December 31,
	2019 LATAM	2018 LATAM	2017 LATAM
	(millions of US$)
Increase (decrease) in three month LIBOR
Future rates
+100 basis points	+13.6	+0,7	+1,9
-100 basis points	-14.7	-0,7	-1,9

During the periods presented, the Company has not recorded amounts for ineffectiveness in the consolidated income statement pursuant to IFRS.

There are market-related limitations in the method used for the sensitivity analysis. These limitations derive from the fact that the levels indicated by the futures curves may not be necessarily met and may change in each period.

ITEM 12. DESCRIPTION OF SECURITIES OTHER THAN EQUITY SECURITIES

A. Debt Securities

Not applicable.

B. Warrants and Rights

Not applicable.

C. Other Securities

Not applicable.

D. American Depositary Shares

In the United States, our common shares trade in the form of ADS. Since August 2007, each ADS represents one common share, issued by The Bank of New York Mellon, as Depositary pursuant to a Deposit Agreement. ADSs commenced trading on the NYSE in 1997. In October 2011, our Depositary bank changed from The Bank of New York Mellon to JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. ("JP Morgan"). The Company plans to enter into a Deposit Agreement with CitiBank, N.A. pursuant to which Citibank N.A. will replace JP Morgan as the Company's Depositary bank.

Fees and Charges for ADR Holders

JP Morgan, as depositary, collects its fees for delivery and surrender of ADSs directly from investors depositing shares or surrendering ADSs for the purpose of withdrawal or from intermediaries acting for them. The depositary collects fees for making distributions to investors by deducting those fees from the amounts distributed or by selling a portion of the distributable property to pay the fees. The depositary may also collect its annual fee for depositary services by deductions from cash distributions, by directly billing investors or by charging the book-entry system accounts of participants acting for them. The depositary may generally refuse to provide fee-attracting services until its fees for those services are paid.

Persons depositing or withdrawing shares must pay:

For:

US$5.00 (or less) per 100 ADSs (or portion of 100 ADSs)

- Issuance of ADSs, including issuances resulting from a distribution of shares or rights or other property

- Cancellation of ADSs for the purpose of withdrawal, including if the deposit agreement terminates

US$0.05 (or less) per ADS

- Any cash distribution to ADS registered holders

A fee equivalent to the fee that would be payable if securities distributed had been shares and the shares had been deposited for issuance of ADSs

- Distribution of securities distributed to holders of deposited securities which are distributed by the depositary to ADS registered holders

Persons depositing or withdrawing shares must pay:For:US$0.05² (or less) per ADSs per calendar year

Registration or transfer fees

Expenses of the depositary

Taxes and other governmental charges the depositary or the custodian has to pay on any ADS or share underlying an ADS, such as stock transfer taxes, stamp duty or withholding taxes

Any charges incurred by the depositary or its agents for servicing the deposited securities

- Depositary services
- Transfer and registration of shares on the depositary's share register to or from the name of the depositary or its agent when investors deposit or withdraw shares
- Cable, telex and facsimile transmissions
- Conversion of foreign currencies into U.S. dollars
- As necessary
- As necessary

Fees and Direct and Indirect Payments Made by the Depositary to the Foreign IssuerPast Fees and Payments

During 2019, the Company received US$666,148 from the depositary for continuing annual stock exchange listing fees, standard out-of-pocket maintenance costs for the ADRs (consisting of the expenses of postage and envelopes for mailing annual and interim financial reports, printing and distributing dividend checks, electronic filing of U.S. Federal tax information, mailing required tax forms, stationery, postage, facsimile, and telephone calls), payments related to applicable performance indicators relating to the ADR facility, underwriting fees and legal fees.

Future Fees and Payments

JP Morgan, as the depositary bank, has agreed to reimburse the Company for certain of our reasonable expenses related to our ADS program and incurred by us in connection with the program. The reimbursements include direct payments (legal and accounting fees incurred in connection with preparation of Form 20-F and ongoing SEC compliance and listing requirements, listing fees, investor relations expenses, advertising and public relations expenses and fees payable to service providers for the distribution of hard copy materials to beneficial ADR holders in the Depositary Trust Company, such as information related to shareholders' meetings and related voting instruction cards); and indirect payments (third-party expenses paid directly and fees waived).

PART IIITEM 13. DEFAULTS, DIVIDEND ARREARAGES AND DELINQUENCIES

None.

ITEM 14. MATERIAL MODIFICATIONS TO THE RIGHTS OF SECURITY HOLDERS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

None.

ITEM 15. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES(a) Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Management carried out an evaluation, with the participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of December 31, 2019. There are inherent limitations to the effectiveness of any system of disclosure controls and procedures, including the possibility of human error and the circumvention or overriding of the controls and procedures. Accordingly, even effective disclosure controls and procedures can only provide reasonable assurance of achieving their control objectives. Based upon such evaluation, management, with the participation of the chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that the disclosure controls and procedures, as of December 31, 2019, were effective in providing reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act, as amended, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the applicable rules and forms, and that it is accumulated and communicated to our management including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

² Withdrawing Deposited Securities; there are no such fees in respect of the Shares as of the date of the Deposit Agreement), and (iv) expenses of the Depositary in connection with the conversion of foreign currency into U.S. dollars (which are paid out of such foreign currency). Such charges may at any time and from time to time be changed by agreement between the Company and the Depositary.

(b) Management's annual report on internal control over financial reporting

The management of the Company, including the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer, is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act, as amended.

The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of the effectiveness of internal control to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, and that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. LATAM Airlines Group S.A.'s management, including the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer, has assessed the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2019 based on the criteria established in "Internal Control-Integrated Framework (2013)" issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission ("COSO") and, based on such criteria, LATAM Airlines Group S.A.'s management has concluded that, as of December 31, 2019, the Company's internal control over financial reporting is effective. The company's internal control over financial reporting effectiveness as of December 31, 2019 has been audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers Consultores Auditores SpA, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report included herein.

(d) Changes in internal controls over financial reporting. There have been no changes that have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect the company's internal control over financial reporting.

ITEM 16. RESERVED

ITEM 16 A. AUDIT COMMITTEE FINANCIAL EXPERT

Our board of directors has designated on June 11, 2019 Nicolás Eblen Hirmas as an "audit committee financial expert" within the meaning of this Item 16. A. Mr. Eblen is independent within the meaning of Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act. See "Item 6. Directors, Senior Management and Employees— A. Directors and Senior Management."

ITEM 16 B. CODE OF ETHICS

We have adopted a code of ethics and conduct, as defined in Item 16B of Form 20-F under the Exchange Act. Our code of ethics applies to our senior management, including our Chief Executive Officer, our Chief Financial Officer and our Chief Accounting Officer, as well as to other employees. Our code is freely available online at our website, www.latamairlinesgroup.net, under the heading "Corporate Governance" on the Investor Relations page. In addition, upon written request, by regular mail, to the following address: LATAM Airlines Group S.A., Investor Relations Department, attention: Investor Relations, Av. Presidente Riesco 5711, 20th Floor, Las Condes, Santiago, Chile, or by e-mail at InvestorRelations@latam.com we will provide any person with a copy of it without charge. If we amend the provisions of our code of ethics that apply to our senior management or to other persons performing similar functions, or if we grant any waiver of such provisions, we will disclose such amendment or waiver on our website.

ITEM 16 C. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTANT FEES AND SERVICESAudit and Non-Audit Fees

The following table sets forth the fees paid to our independent registered public accounting firm, PricewaterhouseCoopers, during the fiscal years ended December 31, 2019 and 2018:

	2019	2018
	USD (in thousands)
Audit fees	1,821	2,213
Audit-related fees	11	9
Tax fees	-	-
All Other fees	30	5
Total fees	1,862	2,227

Audit-related fees in the above table are the aggregate fees billed by PricewaterhouseCoopers for assurance and related services that are reasonably related to the performance of the audit or review of our financial statements or that are traditionally performed by the external auditor, including due diligence and other audit related services. Fees in 2019 and 2018 correspond to attestation services related with revenues in Argentina.

Other fees in the table above are fees billed by PricewaterhouseCoopers as of December 31, 2019 related to the Benchmark Study on Internal Audit departments. Fees incurred in 2018 correspond to foreign trade & customs training.

Board of Directors' Committee Pre-Approval Policies and Procedures

Since January 2004, LATAM has complied with SEC regulations regarding the type of additional services our independent auditors are authorized to offer to us. In addition, our board of directors' Committee (which serves as our Audit Committee) has decided to automatically authorize any such accepted services for an amount of up to 10% of the fees charged by the auditing firm, and for an amount of up to 50% when adding all such services provided by the auditing firm in the aggregate. If the amount of any services is larger than these thresholds, approval by the board of directors' Committee will be required.

ITEM 16 G. CORPORATE GOVERNANCENew York Stock Exchange Corporate Governance Comparison

Pursuant to Section 303A.11 of the Listed Company Manual of the NYSE, we are required to provide a summary of the significant ways in which our corporate governance practices differ from those required for U.S. companies under the NYSE listing standards. We are a Chilean corporation with shares listed on the SSE and the Chilean Electronic Exchange and our ADSs listed on the NYSE. Our corporate governance practices are governed by our bylaws, the Chilean Corporation Law and the Securities Market Law.

The table below discloses the significant differences between our corporate governance practices and the NYSE standards.

NYSE Standards	Our Corporate Governance Practice
Director Independence. Majority of board of directors must be independent. §303A.01	Under Chilean law, we are not required to have a majority of independent directors on our board. Our board of directors' committee (all of whom are members of our board of directors) is composed of three board members, two of whom must be independent if we have a sufficient number of independent board members on our board.

The definition of independence applicable to us pursuant to the Chilean Corporation Law differs in certain respects from the definition applicable to U.S. issuers under the NYSE rules.

Pursuant to Law No. 20,382 on Corporate Governance, which came into effect on January 1, 2010, we are also required to have at least one independent board member.

Starting on January 1, 2010, directors are deemed to be independent if they have not fallen within any of the following categories during the 18 months prior to their election: (i) had a relevant relationship, interest or dependence on us, our affiliates, controlling shareholders, main executives or any of them, or had served any of the foregoing as directors, managers, administrators, main executives or advisors; (ii) had a close family relationship with any of the individuals indicated in (i); (iii) had served as directors, managers, administrators or main executives in a non-profit organization which received significant funds from the individuals indicated in (i); (iv) had been a partner or shareholder (with a direct or indirect participation in excess of 10%) in, or had served as directors, managers, administrators or main executives at a company which has rendered legal or consulting services (for relevant amounts) or external auditing services to the individuals indicated in (i); (v) had been a partner or shareholder (with a direct or indirect participation in excess of 10%) in, or had served as directors, managers, administrators or main executives, our main competitors, suppliers or clients. In addition, the election of such an independent director is subject to a procedure set forth by the cited Corporation Law.

Executive Sessions. Non-management directors must meet regularly in executive sessions without management. Independent directors should meet alone in an executive session at least once a year. §303A.03

There is no similar requirement under our bylaws or under applicable Chilean law.

Audit committee. Audit committee satisfying the independence and other requirements of Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act, as amended, and the more stringent requirements under the NYSE standards is required. §§303A.06, 303A.07

We are in compliance with Rule 10A-3. We are not required to satisfy the NYSE independence and other audit committee standards that are not prescribed by Rule 10A-3.

Nominating/corporate governance committee. Nominating/corporate governance committee of independent directors is required. The committee must have a charter specifying the purpose, duties and evaluation procedures of the committee. §303A.04

We are not required to have, and do not have, a nominating/corporate governance committee.

Compensation committee. Compensation committee of independent directors is required, which must approve executive officer compensation. The committee must have a charter specifying the purpose, duties and evaluation procedures of the committee. §303A.05

We are not required to have a compensation committee. Pursuant to the Chilean Corporation Law, our board of directors' committee must approve our senior management's and employee's compensation.

Equity compensation plans. Equity compensation plans require shareholder approval, subject to limited exemptions. §303A.08

Under the Chilean Corporation Law, equity compensation plans require shareholder approval.

NYSE Standards

Disclosure of Corporate Governance. Listed companies must adopt and disclose corporate governance guidelines. §303A.09

Code of Ethics. Corporate governance guidelines and a code of business conduct and ethics is required, with disclosure of any waiver for directors or executive officers. §303A.10

Disclosure of Compliance. Each listed company CEO must (a) certify to the NYSE each year that he or she is not aware of any violation by the listed company of NYSE corporate governance listing standards; (b) promptly notify the NYSE in writing after any executive officer becomes aware of any material non-compliance with any applicable provisions of Section 303A; and (c) must submit an executed Written Affirmation annually to the NYSE. In addition, each listed company must submit an interim Written Affirmation as and when required by the interim Written Affirmation form specified by the NYSE. The annual and interim Written Affirmations must be in the form specified by the NYSE. §303A.12

The disclosure of the significant ways in which our corporate governance practices differ from those required for U.S. companies under the NYSE listing standards is also posted on our website and can be accessed at www.latamairlinesgroup.net

ITEM 16 H. Mine Safety Disclosure

Not applicable.

ITEM 18. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

See our consolidated Financial Statements beginning on page F-1.

Our Corporate Governance Practice

Chilean law does not require that corporate governance guidelines be adopted. Directors’ responsibilities and access to management and independent advisors are directly provided for by applicable law. Directors’ compensation is approved at the annual meeting of shareholders, pursuant to applicable law.

We have adopted a code of ethics and conduct applicable to our senior management, including our chief executive officer, our chief financial officer and our chief accounting officer, as well as to other employees. Our code is freely available online at our website, www.latamairlinesgroup.net, under the heading “Corporate Governance” in the Investor Relations informational page. In addition, upon written request, by regular mail to LATAM Airlines Group S.A., Investor Relations Department, attention: Investor Relations, Av. Presidente Riesco 5711, 20th floor, Comuna Las Condes, Santiago, Chile or by e-mail at Investor.Relations@latam.com, we will provide any person with a copy of our code of ethics without charge. We are required by Item 16B of Form 20-F to disclose any waivers granted to our chief executive officer, chief financial officer, principal accounting officer and persons performing similar functions.

Not required in the Chilean regulations. The Company must only comply with Section 303A.12 (b) and (c).

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and shareholders of Latam Airlines Group S.A.

Opinions on the Financial Statements and Internal Control over Financial Reporting

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position of Latam Airlines Group S.A. and its subsidiaries (the “Company”) as of December 31, 2019 and 2018, and the related consolidated statements of income by function, comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows— direct method for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2019, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the “consolidated financial statements”). We also have audited the Company’s internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2019, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO).

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2019 and 2018, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December, 31, 2019 in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board. Also in our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2019, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the COSO.

Change in Accounting Principle

As discussed in Note 2.1 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company changed the manner in which it accounts for leases in 2019.

Basis for Opinions

The Company's management is responsible for these consolidated financial statements, for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting, and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in Management’s Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting appearing under Item 15. Our responsibility is to express opinions on the Company’s consolidated financial statements and on the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud, and whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects.

Latam Airlines Group S.A.

Our audits of the consolidated financial statements included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. Our audit of internal control over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. Our audits also included performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Definition and Limitations of Internal Control over Financial Reporting

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Critical Audit Matters

The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current period audit of the consolidated financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that (i) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the consolidated financial statements and (ii) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

Latam Airlines Group S.A.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets with Indefinite Useful Life (airport slots and loyalty program) Impairment Assessments

As described in Notes 2.8, 4(a), 15 and 16 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company's consolidated goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful life (airport slots and loyalty program) balance at December 31, 2019 were US$2,210 million and US$1,110 million, respectively. Management conducts an impairment assessment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate potential impairment. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the carrying amount of the cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is the higher of value in use and fair value less costs to sell. The value in use is determined by management using a discounted cash flow model. Management's cash flow projections included significant judgments and assumptions relating to revenue growth rates, exchange rates, discount rate, inflation rates and fuel price.

The principal considerations for our determination that performing procedures relating to goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful life (airport slots and loyalty program) impairment assessments is a critical audit matter are there was significant judgment by management when developing the value-in-use calculation. This in turn led to a high degree of auditor judgment, subjectivity and effort in performing procedures to evaluate management's cash flow projections and significant assumptions, including the revenue growth rates, exchange rates, discount rate, inflation rates and fuel price. In addition, the audit effort involved the use of professionals with specialized skill and knowledge to assist in performing these procedures and evaluating the audit evidence obtained.

Addressing the matter involved performing procedures and evaluating audit evidence in connection with forming our overall opinion on the consolidated financial statements. These procedures included testing the effectiveness of controls relating to management's goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful life (airport slots and loyalty program) impairment assessments, including controls over the valuation of the Company's cash generating unit. These procedures also included, among others, testing management's process for developing the estimate; evaluating the appropriateness of the discounted cash flow model; testing the completeness, accuracy, and relevance of underlying data used in the model; and evaluating the significant assumptions used by management, including the revenue growth rates, exchange rates, discount rate, inflation rates and fuel price. Evaluating management's assumptions related to revenue growth rates, exchange rates, discount rate, inflation rates and fuel price involved evaluating whether the assumptions used by management were reasonable considering (i) the current and past performance of the cash generating unit, (ii) the consistency with external market and industry data, and (iii) whether these assumptions were consistent with evidence obtained in other areas of the audit. Professionals with specialized skill and knowledge were used to assist in the evaluation of the Company's discounted cash flow model and significant assumptions, including the discount rate.

Latam Airlines Group S.A.

Recoverability of Deferred Tax Assets

As described in Notes 2.17, 4(c) and 18 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company has recorded US$236 million of deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2019. Management records deferred tax assets on the temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and their reported amounts. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized. Management applied significant judgement in assessing the recoverability of these deferred tax assets. In determining the amount of deferred tax assets to be recognized, management considered historical profitability, projected future taxable profit, including assumptions related to the revenue growth rates, exchange rates, discount rate, inflation rates and fuel price, and the expected timing of the reversals of existing temporary differences.

The principal considerations for our determination that performing procedures relating to the recoverability of deferred tax assets is a critical audit matter are there was significant judgment by management in assessing the available positive and negative evidence surrounding the recoverability of deferred tax assets. This in turn led to a high degree of auditor judgment, subjectivity and effort in performing procedures and evaluating audit evidence relating to management's significant assumptions related to projected future taxable profit and application of tax law. In addition, the audit effort involved the use of professionals with specialized skill and knowledge to assist in performing these procedures and evaluating the audit evidence obtained.

Addressing the matter involved performing procedures and evaluating audit evidence in connection with forming our overall opinion on the consolidated financial statements. These procedures included testing the effectiveness of controls relating to the recoverability of deferred tax asset, including controls over projected future taxable profit. These procedures also included, among others, evaluating management's assessment of the recoverability of deferred tax assets, including evaluating the assumptions relating to the projected future taxable profit. Evaluating management's assumptions related to the projected future taxable profit involved evaluating historical profitability as well as other audit evidence related to management's forecasts. Professionals with specialized skill and knowledge were also used to assist in evaluating management's application of income tax law and the recoverability of deferred tax assets.

Valuation of Loyalty Programs Breakage

As described in Notes 2.20, 4(e) and 22 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company has recorded deferred income of US$3,540 million as of December 31, 2019, of which US$1,687 million was related to deferred income associated with the loyalty programs. The deferred income of loyalty programs is determined based on the estimated stand-alone selling price of unused miles and points awarded to the members of the loyalty programs reduced for breakage. Management used statistical models to estimate the breakage which involved significant judgments and assumptions relating to the historical redemption and expiration activity and forecasted redemption and expiration patterns.

Latam Airlines Group S.A.

The principal considerations for our determination that performing procedures relating to the valuation of loyalty programs breakage is a critical audit matter are there was significant judgment by management to develop the breakage estimate. This in turn led to a high degree of auditor judgment, subjectivity and effort in performing procedures to evaluate the underlying assumptions used by the Company to estimate the historical redemption and expiration activity and forecasted redemption and expiration patterns. In addition, the audit effort involved the use of professionals with specialized skill and knowledge to assist in performing these procedures and evaluating the audit evidence obtained.

Addressing the matter involved performing procedures and evaluating audit evidence in connection with forming our overall opinion on the consolidated financial statements. These procedures included testing the effectiveness of controls relating to management's accounting for its loyalty programs, including controls over management's review of the statistical models and resulting breakage estimates. These procedures also included, among others, testing management's process for developing the breakage estimate; evaluating the appropriateness of the statistical models; testing the completeness, accuracy, and relevance of underlying data used in the models. Evaluating management's assumptions used to develop the breakage estimate involved evaluating whether the assumptions used by management were reasonable considering (i) the available information regarding the miles and points redemption and expiration patterns, (ii) management's actions to incentive holders of the loyalty programs to redeem their miles and points, and (iii) whether these assumptions were consistent with evidence obtained in other areas of the audit. Professionals with specialized skill and knowledge were also used to assist in the evaluation of the Company's methodology and assumptions used to develop the breakage estimate.

(1) Expected credit losses: The Company modified the calculation of the impairment provision to comply with the expected credit loss model, established in IFRS 9 Financial Instruments, which replaces the current loss impairment model incurred. To the calculate percentage of credit losses, a risk matrix was used, grouping the portfolio, according to similar characteristics of risk and maturity. This change resulted in the recognition of an increase in the provision for impairment losses of US $ (11.1) million.

This standard also includes requirements related to the classification and measurement of financial assets and liabilities and an expected credit loss model that replaces the current loss impairment model incurred.

As of January 1, 2018, the calculation of the impairment losses provision are as follows:

	Portfolio maturity					Total ThUS$
	Up to date	Up to 90 days	Up to 91 to 180 days	Up to 181 to 360 days	More than 360 days
	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$

Impairment provision	(13,570)	(7,774)	(5,499)	(9,803)	(61,787)	(98,433)

(2) Deferred tax adjustments originated by the application of IFRS 9.

(3) Net effect on accumulated results of the adjustments indicated above.

In addition to the impacts on the consolidated statement of financial position, the application of IFRS 9: Financial Instruments requires the classification of financial instruments according to the business model, to determine the form of measurement of financial instruments, after their initial recognition.

The Company analyzed the business models and classified its financial assets and liabilities according to the following:

Assets	Classification IAS 39				Classification IFRS 9		Total

- Effects of adopting IFRS 15

(4) Contract costs: The Company has capitalized the costs related to the revenues from air transport of passengers, corresponding to: the commissions charged by the credit card administrators for US$ 22.0 million and the air ticket booking services through the system general distribution (GDS) for US$ 15.6 million. Additionally, there is a reclassification of commissions from travel agencies for US$ 16.8 million, which previously were presented, according IAS 18, net of the liability to fly in other non-financial liabilities.

(5) Contract liabilities: The Company has adjusted certain concepts that were recorded as obligations with suppliers and customers, which must now be treated as contract liabilities; therefore, they must be deferred until the benefit of the service have been rendered. These concepts are mainly related to the ground transportation service for US $ 15.6 million and traveler's checks for US $ 6.6 million.

(6) Performance Obligations: The Company analyzed the moment in which the performance obligations identified in the contracts with customers must be recognized in the consolidated result. During this analysis, some concepts were identified which must be deferred until the moment of service provision, mainly related to land transportation services, charges for modifications to the initial contract in the sale of tickets and redeem of some products associated with loyalty programs for US$ 60.8 million. Additionally, there is the reclassification detailed in numeral (4) for US$ 16.8 million.

(7) Deferred tax adjustments originated by the application of IFRS 15.

(8) Net effect on accumulated results of the adjustments indicated above.

Additionally, the Company concluded that, in the rendering of certain services, it acted as agent in the provision of these services, therefore some reclassifications were made in the consolidated income statement to reflect the corresponding commission.

- Effects of adopting IFRS 16

(9) Company recognized under Property, plant and equipment right of use assets for US $ 2,865.3 million as of January 1, 2018 and US $ 2,548.4 as of December 31, 2018, associated with contracts that meet the definition of lease (Note 2.21 & 17).

The Company decrease other financial assets related to advance payments for leases for US $ 39.4 million as of January 1, 2018 and US $ 36.7 as of December 31, 2018, since with the application of the standard these amounts are considered in the initial measurement of the right of use asset.

The Company increased the cost of restoration associated with the return of aircraft and engines for US $ 56.2 million as of January 1, 2018 and US $ 45.6 million as of December 31, 2018. With the application of the standard, the net present value of this cost was included in the asset for right of use and its counterpart in the line of accounts payable, current or non-current, depending on the return date of the aircraft or engines.

(10) Deferred taxes: adjustments originated by the application of IFRS 16.

(11) Lease liabilities: The Company recognized within the Other financial liabilities for lease for US$ 3,147.0 million as of January 1, 2018 and US$ 2,858.0 million as of December 31, 2018, associated with contracts that meet the definition of lease (Note 2.21 & 19).

(12) The effect of the recognition of the leases under IFRS 16 generated a decrease in retained earnings of US$ 506.6 million as of January 1, 2018 (US$ 378.7 million as of December 31, 2018). The increase in Other reserves of US$ 205.9 million as of January 1, 2018 (decrease of US$ 72.5 million as of December 31, 2018), was caused by the Cumulative translation adjustment of those subsidiaries with functional currencies other than the US dollar. The application of IFRS 16 also affected non-controlling interests.

The effects of the changes recognized in the application of IFRS 15 and IFRS 16 as of December 31, 2017 are presented in the consolidated income statement:

The management of the Company estimates that the adoption of the standards, amendments and Interpretations described above, will not have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company in the application of its first adoption. At the close consolidated financial statements, the Company is analyzing the possible effects of the amendment issued in September 2019 to IFRS 9, IAS 39 and IFRS 7 for the reform of interest rates of reference.

2.2. Basis of Consolidation

(a) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all the entities (including special-purpose entities) over which the Company has the power to control the financial and operating policies, which are generally accompanied by a holding of more than half of the voting rights. In evaluating whether the Company controls another entity, the existence and effect of potential voting rights that are currently exercisable or convertible at the date of the consolidated financial statements are considered. The subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is passed to the Company and they are excluded from the consolidation on the date they cease to be so controlled. The results and flows are incorporated from the date of acquisition.

Balances, transactions and unrealized gains on transactions between the Company's entities are eliminated. Unrealized losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment loss of the asset transferred. When necessary in order to ensure uniformity with the policies adopted by the Company, the accounting policies of the subsidiaries are modified.

To account for and identify the financial information revealed when carrying out a business combination, such as the acquisition of an entity by the Company, is apply the acquisition method provided for in IFRS 3: Business combination.

(b) Transactions with non-controlling interests

The Group applies the policy of considering transactions with non-controlling interests, when not related to loss of control, as equity transactions without an effect on income.

(c) Sales of subsidiaries

When a subsidiary is sold and a percentage of participation is not retained, the Company derecognizes assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, the non-controlling and other components of equity related to the subsidiary. Any gain or loss resulting from the loss of control is recognized in the consolidated income statement in Other gains (losses).

If LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries retain an ownership of participation in the sold subsidiary, and does not represent control, this is recognized at fair value on the date that control is lost, the amounts previously recognized in Other comprehensive income are accounted as if the Company had disposed directly from the assets and related liabilities, which can cause these amounts are reclassified to profit or loss. The percentage retained valued at fair value is subsequently accounted using the equity method.

(d) Investees or associates

Investees or associates are all entities over which LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries have significant influence but have no control. This usually arises from holding between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are booked using the equity method and are initially recognized at their cost.

2.3. Foreign currency transactions

(a) Presentation and functional currencies

The items included in the financial statements of each of the entities of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries are valued using the currency of the main economic environment in which the entity operates (the functional currency). The functional currency of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. is the United States dollar which is also the presentation currency of the consolidated financial statements of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated to the functional currency using the exchange rates on the transaction dates. Foreign currency gains and losses resulting from the liquidation of these transactions and from the translation at the closing exchange rates of the monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are shown in the consolidated statement of income by function except when deferred in Other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges.

(c) Adjustment due to hyperinflation

After July 1, 2018, the Argentine economy was considered, for purposes of IFRS, hyperinflationary. The financial statements of the subsidiaries whose functional currency is the Argentine Peso have been restated.

The non-monetary items of the statement of financial position as well as the income statement, comprehensive incomes and cash flows of the group's entities, whose functional currency corresponds to a hyperinflationary economy, are adjusted for inflation and re-expressed in accordance with the variation of the consumer price index ("CPI"), at each presentation date of its financial statements. The re-expression of non-monetary items is made from the date of initial recognition in the statements of financial position and considering that the financial statements are prepared under the historical cost criterion.

Net losses or gains arising from the re-expression of non-monetary items and income and costs are recognized in the consolidated income statement under "Result of indexation units".

Net gains and losses on the re-expression of opening balances due to the initial application of IAS 29 are recognized in the consolidated retained earnings.

Re-expression due to hyperinflation will be recorded until the period in which the economy of the entity ceases to be considered as a hyperinflationary economy, at that time, the adjustments made by hyperinflation will be part of the cost of non-monetary assets and liabilities.

The comparative amounts in the Consolidated financial statements of the Company are presented in a stable currency and are not adjusted for subsequent changes in the price level or exchange rates.

(d) Group entities

The results and the financial situation of the Group's entities, whose functional currency is different from the presentation currency of the consolidated financial statements, of LATAM Airlines Group S.A., which does not correspond to the currency of a hyperinflationary economy, are converted into the currency of presentation as follows:

- (i) Assets and liabilities of each consolidated statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing exchange rate on the consolidated statement of financial position date;
- (ii) The revenues and expenses of each income statement account are translated at the exchange rates prevailing on the transaction dates, and
- (iii) All the resultant exchange differences by conversion are shown as a separate component in other comprehensive income.

For those subsidiaries of the group whose functional currency is different from the presentation currency and, moreover, corresponds to the currency of a hyperinflationary economy; its restated results, cash flow and financial situation are converted to the presentation currency at the closing exchange rate on the date of the consolidated financial statements.

The exchange rates used correspond to those fixed in the country where the subsidiary is located, whose functional currency is different to the U.S. dollar.

Adjustments to the Goodwill and fair value arising from the acquisition of a foreign entity are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign entity and are translated at the closing exchange rate or period informed, restated when the currency came from the functional entity of the foreign entity corresponds to that of a hyperinflationary economy, the adjustments for the restatement of goodwill are recognized in the consolidated equity.

2.4. Property, plant and equipment

The land of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries, are recognized at cost less any accumulated impairment loss. The rest of the Properties, plants and equipment are recorded, both in their initial recognition and in their subsequent measurement, at their historical cost, restated for inflation when appropriate, less the corresponding depreciation and any loss due to deterioration.

The amounts of advances paid to the aircraft manufacturers are activated by the Company under Construction in progress until they are received.

Subsequent costs (replacement of components, improvements, extensions, etc.) are included in the value of the initial asset or are recognized as a separate asset, only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the elements of property, plant and equipment, they will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be determined reliably. The value of the replaced component is written off. The rest of the repairs and maintenance are charged to the result of the year in which they are incurred.

The depreciation of the properties, plants and equipment is calculated using the linear method over their estimated technical useful lives; except in the case of certain technical components which are depreciated on the basis of cycles and hours flown.

The residual value and the useful life of the assets are reviewed and adjusted, if necessary, once a year.

When the value of an asset exceeds its estimated recoverable amount, its value is immediately reduced to its recoverable amount (Note 2.8).

Losses and gains from the sale of property, plant and equipment are calculated by comparing the consideration with the book value and are included in the consolidated statement of income.

2.5. Intangible assets other than goodwill

(a) Airport slots and Loyalty program

Airport slots and the Coalition and Loyalty program are intangible assets of indefinite useful life and are subject to impairment tests annually as an integral part of each CGU identified by the Company, in accordance with the premises that are applicable, included as follows:

Airport slots – Air transport CGU
(See Note 16)

The airport slots correspond to an administrative authorization to carry out operations of arrival and departure of aircraft at a specific airport, within a specified period.

The Loyalty program corresponds to the system of accumulation and redemption of points that has developed Multiplus S.A., program that is part of TAM Linhas Aereas S.A. (See Note 1).

The Brands, airport Slots and Loyalty program were recognized in fair values determined in accordance with IFRS 3, as a consequence of the business combination with TAM and Subsidiaries.

(b) Computer software

Licenses for computer software acquired are capitalized on the basis of the costs incurred in acquiring them and preparing them for using the specific software. These costs are amortized over their estimated useful lives, for which the Company has been defined useful lives between 3 and 10 years.

Expenses related to the development or maintenance of computer software which do not qualify for capitalization, are shown as an expense when incurred. The personnel costs and others cost directly related to the production of unique and identifiable computer software controlled by the Company, are shown as intangible Assets others than Goodwill when they have met all the criteria for capitalization.

(c) Brands

The Brands were acquired in the business combination with TAM S.A. And Subsidiaries and recognized at fair value under IFRS. During the year 2016, the estimated useful life of the brands changes from an indefinite useful life to a five-year period, the period in which the value of the brands will be amortized (See Note 15).

2.6. Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of acquisition cost over the fair value of the Company's participation in the net identifiable assets of the subsidiary or associate on the acquisition date. Goodwill related to acquisition of subsidiaries is not amortized but tested for impairment annually or each time that there is evidence of impairment. Gains and losses on the sale of an entity include the book amount of the goodwill related to the entity sold.

2.7. Borrowing costs

Interest costs incurred for the construction of any qualified asset are capitalized over the time necessary for completing and preparing the asset for its intended use.

2.8. Losses for impairment of non-financial assets

Intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life and developing IT projects are not subject to amortization and are subject to annual tests for impairment losses or if there are indications of impairment. Management conducts an impairment assessment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate potential impairment. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the carrying amount of the cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is the higher of value in use and fair value less costs to sell. The value in use is determined by management using a discounted cash flow model. For the purpose of assessing impairment losses, assets are grouped at the lowest level for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash generating units). Prior impairments of non-financial assets, other than goodwill, are reviewed for possible reversal at each reporting date.

2.9. Financial assets

As of January 1, 2018, the Company classifies its financial assets in the following categories: at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through gains or losses), and at amortized cost. The classification depends on the business model of the entity to manage the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

The group reclassifies debt investments when, and only when, it changes its business model to manage those assets.

In the initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset classified at amortized cost, the transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets accounted for at fair value through profit or loss are recorded as expenses in the income statement.

(a) Debt instruments

The subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the group's business model to manage the asset and cash flow characteristics of the asset. The Company has two measurement categories in which the group classifies its debt instruments:

Amortized cost: the assets held for the collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent only payments of principal and interest are measured at amortized cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at amortized cost and is not part of a hedging relationship is recognized in income when the asset is derecognized or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is included in financial income using the effective interest rate method.

Fair value through profit or loss: assets that do not meet the criteria of amortized cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss and is not part of a hedging relationship is recognized in profit or loss and is presented net in the income statement within other gains / (losses) in the period in which it arises.

(b) Equity instruments

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognized in other gains / (losses) in the statement of income as appropriate.

The Company evaluates in advance the expected credit losses associated with its debt instruments recorded at amortized cost. The applied impairment methodology depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

2.10. Derivative financial instruments and hedging activities

Derivatives are recognized, in accordance with IAS 39 for hedge accounting and IFRS 9 for derivatives not qualify as hedge accounting, initially at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract was made and are subsequently valued at their fair value. The method to recognize the resulting loss or gain depends on whether the derivative has been designated as a hedging instrument and, if so, the nature of the item being hedged. The Company designates certain derivatives as:

- (a) Hedge of the fair value of recognized assets (fair value hedge);
- (b) Hedge of an identified risk associated with a recognized liability or an expected highly- Probable transaction (cash-flow hedge), or
- (c) Derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting.

The Company documents, at the inception of each transaction, the relationship between the hedging instrument and the hedged item, as well as its objectives for managing risk and the strategy for carrying out various hedging transactions. The Company also documents its assessment, both at the beginning and on an ongoing basis, as to whether the derivatives used in the hedging transactions are highly effective in offsetting the changes in the fair value or cash flows of the items being hedged.

The total fair value of the hedging derivatives is booked as Other non-current financial asset or liability if the remaining maturity of the item hedged is over 12 months, and as an other current financial asset or liability if the remaining term of the item hedged is less than 12 months. Derivatives not booked as hedges are classified as Other financial assets or liabilities.

(a) Fair value hedges

Changes in the fair value of designated derivatives that qualify as fair value hedges are shown in the consolidated statement of income, together with any change in the fair value of the asset or liability hedged that is attributable to the risk being hedged.

(b) Cash flow hedges

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is shown in the statement of other comprehensive income. The loss or gain relating to the ineffective portion is recognized immediately in the consolidated statement of income under other gains (losses). Amounts accumulated in equity are reclassified to profit or loss in the periods when the hedged item affects profit or loss.

In case of variable interest-rate hedges, the amounts recognized in the statement of other comprehensive income are reclassified to results within financial costs at the same time the associated debts accrue interest.

For fuel price hedges, the amounts shown in the statement of other comprehensive income are reclassified to results under the line item Cost of sales to the extent that the fuel subject to the hedge is used.

For foreign currency hedges, the amounts recognized in the statement of other comprehensive income are reclassified to income as deferred revenue resulting from the use of points, are recognized as Income.

When hedging instrument mature, is sold or fails to meet the requirements to be accounted for as hedges, any gain or loss accumulated in the statement of Other comprehensive income until that moment, remains in the statement of other comprehensive income and is reclassified to the consolidated statement of income when the hedged transaction is finally recognized. When it is expected that the hedged transaction is no longer going to occur, the gain or loss accumulated in the statement of other comprehensive income is taken immediately to the consolidated statement of income as "Other gains (losses)".

(c) Derivatives not booked as a hedge

The changes in fair value of any derivative instrument that is not booked as a hedge are shown immediately in the consolidated statement of income in "Other gains (losses)".

2.11. Inventories

Inventories, detailed in Note 10, are shown at the lower of cost and their net realizable value. The cost is determined on the basis of the weighted average cost method (WAC). The net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the normal course of business, less estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

2.12. Trade and other accounts receivable

Commercial accounts receivable are initially recognized at their fair value and subsequently at their amortized cost in accordance with the effective rate method, less the provision for impairment according to the model of the expected credit losses. The Company applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires that expected lifetime losses be recognized upon initial recognition of accounts receivable.

In the event that the Company transfers its rights to any financial asset (generally accounts receivable) to a third party in exchange for a cash payment, the Company evaluates whether al risks and rewards have been transferred, in which case the account receivable is derecognized.

The existence of significant financial difficulties on the part of the debtor, the probability that the debtor goes bankrupt or financial reorganization are considered indicators of a significant increase in credit risk.

The carrying amount of the asset is reduced as the provision account is used and the loss is recognized in the consolidated income statement under “Cost of sales”. When an account receivable is written off, it is regularized against the provision account for the account receivable.

2.13. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash and bank balances, time deposits in financial institutions, and other short-term and highly liquid investments.

2.14. Capital

The common shares are classified as net equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issuance of new shares or options are shown in net equity as a deduction from the proceeds received from the placement of shares.

2.15. Trade and other accounts payables

Trade payables and other accounts payable are initially recognized at fair value and subsequently at amortized cost.

2.16. Interest-bearing loans

Financial liabilities are shown initially at their fair value, net of the costs incurred in the transaction. Later, these financial liabilities are valued at their amortized cost; any difference between the proceeds obtained (net of the necessary arrangement| costs) and the repayment value, is shown in the consolidated statement of income during the term of the debt, according to the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities are classified in current and non-current liabilities according to the contractual payment dates of the nominal principal.

2.17. Current and deferred taxes

The tax expense for the period comprises income and deferred taxes.

The current income tax expense is calculated based on tax laws in enacted the date of statement of financial position, in the countries in which the subsidiaries and associates operate and generate taxable income.

Deferred taxes are recognized, on the temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from the initial recognition of an assets or a liability in transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction does not affect the accounting or the taxable profit or loss. Deferred tax is determined using the tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted at the date of the consolidated statements of financial position, and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realized or the deferred tax liability discharged.

Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent it is probable that the future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

The tax (current and deferred) is recognized in statement of income by function, unless it relates to an item recognized in other comprehensive income, directly in equity. In this case the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or, directly in the statement of income by function, respectively.

2.18. Employee benefits

(a) Personnel vacations

The Company recognizes the expense for personnel vacations on an accrual basis.

(b) Share-based compensation

The compensation plans implemented based on the shares of the Company are recognized in the consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS 2: Share-based payments, for plans based on the granting of options, the effect of fair value is recorded in equity with a charge to remuneration in a linear manner between the date of grant of said options and the date on which they become irrevocable, for the plans considered as cash settled award the fair value, updated as of the closing date of each reporting period, is recorded as a liability with charge to remuneration.

(c) Post-employment and other long-term benefits

Provisions are made for these obligations by applying the method of the projected unit credit method, and considering estimates of future permanence, mortality rates and future wage increases determined on the basis of actuarial calculations. The discount rates are determined by reference to market interest-rate curves. Actuarial gains or losses are shown in other comprehensive income.

(d) Incentives

The Company has an annual incentives plan for its personnel for compliance with objectives and individual contribution to the results. The incentives eventually granted consist of a given number or portion of monthly remuneration and the provision is made on the basis of the amount estimated for distribution.

2.19. Provisions

Provisions are recognized when:

- (i) The Company has a present legal or implicit obligation as a result of past events;
- (ii) It is probable that payment is going to be necessary to settle an obligation; and
- (iii) The amount has been reliably estimated.

2.20. Revenue from contracts with customers

- (a) Transportation of passengers and cargo

The Company recognizes the sale for the transportation service as a deferred income liability, which is recognized as income when the transportation service has been lent or expired. In the case of air transport services sold by the Company and that will be made by other airlines, the liability is reduced when they are remitted to said airlines. The Company periodically reviews whether it is necessary to make an adjustment to deferred income liabilities, mainly related to returns, changes, among others.

Compensations granted to clients for changes in the levels of services or billing of additional services such as additional baggage, change of seat, among others, are considered modifications of the initial contract, therefore, they are deferred until the corresponding service is provided.

- (b) Expiration of air tickets

The Company estimates in a monthly basis the probability of expiration of air tickets, with refund clauses, based on the history of use of the same. Air tickets without refund clause are expired on the date of the flight in case the passenger does not show up.

- (c) Costs associated with the contract

The costs related to the sale of air tickets are activated and deferred until the corresponding service is provided. These assets are included under Other non-financial assets in the Consolidated Classified Statement of Financial Position.

- (d) Frequent passenger program

The Company maintains the following loyalty programs: LATAM Pass, LATAM Pass Brasil, whose objective is building customer loyalty through the delivery of miles or points.

Members of these programs accumulate miles when flying with LATAM Airlines Group or any other member airline of the oneworld® program, as well purchasing of products and services from network of non airlines partners.

When the miles and points are exchanged for products and services other than the services provided by the Company, the income is immediately recognized. When the miles are redeemed through air tickets of an airline of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and subsidiaries, the income is deferred until the transportation service are rendered or expiration for non-use.

In addition, the Company has contracts with certain non-airline companies for the sale of miles or points. These contracts include some performance obligations in addition to the sale of the mile or point, such as marketing, advertising and other benefits. The income associated with these concepts is recognized in the income statement to the extent that the miles are accredited.

Deferred income of loyalty programs is determined based on the estimated stand-alone selling price of unused miles and points awarded to the members of the loyalty programs, reduced for breakage.

The miles and points that the Company estimates will not be exchanged are recognized at the moment of the earn. Management uses statistical models to estimate the breakage based on the latest available information regarding redemption and expiration patterns.

(e) Dividend income

Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive payment is established.

2.21. Leases

The Company recognizes contracts that meet the definition of a lease, as a right of use asset and a lease liability on the date when the underlying asset is available for use.

Assets for right of use are measured at cost including the following:

- The amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- Lease payment made at or before commencement date;
- Initial direct costs, and
- Restoration costs.

The assets by right of use are recognized in the statement of financial position in Properties, plants and equipment (See Note 17).

Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following payments:

- Fixed payments including in substance fixed payment.
- Variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate;
- The exercise price of a purchase options, if is reasonably certain to exercise that option.

The Company determines the present value of the lease payments using the implicit rates for the aircraft leasing contracts and for the rest of the underlying assets, uses the incremental borrowing rate.

Lease liabilities are recognized in the statement of financial position under Other financial liabilities, current or non-current (See Note 19).

Interest accrued on financial liabilities is recognized in the consolidated statement of income in "Financial costs".

Principal and interest are presented in the consolidated cash flow as "Payments of lease liability" and "Interest paid", respectively, in cash flows use in financing activities.

Payments associated with short-term leases without purchase options and leases of low-value assets are recognized on a straight-line basis in profit or loss at the time of accrual. Those payments are presented in cash flows use in operation activities.

The Company analyzes the financing agreements of aircrafts, mainly considering characteristics such as:

- (a) that the Company initially acquired the aircraft or took an important part in the process of direct acquisition with the manufacturers.
- (b) Due to the contractual conditions, it is virtually certain that the Company will execute the purchase option of the aircraft at the end of the lease term.

Since these financing agreements are “substantially purchases” and not leases, the related liability is considered as a financial debt classified under IFRS 9 and continue to be presented within the “other financial liabilities” described in Note 19. On the other hand, aircraft are presented in Property, plants and equipment as described in Note 17, as “own aircrafts”.

The Group qualifies as sale and leaseback transactions, operations which lead to a sale according to IFRS 15. More specifically, a sale is considered as such if there is no repurchase option on the goods at the end of the lease term.

If the sale of the seller-lessee is classified as a sale in accordance with IFRS 15, the underlying asset is derecognized and an asset is recognized for the right to use equal to the retained part of the net carrying amount of the asset.

If the sale by the seller-lessee is not qualified as a sale in accordance with IFRS 15, the assets transferred are maintained in the financial statements and a financial liability is recognized equal to the sale price (received from the buyer-lessor).

2.22. Non-current assets or disposal groups classified as held for sale

Non-current assets (or disposal groups) classified as assets held for sale are shown at the lesser of their book value and the fair value less costs to sell.

2.23. Maintenance

The costs incurred for scheduled heavy maintenance of the aircraft’s fuselage and engines are capitalized and depreciated until the next maintenance. The depreciation rate is determined on technical grounds, according to the use of the aircraft expressed in terms of cycles and flight hours.

In case of aircraft include in property, plant and equipment, these maintenance cost are capitalized as Property, plant and equipment, while in the case of aircraft on right of use, a liability is accrued based on the use of the main components is recognized, since a contractual obligation with the lessor to return the aircraft on agreed terms of maintenance levels exists. These are recognized as Cost of sales.

Additionally, some contracts that comply with the definition of lease establish the obligation of the lessee to make deposits to the lessor as a guarantee of compliance with maintenance and return conditions. These deposits, often called maintenance reserves, accumulate until a major maintenance is performed, once made, the recovery is requested to the lessor. At the end of the contract period, there is comparison between the reserves that have been paid and required return conditions, and compensation between the parties are made if applicable.

The unscheduled maintenance of aircraft and engines, as well as minor maintenance, are charged to results as incurred.

2.24. Environmental costs

Disbursements related to environmental protection are charged to results when incurred.

NOTE 3 - FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

3.1. Financial risk factors

The Company is exposed to different financial risks: (a) market risk, (b) credit risk, and (c) liquidity risk. The program overall risk management of the Company aims to minimize the adverse effects of financial risks affecting the company.

(a) Market risk

Due to the nature of its operations, the Company is exposed to market factors such as: (i) fuel-price risk, (ii) exchange -rate risk (FX), and (iii) interest -rate risk.

The Company has developed policies and procedures for managing market risk, which aim to identify, quantify, monitor and mitigate the adverse effects of changes in market factors mentioned above.

For this, the Administration monitors the evolution of price levels, exchange rates and interest rates, and quantifies their risk exposures (Value at Risk), and develops and implements hedging strategies.

(i) Fuel-price risk:

Exposition:

For the execution of its operations the Company purchases a fuel called Jet Fuel grade 54 USGC, which is subject to the fluctuations of international fuel prices.

Mitigation:

To cover the risk exposure fuel, the Company operates with derivative instruments (swaps and options) whose underlying assets may be different from Jet Fuel, being possible use West Texas Intermediate ("WTI") crude, Brent ("BRENT") crude and distillate Heating Oil ("HO"), which have a high correlation with Jet Fuel and greater liquidity.

Fuel Hedging Results:

During the period ended december 31, 2019, the Company recognized losses of US$ 23.1 million for fuel coverage net of premium. During the same period of 2018, the Company recognized gains of US$ 29.7 million for the same concept.

As of december 31, 2019, the market value of fuel positions amounted to US$ 48.5 million (positive). At the end of december 2018, this market value was US$ 15.8 million (negative).

The following tables show the level of hedge for different periods:

	Q120	Q220	Q320	Q420
Percentage of coverage over the expected volume of consumption	65%	61%	20%	19%	41%

(*) The volume shown in the table considers all the hedging instruments (swaps and options).

	Q119	Q219	Q319	Q419
Percentage of coverage over the expected volume of consumption	66%	58%	40%	15%	45%

(*) The volume shown in the table considers all the hedging instruments (swaps and options).

Sensitivity analysis

A drop in fuel price positively affects the Company through a reduction in costs. However, also negatively affects contracted positions as these are acquired to protect the Company against the risk of a rise in price. The policy therefore is to maintain a hedge-free percentage in order to be competitive in the event of a drop in price.

The current hedge positions they are booked as cash flow hedge contracts, so a variation in the fuel price has an impact on the Company's net equity.

The following table shows the sensitivity analysis of the financial instruments according to reasonable changes in the fuel price and their effect on equity. The term of the projection was defined until the end of the last current fuel hedge contract, being the last business day of the third quarter of 2020.

The calculations were made considering a parallel movement of US$ 5 per barrel in the curve of the JET crude futures benchmark price at the end of December 2019 and the end of December 2018.

Benchmark price (US$ per barrel)	Positions as of december 31, 2019 effect on equity (millions of US$)	Positions as of december 31, 2018 effect on equity (millions of US$)
+5	+ 15.4	+7.4
-5	- 34.5	- 5.5

Given the structure of fuel coverage during 2019, considers a hedge-free portion, a vertical drop of 5 dollars in the JET reference price (considered as the monthly average), would have meant an approximate impact US$ 121.8 million of lower fuel costs. For the same period, a vertical rise of US$ 5 in the JET reference price (considered as the monthly average) would have meant an impact of approximately US$ 114.2 million of higher fuel costs.

(ii) Foreign exchange rate risk:

Exposition:

The functional and presentation currency of the financial statements of the Parent Company is the US dollar, so that the risk of the Transactional and Conversion exchange rate arises mainly from the Company's business, strategic and accounting operating activities that are expressed in a monetary unit other than the functional currency.

The subsidiaries of LATAM are also exposed to foreign exchange risk whose impact affects the Company's Consolidated Income.

The largest operational exposure to LATAM's exchange risk comes from the concentration of businesses in Brazil, which are mostly denominated in Brazilian Real (BRL), and are actively managed by the company.

At a lower concentration, the Company is also exposed to the fluctuation of other currencies, such as: Euro, Pound sterling, Australian dollar, Colombian peso, Chilean peso, Argentine peso, Paraguayan Guarani, Mexican peso, Peruvian Sol and New Zealand dollar.

Mitigation:

The Company mitigates currency risk exposures by contracting derivative instruments or through natural hedges or execution of internal operations.

Exchange Rate Hedging Results (FX):

With the objective of reducing exposure to the exchange rate risk in the operational cash flows of 2019, and securing the operating margin, LATAM makes hedges using FX derivatives.

As of december 31, 2019, the market value of FX derivative positions amounted to US $ 0.04 million (negative). At the end of December 2018, the Company did not maintain derivatives of current FX hedges.

During the period ended december 31, 2019, the Company recognized gains of US $ 1.9 million for FX coverage net of premiums. During the same period of 2018, the Company recognized gains of US$ 18.3 million.

As of december 31, 2019, the Company has contracted FX derivatives for US $ 15 million for BRL. At the end of december 2018, the Company did not maintain current FX derivatives.

During 2018 the company contracted FX derivatives which were not registered under hedge accounting. As of december 31, 2019, the amount recognized in results amounts to US $ 6.2 million (negative) net of premiums.

Sensitivity analysis:

A depreciation of the R$/US$ exchange rate, negatively affects the Company's operating cash flows, however, also positively affects the value of the positions of derivatives contracted.

FX derivatives are recorded as cash flow hedge contracts; therefore, a variation in the exchange rate has an impact on the market value of the derivatives, the changes of which affect the Company's net equity.

The following table shows the sensitization of FX derivative instruments according to reasonable changes in the exchange rate and its effect on equity. The projection period was defined until the end of the last coverage contract in force, with the last business day of the first quarter of the year 2020:

Appreciation (depreciation)(*) of R$	Effect at december 31, 2019 Millions of US$	Effect at december 31, 2018 Millions of US$
-10%	-0.6	-
+10%	+1.1	-

(*) Appreciation (depreciation) of US$ regard to the covered currencies.

During 2018 and 2019, the Company contracted swap currency derivatives for debt coverage issued the same year for a notional UF 8.7 million and UF 5.0 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2019, the market value of the currency swaps derivative positions amounted to US $ 22.7 million (negative). At the end of December 2018, this market value was US $ 15.1 million (positive).

In the case of TAM S.A, whose functional currency is the Brazilian real, a large part of its liabilities is expressed in US dollars. Therefore, when converting financial assets and liabilities, from dollar to real, they have an impact on the result of TAM S.A., which is consolidated in the Company's Income Statement.

In order to reduce the impact on the Company's result caused by appreciations or depreciations of R $ / US $, the Company has executed internal operations to reduce the net exposure in US $ for TAM S.A.

The following table shows the variation of financial performance to appreciate or depreciate 10% exchange rate R$/US$:

-10%	+9.5	+39.8
+10%	- 9.5	-39.8

(*) Appreciation (depreciation) of US$ regard to the covered currencies.

Effects of exchange rate derivatives in the Financial Statements

The profit or losses caused by changes in the fair value of hedging instruments are segregated between intrinsic value and temporary value. The intrinsic value is the actual percentage of cash flow covered, initially shown in equity and later transferred to income, while the hedge transaction is recorded in income. The temporary value corresponds to the ineffective portion of cash flow hedge which is recognized in the financial results of the Company (Note 19).

Due to the functional currency of TAM S.A. and Subsidiaries is the Brazilian real, the Company presents the effects of the exchange rate fluctuations in Other comprehensive income by converting the Statement of financial position and Income statement of TAM S.A. and Subsidiaries from their functional currency to the U.S. dollar, which is the presentation currency of the consolidated financial statement of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries. The Goodwill generated in the Business combination is recognized as an asset of TAM S.A. and Subsidiaries in Brazilian real whose conversion to U.S. dollar also produces effects in other comprehensive income.

The following table shows the change in Other comprehensive income recognized in Total equity in the case of appreciate or depreciate 10% the exchange rate R$/US$:

-10%	+402.48	+384.73
+10%	-329.29	-314.78

(iii) Interest -rate risk:

Exposition:

The Company is exposed to fluctuations in interest rates affecting the markets future cash flows of the assets, and current and future financial liabilities.

The Company is exposed in one portion to the variations of London Inter-Bank Offer Rate ("LIBOR") and other interest rates of less relevance are Brazilian Interbank Deposit Certificate ("IDC").

Mitigation:

In order to reduce the risk of an eventual rise in interest rates, the Company has signed interest-rate swap and call option contracts. Currently a 62% (60% at December 31, 2018) of the debt is fixed to fluctuations in interest rate.

Rate Hedging Results:

As of december 31, 2019, the market value of the derivative positions of interest rates amounted to US$ 2.6 million (positive). At the end of December 2018, this market value was US$ 2.2 million (negative).

Sensitivity analysis:

The following table shows the sensitivity of changes in financial obligations that are not hedged against interest-rate variations. These changes are considered reasonably possible, based on current market conditions each date.

Increase (decrease) futures curve in libor 3 months	Positions as of december 31, 2019 effect on profit or loss before tax (millions of US$)	Positions as of december 31, 2018 effect on profit or loss before tax (millions of US$)
-100 basis points	+27.60	+29.62

Much of the current rate derivatives are registered for as hedges of cash flow, therefore, a variation in the exchange rate has an impact on the market value of derivatives, whose changes impact on the Company's net equity.

The calculations were made increasing (decreasing) vertically 100 basis points of the three-month Libor futures curve, being both reasonably possible scenarios according to historical market conditions.

Increase (decrease) futures curve in libor 3 months	Positions as of december 31, 2019 effect on equity (millions of US$)	Positions as of december 31, 2018 effect on equity (millions of US$)
+100 basis points	+13.62	+0.70
-100 basis points	-14.71	-0.71

The assumptions of sensitivity calculation must assume that forward curves of interest rates do not necessarily reflect the real value of the compensation flows. Moreover, the structure of interest rates is dynamic over time.

During the periods presented, the Company has no registered amounts by ineffectiveness in consolidated statement of income for this kind of hedging.

(b) Credit risk

Credit risk occurs when the counterparty to a financial agreement or instrument fails to discharge an obligation due or financial instrument, leading to a loss in market value of a financial instrument (only financial assets, not liabilities).

The Company is exposed to credit risk due to its operative and financial activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions, investments in other kinds of instruments, exchange-rate transactions and the contracting of derivative instruments or options.

To reduce the credit risk associated with operational activities, the Company has established credit limits to abridge the exposure of their debtors which are monitored permanently (mainly in case of operational activities in Brazil with travel agents).

As a way to mitigate credit risk related to financial activities, the Company requires that the counterparty to the financial activities remain at least investment grade by major Risk Assessment Agencies. Additionally, the Company has established maximum limits for investments which are monitored regularly.

(i) Financial activities

Cash surpluses that remain after the financing of assets necessary for the operation are invested according to credit limits approved by the Company's Board, mainly in time deposits with different financial institutions, private investment funds, short-term mutual funds, and easily-liquidated corporate and sovereign bonds with short remaining maturities. These investments are booked as Cash and cash equivalents and other current financial assets.

In order to reduce counterparty risk and to ensure that the risk assumed is known and managed by the Company, investments are diversified among different banking institutions (both local and international). The Company evaluates the credit standing of each counterparty and the levels of investment, based on (i) their credit rating, (ii) the equity size of the counterparty, and (iii) investment limits according to the Company's level of liquidity. According to these three parameters, the Company chooses the most restrictive parameter of the previous three and based on this, establishes limits for operations with each counterparty.

The Company has no guarantees to mitigate this exposure.

(ii) Operational activities

The Company has four large sales "clusters": travel agencies, cargo agents, airlines and credit-card administrators. The first three are governed by International Air Transport Association, international ("IATA") organization comprising most of the airlines that represent over 90% of scheduled commercial traffic and one of its main objectives is to regulate the financial transactions between airlines and travel agents and cargo. When an agency or airline does not pay their debt, they are excluded from operating with IATA's member airlines. In the case of credit-card administrators, they are fully guaranteed by 100% by the issuing institutions.

The exposure consists of the term granted, which fluctuates between 1 and 45 days.

One of the tools the Company uses for reducing credit risk is to participate in global entities related to the industry, such as IATA, Business Sales Processing ("BSP"), Cargo Account Settlement Systems ("CASS"), IATA Clearing House ("ICH") and banks (credit cards). These institutions fulfill the role of collectors and distributors between airlines and travel and cargo agencies. In the case of the Clearing House, it acts as an offsetting entity between airlines for the services provided between them. A reduction in term and implementation of guarantees has been achieved through these entities. Currently the sales invoicing of TAM Linhas Aéreas S.A. related with travel agents and cargo agents for domestic transportation in Brazil is done directly by TAM Linhas Aéreas S.A.

Credit quality of financial assets

The external credit evaluation system used by the Company is provided by IATA. Internal systems are also used for particular evaluations or specific markets based on trade reports available on the local market. The internal classification system is complementary to the external one, i.e. for agencies or airlines not members of IATA, the internal demands are greater.

To reduce the credit risk associated with operational activities, the Company has established credit limits to abridge the exposure of their debtors which are monitored permanently (mainly in case of operational activities of TAM Linhas Aéreas S.A. with travel agents). The bad-debt rate in the principal countries where the Company has a presence is insignificant.

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk represents the risk that the Company has no sufficient funds to meet its obligations.

Because of the cyclical nature of the business, the operation, and its investment and financing needs related to the acquisition of new aircraft and renewal of its fleet, plus the financing needs, the Company requires liquid funds, defined as cash and cash equivalents plus other short term financial assets, to meet its payment obligations. The liquid funds, the future cash generation and the capacity to obtain additional funding, through bond issuance and banking loans, will allow the Company to obtain sufficient alternatives to face its investment and financing future commitments.

At december 31, 2019 is US$ 1,459 million (US$ 1,404 million at december 31, 2018), invested in short term instruments through financial high credit rating levels entities.

In addition to the balance of liquid funds, the Company has access to short-term credit lines. As of december 31, 2019, LATAM has credit lines for working capital that are not committed to several banks and additionally has an unused committed line of US$ 600 million (US$ 600 million as of December 31, 2018) subject to availability of collateral.

Class of liability for the analysis of liquidity risk ordered by date of maturity as of December 31, 2019

The Company has fuel, interest rate and exchange rate hedging strategies involving derivatives contracts with different financial institutions. The Company has margin facilities with each financial institution in order to regulate the mutual exposure produced by changes in the market valuation of the derivatives.

At the end of 2018, the Company had delivered US$ 5.0 million in guarantees for derivative margins, corresponding to cash and standby letters of credit. As of December 31, 2019, US$ 23.7 million were delivered in guarantees corresponding to cash and standby letters of credit. The increase was due to: i) the expiration of hedge contracts, ii) acquisition of new hedge contracts, and iii) changes in fuel prices, changes in exchange rates and interest rates.

3.2. Capital risk management

The Company’s objectives, with respect to the management of capital, are (i) to comply with the restrictions of minimum equity and (ii) to maintain an optimal capital structure.

The Company monitors its contractual obligations and the regulatory limitations in the different countries where the entities of the group are domiciled to assure they meet the limit of minimum net equity, where the most restrictive limitation is to maintain a positive net equity.

Additionally, the Company periodically monitors the short and long term cash flow projections to assure the Company has adequate sources of funding to generate the cash requirement to face its investment and funding future commitments.

The Company international credit rating is the consequence of the Company capacity to face its long terms financing commitments. As of December 31, 2019 the Company has an international long term credit rating of BB- with stable outlook by Standard & Poor’s, a BB- rating with stable outlook by Fitch Ratings and a Ba3 rating with stable outlook by Moody’s.

3.3. Estimates of fair value.

At december 31, 2019, the Company maintained financial instruments that should be recorded at fair value. These are grouped into two categories:

1. Hedge Instruments:

This category includes the following instruments:

- Interest rate derivative contracts,
- Fuel derivative contracts,
- Currency derivative contracts.

2. Financial Investments:

This category includes the following instruments:

- Investments in short-term Mutual Funds (cash equivalent)
- Private investment funds.

The Company has classified the fair value measurement using a hierarchy that reflects the level of information used in the assessment. This hierarchy consists of 3 levels (I) fair value based on quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities, (II) fair value calculated through valuation methods based on inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) and (III) fair value based on inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets, such as investments acquired for trading, is based on quoted market prices at the close of the period using the current price of the buyer. The fair value of financial assets not traded in active markets (derivative contracts) is determined using valuation techniques that maximize use of available market information.

Valuation techniques generally used by the Company are quoted market prices of similar instruments and / or estimating the present value of future cash flows using forward price curves of the market at period end.

The following table shows the classification of financial instruments at fair value, depending on the level of information used in the assessment:

Additionally, at December 31, 2019, the Company has financial instruments which are not recorded at fair value. In order to meet the disclosure requirements of fair values, the Company has valued these instruments as shown in the table below:

The book values of accounts receivable and payable are assumed to approximate their fair values, due to their short-term nature. In the case of cash on hand, bank balances, overnight, time deposits and accounts payable, non-current, fair value approximates their carrying values.

The fair value of other financial liabilities is estimated by discounting the future contractual cash flows at the current market interest rate for similar financial instruments (Level II). In the case of Other financial assets, the valuation was performed according to market prices at period end. The book value of Other financial liabilities, current or non-current, do not include lease liabilities.

NOTE 4 - ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGMENTS

The Company has used estimates to value and record some of the assets, liabilities, income, expenses and commitments. Basically, these estimates refer to:

(a) Evaluation of possible losses due to impairment of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful life

As of december 31, 2019, goodwill amount to ThUS$ 2,209,576 (ThUS$ 2,294,072 as of december 31, 2018), while the intangible assets comprise the Airport Slots for ThUS$ 845,959 (ThUS$ 828,969 as of december 31, 2018) and Loyalty Program for ThUS$ 263,806 (ThUS$ 274,420 as of december 31, 2018).

Management conducts an impairment test annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate potential impairment. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the carrying amount of the cash generating unit (CGU) exceeds its recoverable amount.

For this evaluation, the Company had identified two CGUs, “Air transport” and “Multiplus coalition and loyalty program”, until December 31, 2018. After the merger of Multiplus (see Note 1), administrator of the Multiplus coalition and loyalty program, the Company has determined air transport as a single CGU. The classification of intangible assets of indefinite useful life in the CGUs, before and after the merger of Multiplus S.A. are as follow:

	Air Transport CGU		Coalition and loyalty Program Multiplus CGU
	As of December 31, 2019	As of December 31, 2018	As of December 31, 2019	As of December 31, 2018
	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$	ThUS$
Goodwill	2,209,576	1,845,136	-	448,936
Airport Slots	845,959	828,969	-	-
Loyalty program	263,806	-	-	274,420

Management’s value-in-use calculations included significant judgments and assumptions relating to revenue growth rates, exchange rate, discount rate, inflation rates, fuel price. The estimation of these assumptions requires significant judgment by the management, as these variables feature inherent uncertainty; however, the assumptions used are consistent with Company’s internal planning. Therefore, management evaluates and updates the estimates on an annual basis, in light of conditions that affect these variables. The main assumptions used as well as the corresponding sensitivity analyses are showed in Note 16.

(b) Useful life, residual value, and impairment of property, plant, and equipment

The depreciation of assets is calculated based on the linear model, except for certain technical components depreciated on cycles and hours flown. These useful lives are reviewed on an annual basis according with the Company’s future economic benefits associated with them.

Changes in circumstances such as: technological advances, business model, planned use of assets or capital strategy may render the useful life different to the lifespan estimated. When it is determined that the useful life of property, plant, and equipment must be reduced, as may occur in line with changes in planned usage of assets, the difference between the net book value and estimated recoverable value is depreciated, in accordance with the revised remaining useful life.

Residual values are estimated in accordance with the market value that these assets will have at the end of their useful life. The assets’ residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, once a year. An asset’s carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset’s carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 2.8).

(c) Recoverability of deferred tax assets

Management records deferred taxes on the temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent it is probable that the future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Management applied significant judgment in assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets. In determining the amount of deferred tax assets to be recognized, management considered historical profitability, projected future taxable profit (including assumptions related the revenue growth rates, exchange rates, discount rate and fuel price which are in line with those used in the impairment analysis of the group's cash generating unit) and the expected timing of the reversals of existing temporary differences.

As of December 31, 2019, the Company has recognized deferred tax assets of ThUS$ 235,583 (ThUS$ 273,529 as of December 31, 2018) and has ceased to recognize deferred tax assets on tax losses of ThUS$ 110,933 (ThUS$ 137,761 December 31, 2018) (Note 18).

(d) Air tickets sold that will not be finally used.

The Company records the anticipated sale of air tickets as deferred income. Ordinary income from the sale of tickets is recognized in the income statement when the passenger transport service is provided or expired for non-use. The Company evaluates monthly the probability of expiration of air tickets, with return clauses, based on the history of use of air tickets. A change in this probability could generate an impact on revenue in the year in which the change occurs and in future years. As of December 31, 2019 the deferred income associated with the air tickets sold amounts to ThUS$ 1,511,991. - (ThUS$ 1,299,304 as of December 31, 2018). A hypothetical change of one percentage point in passenger behavior with respect to use would result in an impact of up to ThUS$ 6,000 per month.

(e) Valuation of miles and points awarded to holders of loyalty programs, pending use.

As of December 31, 2019, the deferred income associated with the LATAM Pass loyalty program amounts to ThUS$ 1,332,173 (ThUS$ 1,324,635 as of December 31, 2018). A hypothetical change of one percentage point in the probability of exchange of miles would result in an impact of ThUS$ 31,565 in the results of 2019 (ThUS$ 27,726 in 2018). Deferred income associated with the LATAM Pass Brasil loyalty program (See Note 22) amounts to ThUS$ 354,847 as of December 31, 2019 (ThUS$ 293,831 as of December 31, 2018). A hypothetical change of two percentage points in the probability of exchange of points would result in an impact of ThUS$ 12,501 in the results of 2019 (ThUS$ 13,140 in 2018).

Management used statistical models to estimate the miles and point awarded that will not be redeemed, by the programs members (breakage) which involved significant judgments and assumptions relating the historical redemption and expiration activity and forecasted redemption and expiration patterns.

For LATAM Pass Brazil, the expiration occurs after a fixed period from the time of the accumulation. Model is built by the management considering historical expiration rates, to costumers exchange behaviors and relevant segmentations.

For LATAM Pass there are rules that allow members to renew their miles, so the management in conjunction with an external specialist develop a predictive model of non-use miles, which allows to generate non-use rates on the basis of historical information, based on behavior of the accumulation, use and expiration of the miles.

(f) Provisions needs, and their valuation when required

Known contingencies are recognized when: The Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount has been reliably estimated. The Company applies professional judgment, experience, and knowledge to use available information to determine these values, in light of the specific characteristics of known risks. This process facilitates the early assessment and valuation of potential risks in individual cases or in the development of contingent eventualities.

(g) Leases

(i) Discount rate

The discount rate used to calculate the lease debt corresponds, for each aircraft, to the implicit interest rate induced by the contractual elements and residual market values. The implied rate of the contract is the discount rate that gives the aggregated present value of the minimum lease payments and the unguaranteed residual value. This present value should be equal to the sum of the fair value of the leased asset and any initial direct costs of the lessor.

For those leases other than aircraft, we use our estimated incremental borrowing rate, which is derived from information available at the lease commencement date, in determining the present value of lease payments. We consider to our recent debt issuances as well as publicly available data for instruments with similar characteristics when calculating our incremental borrowing rates.

A 100 basis point decrease in our estimate of the rate at January 1, 2019 (the date the adoption of the standard) would increase our lease liability by approximately US$ 105 million.

(ii) Lease term

In determining the lease term, there are considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option, or not exercise a termination option. Extension options (or periods after termination options) are only included in the lease term if the lease is reasonably certain to be extended (or not terminated). The assessment is reviewed if a significant event or a significant change in circumstances occurs which affects this assessment and that is within the control of the lessee.

(h) Investment in subsidiary (TAM)

The management has applied its judgment in determining that LATAM Airlines Group S.A. controls TAM S.A. and Subsidiaries, for accounting purposes, and has therefore consolidated the financial statements.

The grounds for this decision are that LATAM issued ordinary shares in exchange for the majority of circulating ordinary and preferential shares in TAM, except for those TAM shareholders who did not accept the exchange, which were subject to a squeeze out, entitling LATAM to substantially all economic benefits generated by the LATAM Group, and thus exposing it to substantially all risks relating to the operations of TAM. This exchange aligns the economic interests of LATAM and all of its shareholders, including the controlling shareholders of TAM, thus ensuring that the shareholders and directors of TAM shall have no incentive to exercise their rights in a manner that would be beneficial to TAM but detrimental to LATAM. Furthermore, all significant actions necessary of the operation of the airlines require votes in favor by the controlling shareholders of both LATAM and TAM.

Since the integration of LAN and TAM operations, the most critical airline operations in Brazil have been managed by the CEO of TAM while global activities have been managed by the CEO of LATAM, who is in charge of the operation of the LATAM Group as a whole and reports to the LATAM Board.

The CEO of LATAM also evaluates the performance of LATAM Group executives and, together with the LATAM Board, determines compensation. Although Brazilian law currently imposes restrictions on the percentages of voting rights that may be held by foreign investors, LATAM believes that the economic basis of these agreements meets the requirements of accounting standards in force, and that the consolidation of the operations of LAN and LATAM is appropriate.

These estimates were made based on the best information available relating to the matters analyzed.

In any case, it is possible that events that may take place in the future could lead to their modification in future reporting periods, which would be made in a prospective manner.

NOTE 5 - SEGMENTAL INFORMATION

As of December 31, 2019, the Company considers that it has a single operating segment, that of Air Transport. This segment corresponds to the route network for air transport and is based on the way in which the business is managed, according to the centralized nature of its operations, the ability to open and close routes, as well as reassignment (airplanes, crew, personnel, etc.) within the network, which implies a functional interrelation between all of them, making them inseparable. This segment definition is one of the most common worldwide in the airline industry.

Until June 2019, the Company presented two operating segments, the one corresponding to Air transport and the Multiplus coalition and loyalty program segment, discussed in Note 1, the Company Multiplus S.A. Administrator of the Coalition and Loyalty Program Multiplus merged into TAM Linhas Aereas S.A., ceasing to be an entity with independent administration. The Multiplus coalition and Loyalty program, which was defined as an operating segment, due to this independent administration, became part of the Air Transport segment together with the LATAM Pass and LATAM fidelidades programs.

The company has restated the information corresponding to December 31, 2018 and 2017 for the presentation of a single segment of information.

Once pre-judicial and judicial collection efforts are exhausted, the assets are written off against the allowance. The Company only uses the allowance method rather than direct write-off, to ensure control.

The historical and current renegotiations are not very relevant, and the policy is to analyze case by case to classify them according to the existence of risk, determining if their reclassification corresponds to pre-judicial collection accounts.

The maximum credit-risk exposure at the date of presentation of the information is the fair value of each one of the categories of accounts receivable indicated above.

(2) Aircraft maintenance reserves reflect prepayment deposits made by the group to lessors of certain aircraft under operating lease agreements in order to ensure that funds are available to support the scheduled heavy maintenance of the aircraft.

These amounts are calculated based on performance measures, such as flight hours or cycles, are paid periodically (usually monthly) and are contractually required to be repaid to the lessee upon the completion of the required maintenance of the leased aircraft. At the end of the lease term, any unused maintenance reserves are either returned to the Company in cash or used to offset amounts that we may owe the lessor as a maintenance adjustment.

In some cases, (five lease agreements), if the maintenance cost incurred by LATAM is less than the corresponding maintenance reserves, the lessor is entitled to retain those excess amounts at the time the heavy maintenance is performed. The Company periodically reviews its maintenance reserves for each of its leased aircraft to ensure that they will be recovered and recognizes an expense if any such amounts are less than probable of being returned. The cost of aircraft maintenance in the last years has been higher than the related maintenance reserves for all aircraft.

As of December 31, 2019, maintenance reserves amount to ThUS$ 45,831 (ThUS$ 52,667 as of December 31, 2018), corresponding to 8 aircraft that maintain remaining balances, which will be settled in the next maintenance or return.

Aircraft maintenance reserves are classified as current or non-current depending on the dates when the related maintenance is expected to be performed (Note 2.23).

NOTE 13 - NON-CURRENT ASSETS AND DISPOSAL GROUP CLASSIFIED AS HELD FOR SALE

Non-current assets and disposal group classifieds as held for sale at December 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, are detailed below:

	As of December 31, 2019 ThUS$	As of December 31, 2018 ThUS$

Engines and rotables	1,943	5,299
Other	401	204
Total	485,150	5,768

The balances are presented at the lower of book value and fair value less cost to sell. The fair value of these assets was determined based on quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities. This is a level II measurement as per the fair value hierarchy set out in Note 3.3 (2). There were no transfers between levels for recurring fair value measurements during the year.

- a) Assets reclassified from Property, plant and equipment to Non-current assets or groups of assets for disposal classified as held for sale.

During 2019, four Airbus A350, aircraft two Boeing 767, were reclassified from Property, plants and equipment to Non-current assets or groups of assets for disposal classified as held for sale.

Additionally, during 2019, the sale of one motor spare Boeing 767 and one Boeing 767 aircraft were materialized. As a result of the above, during of 2019, adjustments for US $ 2 million of expense were recognized to record these assets at their net realizable value.

The detail of the fleet classified as non-current assets and disposal group classified as in disregard held for sale is as follows:

As of December 31, 2019, the Company maintains only the CGU “Air Transport”, due to the merger of Multiplus S.A. in TAM Linhas Aereas (see Note 1), and changes in the management structure.

The CGU “Air transport” considers the transport of passengers and cargo, both in the domestic markets of Chile, Peru, Argentina, Colombia, Ecuador and Brazil, as well as in a series of regional and international routes in America, Europe and Oceania.

The recoverable amount of the CGU has been determined based on the value in use calculations which require the use of assumptions. These calculations use cash flow projections covering a 5 year period which is based on the financial budgets approved by management. Cash flows beyond the 5 year period are extrapolated using the estimated revenue growth rates and average volumes, which do not exceed the average long-term revenue growth rates.

Management’s cash flow projections included significant judgements and assumptions related to annual revenue growth rates, discount rate, inflation rates, the exchange rate and price of fuel. The annual revenue growth rate is based on past performance and management’s expectations of market development in each of the countries in which it operates. The discount rates used, for the CGU “Air transport”, are in determined in US dollars, after taxes, and reflect specific risks related to the relevant countries of each of the operations. Inflation rates and exchange rates are based on the data available from the countries and the information provided by the Central Bank of the various countries where it operates, and the price of fuel is determined based on estimated levels of production, the competitive environment of the market in which they operate and their commercial strategy.

As of December 31, 2019 the recoverable values were determined using the following assumptions presented below:

		Air transportation CGU
Annual growth rate (Terminal)	%	1.0 - 2.0
Exchange rate (1)	R$/US$	4.0 - 4.9
Discount rate based on the weighted average cost of capital (WACC)	%	7.50 - 8.50
Fuel Price from futures price curves commodities markets	US$/barrel	79 - 80

(1) In line with the expectations of the Central Bank of Brazil

The result of the impairment test, which includes a sensitivity analysis of its main variables, showed that the estimated recoverable amount exceeded the carrying amount of the cash generating unit, and therefore no impairment was detected.

The calculation of the recoverable value of the CGU is most sensitive to annual revenue growth rates, discount and exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis included the individual impact of the variations of the critical estimates when determining the recoverable amounts, namely:

	Increase Maximum WACC %	Decrease Minimum terminal growth rate %
Air transportation CGU	8.5	1.0

In none of the previous cases there was an impairment of the cash generating unit.

(c) Method used for the depreciation of Property, plant and equipment:

	Method	Useful life (years)
		minimum	maximum
Buildings	Straight line without residual value	20	50
Plant and equipment	Straight line with residual value of 20% in the short-haul fleet and 36% in the long-haul fleet. (*)	5	30

(*) Except in the case of the Boeing 767 300ER and Boeing 767 300F fleets that consider a lower residual value due to the extension of their useful life to 22 and 30 years respectively. Additionally, certain technical components are depreciated based on cycles and hours flown.

The aircraft with remarketing clause () under modality of financial leasing, which are depreciated according to the duration of their contracts, between 12 and 18 years. Its residual values are estimated according to market value at the end of such contracts.

() Aircraft with remarketing clause are those that are required to sell at the end of the contract.

In the year 2019, the charge to income for the depreciation of the year, which is included in the consolidated statement of income, amounts to ThUS$ 1,221,991, ThUS$ 1,155,061 and ThUS$ 1,462,562 for the same period of the year 2018 and 2017; those amounts include depreciation of assets for right of use, for ThUS$ 400,384, ThUS$ 391,138 and ThUS$ 375,510, respectively. This expense is recognized in the cost of sales and administrative expenses of the consolidated statement of income.

NOTE 18 - CURRENT AND DEFERRED TAXES

In the period ended December 31, 2019, the income tax provision was calculated for such period, applying the partially integrated taxation system and a rate of 27%, in accordance with the Law No. 20,780 published in the Official Journal of the Republic of Chile on September 29, 2014.

Deferred taxes are recognized, on the temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements.

No deferred tax has been recorded for permanent difference, since they are caused by transactions that are recorded in the financial statements and that will not have impact on income taxes.

(1) On February 11, 2019, LATAM Finance Limited, a company incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability and exclusively owned by LATAM Airlines Group SA, has issued on the international market, pursuant to Rule 144-A and Regulation S of the securities laws of the United States of America, unsecured long-term bonds for a nominal amount of US $ 600,000,000 at an annual interest rate of 7.00%. The bonds were placed at an issue price of 99.309% with respect to its even value. The bonds have semiannual interest payments and amortization of all capital at maturity and maturity date on March 1, 2026, unless they will be redeemed early according to their terms. As reported to the market, the issuance and placement was intended to finance general corporate purposes.

(2) On June 6, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. has issued in the local market (Santiago Stock Exchange) long-term unsecured bonds called Series E (BLATM-E), which correspond to the first series of bonds charged to the line registered in the Registro de Comisión para el Mercado Financiero ("CMF") under the number N° 921 dated November 26, 2018 for a total of UF 9,000,000.

The total amount issued was UF 5,000,000 with an expiration date on April 15, 2029 and a 3.60% annual coupon rate with semiannual interest payments. The placement rate was 2.73%, equivalent to an amount of ThUS$ 215,093.

The funds from the issuance were allocated 50% to the refinancing of liabilities, 30% for the financing of investments and 20% for general corporate purposes.

(3) On July 11, 2019, LATAM Finance Limited, a company incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability and exclusive property of LATAM Airlines Group SA, issued a re-opening of the LATAM 2026 bond, issued on February 11 of 2019, for US $ 200,000,000. This re-opening had a placement rate of 5.979%.

Simultaneously, dated July 11, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. announced an offer for the repurchase of up to US $ 300 million of the unsecured LATAM 2020 bond, which was issued on June 9, 2015 for an amount of US $ 500 million at a coupon rate of 7.25% and due in June 2020. Offer repurchase price was 103.8 cents per dollar of nominal amount for the bonds offered until July 24, 2019, after this date and until August 7, 2019, the offered repurchase price was reduced to 100.8 cents for dollar at the expiration of the offer, a total of US $ 238,412,000 of the bonds were redeemed, of which US $ 238,162,000 arrived on or before July 24, 2019 and US $ 250,000 after that date.

The net proceeds obtained from the re-opening of the LATAM 2026 bond was used to pay a portion of the public offer of the LATAM 2020 bond. The remainder of the public offer was paid in cash.

On December 17, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. The repurchase of the remainder (US $ 262 million) of the unsecured bond LATAM2020 ended, which, added to the repurchase of July 11, 2019, ends the entire balance of the bond. The repurchase was carried out through the buy-back mechanism called “Make-Whole,” which is a right of the bond issuer to repurchase the entire outstanding balance of debt based on a price that is calculated using government treasury bonds. of the United States with maturity close to that of the bond and adding a spread. The repurchase price was 102,45 cents per dollar of nominal bond amount.

(4) In the year ended December 31, 2019, the Company sold its participation in 8 permanent establishments. As a result of the above, the classification of financial liabilities associated with 41 aircraft of guaranteed obligations became financial leases.

- (1) Covers the significant variations in cash flows associated with market risk implicit in the changes in the 3-month LIBOR interest rate and the exchange rate US$/UF of bank loans. These contracts are recorded as cash flow hedges and fair value.
- (2) Covers the significant variations in cash flows associated with market risk implicit in the increases in the 3 months LIBOR interest rates for long-term loans incurred in the acquisition of aircraft and bank loans. These contracts are recorded as cash flow hedges.
- (3) Covers significant variations in cash flows associated with market risk implicit in the changes in the price of future fuel purchases. These contracts are recorded as cash flow hedges.
- (4) They cover the exposure to foreign exchange risk of operating cash flows, mainly caused by the fluctuation of the CLP/US$, R$/US$, US$/EUR and US$/GBP exchange rate. These contracts are registered as cash flow hedge contracts.

During the periods presented, the Company only has cash flow and fair value hedges (in the case of CCS). In the case of fuel hedges, the cash flows subject to such hedges will occur and will impact results in the next 12 months from the date of the consolidated statement of financial position, while in the case of hedges of interest rates, these they will occur and will impact results throughout the life of the associated loans, up to their maturity. In the case of currency hedges through a CCS, there is a group of hedging relationships, in which two types of hedge accounting are generated, one of cash flow for the US $ / UF component; and another of fair value, for the floating rate component US $. The other group of hedging relationships only generates cash flow hedge accounting for the US $ / UF component.

Since none of the coverage resulted in the recognition of a non-financial asset, no portion of the result of the derivatives recognized in equity was transferred to the initial value of such assets.

The amounts recognized in comprehensive income during the period and transferred from net equity to income are as follows:

- (1) Cumulative balances include judicial deposit delivered as security, with respect to the “Aerovia Fundo” (FA), for US$ 88 million, made in order to suspend the application of the tax credit. The Company is discussing in the Court the constitutionality of the requirement made by FA in a lawsuit. Initially it was covered by the effects of a precautionary measure, this means that the Company would not be obliged to collect the tax, as long as there is no judicial decision in this regard. However, the decision taken by the judge in the first instance was published unfavorably, revoking the injunction. As the lawsuit is still underway (TAM appealed this first decision), the Company needed to make the judicial deposit, for the suspension of the enforceability of the tax credit; deposit that was classified in this item, discounting the existing provision for this purpose. Finally, if the final decision is favorable to the Company, the deposit made will return to TAM. On the other hand, if the court confirms the first decision, said deposit will become a final payment in favor of the Government of Brazil. The procedural stage as of December 31, 2019 is described in Note 31 in the Role of the case 2001.51.01.012530-0.

2) European Commission Provision:

Provision constituted on the occasion of the process initiated in December 2007 by the General Competition Directorate of the European Commission against more than 25 cargo airlines, among which is Lan Cargo SA, which forms part of the global investigation initiated in 2006 for possible infractions of free competition in the air cargo market, which was carried out jointly by the European and United States authorities.

With respect to Europe, the General Directorate of Competition imposed fines totaling € 799,445,000 (seven hundred and ninety-nine million four hundred and forty-five thousand Euros) for infractions of European Union regulations on free competition against eleven (11) airlines, among which are LATAM Airlines Group SA and its subsidiary Lan Cargo S.A. For its part, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Lan Cargo S.A., jointly and severally, have been fined for the amount of € 8,220,000 (eight million two hundred and twenty thousand Euros), for these infractions, an amount that was provisioned in the financial statements of LATAM. On January 24, 2011, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Lan Cargo S.A. They appealed the decision before the Court of Justice of the European Union. On December 16, 2015, the European Court resolved the appeal and annulled the Commission's Decision. The European Commission did not appeal the judgment, but on March 17, 2017, the European Commission again adopted its original decision to impose on the eleven lines original areas, the same fine previously imposed, amounting to a total of 776,465,000 Euros. In the case of LAN Cargo and its parent, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. imposed the same fine of 8.2 million Euros. The procedural stage as of December 31, 2019 is described in Note 31 in section (ii) judgments received by LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries.

(1) The balance includes, mainly, deferred income for services not provided as of December 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018; and programs such as: LATAM Pass, LATAM Fidelidade and Multiplus:

LATAM Pass is the frequent passenger program created by LAN to reward the preference and loyalty of its customers with multiple benefits and privileges, through the accumulation of miles that can be exchanged for free flight tickets or for a varied range of products and services. Customers accumulate LATAM Pass miles every time they fly on LAN, TAM, oneworld® member companies and other airlines associated with the program, as well as buying at stores or using the services of a vast network of companies that have an agreement with the program around the world.

For its part, TAM, thinking of people who travel constantly, created the LATAM Fidelidade program, in order to improve the service and give recognition to those who choose the company. Through the program, customers accumulate points in a wide variety of loyalty programs in a single account and can redeem them in all TAM destinations and associated airline companies, and even more, participate in the Multiplus Fidelidade Network.

Multiplus is a coalition of loyalty programs, with the objective of operating accumulation and exchange of points. This program has a network integrated by associated companies, including hotels, financial institutions, retail companies, supermarkets, vehicle leases and magazines, among many other partners from different segments.

After the merger of Multiplus S.A. described in Note1, the Latam Fidelidade programs and the Multiplus coalition and loyalty program become part of the Latam Pass Brazil Program.

During 2018 the Company signed a renewal of the agreement with Banco Santander-Chile, which one extends its alliance in Chile to continue developing travel benefits to its respective clients during the next 7 years, and during 2019 signed a renewal of the agreement with Banco Crédito del Perú.

On September 26, 2019, the Company signed a framework agreement with Delta Air Lines, Inc, in which the latter agreed to pay ThUS $ 350,000 for compensation of costs and revenues that the Company must incur or cease to receive, respectively, during the transition period until the implementation of the strategic alliance. ThUS$ 150,000 was received on September 2019.

During December 2019, the Company sold its rights to receive future payments of the committed transition. The payments consisted of ThUS $ 200,000 payable in 8 quarterly installments of ThUS $ 25,000 as of January 2, 2020. On December 13, 2019, the Company received ThUS $ 194,068 for said sale. Account receivable was derecognized and ThUS$ 5,932 was recognized as financial cost on income statement.

- (2) As of December 31, 2019, Deferred Income includes ThUS $ 315,225 corresponding to the balance due from the compensation committed from Delta Airlines Inc., which will be recognized in income, on a systematic basis over the period in which related cost it intends to compensate, until the implementation of the strategic alliance. During the year, the Company recognized ThUS $ 4,435 for this concept.

Additionally, the Company maintains a balance of ThUS $ 30,340 in the Commercial accounts payable item of the Statement of Financial Position regarding to Delta compensation, for the cost already incurred.

The principal assumptions used in the calculation to the provision in Chile are presented below:

Assumptions	For the period ended December 31,
	2019	2018
Discount rate	3.13%	4.27%
Expected rate of salary increase	4.5%	4.50%
Rate of turnover	6.04%	6.60%
Mortality rate	RV-2014	RV-2014
Inflation rate	2.8%	2.7%
Retirement age of women	60	60
Retirement age of men	65	65

The discount rate corresponds to the 20-year term rate of the BCP Central Bank of Chile Bonds. The RV-2014 mortality tables correspond to those established by the Commission for the Financial Market of Chile and for the determination of the inflation rates; the market performance curves of Central Bank of Chile papers of the BCUs have been used. BCP long term at the date of scope.

The calculation of the present value of the defined benefit obligation is sensitive to the variation of some actuarial assumptions such as discount rate, salary increase, rotation and inflation.

NOTE 25 - EQUITY

(a) Capital

The Company's objective is to maintain an appropriate level of capitalization that enables it to ensure access to the financial markets for carrying out its medium and long-term objectives, optimizing the return for its shareholders and maintaining a solid financial position.

The paid capital of the Company at December 31, 2019 amounts to ThUS$ 3,146,265 divided into 606,407,693 common stock of a same series (ThUS$ 3,146,265 (*) divided into 606,407,693 shares as of December 31, 2018), a single series nominative, ordinary character with no par value. There are no special series of shares and no privileges. The form of its stock certificates and their issuance, exchange, disablement, loss, replacement and other similar circumstances, as well as the transfer of the shares, is governed by the provisions of Corporations Law and its regulations.

(*) Includes deduction of issuance costs for ThUS$ 3,299 and adjustment for placement of 10,282 shares for ThUS$ 156, approved at the Extraordinary Shareholders Meeting of the Company on April 27, 2017.

(b) Subscribed and paid shares

On August 18, 2016, the Company held an extraordinary shareholders' meeting at which it was approved to increase the capital by issuing 61,316,424 payment shares, all ordinary, without par value. As of December 31, 2016, 60,849,592 shares had been placed against said increase, according to the following breakdown: (a) 30,499,685 shares subscribed and paid at the end of the pre-emptive option period, which expired on December 23, 2016; December 2016, collecting the equivalent of US $ 304,996,850; and (b) 30,349,907 additional shares subscribed on December 28, 2016, collecting the equivalent of US$ 303,499,070. Due to this last described placement, as of December 31, 2019, the number of subscribed and paid shares of the Company reached 606,407,693. On August 18, 2019, there was a full reduction of capital after the expiration of the three-year legal term to subscribe the balance of 466,832 shares depending on the placement of this capital increase. Consequently, at December 31, 2019 the statutory capital of the Company is represented by 606,874,525 shares, all of the same and unique series, registered, ordinary, without par value, which is divided into. The following table shows the movement of authorized and fully paid shares previously described above:

These originate from exchange differences arising from the translation of any investment in foreign entities (or Chilean investment with a functional currency different to that of the parent), and from loans and other instruments in foreign currency designated as hedges for such investments. When the investment (all or part) is sold or disposed and loss of control occurs, these reserves are shown in the consolidated statement of income as part of the loss or gain on the sale or disposal. If the sale does not involve loss of control, these reserves are transferred to non-controlling interests.

These originate from the fair value valuation at the end of each period of the outstanding derivative contracts that have been defined as cash flow hedges. When these contracts expire, these reserves should be adjusted, and the corresponding results recognized.

(f.3) Reserves of actuarial gains or losses on defined benefit plans

Correspond to the increase or decrease in the obligation present value for defined benefit plan due to changes in actuarial assumptions, and experience adjustments, which is the effects of differences between the previous actuarial assumptions and what has actually occurred.

Tam Viagens S.A.	Fazenda Pública do Município de São Paulo.	1004194- 37.2018.8.26.0053	This is a voidance action appealing the charges for violations and fines (67.168.795 / 67.168.833 / 67.168.884 / 67.168.906 / 67.168.914 / 67.168.965). We are arguing that numbers are missing from the ISS calculation base since the company supposedly made improper deductions.	The lawsuit was assigned on January 31, 2018. That same day, a decision was rendered suspending the charges without any bond. The municipality filed an appeal against this decision on April 30, 2018. A decision was rendered on November 11, 2019 fully in favor of Tam Viagens S.A. We are waiting to see if the Municipality files an appeal.	95,216

LATAM Airlines Group S.A. y Lan Cargo S.A.	European Commission.		Investigation of alleged infringements to free competition of cargo airlines, especially fuel surcharge. On December 26, 2007, the General Directorate for Competition of the European Commission notified Lan Cargo S.A. and LATAM Airlines Group S.A. the instruction process against twenty five cargo airlines, including Lan Cargo S.A., for alleged breaches of competition in the air cargo market in Europe, especially the alleged fixed fuel surcharge and freight.	On April 14, 2008, the notification of the European Commission was replied. The appeal was filed on January 24, 2011. On May 11, 2015, we attended a hearing at which we petitioned for the vacation of the Decision based on discrepancies in the Decision between the operating section, which mentions four infringements (depending on the routes involved) but refers to Lan in only one of those four routes; and the ruling section (which mentions one single conjoint infraction). On November 9, 2010, the General Directorate for Competition of the European Commission notified Lan Cargo S.A. and LATAM Airlines Group S.A. the imposition of a fine in the amount of THUS$ 9,217 (8,220,000 Euros) This fine is being appealed by Lan Cargo S.A. and LATAM Airlines Group S.A. On December 16, 2015, the European Court of Justice revoked the Commission's decision because of discrepancies. The European Commission did not appeal the decision, but presented a new one on March 17, 2017 reiterating the imposition of the same fine on the eleven original airlines. The fine totals 776,465,000 Euros. It imposed the same fine as before on Lan Cargo and its parent, LATAM Airlines Group S.A., totaling 8.2 million Euros. On May 31, 2017 Lan Cargo S.A. and LATAM Airlines Group S.A. filed a petition with the General Court of the European Union seeking vacation of this decision. We presented our defense in December 2017. On July 12, 2019, we attended a hearing before the European Court of Justice to confirm our petition for vacation of judgment or otherwise, a reduction in the amount of the fine. LATAM AIRLINES GROUP, S.A. expects that the ruling by the General Court of the European Union may reduce the amount of this fine.	9,217

Lan Cargo S.A. y LATAM Airlines Group S.A.	In the High Court of Justice Chancery Division (England) Ovre Romerike District Court (Norway) y Directie Juridische Zaken Afdeling Ceveil Recht (Netherlands) , Cologne Regional Court (Landgerich Köln Germany).		Lawsuits filed against European airlines by users of freight services in private lawsuits as a result of the investigation into alleged breaches of competition of cargo airlines, especially fuel surcharge. Lan Cargo S.A. and LATAM Airlines Group S.A., have been sued in court proceedings directly and/or in third party, based in England, Norway, the Netherlands and Germany.	Cases are in the uncovering evidence stage. In the case in England, mediation was held with nearly all the airlines involved in the aim of attempting to reach an agreement. It began in September, and LATAM Airlines Group S.A. reached an agreement for approximately GBP 636,000. A settlement was signed in December 2018 and payment was made in January 2019. This lawsuit ended for all plaintiffs in the class action, except for one who signed a settlement for approximately GBP 222,469.63 in December 2019. The payment will be made in January 2020, which will put an end to the entire lawsuit in England. The amount remains undetermined for the lawsuits in the remaining countries (Norway, the Netherlands and Germany).	-0-

Aerovías de Integración Regional, AIRES S.A.	United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, Florida, U.S.A. 45th Civil Court of the Bogota Circuit in Colombia.	2013-20319 CA 01	The July 30, 2012 Aerovías de Integración Regional, Aires S.A. (LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA) initiated a legal process in Colombia against Regional One INC and Volvo Aero Services LLC, to declare that these companies are civilly liable for moral and material damages caused to LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA arising from breach of contractual obligations of the aircraft HK-4107. The June 20, 2013 AIRES SA And / Or LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA was notified of the lawsuit filed in U.S. for Regional One INC and Dash 224 LLC for damages caused by the aircraft HK-4107 arguing failure of LATAM AIRLINES GROUP S.A. customs duty to obtain import declaration when the aircraft in April 2010 entered Colombia for maintenance required by Regional One.	Colombia. This case is being heard by the 45th Civil Court of the Bogota Circuit in Colombia. Statements were taken from witnesses presented by REGIONAL ONE and VAS on October 31, 2018. The court received the expert opinions requested by REGIONAL ONE and VAS and given their petition, it asked the experts to expand upon their opinions. It also changed the experts requested by LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA. The case was brought before the Court on September 10, 2018 and these rulings are pending processing so that a new hearing can be scheduled. On October 31, 2018, the judge postponed the deadline for the parties to answer the objection because of a serious error brought to light by VAS regarding the translation submitted by the expert. The process has been in the judge's chambers since March 11, 2019 to decide on replacing the damage estimation expert as requested by LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA. The one previously appointed did not take office. A petition has also been made by VAS objecting to the translation of the documents in English into Spanish due to serious mistakes, which was served to the parties in October 2018. The 45th Civil Circuit Court issued an order on August 13, 2019 that did not decide on the pending matters but rather voided all actions since September 14, 2018 and ordered the case to be referred to the 46th Civil Circuit Court according to article 121 of the General Code of Procedure. Said article says that court decisions must be rendered in no more than one (1) year as from the service of the court order admitting the claim. If that period expires without any ruling being issued, the Judge will automatically forfeit competence over the proceedings and must give the Administrative Room of the Superior Council of the Judiciary notice of that fact the next day, in addition to referring the case file to the next sitting judge in line, who will have competence and will issue a ruling in no more than 6 months. The case was sent to the 46th Civil Circuit Court on September 4, 2019, which claims that there was a competence conflict and then sent the case to the Superior Court of Bogotá to decide which court, the 45th or 46th, had to continue with the case. Florida. On June 4, 2019, the State Court of Florida allowed REGIONAL ONE to add a new claim against LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA for default on a verbal contract. Given the new claim, LATAM AIRLINES COLOMBIA petitioned that the Court postpone the trial to August 2019 to have the time to investigate the facts alleged by REGIONAL ONE to prove a verbal contract. The State Court granted the postponement of a jury trial to June 2020. In the meantime, the discovery stage continues, including verbal statements by experts on behalf of both parties. There may be some change in the committed amount, which will be reported in due course.	12,443

LATAM Airlines Group S.A.	22° Civil Court of Santiago	C-29.945-2016	The Company received notice of a civil liability claim by Inversiones Ranco Tres S.A. on January 18, 2017. It is represented by Mr. Jorge Enrique Said Yarur. It was filed against LATAM Airlines Group S.A. for an alleged contractual default by the Company and against Ramon Eblen Kadiz, Jorge Awad Mehech, Juan Jose Cueto Plaza, Enrique Cueto Plaza and Ignacio Cueto Plaza, directors and officers, for alleged breaches of their duties. In the case of Juan Jose Cueto Plaza, Enrique Cueto Plaza and Ignacio Cueto Plaza, it alleges a breach, as controllers of the Company, of their duties under the incorporation agreement. LATAM has retained legal counsel specializing in this area to defend it.	The claim was answered on March 22, 2017 and the plaintiff filed its replication on April 4, 2017. LATAM filed its rejoinder on April 13, 2017, which concluded the argument stage of the lawsuit. A reconciliation hearing was held on May 2, 2017, but the parties did not reach an agreement. The Court issued the evidentiary decree on May 12, 2017. We filed a petition for reconsideration because we disagreed with certain points of evidence. That petition was partially sustained by the Court on June 27, 2017. The evidentiary stage commenced and then concluded on July 20, 2017. Observations to the evidence must now be presented. That period expires August 1, 2017. We filed our observations to the evidence on August 1, 2017. We were served the decision on December 13, 2017 that dismissed the claim since LATAM was in no way liable. The plaintiff filed an appeal on December 26, 2017. Arguments were pled before the Santiago Court of Appeals on April 23, 2019, and on April 30, 2019, this Court confirmed the ruling of the trial court absolving LATAM. The losing party was ordered to pay costs in both cases. On May 18, 2019, Inversiones Ranco Tres S.A. filed a remedy of vacation of judgment based on technicalities and on substance against the Appellate Court decision. The Appellate Court admitted both appeals on May 29, 2019 and the appeals are pending a hearing by the Supreme Court.	17,705

United States District Court	19cv23965	A lawsuit filed by Jose Ramon Lopez Regueiro against American Airlines Inc. and Latam Airlines Group S.A. seeking an indemnity for damages caused by the commercial use of the Jose Marti International Airport in Cuba that he says were repaired and reconditioned by his family before the change in government in 1959.	Latam Airlines Group S.A. was served this claim on September 27, 2019. LATAM Airlines Group filed a motion to dismiss on November 26, 2019. In response, a motion to suspend discovery was filed on December 23, 2019 while the Court was deciding on the motion to dismiss. The provision is undetermined.	-0-

- In order to deal with any financial obligations arising from legal proceedings in effect at December 31, 2019, whether civil, tax, or labor, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries, has made provisions, which are included in Other non-current provisions that are disclosed in Note 21.
 - The Company has not disclosed the individual probability of success for each contingency in order to not negatively affect its outcome.
- (*) The Company has reported the amounts involved only for the lawsuits for which a reliable estimation can be made of the financial impacts and of the possibility of any recovery, pursuant to Paragraph 86 of IAS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets.

II. Governmental Investigations.

1) On July 25, 2016, LATAM reached agreements with the U.S. Department of Justice (“DOJ”) and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) regarding the investigation of payments for US$1,150,000 by Lan Airlines S.A. in 2006-2007 to a consultant advising it in the resolution of labor matters in Argentina.

The purpose of the investigation was to determine whether these payments violated the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (“FCPA”) that: (i) forbids bribery of foreign government authorities in order to obtain a commercial advantage; and (ii) requires the companies that must abide by the FCPA to keep appropriate accounting records and implant an adequate internal control system. The FCPA is applicable to LATAM because of its ADR program in effect on the U.S. securities market.

After an exhaustive investigation, the DOJ and SEC concluded that there was no violation of the bribery provisions of the FCPA, which is consistent with the results of LATAM’s internal investigation. However, the DOJ and SEC consider that LATAM accounted for these payments incorrectly and, consequently, infringed the part of the FCPA requiring companies to keep accurate accounting records. These authorities also consider that LATAM’s internal controls in 2006-2007 were weak, so LATAM would have also violated the provisions in the FCPA requiring it to maintain an adequate internal control system.

The agreements signed, included the following:

(a) The agreement with the DOJ involves: (i) entering into a Deferred Prosecution Agreement (“DPA”), which is a public contract under which the DOJ files public charges alleging an infringement of the FCPA accounting regulations. LATAM is not obligated to answer these charges, the DOJ will not pursue them for a period of 3 years, and the DOJ will dismiss the charges after expiration of that 3-year period provided LATAM complies with all terms of the DPA. In exchange, LATAM must admit to the negotiated events described in the DPA and agree to pay the negotiated fine explained below and abide by other terms stipulated in the agreement; (ii) clauses in which LATAM admits that the payments to the consultant in Argentina were incorrectly accounted for and that at the time those payments were made (2006-2007), it did not have adequate internal controls in place; (iii) LATAM’s agreement to have an outside consultant monitor, evaluate and report to the DOJ on the effectiveness of LATAM’s compliance program for a period of 27 months; and LATAM’s agreement to continue evaluating and reporting directly to the DOJ on the effectiveness of its compliance program for a period of 9 months after the consultant’s work concludes; and (iv) LATAM paid a fine of ThUS$ 12,750.

(b) The agreement with the SEC involves: (i) accepting a Cease and Desist Order, which is an administrative resolution of the SEC closing the investigation, in which LATAM will accept certain obligations and statements of fact that are described in the document; (ii) accepting the same obligations regarding the consultant mentioned above; and (iii) LATAM paid a fine of ThUS$ 6,744 and interest of ThUS$ 2,694.

On May 15, 2019, the external consultant certified that the Anticorruption program of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. It is reasonably designed and implemented to prevent and detect violations within LATAM to anti-corruption laws.

On July 23, 2019, the DOJ approved the certification made by the consultant on May 15, 2019 regarding the Anticorruption program of LATAM Airlines Group S.A.

On January 31, 2020, the Florida Court sustained the DOJ's motion to withdraw the criminal action filed against LATAM Airlines Group S.A. as LATAM had fulfilled all the conditions in the DPA. So, the DOJ case is closed.

2) On April 6, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. received notification of the resolution issued by the National Economic Prosecutor's Office (FNE), which begins an investigation into the LATAM Pass frequent passenger program. The last move in the cause Role No. 2530-19 leading this investigation corresponds to LATAM Airlines Group S.A. response in May 2019.

3) On July 9, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. received the resolution issued by the National Economic Prosecutor's Office (FNE), which begins an investigation into the Alliance Agreement between LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and American Airlines INC. The last move in the cause Role No. 2565-19 leading this investigation corresponds to a statement on September 11, 2019

4) On July 26, 2019, the National Consumer Service of Chile (SERNAC) issued the Ordinary Resolution No. 12,711 which proposed to initiate a collective voluntary mediation procedure on effectively informing passengers of their rights in cases of cancellation of flights or no show to boarding, as well as the obligation to return the respective boarding fees as provided by art. 133 C of the Aeronautical Code. The Company has voluntarily decided to participate in this procedure, the terms and conditions of which are being negotiated.

5) On October 15, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. received the resolution issued by the National Economic Prosecuting Authority (FNE) advising of the start of an investigation into the agreement between LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Delta Airlines, Inc. (Case number 2585-19). The Company is cooperating in this investigation.

6) On December 11, 2019, LATAM Airlines Group S.A. received Office No. 122019 / FFD / 208993 by the Fiscalía Regional Metropolitana Centro Norte, requesting information on statements that appeared in the press in Brazil about alleged payments to public officials within the framework of the Asociación Brasileña de Compañías Aéreas, ABEAR. Cause No. 2585-19. The Company is currently cooperating with this process.

NOTE 32 – COMMITMENTS

(a) Loan covenants

The Company and its subsidiaries do not maintain credit agreements that set limits on certain financial indicators of the Company or its subsidiaries, with the exception of those detailed below:

With respect to the various contracts concluded by the Company for the financing of Boeing 787 aircraft that have the guarantee of the Export - Import Bank of the United States of America, limits have been established for some financial indicators of the parent company on a consolidated basis, in respect of which, in any case, non-compliance does not accelerate payment of the loan.

The established limits measured semiannually on the basis of the Consolidated Financial Statements are the following:

- I. Debt to EBITDAR: The ratio of the Company's financial obligations, on a consolidated basis, to EBITDAR must not exceed 6 times.

EBITDAR: It is defined as the net result, excluding interest, depreciation, amortization, rental income and profits or extraordinary losses not related to ordinary course of business.

- II. Fixed charge index: EBITDAR of the last twelve months on the sum of the cash on a consolidated basis required to cover interest expenses during said period, plus lease rental expenses, plus dividends declared or paid by the Company. This index should not be less than 1.2 times.

- III. Minimum liquidity: The cash and cash equivalent of the Consolidated Company must not be less than ThUS$ 75,000.

Regarding the renewable credit line of credit ("Revolving Credit Facility") established with a consortium of twelve banks led by Citibank, with a guarantee of airplanes, engines, spare parts and supplies for a total amount available of US$ 600 million, this includes restrictions of minimum liquidity, measured at the level of the Consolidated Company (with a minimum level of US$ 750 million) and measured at the individual level for LATAM Airlines Group SA and TAM Linhas Aéreas S.A. (with a minimum level of US$ 400 million). Compliance with these restrictions is a precondition for using the line; If the line is used, these restrictions must be reported quarterly, and failure to comply with these restrictions results in acceleration of loan payment. As of December 31, 2019, this line of credit is not used.

As of December 31, 2019, the Company is in compliance with all the financial indicators detailed above.

On the other hand, the Company's financing contracts generally establish clauses related to changes in the ownership structure and in the controller and disposition of the assets (as refer mainly to important transfers of assets).

In particular, the contract "Indenture" signed between Guanay Finance Limited (see Note 1), LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Citibank, N.A. on November 7, 2013, it includes clauses related to changes in the ownership structure and Company controller, which generate the anticipation of certain payment obligations. As result of the acquisition of 20% of the shares of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. by Delta Air Lines, Inc., the debt held by Guanay Finance Limited, which mature in December 2020, will be paid in March 2020, this was considered by the Company.

Finally, we Note that the particular terms of the aforementioned clauses regarding the Indenture contract are not included in any other financing contract that the Company maintains in force as of this date.

NOTE 36 - THE ENVIRONMENT

LATAM Airlines Group S.A has a commitment to sustainable development seeking to generate value taking into account the governance, environmental and social aspects. The company manages environmental issues at a corporate level, centralized in the Sustainability Management. For the company to monitor and minimize its impact on the environment is a commitment of the highest level; where the continuous improvement and contribute to the solution of the global climate change problem, generating added value to the company and the region, are the pillars of its management.

One of the functions of the Sustainability Management in environmental issues, together with the various areas of the Company, is to ensure environmental compliance, implement a management system and environmental programs that comply with the requirements every day more demanding worldwide; in addition to continuous improvement programs in their internal processes, which generate environmental, social and economic benefits and which are added to those currently carried out.

Within the sustainability strategy, the Environment dimension of LATAM Airlines Group S.A., is called Climate Change and is based on the goal of achieving world leadership in this area, and for which we work on the following aspects:

- i. Carbon footprint
- ii. Eco Efficiency
- iii. Sustainable Alternative Energy
- iv. Standards and Certifications

This is how, during 2019, the following initiatives have been carried out:

- Implementation of an Environmental Management System for the main operations of the company. It is highlighted that the company during 2018 has recertified its environmental management system in Miami facilities following the guidelines of the international standard ISO 14.001.
- Maintenance of the Stage 2 Certification of IATA Environmental Assessment (IEnvA) whose scope is the international flights operated from Chile, the most advanced level of this certification; being the first in the continent and one of the four airlines in the world that have this certification.

- Maintenance of the Stage 1 Certification of IEnvA of our operation in Colombian, achieved in 2018
- Preparation of the environmental chapter for the sustainability report of the company 2019, which allows to measure progress in environmental issues.
- Answer to the questionnaire of the DJSI.
- Measurement and external verification of the Corporate Carbon Footprint.
- Neutralization of domestic air operations in Colombia.
- Neutralization of land operations in all spanish speaking countries through the purchase of carbon credits for an emblematic project in the Amazon.
- Incorporation of 100% electric power from renewable sources in the maintenance base facilities and the corporate building of operations in Chile.
- Implementation of the Recycle Your Trip program, which seeks to manage the waste generated on board domestic flights in Chile. This program aims to incorporate a hub every 6 months.

It is highlighted that in 2019, LATAM Airlines Group maintained its inclusion for the sixth consecutive year in the world category of the Dow Jones Sustainability Index, with only 3 airlines in the world belonging to this select group.

NOTE 37 - EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO THE DATE OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Subsequent to the closing date of the financial statements as of December 31, 2019, there has been a significant variation in the exchange rate (Central Bank of Brazil) R $ / US $, from R $ 4.03 to US$ to R $ 4.85 per US$ to March 13, 2020, which represents a depreciation of 20.23% of the Brazilian currency.

On March 12, 2020, LATAM Airlines and its Affiliates announced the suspension of its guidance 2020 in light of the uncertainty due to the COVID-19 (coronavirus) outbreak that is affecting the demand for air traffic. Accordingly, LATAM Airlines Group and its affiliates announced a decrease in capacity of approximately 30% of international operations. On March 16, 2020, LATAM Airlines and its affiliates updated the decrease in capacity to approximately 70% of the total operations, corresponding 90% to international operations and 40% to domestic operations.

As of this date, it is not possible to quantify the exact impact on demand or how long it may take to recover, making it impossible to estimate results for the full year.

After December 31, 2019 and until the date of issuance of these financial statements, there is no knowledge of other events of a financial or other nature, which significantly affect the balances or interpretation thereof.

The consolidated financial statements of LATAM Airlines Group S.A. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2019, have been approved in the Extraordinary Board Session of March 16, 2020.

/s/ Ramiro Alfonsín Balza

Name: Ramiro Alfonsín Balza

Title: LATAM Airlines Group CFO

BY-LAWS LATAM AIRLINES GROUP S.A.

SECTION ONE: Name, Registered Office and Purpose

Article 1: A corporation is incorporated that will be governed by the rules applicable to open corporations and will be called LATAM Airlines Group S.A., although it may also indistinctively use the fictitious names of “LATAM Airlines”, “LATAM Airlines Group”, “LATAM Group”, “LAN Airlines”, “LAN Group” y/o “LAN”

Article 2: The Company will have its registered offices in the city of Santiago, borough of the same name, although it may establish agencies, branches, offices or establishments in other places in the country or abroad.

Article 3: The duration of the Company will be indefinite.

Article 4: The Company shall engage in:

- (a) the trade of any form of air and/or ground transportation, whether passenger, cargo, or mail, and of everything relating directly or indirectly to that activity, in the country or abroad, for its own account or others;
 - (b) the rendering of services relating to the maintenance and repair of aircraft, whether own or third parties;
 - (c) the development and exploitation of other activities derived from the business purpose and/or linked, related, cooperative or complementary thereto;
 - (d) the trade and development of activities relating to travel, tourism and lodging; and
 - (e) holding interests in companies of any type or kind that facilitate the business of the Company.

SECTION TWO: Capital, Shares and Shareholders

Article 5¹: The capital of the Company is US$3,174,555,519.29, divided into 608,374,525 shares in one single series, with no par value. There are no special series of shares or privileges. The form of share certificates, their issuance, exchange, ruin, misplacement, replacement and other circumstances thereof as well as the transfer of shares shall be governed by the provisions in the Companies Law and its Regulations.

Article 6: Shareholders may stipulate agreements limiting the free transfer of shares, but those agreements shall be deposited with the Company and be available to other shareholders and interested third parties, and they shall be annotated in the shareholders registry in order to be valid

SECTION THREE: Management

Article 7: The Company will be managed by the Board of Directors that will be elected by the Shareholders Meeting.

Article 8: The Board will be comprised of nine members and will hold office for two years. Members may be reelected. There will be no need to be a shareholder in order to be a director. The Board will appoint a Chairman and a Vice Chairman from among its members. The Vice Chairman shall substitute for the Chairman in the event of the latter's absence or impediment. The Board of Directors may appoint an Interim Chairman whenever the Chairman and Vice Chairman are absent or suffer from an impediment. The absences or impediments behind such substitution shall not have to be proven to third parties.

Article 9: The entire Board of Directors shall be elected at the next Regular Shareholders Meeting to be held by the Company whenever there is a vacancy in a Directorship. The Board may appoint a replacement in the interim.

Article 10: Directors will be compensated for their office. Whether they will be compensated and the amount thereof will be determined annually by the Regular Shareholders Meeting.

Article 11: Board meetings shall be installed by the presence of a majority of Directors. Resolutions will be adopted by an absolute majority of the Directors present, save resolutions that require a higher majority according to the law or these by-laws.

Any tie shall be decided by the vote of the Chairman of the Meeting. The Chief Executive Officer of the Company shall act as Secretary or the person expressly appointed by the Board of Directors to that position.

Article 12: The Board shall hold regular meetings on the days and at the times it determines. In any case, it shall meet at least once a month. Special meetings may be held when they are convened specially by the Chairman together with two directors and/or at the request of an absolute majority of directors, in which case the meeting must necessarily be held.

Article 13: The Board represents the Company judicially and extrajudicially and shall be vested, in order to fulfill the business purpose, which shall not be necessary to prove to third parties, with all powers of administration and disposition that the Law, Regulations and these by-laws do not reserve for the shareholders meeting. There will be no need to grant any special power of attorney, including for those acts or contracts regarding which the laws require such an event, as provided in article 40 of the Law. The foregoing is without prejudice to the judicial representation pertaining to the Chief Executive Officer of the Company. The Board of Directors may delegate part of its authority to the General Manager, Managers, attorneys of the Company, to one director or a committee of directors, and to other people for certain special purposes.

Article 14: The deliberations and resolutions of the Board of Directors shall be written down in a minutes book that will be signed on each occasion by the directors who attended the meeting and by the Secretary. A director who wishes to circumvent his liability for any act or resolution of the Board shall have his opposition recorded in the minutes and that opposition shall be disclosed by the Chairman at the next Regular General Shareholders Meeting. If a director die or be unable for any reason to sign the corresponding minutes, a record of that fact shall be left at the foot of the minutes. The minutes shall be deemed approved as from the time they have been signed by the aforesaid persons, and from that moment the resolutions indicated therein may be implemented.

Article 15: The Company will have an Executive Vice President and a Manager, who will be the legal representative of the Company. Both positions will be appointed by the Board of Directors and may be held by one same person. The Executive Vice President shall have the powers conferred thereupon by the Board of Directors. The Manager shall have the powers delegated thereto by the Board of Directors, notwithstanding those corresponding thereto by the Law and in particular:

- (i) he shall represent the Company judicially with the powers listed in both subparagraphs of article seventh of the Code of Civil Procedure, which are deemed expressly set out.
- (ii) he shall execute and enter into all acts and contracts, whether civil, commercial, administrative or otherwise, conducive to the purposes of the Company within the limits on amount set by the Board; and
- (iii) generally, he shall implement resolutions of the Board and execute all acts for which he has been expressly delegated authority, in the form, amount and conditions that are determined. The Board shall appoint one or more persons who may individually validly represent the company in all notifications made thereto in absence of the Manager, which the interested party shall not have to evidence.

SECTION FOUR: Shareholders Meetings

Article 16: Shareholders shall meet in a regular meeting once a year between February 1 and April 30.

Article 17: Matters for a regular meeting are:

1. the annual appointment of the independent external auditors to examine the accounting, inventory, balance sheet and other financial statements of the Company;
2. the examination of the situation of the Company and of the reports by the external auditors and approval, amendment or rejection of the annual report, balance sheet and financial statements and exhibits;
3. the approval of the distribution of fiscal year profits and the payment of dividends;
4. the election or revocation of the board, liquidators and auditors of management;
5. the determination of the annual compensation of directors;
6. acknowledgement of the resolutions adopted by the Board in which there was opposition of one or more directors.
7. acknowledgement of the resolutions approving acts or contracts in which one or more directors had or have an interest personally or as the representative of another person; and
8. generally, any matter of corporate interest not reserved for a Special Shareholders Meeting.

Article 18: Matters for a Special Shareholders Meeting are:

1. the amendment of the Company's by-laws;
2. the issuance of bonds or debentures convertible to shares;
3. the grant of real or personal guarantees to secure third-party obligations when those third parties are not subsidiaries; and
4. the other matters surrendered to the debate thereof by the by-laws and the law.

Article 19: Notices of meetings shall be given by a prominent advertisement that will be published at least 3 times on different days in a newspaper in the corporate domicile determined by the meeting or, failing agreement, or when compliance therewith is impossible, in the Official Gazette, in the time, form and conditions determined by the Companies Regulations.

In addition to the preceding notice, a notice should be sent by mail to each shareholder a minimum of 15 days in advance of the date of the meeting, which shall contain a reference to the matters to be discussed thereat.

The notice shall mention the resolutions of the Board that the Meeting must study according to Article 44 of the Law. Meetings attended by all issued shares may be validly held even though the formalities required for notice have not been completed.

Article 20: Regular and Special Shareholders Meeting shall be validly installed by representatives of a majority of the issued shares. If that number is not present, a new notice will be given and the Regular or Special Shareholders Meeting will be validly installed by the shareholders attending.

Special Shareholders Meetings shall be held before a notary. Second notices may only be published once the meeting has failed under a first notice or second notice, as the case may be, and a new shareholders meeting shall be convened, regardless, within 45 days after the date set for the meeting that was not held under a first notice.

Notices shall be published in the same period indicated above.

Article 21: Resolutions of both Regular and Special Shareholders Meeting shall be adopted by the affirmative vote of at least an absolute majority of the shares represented at the meeting. In any case, the resolutions indicated in the second subparagraph of article 67 of the Companies Law shall require the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the issued and voting shares. Only shareholders registered in the Shareholders Registry five days in advance of the date of the respective meeting may attend meetings and exercise their right to speak and vote. Directors shall be elected in one single voting, and the persons who earn the nine highest majorities shall be deemed elected. Shareholders may distribute their votes among candidates in the manner they deem convenient. In order to proceed with voting, save unanimously resolution otherwise, the Chairman and Secretary, together with the persons previously designated by the meeting to sign the minutes thereof, shall record in a document the votes that are cast out loud by the shareholders present, in the order of the attendance list. Any shareholder shall have the right, however, to vote on a ballot signed thereby, stating whether he signs personally or on behalf of another.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in order to facilitate the conduct or quickness of the voting, the Chairman or the Superintendency, as the case maybe, may order that voting be taken alternatively and indistinctively out loud or by ballot. When counting votes from the annotations made by the aforesaid persons, the Chairman may read the votes out loud in order for all those present to calculate the votes themselves or to confirm the true outcome through such annotation and ballots.

The Secretary shall add up the votes and the Chairman shall proclaim the top majorities until completing the number to be elected.

The Secretary will put all papers in an envelope that he will close and seal by the company seal, which will be filed with the Company for at least two years.

Article 22: Shareholders may be represented at meetings by other shareholders or by third parties in the form and conditions set down in the Regulations. The proxy granted for the meeting not held shall be deemed valid for the new meeting held instead provided the first meeting was not held due to a lack of quorum.

Article 23: Attendees at meetings shall sign an attendance sheet that will indicate after their signature the number of shares held by the signatory, the number of shares represented by the signatory and the name of the principal.

Article 24: Deliberations and resolutions of Shareholders Meetings shall be set down in a Special Minutes Book that will be kept by the Secretary. Minutes will be signed by the Chairman or by his substitute, by the Secretary and by three Shareholders on behalf of attendees, elected by the meeting.

An abstract of the events of the meeting shall be written in minutes and the following data necessarily recorded: the name of the shareholders present, the number of shares owned or represented by each, a succinct account of any observations, an account of the motions submitted to discussion and the outcome of voting, and the list of shareholders who have voted against those motions, if anyone has requested nominal voting.

Only under the unanimous consent of attendees may the record of some event occurring at the meeting be eliminated from the minutes, provided it relates to corporate interests.

The minutes containing the election of directors shall indicate the names of all shareholders present and specify the number of shares voted by each, personally or on behalf of another, and the general outcome of the voting.

A copy of these minutes will be sent to the Superintendency of Securities and Insurance. The Company shall notify the Superintendency of the appointment of directors who are replaced within three business days.

SECTION FIVE: Annual Report, Balance Sheet and Profits

Article 25: A General Balance Sheet of the Company's assets and liabilities shall be prepared as of December 31st of each year, which will contain the indications required by the laws and regulations.

Article 26: At the Regular General Shareholders Meeting, the Board of Directors shall advise shareholders of the status of the Company's business and present an annual report containing explanatory and analytical information on the transactions performed in the most recent fiscal year, accompanied by the general balance sheet, profit and loss statement and report presented by the external auditors.

All sums earned during the fiscal year by the Chairman and Director shall be placed in separate lines within the profit and loss accounts in such balance sheet.

Article 27: Dividends shall be paid exclusively against net profits from the fiscal year or retained earnings in balance sheets approved by the Shareholders Meeting. Should the Company have accumulated losses, profits earned in the fiscal year shall be first allocated to absorbing those losses. A cash dividend shall be paid annually to shareholders in proportion to their shares, amounting to at least 30% of the net profits from each fiscal year, save resolution otherwise adopted unanimously by the respective meeting.

Article 28: The annual report, balance sheet and inventory, minutes, books and other items supporting them and the report that the external auditors must present shall be available to shareholders for examination at the management's offices for 15 days prior to the date set for the Regular General Shareholders Meeting. For this purpose, the Company shall keep printed or typed copies of those documents in that office. The Company shall send each of the shareholders registered in the respective Registry a copy of the balance sheet and of the annual report of the Company on a date that is no later than the date of the first notice convening a Regular Shareholders Meeting, including the opinion of the auditors and the respective notes, all without prejudice to the provisions in the second and third subparagraphs of article 75 of the law.

Article 29: The Company shall publish the information determined by the Superintendency of Securities and Insurance on its duly audited general balance sheets and profit and loss statements in a widely circulated newspaper in the corporate domicile no less than 10 nor more than 20 days in advance of the date of the Regular Shareholders Meeting that will decide on them. In that same period, the Company shall submit the number of counterparts of such documents to the Superintendency of Securities and Insurance as determined thereby. If the balance sheet and profit and loss statements are modified by the meeting, the changes will be published in the same newspaper within 15 days following the date of the meeting, notwithstanding that they must also be sent to the Shareholders registered in the Registry. The balance sheet shall contain the name of the Chairman, directors, managers and indicate the share transactions performed by such individuals during the fiscal year.

Article 30: When the condition of corporate funds allow and the Board deems it convenient, interim dividends may be paid to Shareholders during the fiscal year on account of profits from that year, under the personal liability of directors approving the resolution, provided there are no cumulative losses.

SECTION SIX: Audit of Management

Article 31: The Regular Shareholders Meeting shall appoint independent external auditors annually to examine the accounting, inventories, balance sheets and other financial statements of the Company, under the obligation to report in writing on fulfillment of their mandate to the next Regular Shareholders Meeting.

SECTION SEVEN: Arbitration

Article 32: Any matter arising among shareholders as such or among them and the company or its managers shall be resolved without form of trial or further remedy by an arbitrator ex aequo et bono appointed by mutual consent of the parties involved, and failing consent, by the ordinary courts, in which case the arbitrator shall be a conciliator in regard to procedure and an arbiter in regard to the ruling. The appointment shall fall upon an attorney who is or has been a deputy justice of the Supreme Court of Justice for at least one year. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the plaintiff in any dispute may remove the hearing thereof from the venue of arbitrators and submit to the decision of the Ordinary Courts.

TRANSITORY ARTICLES

Sole Transitory Article²: The capital of the Company is US$3,174,555,519.29, divided into 608,374,525 shares in one single series, with no par value, which has been and will be subscribed and paid as follows:

FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT

This FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”), dated as of September 26, 2019, is entered into by and between LATAM AIRLINES GROUP S.A., a sociedad anónima organized under the laws of the Republic of Chile (“LATAM”), and DELTA AIR LINES, INC., a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware (“Delta” and together with LATAM, the “Parties”, and each, a “Party”). Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed to the term in Article 1 (Definitions).

RECITALS

WHEREAS, each of the Parties is involved in the transportation of passengers and cargo in the Republic of Chile, the United States and around the world;

WHEREAS, the Parties have agreed that, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, Delta will commence a tender offer for twenty percent (20%) of the issued and outstanding LATAM Shares (the “Equity Investment”);

WHEREAS, each of the Parties wishes to enter into a strategic alliance with the other Party upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement (the “Strategic Alliance”);

WHEREAS, Delta has agreed to (i) make certain payments to LATAM in respect of certain costs that LATAM will incur in connection with transitioning the Strategic Alliance from certain existing arrangements (the “Transition Costs Payments”) and (ii) provide certain transition support and other services to LATAM (the “Transition Support”);

WHEREAS, the Parties wish to enter into one or more agreements to document that (i) Delta has agreed to purchase from LATAM, and LATAM has agreed to sell, certain aircraft in the LATAM fleet, and (ii) LATAM has agreed to assign, and Delta has agreed to assume, certain partially pre-paid orders for specified Airbus aircrafts (the “Aircraft Transactions”); and

WHEREAS, although the Parties intend that each of the Strategic Alliance and the Equity Investment will be independent of, and will not be conditioned on, the consummation of the other transactions, the Parties have determined to take the various steps contemplated by this Agreement and others in furtherance thereof, in each case, based on the understanding that each Party will perform its obligations in respect of all of the foregoing arrangements and transactions.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants and agreements contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Parties, intending to be legally bound, agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1

DEFINITIONS

Section 1.1 Definitions. As used in this Agreement, the following capitalized terms have the respective meanings set forth below.

“15% Threshold” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1(d) (The Tender Offer).

“20% Threshold” means twenty percent (20%) of LATAM Shares.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that directly or indirectly, including through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person. As used in this definition, the term “controls” (including the terms “controlled by” and “under common control with”) means possession, directly or indirectly, including through one or more intermediaries, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by Contract or otherwise; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, with respect to Delta, the term “Affiliate” excludes [] so long as Delta does not have the right to exercise voting power to elect a majority of the board of directors or other governing body of [].

“Airbus” means Airbus SAS, European public company (societas europaea), and its Affiliates.

“Airbus Purchase Agreement” means the Purchase Agreement, dated as of [] (as amended, restated, novated and supplemented), by and between Airbus S.A.S. and Tam-Linhas Aereas S.A.

“Wholly-Owned Delta Subsidiary” means (i) a Subsidiary of Delta one hundred percent (100%) of the voting stock or beneficial ownership of which is owned directly or indirectly by Delta, or by any Person who, directly or indirectly, owns one hundred percent (100%) of the voting stock or beneficial ownership of such Person and (ii) any Wholly Owned Subsidiary of any Affiliate described in clause (i).

Section 1.2 Interpretation; Construction.

(a) The table of contents, articles, titles and headings to sections herein are inserted for convenience of reference only and are not intended to be a part of or to affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Except as otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to “Articles”, “Sections” and “Exhibits” are intended to refer to Articles and Sections of this Agreement and Schedules and Exhibits to this Agreement. The Exhibits referred to herein shall be construed with and as an integral part of this Agreement to the same extent as if they were set forth verbatim herein. Any capitalized terms used in any Exhibit but not otherwise defined therein shall be defined as set forth in this Agreement unless the context otherwise requires.

(b) For purposes of this Agreement: (i) “include,” “includes” or “including” shall be deemed to be followed by “without limitation”; (ii) “hereof,” “herein”, “hereby”, “hereto” and “hereunder” shall refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular provision of this Agreement; (iii) “extent” in the phrase “to the extent” shall mean the degree to which a subject or other item extends and shall not simply mean “if”; (iv) “Dollars” and “U.S.$” shall mean United States Dollars; (v) the singular includes the plural and vice versa; (vi) reference to a gender includes the other gender; (vii) “any” shall mean “any and all”; (viii) “or” is used in the inclusive sense of “and/or”; (ix) reference to any agreement, document or instrument means such agreement, document or instrument as amended, supplemented and modified in effect from time to time in accordance with its terms; (x) “Transferred”, “Transferring” and “Transferee” shall each have a correlative meaning to the term “Transfer”; and (xi) reference to any Law means such Law as amended from time to time and includes any successor legislation thereto and any rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(c) Whenever this Agreement refers to a number of days, such number shall refer to calendar days unless Business Days are specified. Whenever any action must be taken hereunder on or by a day that is not a Business Day, then such action may be validly taken on or by the next day that is a Business Day.

(d) The Parties have participated jointly in the negotiation and drafting of this Agreement with the benefit of competent legal representation, and the language used in this Agreement shall be deemed to be the language chosen by the Parties to express their mutual intent. In the event that an ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the Parties, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring either Party by virtue of the authorship of any provisions hereof.

STRATEGIC ALLIANCE

Section 2.1 Strategic Alliance Agreements. In order to implement the Strategic Alliance, the Parties agree to use reasonable best efforts to negotiate and enter into one or more definitive agreements reflecting the terms set forth in the term sheet attached hereto as Exhibit B and other customary terms for such arrangement to the extent consistent therewith (the “Strategic Alliance Agreements”) as promptly as practicable but in any event no later than two hundred ten (210) days following the date of this Agreement.

Section 2.2 Implementation of Strategic Alliance. The Strategic Alliance Agreements shall become effective (subject to each Party's Existing Agreements) upon execution thereof. With respect to implementation, it is the Parties' intent to simultaneously implement the Strategic Alliance Agreement with respect to all the countries and territories in South America, the United States and Canada where regulatory approval is not required or regulatory approval has been obtained. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that (a) the Minimum Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals have been obtained and (b) regulatory approval in any country or territory other than Brazil, Peru and the United States has not yet been obtained or is not needed, the Parties may jointly agree to proceed with the simultaneous implementation of the Strategic Alliance Agreements in those countries and territories where regulatory approval has been achieved; provided, however, that in such circumstances, the Parties shall so implement the Strategic Alliance on or prior to [] (the date of such implementation, the "Strategic Alliance Implementation Date").

Section 2.3 Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals.

(a) Each of Delta and LATAM shall, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to, use its reasonable best efforts to, on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Section 2.3 (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals) and applicable Law:

(i) (A) prepare and file all notifications, filings, registrations, submissions or other materials (collectively, "Filings") required or necessary to obtain any Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals as promptly as practicable (and in any event within two hundred ten (210) days of the date of this Agreement), (B) obtain, or cause to be obtained, all required Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals as promptly as practicable, (C) respond promptly to any requests for information made by any Governmental Body, including, but not limited to, [], and (D) not take any action that could reasonably be expected to have the effect of delaying, impairing or impeding the receipt of any such Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals; and

(ii) (A) resolve objections, if any, as may be asserted with respect to the Strategic Alliance under any applicable Law, including using reasonable best efforts to defend any Legal Proceedings challenging this Agreement or the implementation of the Strategic Alliance in all applicable countries and territories (including seeking to have any stay or temporary restraining order entered by any court or other Governmental Body vacated or reversed) and (B) in the event that any Legal Proceeding is instituted (or threatened to be instituted) by a Governmental Body or private party challenging the Strategic Alliance, cooperate with the other Party and use its respective reasonable best efforts to defend against, contest and resist any such Legal Proceeding and to have vacated, lifted, reversed or overturned any Order, whether temporary, preliminary or permanent, that is in effect and that prohibits, prevents or restricts implementation of the Strategic Alliance in all applicable countries and territories.

(b) All Filings made in connection with this Section 2.3 (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals) shall be made in substantial compliance with the requirements of applicable Law, including Antitrust Laws. All filing fees payable in connection with the Filings contemplated by this Section 2.3 (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals) shall be paid entirely by Delta.

(c) To the extent not prohibited by applicable Law, each of Delta and LATAM shall (i) cooperate with the other Party and furnish the other Party with such necessary information and assistance as the other may reasonably request in connection with preparations of any necessary Filings or submissions for any Governmental Body, (ii) promptly notify and furnish the other Party copies of any correspondence or communication (including, in the case of any oral correspondence or communication, a summary thereof) between it or any of its Affiliates or any of their respective Representatives, on the one hand, and any relevant Governmental Body, on the other hand, or any Filing such Party submits to any relevant Governmental Body, (iii) consult with and permit the other Party to review in advance any proposed Filing and any written or oral communication or correspondence by such Party or any of its Affiliates to any relevant Governmental Body, (iv) consider in good faith the views of such other Party in connection with any proposed Filing and any written or oral communication or correspondence to any Governmental Body, (v) give prompt notice to each other of any development or combination of developments that, individually or in the aggregate, is reasonably expected to prevent, materially delay or materially impair its ability to implement the Strategic Alliance, (vi) permit each other to review and discuss in advance, and consider in good faith the views of each other in connection with, any proposed written substantive communication with any Governmental Body, (vii) not participate in any meeting or oral substantive communication with any Governmental Body with respect to the Strategic Alliance unless such communication is initiated independently by the Governmental Body or unless it consults with the other Parties in advance and, subject to the approval of the applicable Governmental Body, allows each other Party to participate in such meetings, (viii) furnish each other Party with copies of all substantive correspondence, filings and communications, and memoranda setting forth the substance of any meetings or communications such other Party is not permitted to participate in between it and any such Governmental Body, and (ix) respond as promptly as practicable to any inquiries received from a Governmental Body for additional information or documentation, in each case, to the extent relating to the subject matter of this Section 2.3 (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals) or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including the Strategic Alliance; provided, however, that no Party will be required to take any of the actions contemplated by this Section 2.3(c) (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals) to the extent doing so could cause a loss of legal privilege or would result in the violation of any Contract or applicable Law.

(d) For purposes of this Section 2.3 (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals), reasonable best efforts includes, to the extent required to obtain a Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approval, a Party or any of its Subsidiaries, as applicable, (i) making, committing to, effecting and agreeing to, by consent decree or otherwise, the sale, divestiture, licensing transfer, disposal or other encumbrance of any asset, license, operation, rights, product line, business or interest such Party or its Subsidiaries may have in any third party, (ii) agreeing to any material changes (including through a licensing arrangement) or restriction on, or other impairment of its ability to own or operate any such asset, license, operation, right, product line, business or interest such Party or its Subsidiaries may have in any third party, and (iii) terminating any commercial agreement with any third party company.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything in this Agreement to the contrary, in no event shall Delta or LATAM or any of their respective Affiliates be obligated to take or commit to take any action pursuant to this Section 2.3 (Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals) or Section 12.12 (Further Assurances) (i) to the extent such action(s) would, individually or in the aggregate, [] or (ii) the consummation of which is not conditioned on the implementation of the Strategic Alliance.

Section 2.4 Alternative Transaction. From the date hereof and until the later of the execution of the Strategic Alliance Agreements and the Tender Offer Outside Date:

(a) The Parties shall not, and shall cause each of its Affiliates and its and their respective Representatives not to, directly or indirectly through another Person: (i) initiate, solicit, or encourage or assist any inquiries regarding an Alternative Transaction or the making of any offer, proposal or inquiry relating to, or any third party indication of interest in, an Alternative Transaction, including by way of furnishing or otherwise making available any non-public information or data concerning such Party or any its Affiliates or any assets owned (in whole or part) by such Party or any of its Affiliates; (ii) engage in, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions, communications or negotiations or enter into any agreement or agreement in principle (in each case, whether written or oral) with any Person regarding an Alternative Transaction; (iii) grant any waiver, amendment or release under any standstill or confidentiality agreement concerning an Alternative Transaction; (iv) facilitate any effort or attempt by any Person to make an offer, proposal or inquiry relating to, or any third party indication of interest in, an Alternative Transaction; or (v) otherwise enter into any Contract or other agreement with respect to an Alternative Transaction.

(b) Each of the Parties and their Subsidiaries shall immediately cease and terminate all existing discussions and negotiations, if any, with any other Person conducted on or prior to the date of this Agreement with respect to any Alternative Transaction.

(c) Subject to any limitations under Existing Agreements, each Party shall inform the other Party orally and in writing of any proposal or request for information in connection with or relating to an Alternative Transaction, the material terms and conditions of such request, proposal or Alternative Transaction and the identity of the Person making such request or proposal, in each case, as promptly as practicable and in no event later than three (3) Business Days of the receipt of such request, and shall within such period deliver to the other Party a copy of any such request, proposal or Alternative Transaction. Each Party shall keep the other Party informed of the status and details (including amendments or proposed amendments) of any such request or proposal on a current basis, including the identity of the third party making such request or proposal.

(d) It is the intention of the Parties that if any restriction or covenant contained in this Section 2.4 (Alternative Transaction) is held to cover a geographic area or to be for a length of time which is not permitted by applicable Law, or in any way construed to be too broad or to any extent invalid, such restriction or covenant shall not be construed to be null, void and of no effect, but to the extent such restriction or covenant would be valid or enforceable under applicable Law, a court of competent jurisdiction shall construe and interpret or reform this Section 2.4 (Alternative Transaction) to provide for a covenant having the maximum enforceable geographic area, time period and other provisions (not greater than those contained in this Section 2.4 (Alternative Transaction)) that would be valid and enforceable under such applicable Law.

(e) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.4 (Alternative Transaction): (x) shall not prohibit a Party from taking any action in connection with the performance of, or compliance with, such Party's existing obligations under its Existing Agreements [], (y) shall not bind LATAM (other than the restrictions under Section 2.4(a)(v)) for so long as Delta is in material breach of this Agreement and after notice thereof is given by LATAM, which breach is not curable or, if curable, has not been cured after notice thereof is given by LATAM and (z) shall not bind LATAM after the Tender Offer Outside Date (other than, in the case that the Tender Offer has been consummated in accordance with its terms, the restrictions under Section 2.4(a)(v)).

TRANSITION COSTS PAYMENTS

Section 3.1 Payment at Signing. Within three (3) Business Days of the date of this Agreement, Delta shall pay to LATAM or a designated Subsidiary of LATAM an amount equal to U.S.$150,000,000 (the "Initial Transition Payment") by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the LATAM account specified in Annex 1.

Section 3.2 Future Quarterly Payments. Delta shall pay to LATAM or a designated Subsidiary of LATAM an additional aggregate payment of U.S.$200,000,000 (the “Future Transition Payment” and together with the Initial Transition Payment, the “Total Transition Payment Amount”), which shall be paid in eight (8) equal installments of U.S.$25,000,000 on the first (1st) Business Day of each of the eight (8) Calendar Quarters beginning with the first Calendar Quarter of 2020 by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the LATAM account specified in Annex 1 (or any other account that LATAM may designate in writing at least two (2) Business Days prior to the date on which such payment is due).

Section 3.3 Additional Payments Upon Extraordinary Circumstances.

(a) Additional Payments. Following the Strategic Alliance Implementation Date, LATAM shall review and determine the actual losses and costs []. In the event that LATAM determines following the Strategic Alliance Implementation Date that such losses and costs [] have been greater than U.S.$350,000,000 [], then the chief executive officers of each of LATAM and Delta shall [] to discuss in good faith potential payments and/or other adjustments to be made by Delta to compensate LATAM for such additional costs incurred by LATAM in excess of the Total Transition Payment Amount. In the event that LATAM has determined that its losses and costs [] have exceeded U.S.$350,000,000, LATAM shall provide Delta reasonable access to information regarding its costs and losses [] related to LATAM’s transition to the Strategic Alliance as Delta may reasonably request, subject to Section 3.3(d) (Confidentiality).

(b) Extraordinary Cost Dispute. In the event that the chief executive officers fail to agree on the amount of payment and/or other adjustments to be made by Delta to compensate LATAM pursuant to Section 3.3(a) (Additional Payments), which disagreement is not resolved within sixty (60) days of [] (the “Extraordinary Cost Dispute”), either Party may refer the Extraordinary Cost Dispute to non-binding mediation through a notice of mediation (the “Notice of Mediation”).

(c) Mediation Procedures.

(i) The Parties shall, in the first instance, attempt to agree on a mediator. If the Parties cannot so agree within thirty (30) days after the Notice of Mediation is sent, either of the Parties may promptly apply to the International Chamber of Commerce for appointment of a single mediator in accordance with the Mediation Rules of the International Chamber of Commerce (the “Mediation Rules”). Absent any written agreement to the contrary by the Parties, the mediator shall be an attorney or mediator authorized to practice law in the United States. The mediator shall be paid for the mediation services, and shall be reimbursed for all reasonable and documented out of pocket costs incurred in carrying out the mediation duties hereunder, including the costs of consultants. All fees and costs of the mediation shall be shared equally by the Parties. The Parties shall request that the mediator schedule the mediation within thirty (30) days of the mediator’s appointment, and shall comply with all procedures the mediator establishes for the conduct of the mediation (it being understood and agreed that unless the Parties otherwise in writing, the results of any such mediation and any determination and/or findings made by such mediator shall not be binding upon the Parties). Absent any written agreement to the contrary by the Parties, if the Extraordinary Cost Dispute is not resolved within ninety (90) days of the Notice of Mediation, the mediation shall be terminated.

(ii) For the avoidance of doubt, absent the written agreement of the Parties, the Mediation Rules shall not apply to any mediation carried out pursuant to this Section 3.3 (Additional Payments Upon Extraordinary Circumstances). Rather, the reference to the ICC and the Mediation Rules above should be understood as referring solely to the designation of the ICC as an appointing authority to appoint a mediator pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Mediation Rules in the event the Parties are unable to agree on a mediator within the timeframe specified.

(d) Confidentiality. The Parties agree that any information provided by LATAM pursuant to Section 3.3(b) (Extraordinary Cost Dispute) or pursuant to any mediation carried out pursuant to this Section 3.3 (Additional Payments Upon Extraordinary Circumstances), and the existence of the mediation and any element thereof (including the identity of the Parties, the identity of all witnesses and experts who may be called upon at the mediation, all materials created for the purposes of the mediation, all testimony or other oral submissions at the mediation, and all documents produced by a Party in connection with a mediation that were not already in the possession of the other Party), shall be kept confidential, except (i) with the consent of the Parties, (ii) to the extent disclosure may be lawfully required in bona fide Legal Proceedings relating to the mediation, (iii) upon written advice of legal counsel, where disclosure is required in order to avoid violating applicable Laws or rules of a national securities exchange to which a Party is subject, and (iv) where such information is already in the public domain other than as a result of a breach of this clause. The Parties also agree not to use any information disclosed to them pursuant to Section 3.3(b) (Extraordinary Cost Dispute) or during the mediation for any purpose other than in connection with any mediation as set forth in this Section 3.3 (Additional Payments Upon Extraordinary Circumstances).

(e) Final Decision. Any agreement of the chief executive officers or the Parties in mediation with respect to any additional payment and/or other adjustment that resolves the matters contemplated by this Section 3.3 (Additional Payments Upon Extraordinary Circumstances) shall be final and binding on the Parties only at such time and to the extent that such agreement is documented in writing and executed by both Parties.

Section 3.4 Effect of Termination. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Article 3 (Transition Costs Payments), in the event of termination pursuant to Article 10 (Termination), without prejudice to the rights of the Parties under Section 11.1 (Indemnification for Breach): (a) there shall be no refund of any amounts previously paid in respect of the Total Transition Payment Amount; (b) if such termination is by LATAM pursuant to Section 10.1(b) (Termination) or 10.1(e) (Termination), then the payment of the balance of the Future Transition Payments shall be accelerated and Delta shall pay such balance within three (3) Business Days of such event by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the LATAM account specified in Annex 1 (or any other account that LATAM may designate in writing at least two (2) Business Days prior the date on which such payment is due); and (c) if such termination is by Delta pursuant to Section 10.1(c) (Termination), Delta shall not be required to make any future Transition Cost Payments that have not yet become due. For the avoidance of doubt, in the event of termination pursuant to Section 10.1 (Termination), Section 3.3(a) (Additional Payments) shall not survive such termination.

TRANSITION SUPPORT

Section 4.1 Cooperation.

(a) Subject to any limitations under applicable Law and Existing Agreements of the Parties, following the date hereof each of Delta and LATAM shall work together to promptly implement complementary initiatives to, among other things, [].

(b) Pursuant to the cooperation provided for under Section 4.1(a) (Cooperation) and subject to any limitations under applicable Law and Existing Agreements of the Parties, the Parties shall use their reasonable best efforts to, as promptly as practicable, agree, execute, deliver and implement [].

Section 4.2 []

- (a) The Parties shall, as soon as practicable, use reasonable best efforts to enter into or obtain [].
- (b) Delta shall, at its sole cost and expense, use its reasonable best efforts to obtain, or cause to be obtained, [].
- (c) Delta shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, use reasonable best efforts to [].

ARTICLE 5

AIRCRAFT TRANSACTIONS

Section 5.1 Aircraft Purchase Agreement. In order to implement the Aircraft Transactions, the Parties agree as promptly as practicable (a) following the date of this Agreement but in any event no later than [], to finalize and enter into an agreement for the purchase and sale of certain aircraft substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A-1 (the "Aircraft Purchase Agreement") except as to certain engine maintenance and delivery condition terms, which require additional information from the applicable manufacturer or other third parties, and (b) upon and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Aircraft Purchase Agreement, consummate the transactions described therein.

Section 5.2 Aircraft Assignment.

(a) LATAM (as "Assignor") and Delta (as "Assignee") agree as promptly as practicable following the date of this Agreement but in any event no later than [], to enter into one (1) or more agreements for the assignment to and assumption by Delta of, and release of LATAM from any and each Airbus Purchase Agreement (each, an "Assignment Agreement"). [] Each Assignment Agreement shall also include such other terms and conditions as are customary for assignment agreements and shall be substantially consistent with the terms set forth in Exhibit A-2 (the "Aircraft Assignment Term Sheet").

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, to the extent that the assignment (or attempted assignment) to the Assignee of the Assigned Aircraft would require the Consent of any Person (other than the Parties' respective Subsidiaries or Affiliates) pursuant to its terms or applicable Law, and such Consent shall not have been obtained prior to [] (each such Assigned Aircraft with respect to which Consent has not been obtained, a "Non-Transferable Aircraft"), to the extent permitted by applicable Law, (i) Assignor shall continue to perform its obligations with respect to the Non-Transferable Aircraft under the Airbus Purchase Agreement including, purchasing and accepting delivery of the Non-Transferable Aircraft under the Airbus Purchase Agreement and (ii) each of Assignee and Assignor shall enter into agreements to facilitate, upon the acquisition by LATAM of the Non-Transferable Aircraft under the Airbus Purchase Agreement, the immediate sale of such Non-Transferable Aircraft from LATAM to Delta [], or to facilitate any other mutually agreeable arrangement (any such agreements constituting, an "Alternate Arrangement"), which Alternate Arrangements provide to the Parties the economic and operational equivalent of an assignment of the Assigned Aircraft from LATAM to Delta; provided, however, that Assignee shall indemnify and hold harmless Assignor and its Subsidiaries from and against any and all costs associated with any such Alternate Arrangements [].

ARTICLE 6

ACQUISITION BY DELTA OF MINORITY STAKE IN LATAM

Section 6.1 The Tender Offer.

(a) Commencement of the Tender Offer. Within four (4) Business Days following the Trigger Date, Delta shall launch a public tender offer for 20% (and not more than 20%) of the LATAM Shares (the "Tender Offer") in the manner required by applicable Law and subject to the conditions set forth in the Tender Offer Documents, and shall make such other notices, filings or publications (if any) as are required to be made by it under the applicable rules relating to the Tender Offer; provided that if the thirtieth (30th) day following the contemplated Tender Offer Launch Date is not a business day in Chile, the Tender Offer Launch Date shall be the first date thereafter such that the thirtieth (30th) day following the Tender Offer Launch Date is a business day in Chile (the date of such commencement, the "Tender Offer Launch Date").

(b) Conditions to Commence the Tender Offer. Delta's obligation to launch and commence the Tender Offer shall be subject to the satisfaction or waiver of each of the following conditions (each of which is for the sole benefit of Delta and may be waived by Delta, in whole or in part, in its sole discretion):

(i) Order. No Order shall be in effect that enjoins or makes illegal the commencement or consummation by Delta of the Tender Offer.

(ii) Compliance with Covenants. LATAM shall not have failed to perform or comply in any material respect with any material obligation, covenant or agreement to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement.

(iii) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of LATAM set forth in clauses (a) through (d) of Section 7.1 (Representation and Warranties of Each Party) shall be true and complete in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Trigger Date as though made on and as of such dates. The representations and warranties set forth in the first sentence in clause (f)(i) and clause (f)(ii) of Section 7.1 (Representation and Warranties of Each Party) shall be true and complete in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Trigger Date as though made on and as of such dates except where the failure of any such representations and warranties to be so true and complete would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the business or operations of LATAM or on the Parties' ability to exercise their rights or perform their obligations under this Agreement or the Definitive Agreements.

(iv) Public Filings. (A) Since December 31, 2018, LATAM shall have filed or furnished, as applicable, all material forms, certifications, reports, statements and documents required to be filed or furnished by it to the CMF under Chilean Securities Law and with the SEC pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933 and the Exchange Act, as applicable (such forms, certifications, reports, statements and documents filed or furnished since December 31, 2018 and those filed or furnished subsequent to the date of this Agreement, including any amendments thereto, the "Public Reports"); (B) each of the Public Reports (including any financial statements or other schedules included therein), at the time of its filing or being furnished, complied in all material respects with the applicable requirements of U.S. or Chilean Securities Law applicable to the Public Reports; and (C) as of their respective dates (or, if amended prior to the date of this Agreement, as of the date of such amendment), the Public Reports did not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements made therein, in light of the circumstances in which they were made, not misleading; provided that the condition set forth in this clause (iv) shall be deemed satisfied notwithstanding any failure to satisfy subclauses (A), (B) and (C) above if such failures would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the business or operations of LATAM or on the Parties' ability to exercise their rights or perform their obligations under this Agreement or the Definitive Agreements.

(v) Required Approvals. The HSR Consent shall have been received and shall be in full force and effect.

(vi) No Force Majeure Event. Since the date of this Agreement, there shall not have occurred and be continuing any Force Majeure Event (as defined below) that has a material adverse effect on the ability of LATAM to continue flying and operating its route network in Chile, Peru or Brazil. For purposes of this Section 6.1(b)(vi) (No Force Majeure Event), “Force Majeure Event” shall mean acts of God, war (declared or undeclared), sabotage, blockade, revolution, insurrection, terrorism, expropriation, nationalization, suspension in whole or in part of the national constitution or similar substantial change in Law, and embargo.

(vii) No Insolvency Event. There shall not have occurred any Insolvency Event, or any event or condition that, if left uncured, would mature into an Insolvency Event, with respect to LATAM.

(viii) Absence of Certain Events. LATAM shall not have taken any of the actions set forth in Section 6.1(i)(ii) (since the date of this Agreement).

(c) Terms and Conditions. Delta shall extend the Tender Offer to all holders of LATAM Shares at a price equal to U.S.$16 per LATAM Share; provided, however, that subject to applicable Law, Delta may in its sole discretion increase the price per LATAM Share to be paid in the Tender Offer, which in any case shall be the same for each tendering shareholder of LATAM. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, the price per LATAM Share to be paid in the Tender Offer shall be adjusted appropriately to reflect fully the effect of any cash or stock dividend (including any dividend or distribution of securities convertible into LATAM Shares), other than any dividend required by Chilean Law, stock split, reverse stock split, reorganization, reclassification or any like change with respect to the LATAM Shares having a record date on or after the date of this Agreement and prior to the Trigger Date.

(d) Conditions to the Consummation of the Tender Offer. Delta's obligation to (i) declare the success of the Tender Offer in the Notice of Result and (ii) accept and acquire any LATAM Shares tendered in the Tender Offer shall be, in each case, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of each of the following conditions (each of which is for the sole benefit of Delta and may be waived by Delta, in whole or in part, in its sole discretion):

(i) Tender Offer Documents Conditions. The conditions to consummation of the Tender Offer set forth in the Causales de Caducidad de la Oferta of the Tender Offer Documents shall have been satisfied.

(ii) Minimum Tender. As of the Tender Offer Expiration Date, at least a number of LATAM Shares equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the LATAM Shares issued and outstanding on the Tender Offer Expiration Date (the "15% Threshold") shall have been tendered in the Tender Offer.

(iii) Absence of Certain Events. LATAM shall not have taken any of the actions set forth in Section 6.1(i)(ii) (Conduct of the Business) since the date of this Agreement.

(iv) No Alternative Transaction. Neither LATAM nor any Affiliate thereof shall have entered into any Contract or other agreement with respect to an Alternative Transaction.

(e) Expiration and Extension of the Tender Offer. The Tender Offer shall expire at 4:00 p.m., Santiago, Chile time on the date (the "Initial Tender Offer Expiration Date") that is thirty (30) days following the Tender Offer Launch Date. From time to time and within one (1) Business Day of receiving a written request from LATAM, Delta shall provide LATAM with a report detailing how many LATAM Shares were tendered pursuant to the Tender Offer. If the number of LATAM Shares tendered in the Tender Offer is less than the 20% Threshold as of the Initial Tender Offer Expiration Date, then Delta shall extend the Tender Offer to 4:00 p.m., Santiago, Chile time to a Business Day that is up to the maximum possible period following the Initial Tender Offer Expiration Date permitted for such an extension in accordance with applicable Law (the new expiration date, following such extension, the "Extended Tender Offer Expiration Date" and, together with the Initial Tender Offer Expiration Date, referred to herein as the "Tender Offer Expiration Date").

(f) Consummation of the Tender Offer and Payment for LATAM Shares: Pro Rata Reduction. On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Article 6 (Acquisition by Delta of Minority Stake in LATAM) and the Tender Offer Documents, including satisfaction or waiver of each of the conditions set forth in Section 6.1(d) (Conditions to the Consummation of the Tender Offer) as of the Tender Offer Expiration Date, Delta shall pay for all LATAM Shares that are validly tendered and not validly withdrawn pursuant to the Tender Offer promptly (and no later than within the time period required by applicable Law) after the Tender Offer Expiration Date, up to the 20% Threshold. If the number of LATAM Shares tendered in the Tender Offer exceeds the 20% Threshold, then: (i) the number of LATAM Shares that Delta shall accept for payment, and pay for, shall be reduced to a number of LATAM Shares equal to the number of LATAM Shares that, together with the number of LATAM Shares (if any) then owned by Delta and its Affiliates, equals the 20% Threshold, (ii) the LATAM Shares to be accepted and paid for by Delta shall be allocated pro rata to the holders of LATAM Shares that validly tendered, and did not validly withdraw, in the Tender Offer in accordance with the number of LATAM Shares tendered by such holders (the “Reallocated LATAM Shares”) in accordance with applicable Law, (iii) Delta shall accept for payment, and pay for, the Reallocated LATAM Shares promptly (and no later than the time period required by applicable law and the terms of the Tender Offer) after the Tender Offer Expiration Date, and (iv) Delta shall promptly return, and shall cause any depository acting on behalf of Delta to return, all tendered LATAM Shares that are not Reallocated LATAM Shares to the holders thereof and Delta shall not accept such LATAM Shares pursuant to the Tender Offer. The price payable pursuant to the terms of the Tender Offer in respect of each LATAM Share (or Reallocated LATAM Share, as applicable) validly tendered, and not validly withdrawn, pursuant to the Tender Offer shall be paid to the holder thereof in cash, in accordance with the terms of the Tender Offer.

(g) Tender Offer Efforts Cooperation Covenant.

(i) To the extent permitted by applicable Law, LATAM shall cooperate with and provide Delta with such assistance as Delta may reasonably request to facilitate the launching and consummation of the Tender Offer and the making of such notices, filings or publications (if any) as are required to be made by it under applicable Law, including by: (i) providing such information and documents relating to LATAM and the LATAM Shares reasonably requested by Delta; (ii) taking actions reasonably requested by Delta to assist in consummating the Tender Offer; and (iii) providing such information as Delta reasonably requests to assist Delta in determining the number of registered or beneficial holders of LATAM Shares domiciled in the United States. LATAM shall not be required to take any of the actions described in the preceding sentence to the extent that (x) any such information or documentation requested by Delta is not information or documentation prepared or generated by LATAM in the ordinary course of business or (y) LATAM reasonably determines that any such action would reasonably be expected to be prohibited by applicable Law or Existing Agreements. Delta shall: (A) hold in confidence and keep confidential any information or documents received in connection with this Section 6.1(g) (The Tender Offer) or otherwise under this Agreement in accordance with the Confidentiality Agreement, (B) use such information or documents solely in connection with the consummation of the Tender Offer or in the exercise of any of its rights or compliance with its obligations under this Agreement or the Definitive Agreements, and (C) if the obligations of the Parties have been terminated pursuant to Section 10 (Termination), Delta shall deliver to LATAM any and all copies and any extracts or summaries from such information then in its possession or control.

(ii) Delta shall promptly furnish or otherwise make available to LATAM or LATAM's legal counsel all information concerning LATAM that may be required or reasonably requested in connection with any action contemplated by this Section 6.1(g). To the extent reasonably practicable, Delta shall provide LATAM and its counsel a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any such notices, filings or publications prior to their delivery, filing with the SEC or publication thereof, as applicable (it being understood that LATAM and its counsel shall provide any comments thereon as soon as reasonably practicable). Delta shall provide to LATAM and its counsel copies of any written comments or other material communications and a description of any oral comments that Delta or its counsel receives from the SEC or its staff with respect to any such filings promptly after such receipt and shall provide LATAM and its counsel a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any response to any such comments of the SEC or its staff.

(h) Schedule 14D-9. To the extent required by applicable Law, within the time period prescribed by Rule 14e-2, LATAM shall (i) file with the SEC a Tender Offer Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9 (together with any exhibits, amendments or supplements thereto, the "Schedule 14D-9") indicating its position with respect to the Tender Offer and the reasons for taking that position and (ii) cause the Schedule 14D-9 and related documents to be disseminated to holders of LATAM Shares as and to the extent required by applicable Law. Each of Delta and LATAM agrees to respond promptly to any comments of the SEC or its staff and to promptly correct any information provided by it for use in the Schedule 14D-9 if and to the extent that it has actual knowledge that such information shall have become false or misleading in any material respect, and LATAM further agrees to take all steps necessary to cause the Schedule 14D-9 as so corrected to be filed with the SEC and to be disseminated to holders of LATAM Shares, in each case as and to the extent required by applicable Law. Delta shall promptly furnish or otherwise make available to LATAM or LATAM's legal counsel all information concerning Delta that may be required or reasonably requested in connection with any action contemplated by this Section 6.1

(The Tender Offer). To the extent reasonably practicable, LATAM shall provide Delta and its counsel a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on the Schedule 14D-9 prior to the filing thereof with the SEC (it being understood that Delta and its counsel shall provide any comments thereon as soon as reasonably practicable). LATAM shall provide to Delta and its counsel copies of any written comments or other material communications and a description of any oral comments that LATAM or its counsel receives from the SEC or its staff with respect to the Schedule 14D-9 promptly after such receipt and shall provide Delta and its counsel a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any response to any such comments of the SEC or its staff.

(i) Conduct of the Business.

(i) From the date of this Agreement until the earlier of the Tender Offer Expiration Date and the Tender Offer Outside Date, except as required by applicable Law or this Agreement or, to the extent consistent with its obligations under Section 12.12 (Further Assurances), arising out of or relating to this Agreement, or otherwise with the prior written consent of Delta (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), LATAM shall use its reasonable commercial efforts to conduct its business in all material respects in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice.

(ii) Without limiting the generality of, and in furtherance of, Section 6.1(i)(i) (Conduct of the Business), from the date of this Agreement until the earlier of Tender Offer Expiration Date and the Tender Offer Outside Date, except as required by applicable Law or this Agreement, or otherwise with the prior written consent of Delta (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), LATAM shall not:

(A) amend or propose any material change in its or its Subsidiaries' Organizational Documents;

(B) merge or consolidate with any other Person or restructure, reorganize, dissolve or completely or partially liquidate;

(C) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or other distribution (whether in cash, stock or property or any combination thereof) in respect of any LATAM Shares or other equity or voting interest, except to the extent required by applicable Chilean Law;

(D) issue or grant an option to subscribe for any share capital of or other equity interest in LATAM, or reclassify, split, combine, subdivide or redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, any LATAM capital stock or securities convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for any shares of LATAM capital stock;

(E) during the pendency of the Tender Offer, take any other action that would be prohibited to be taken by an issuer of securities subject to a tender offer under the applicable Laws of Chile with respect thereto; or

(F) agree or commit to take any of the foregoing actions.

Section 6.2 Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents.

(a) Each of Delta and LATAM shall, and shall cause each of its Affiliates to, use its reasonable best efforts to, on to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Section 6.2 and applicable Law:

(i) (A) prepare and file all Filings required or necessary to obtain Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents as promptly as practicable after execution of this Agreement but in any event no later than twenty (20) Business Days after the date hereof, (B) obtain, or cause to be obtained, all Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents as promptly as practicable, (C) respond promptly to any requests for information made by the applicable Governmental Bodies in connection with the Tender Offer, and (D) not take any action that could reasonably be expected to have the effect of delaying, impairing or impeding the receipt of any such Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents; and

(ii) (A) resolve objections, if any, as may be asserted with respect to the Tender Offer under any applicable Law, including using reasonable best efforts to defend any Legal Proceedings challenging this Agreement or the consummation of the Tender Offer (including seeking to have any stay or temporary restraining order entered by any court or other Governmental Body vacated or reversed) and (B) in the event that any Legal Proceeding is instituted (or threatened to be instituted) by a Governmental Body or private party challenging the Tender Offer, cooperate with the other Party and use its respective reasonable best efforts to defend against, contest and resist any such Legal Proceeding and to have vacated, lifted, reversed or overturned any Order, whether temporary, preliminary or permanent, that is in effect and that prohibits, prevents or restricts consummation of the Tender Offer.

(b) All Filings made in connection with this Section 6.2 shall be made in substantial compliance with the requirements of applicable Law, including Antitrust Laws. All filing fees payable in connection with the Filings contemplated by this Section 6.2 shall be paid entirely by Delta.

(c) For purposes of this Section 6.2, reasonable best efforts includes to the extent required to obtain an Equity Ownership Antitrust Consent, Delta or any of its Subsidiaries, as applicable, (i) making, committing to, effecting and agreeing to, by consent decree or otherwise, the sale, divestiture, licensing transfer, disposal or other encumbrance of any asset, license, operation, rights, product line, business or interest Delta or its Subsidiaries may have in any third party, (ii) agreeing to any material changes (including through a licensing arrangement) or restriction on, or other impairment of its ability to own or operate any such asset, license, operation, right, product line, business or interest Delta or its Subsidiaries may have in any third party, and (iii) terminating any commercial agreement with any third party company.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything in this Agreement to the contrary, in no event shall Delta or any of its Affiliates be obligated to take or commit to take any action pursuant to this Section 6.2 (Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents) or Section 12.12 (Further Assurances), (i) to the extent such action(s) would, individually or in the aggregate, [] or (ii) the consummation of which is not conditioned on the consummation of the Tender Offer.

(e) To the extent not prohibited by applicable Law, each of Delta and LATAM shall (i) cooperate with the other Party and furnish the other Party with such necessary information and assistance as the other may reasonably request in connection with preparations of any necessary Filings or submissions for any Governmental Body, (ii) promptly notify and furnish the other Party copies of any correspondence or communication (including, in the case of any oral correspondence or communication, a summary thereof) between it or any of its Affiliates or any of their respective Representatives, on the one hand, and any relevant Governmental Body, on the other hand, or any Filing such Party submits to any relevant Governmental Body in the United States and Brazil, (iii) consult with and permit the other Party to review in advance any proposed Filing and any written or oral communication or correspondence by such Party or any of its Affiliates to any relevant Governmental Body, (iv) consider in good faith the views of such other Party in connection with any proposed Filing and any written or oral communication or correspondence to any Governmental Body, (v) give prompt notice to each other of any development or combination of developments that, individually or in the aggregate, is reasonably expected to prevent, materially delay or materially impair its ability to commence or consummate the Tender Offer, (vi) permit each other to review and discuss in advance, and consider in good faith the views of each other in connection with, any proposed written substantive communication with any Governmental Body, (vii) not participate in any meeting or oral substantive communication with any Governmental Body with respect to the Tender Offer unless such communication is initiated independently by the Governmental Body or unless it consults with the other Parties in advance and, subject to the approval of the applicable Governmental Body, allows each other Party to participate in such meetings, (viii) furnish each other Party with copies of all substantive correspondence, filings and communications, and memoranda setting forth the substance of any meetings or communications such other Party is not permitted to participate in between it and any such Governmental Body, and (ix) respond as promptly as practicable to any inquiries received from a Governmental Body for additional information or documentation, in each case, to the extent relating to the subject matter of this Section 6.2 (Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents) or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including the Tender Offer; provided, however, that no Party will be required to take any of the actions contemplated by this Section 6.2(e) (Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents) to the extent doing so could cause a loss of legal privilege or would result in the violation of any Contract or applicable Law.

Section 6.3 Standstill. Delta agrees that from the date hereof until the end of the Lock-Up Period, neither Delta nor any of Delta's Affiliates, alone or with others, will in any manner, directly or indirectly, without the prior consent of LATAM:

(a) effect or seek, offer or propose (whether publicly or otherwise) to effect or cause or in any way knowingly assist (including through the provision of financing) any other Person to effect or seek, offer or propose (whether publicly or otherwise) to effect or cause, (i) any acquisition of beneficial ownership (as such term is defined in the Exchange Act) or constructive economic ownership (including through any option, warrant, convertible security, stock appreciation right, swap agreement or other security, contract right or derivative position, whether or not presently exercisable, that has an exercise or conversion privilege or a settlement payment or other mechanism at a price related to the value of LATAM Shares or a value determined in whole or in part with reference to, or derived in whole or in part from, the value of LATAM Shares and that increases in value as the value of LATAM Shares increases or that provides to the holder an opportunity, directly or indirectly, to profit or share in any profit derived from any increase in the value of LATAM Shares, in any case without regard to whether (A) such derivative conveys any voting rights in such securities to such Person, (B) the derivative is required to be, or capable of being, settled through delivery of such securities or (C) such Person may have entered into other transactions that hedge the economic effect of such derivative, but not including any interests, rights, options or other securities set forth in Rule 16a-1(c)(1)-(5) or (7) under the Exchange Act) of any LATAM Shares or securities or rights convertible into or exchangeable for any LATAM Shares (other than acquisitions by Delta for its own account of LATAM Shares that do not result in Delta (A) during the Initial Lock-Up Period, owning more than twenty percent (20%) of LATAM Shares; provided that in the event a LATAM shareholder that does not currently hold more than twenty percent (20%) of the LATAM Shares increases its equity interest, together with any of its Affiliates or other Person with which it is acting as a "group" (as defined in the Exchange Act)), in LATAM to above twenty percent (20%), then Delta may acquire LATAM Shares up to 24.99% of LATAM Shares or (B) during the Subsequent Lock-Up Period, owning more than 24.99% of LATAM Shares), provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, in no event shall any of the foregoing restrict Delta from exercising its preemptive or withdrawal rights as a shareholder of LATAM in accordance with applicable Law, (ii) any tender or exchange offer involving LATAM Shares (other than pursuant to this Article 6 (Acquisition by Delta of Minority Stake in LATAM)), (iii) any merger, other business combination, recapitalization, restructuring, liquidation, dissolution or other extraordinary transaction with respect to LATAM or any of its Subsidiaries, (iv) initiation of any proposal for action by the shareholders of LATAM, or any "solicitation" of "proxies" (as such terms are used under the Exchange Act), in order to vote or consent regarding any transaction that would effect a change of control of LATAM (provided, for the avoidance of doubt, that in no event shall this clause (iv) restrict Delta from any action in its capacity as a shareholder of LATAM in connection with the nomination and election of directors appointed by Delta to the board of directors of LATAM commensurate with Delta's ownership of LATAM Shares in accordance with applicable Law), (v) form, join or in any way participate in a "group" (as defined in the Exchange Act) with respect to any securities of LATAM, or (vi) otherwise act, alone or in concert with others, to seek to control LATAM;

(b) take any action that might force LATAM to make a public announcement regarding any of the types of matters set forth in clause (a) above (other than in the exercise of its voting rights of LATAM Shares it has acquired in accordance with this Article 6 (Acquisition by Delta of Minority Stake in LATAM));

(c) enter into discussions or arrangements with any third party with respect to any of the matters set forth in clauses (a) and (b) above; or

(d) make any public disclosure of any consideration, intention, plan or arrangement with respect to any of the matters set forth in clauses (a) through (c) above. Delta will promptly advise LATAM of any inquiry or proposal made to it or any of its Affiliates with respect to any of the matters referred to in clauses (a) through (c) of this paragraph.

(e) From and after the date hereof, Delta shall not acquire LATAM Shares in the event that, as a result of such acquisition, LATAM will be in violation of any foreign ownership restriction as in effect from time to time.

Section 6.4 Restrictions on Transfers.

(a) No Transfer or attempt to Transfer any LATAM Shares in violation of this Section 6.4 (Restrictions on Transfers) shall be effective or valid for any purpose.

(b) During the Initial Lock-Up Period, neither Delta nor any of its Affiliates may Transfer LATAM Shares without the prior written consent of LATAM (which LATAM may withhold in its sole discretion), except that such restriction shall not apply to Transfers made to Permitted Transferees.

(c) During the Subsequent Lock-Up Period, neither Delta nor any of its Affiliates may Transfer LATAM Shares in a transaction, or series of transactions, that would result in Delta and its Permitted Transferees ceasing to hold in the aggregate (i) 15% of LATAM Shares or (ii) if Delta's equity holding on the first day of the Subsequent Lock-Up Period represents less than 15% of LATAM Shares, such percentage of LATAM Shares.

(d) Without the prior written consent of LATAM (which LATAM may withhold in its sole discretion), Delta and its Affiliates shall not be permitted to Transfer LATAM Shares to any airline carrier or any of its Affiliates that is organized or based in Delta's Applicable Territory other than pursuant to open market transactions in which Delta has no reasonable basis to ascertain the identity of the buyer.

(e) Solely in the event that this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 10.1(b) (Termination), without the prior written consent of LATAM (which LATAM may withhold in its sole discretion), Delta and its Affiliates shall not be permitted to Transfer LATAM Shares to any Transferee (other than a Permitted Transferee) that, to the best of Delta's knowledge, would following such Transfer, beneficially own, after aggregating all LATAM Shares owned by such Transferee and its Affiliates and any other members of a "group" (as defined in the Exchange Act) in which any of them is a member with respect to LATAM Shares, of ten percent (10%) or more of the issued and outstanding LATAM Shares.

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, in no event shall any of the foregoing restrict Delta from (i) during the Subsequent Lock-Up Period, exercising its withdrawal rights as a shareholder of LATAM in accordance with Chilean Law or (ii) during the Subsequent Lock-Up Period, tendering LATAM Shares into any tender offer launched and consummated under applicable Law.

Section 6.5 Restrictions on LATAM. From the date of this Agreement until the first date on which Delta and its Permitted Transferees collectively own less than 10% of the issued and outstanding LATAM Shares, LATAM and its Affiliates shall not, without the prior written consent of Delta (which Delta may withhold in its sole discretion) issue, grant an option to subscribe for, pledge or transfer any share capital of or other equity interest in LATAM to either of the following companies, their respective Affiliates, successors or assigns or any other Person acting in a group with any such Person in such acquisition, other than pursuant to open market transactions in which LATAM has no reasonable basis to ascertain the identity of the buyer: [].

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

Section 7.1 Representations and Warranties of Each Party. Each Party represents and warrants to the other Party as follows:

(a) Organization. Such Party is duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the jurisdiction of its incorporation or organization and has all requisite power and authority to enter into and perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Due Authorization. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement has been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of such Party, and this Agreement to which it is a party is a valid and binding obligation of such Party, enforceable against such Party in accordance with its terms, except as enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other Laws relating to or affecting creditors' rights generally or by general equitable principles (regardless of whether such enforceability is considered in a proceeding in equity or at law).

(c) Consents. Other than the Strategic Alliance Regulatory Approvals and the Equity Ownership Antitrust Consents, as applicable, no expirations of waiting periods under applicable Antitrust Laws and no notices, reports or other filings are required to be made with, nor are any consents, registrations, approvals, permits or authorizations required to be obtained from, any Governmental Body by such Party in connection with the execution and delivery by such Party of this Agreement.

(d) No Violation or Breach. The execution, delivery and performance by such Party of this Agreement does not constitute (i) a violation of any provision of the Organizational Documents of such Party, (ii) a violation of any applicable Law to which such Party is subject or a (iii) breach of any material Contract to which such Party is a party, except in the case of the foregoing clauses (ii) and (iii), as would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the ability of such Party to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(e) Litigation. No Legal Proceeding brought by any Governmental Body is pending or, to the knowledge of such Party, threatened against such Party or any of its Affiliates that (i) challenges or seeks to prevent, enjoin or otherwise delay any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or (ii) would otherwise reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the ability of such Party to exercise its rights or perform its obligations under this Agreement or the Definitive Agreements.

(f) Anti-Bribery; Sanctions.

(i) Except for matters (x) publicly disclosed as of the date hereof or (y) that are not, individually or in the aggregate, material, to such Party's knowledge, such Party, its Subsidiaries and the directors, officers and employees of such Party or its Subsidiaries (when acting on behalf of such Party or its Subsidiaries) have not violated any Anti-Bribery Laws and have not authorized, offered or made any payments directly or indirectly to any Government Official or third party that would result in violation of any Anti-Bribery Law. Such Party and its Subsidiaries have instituted policies and procedures designed to promote compliance by such Party and its Subsidiaries with, and to prevent violations by such Persons of, such Anti-Bribery Laws. Except for matters (A) publicly disclosed as of the date hereof or (B) that are not, individually or in the aggregate, material, to such Party's knowledge, neither such Party nor any of its Subsidiaries, nor any director or officer of such Party or any of its Subsidiaries, nor any employee, agent or representative or other Person who performs or has performed services on behalf of such Party or any of its Subsidiaries has, directly or indirectly, on behalf or for the benefit of such Party or Subsidiary, violated any, or, is subject to actual or pending or threatened Legal Proceedings, demand letters, settlements or enforcement actions relating to any Anti-Bribery Law.

(ii) Neither Party nor any of its Subsidiaries, nor any director or officer of such Party or any of its Subsidiaries, is a Person that is the subject or target of any Sanctions, nor are any of the foregoing designated as a Specially Designated National or Blocked Person by OFAC.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS; CONFIDENTIALITY

Section 8.1 Public Announcements. Except as otherwise expressly contemplated by or necessary to implement the provisions of this Agreement, and except for the joint press release to be issued by the Parties in the form previously agreed, neither Delta nor LATAM (nor any of their respective Affiliates) shall issue any press release or otherwise make any public statements or disclosure with respect to the execution or performance of this Agreement or to the transactions contemplated hereby without the prior written consent of the other Party; provided, however, that neither Party shall be restrained from making such disclosure as may be required by Law or by the listing agreement with or regulations of any stock exchange (in which case the Party seeking to make such disclosure shall promptly notify the other Party thereof and the Parties shall use reasonable efforts to cause a mutually agreeable release or announcement to be issued); provided, further, that each Party may make public statements, disclosures or communications in response to inquiries from the press, analysts, investors, customers or suppliers or via industry conferences or analyst or investor conference calls, so long as such statements, disclosures or communications are not inconsistent in tone and substance with previous public statements, disclosures or communications jointly made by Delta or LATAM or to the extent that they have been reviewed and previously approved by both Delta and LATAM.

Section 8.2 Confidentiality. Subject to the requirements of applicable Law, each Party acknowledges that this Agreement and the information provided to it and its representatives in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby are subject to the terms of the confidentiality provisions of the Confidentiality Agreement (and other than any terms of the Confidentiality Agreement which are no longer applicable on their face, such as regarding code names and the existence of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby) which shall be deemed incorporated herein by reference as if set forth herein except that the term of such Confidentiality Agreement shall be extended through the date that is the earlier of the third (3rd) anniversary of any termination under Section 10.1 (Termination) of this Agreement and the effectiveness of the Strategic Alliance Agreements.

TAX

Section 9.1 Additional Amounts. All payments made under this Agreement to LATAM shall be made without deduction for any tax and are exclusive of any sales tax, value-added tax or similar taxes. To the extent that the payor is required to withhold taxes with respect to a payment to LATAM as a result of a Change in Law that occurred between the date of this Agreement and the date of such payment, then (i) the payor shall promptly notify LATAM of the need to withhold such taxes with respect to such payment, and (ii) Delta and LATAM shall use commercially reasonable efforts to restructure such payment and this Agreement in order to reduce such taxes, provided that if such taxes are still required to be withheld despite such efforts then the payor shall be entitled to withhold such taxes and shall timely pay the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Governmental Body in accordance with applicable Law.

Section 9.2 Section 833. LATAM represents and warrants that (a) it is eligible to rely on Section 883 of the Code with respect to income derived from the international operation of aircraft, and (b) it has properly excluded from U.S. federal income taxation under Section 883 of the Code all income received from any similar arrangements which involve flights between the United States and South America. The Parties covenant to treat all payments made to LATAM under this Agreement as excludable from U.S. federal income taxation under Section 883 of the Code, and agree to take no tax, accounting or regulatory position inconsistent with such treatment.

TERMINATION

Section 10.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated:

(a) by the mutual written consent of Delta and LATAM;

(b) by LATAM, upon a material breach by Delta of this Agreement or the Strategic Alliance Agreements, which breach is not curable or, if curable, is not cured within sixty (60) days after notice thereof is given by LATAM; provided, that LATAM shall not have the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 10.1(b) (Termination) if LATAM is then in material breach of this Agreement or the Strategic Alliance Agreements;

(c) by Delta, upon a material breach by LATAM of this Agreement or the Strategic Alliance Agreements, which breach is not curable or, if curable, is not cured within sixty (60) days after notice thereof is given by Delta; provided, that Delta shall not have the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 10.1(c) (Termination) if Delta is then in material breach of this Agreement or the Strategic Alliance Agreements;

(d) by either Delta or LATAM, upon notice to the other, at any time after [], if the Strategic Alliance Implementation Date has not occurred on or before such date; or

(e) so long as the Tender Offer has not been consummated in accordance with the terms hereof, by LATAM upon notice to Delta delivered within one hundred eighty (180) days after the Tender Offer Outside Date; provided that prior to the exercise of such termination right, the chief executive officer of LATAM shall have engaged in good faith consultations with the chief executive officer of Delta for a period of at least thirty (30) days.

Section 10.2 Effect of Termination.

(a) In the event of the termination of this Agreement by any Party pursuant to the terms hereof, notice thereof shall forthwith be given to the other Party specifying the provision hereof pursuant to which such termination is made, and there shall be no liability or obligation thereafter on the part of either Party (or any of its or their respective Affiliates or Representatives); provided, however, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, (a) no such termination shall relieve any Party of any liability in connection with any other Party resulting from any breach of any provision of this Agreement prior to such termination, and (b) the provisions set forth in (A) Section 3.4 (Effect of Termination) (and, to the extent contemplated by Section 3.4, Section 3.1), (B) Article 5 (Aircraft Transactions) (including the Aircraft Agreements and the transactions contemplated thereby), (C) Section 6.3 (Standstill), (D) Section 6.4(d) (Restriction on Transfer), Section 6.4(e) (Restriction on Transfer) and Section 6.4(f) (Restrictions on Transfers), (E) Section 8.2 (Confidentiality), (F) this Section 10.2 (Effect of Termination), (G) Section 11.1 (Indemnification) and (H) Article 12 (Miscellaneous) shall survive any such termination of this Agreement.

(b) In addition to any other remedies as shall be available under this Agreement, (i) upon a termination pursuant to Section 10.1(b) or Section 10.01(d) (Termination), Delta shall, as promptly as practicable but in any event no later than within eighteen (18) months of the date of termination of this Agreement, take such actions as may be required to reduce its and its Affiliates' aggregate holdings to less than five percent (5%) of LATAM Shares, and (ii) in the case of any termination under Section 10.1(b) (Termination), Delta shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, (x) promptly cause any designees of Delta to the board of directors of LATAM to resign or to be removed from such office, (y) not seek to nominate any directors to the board of directors of LATAM and (z) exercise its voting rights (including in respect of the board) pro rata in accordance with the vote by the other holders of LATAM Shares.

INDEMNIFICATION

Section 11.1 Indemnification for Breach. Each Party shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the other Party and each of their respective Affiliates, successors and assigns, from and against any and all claims, actions, suits, proceedings, losses (including lost profits), damages, liabilities, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements in connection with the enforcement of any claim for breach) (collectively, "Damages"), arising out of or resulting from, directly or indirectly, any failure by it or any of its Subsidiaries or Representatives to comply with the terms of this Agreement or any Definitive Agreement.

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 12.1 Fees and Expenses. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, whether or not the transactions contemplated herein are consummated, all costs and expenses incurred, including fees and disbursements of counsel, financial advisors and accountants, in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be borne by the Party incurring such costs and expenses; provided, however, that, in the event this Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms, the obligation of each Party to bear its own costs and expenses will be subject to any rights of such Party arising from a breach of this Agreement by the other Party prior to such termination.

Section 12.2 Late Payments. Any amount that is not paid when due hereunder shall bear interest from and including the date payment of such amount was due through to the date of actual payment at the per annum rate of [].

Section 12.3 Notices. All notices or other communications to be delivered in connection with this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been properly delivered, given and received (a) on the date of delivery if delivered by hand during normal business hours of the recipient during a Business Day, otherwise on the next Business Day, (b) on the date of successful transmission if sent via email during normal business hours of the recipient during a Business Day, otherwise on the next Business Day, or (c) on the date of receipt by the addressee if sent by an internationally recognized overnight courier, if received on a Business Day, otherwise on the next Business Day. Such notices or other communications must be sent to each respective Party at the address or email address set forth below (or at such other address or email address as shall be specified by a Party in a notice given in accordance with this Section 12.3 (Notices)):

Section 12.4 Entire Agreement. This Agreement together with the Confidentiality Agreement and the Definitive Agreements constitute the sole and entire agreement of the Parties with respect to the subject matter contained herein and therein, and they supersede all other prior representations, warranties, understandings and agreements, both written and oral, with respect to such subject matter.

Section 12.5 Amendment. This Agreement shall not be amended, modified or supplemented except by an instrument in writing specifically designated as an amendment hereto and executed by each of the Parties.

Section 12.6 Waivers. Either Party may, at any time, (a) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other Party, (b) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties of the other Party contained herein or (c) waive compliance by the other Party with any of the agreements or conditions contained herein. No waiver, consent or agreement by any Party with respect to any of the provisions hereof shall be effective unless explicitly set forth in a written instrument executed and delivered by the Party so waiving, consenting or agreeing. No waiver by any Party of any breach of this Agreement shall operate or be construed as a waiver of any preceding or subsequent breach, whether of a similar or different character, unless expressly set forth in such written waiver. Neither any course of conduct or failure or delay of any Party in exercising or enforcing any right, remedy or power hereunder shall operate or be construed as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy or power hereunder, or any abandonment or discontinuance of steps to enforce such right, remedy or power, or any course of conduct, preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, remedy or power.

Section 12.7 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced in any situation or in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect the validity, legality or enforceability of any other term or provision hereof or the offending term or provision in any other situation or any other jurisdiction. Upon any such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced, the Parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible, in a mutually acceptable manner, in order that the transactions contemplated hereby be consummated as originally contemplated to the fullest extent possible.

Section 12.8 No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each Party and its successors and permitted assigns, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall be construed to confer upon any other Person any legal or equitable rights, benefits or remedies of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement. This Agreement may be amended or terminated, and any provision of this Agreement may be waived, in accordance with the terms hereof without the consent of any Person other than the Parties. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 12.8 (No Third Party Beneficiary) shall affect any rights that any Person (other than the Parties or their Affiliates) may have by operation of applicable Law.

Section 12.9 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations hereunder may be assigned or delegated, in whole or in part, by either Party without the prior written consent of the other Party, and any purported assignment or delegation in contravention of this Section 12.9 (Assignment) shall be null and void and of no force and effect. Subject to the preceding sentences of this Section 12.9 (Assignment), this Agreement shall be binding upon, shall inure to the benefit of and shall be enforceable by the Parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns. In the event that LATAM or Delta or any of their successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers or conveys all or substantially all of its properties and other assets to any Person, then, and in each such case, the merging or transferor Party shall cause proper provision to be made so that such successor or assign shall expressly assume the obligations of such Party set forth in this Agreement.

Section 12.10 Governing Law; Submission to Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) This Agreement and all matters, claims, controversies, disputes, suits, actions or proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement and the negotiation, execution or performance of this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby, including all rights of the Parties (whether sounding in contract, tort, common or statutory law, equity or otherwise) in connection therewith, shall be interpreted, construed and governed by and in accordance with, and enforced pursuant to, the internal Laws of the State of New York without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule (whether of the State of New York or any other jurisdiction) that would cause the application of the Law of any jurisdiction other than those of the State of New York.

(b) Each of the Parties hereby (i) agrees and irrevocably consents to submit itself to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York or, to the extent such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction, any New York State court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan of the City of New York (the “Chosen Court”) in any Legal Proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the negotiation, execution or performance of this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby, (ii) agrees that all claims in respect of any such Legal Proceeding will be heard and determined in the Chosen Court, (iii) agrees that it shall not attempt to deny or defeat such jurisdiction by motion or other request for leave from the Chosen Court, (iv) agrees not to bring or support any Legal Proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (whether in contract, tort, common or statutory law, equity or otherwise) anywhere other than the Chosen Court and (v) agrees that a final judgment in any such Legal Proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by applicable Law. Each of the Parties waives any defense of inconvenient forum to the maintenance of any Legal Proceeding brought in any Chosen Court in accordance with this Section 12.10(b) (Governing Law; Submission to Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial). Each of the Parties agrees that the service of any process, summons, notice or document in connection with any such Legal Proceeding in the manner provided in Section 12.3 (Notices) or in such other manner as may be permitted by applicable Law, will be valid and sufficient service thereof.

(c) EACH PARTY (I) ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING THAT MAY ARISE UNDER OR RELATE TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES AND (II) HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY (A) CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT NO REPRESENTATIVE OF THE OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (B) CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT AND THE OTHER PARTY HAVE BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, (C) UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER AND (D) MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY.

Section 12.11 Specific Performance. The Parties agree that irreparable damage and harm would occur in the event that any provision of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with its terms and that, although monetary damages may be available for such a breach, monetary damages would be an inadequate remedy therefor. Accordingly, each of the Parties agrees that, in the event of any breach or threatened breach of any provision of this Agreement by such Party, the other Party shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions, specific performance and other equitable relief to prevent or restrain breaches or threatened breaches hereof and to specifically enforce the terms and provisions hereof. A Party seeking an order or injunction to prevent breaches of this Agreement or to enforce specifically the terms and provisions hereof shall not be required to provide, furnish or post any bond or other security in connection with or as a condition to obtaining any such order or injunction, and each Party hereby irrevocably waives any right it may have to require the provision, furnishing or posting of any such bond or other security. In the event that any Legal Proceeding should be brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, each Party agrees that it shall not allege, and each Party hereby waives the defense, that there is an adequate remedy available at law.

Section 12.12 Further Assurances. On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth herein, the Parties shall cooperate with each other and use (and cause their respective Subsidiaries to use) their respective reasonable best efforts to take or cause to be taken all actions, and do or cause to be done all things, as promptly as practicable, reasonably necessary, proper or advisable on their part under this Agreement and applicable Law: (i) to undertake and complete the actions and consummate all of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (including entry into the Definitive Agreements and implementation of the Strategic Alliance), (ii) to deliver such notices and take such other actions as may be required to terminate, in accordance with their terms, Existing Agreements that limit the operation of the provisions hereof or any of the Definitive Agreements and (iii) to prepare and file as promptly as reasonably practicable all documentation to effect all necessary Filings and to obtain as promptly as practicable all consents, registrations, approvals, permits and authorizations, necessary or advisable to be obtained in order to comply with the terms hereof.

Section 12.13 Counterparts and Electronic Signatures. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original and all of which, when taken together, shall be deemed to be one and the same agreement or document. A signed copy of this Agreement transmitted by email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original executed copy of this Agreement for all purposes.

Section 12.14 Time Is of the Essence. Time is of the essence in the performance of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 12.15 Essential Covenants. Delta and LATAM acknowledge that the covenants set forth in Article 2 (Strategic Alliance), Article 3 (Transition Costs Payments), Article 4 (Transition Support), Article 5 (Aircraft Transactions) and Article 6 (Acquisition by Delta of Minority Stake in LATAM) are essential elements of this Agreement and represent a significant portion of the consideration to be received by LATAM and Delta, as the case may be, under this Agreement, but for these covenants, the Parties would not have entered into this Agreement.
